

Frommer's

Bermuda 2012

TELEPHONE TIPS

To call Bermuda from another country:

Dial the international access code:
 from the US or Canada..... 1-441 from the UK..... 001-441 plus the 7-digit local number.

To make a direct international call from Bermuda:

To the US or Canada:
 Dial 1 plus the area code and local number.

To all other countries:
 Dial 001 plus the country code (the UK is 44), the area code, and the local number.

To charge international calls:

AT&T Direct..... (1-800-872-2881
 MCI..... (1-800-888-8000
 Sprint..... (1-800-623-0877

To call within Bermuda:

Dial the 7-digit number.

Directory Assistance:

Dial 411.

International operator:

Dial 00.

For further information, see Fast Facts in appendix A.

METRIC CONVERSIONS

TEMPERATURE

To convert F to C:
 subtract 32 and multiply by  $\frac{5}{9}$  (0.555)

To convert C to F: multiply by 1.8
 and add 32

32° F = 0° C

LIQUID VOLUME

To convert..... multiply by

U.S. gallons to liters	3.80
Liters to U.S. gallons	0.26
U.S. gallons to imperial gallons	0.83
Imperial gallons to U.S. gallons	1.20
Imperial gallons to liters	4.55
Liters to imperial gallons	0.22

1 liter = 0.26 U.S. gallon
1 U.S. gallon = 3.8 liters

DISTANCE

To convert..... multiply by

Inches to centimeters	2.54
Centimeters to inches	0.39
Feet to meters	0.30
Meters to feet	3.28
Yards to meters	0.91
Meters to yards	1.09
Miles to kilometers	1.61
Kilometers to miles	0.62

1 ft. = 0.30 m      1 mile = 1.6 km
1 m = 3.3 ft.      1 km = 0.62 mile

WEIGHT

To convert..... multiply by

Ounces to grams	28.35
Grams to ounces	0.035
Pounds to kilograms	0.45
Kilograms to pounds	2.20

1 ounce = 28 grams
1 pound = 0.4555 kilogram
1 gram = 0.04 ounce
1 kilogram = 2.2 pounds

9 781118 004269

Frommer's®

Bermuda 2012

by Darwin Porter & Danforth Prince

John Wiley & Sons, Inc.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Veteran travel writers Darwin Porter and Danforth Prince have written many popular Frommer's guides, including Italy, England, and Spain. Both journalists are island specialists, having written Frommer's first-ever guide to Bermuda, which each of them discovered during spring breaks in their college years. The travel-writing team has written many island guides, including the Caribbean, The Bahamas, Puerto Rico, Barbados, and the Dominican Republic.

Published by:

JOHN WILEY & SONS, INC.

111 River St.

Hoboken, NJ 07030-5774

Copyright © 2011 John Wiley & Sons, Inc., Hoboken, New Jersey. All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, scanning or otherwise, except as permitted under Sections 107 or 108 of the 1976 United States Copyright Act, without either the prior written permission of the Publisher, or authorization through payment of the appropriate per-copy fee to the Copyright Clearance Center, 222 Rosewood Drive, Danvers, MA 01923, 978/750-8400, fax 978/646-8600. Requests to the Publisher for permission should be addressed to the Permissions Department, John Wiley & Sons, Inc., 111 River Street, Hoboken, NJ 07030, 201/748-6011, fax 201/748-6008, or online at <http://www.wiley.com/go/permissions>.

Frommer's is a trademark or registered trademark of Arthur Frommer. Used under license. All other trademarks are the property of their respective owners.

ISBN 978-1-118-00428-9 (paper); ISBN 978-1-118-14146-5 (ebk); ISBN 978-1-118-14145-8 (ebk); ISBN 978-1-118-14144-1 (ebk)

Editor: Christine Ryan

Production Editor: Heather Wilcox

Cartographer: Anton Crane

Photo Editor: Richard Fox

Production by Wiley Indianapolis Composition Services

Front Cover Photo: Butts Beach, Southampton ©Dave G. Houser / ImageState / AGE Fotostock, Inc.

Back Cover Photo: Replica of Deliverance, St. George ©Richard Cummins/ SuperStock, Inc.

For information on our other products and services or to obtain technical support, please contact our Customer Care Department within the U.S. at 877/762-2974, outside the U.S. at 317/572-3993 or fax 317/572-4002.

Wiley also publishes its books in a variety of electronic formats. Some content that appears in print may not be available in electronic formats.

Manufactured in the United States of America

5 4 3 2 1

CONTENTS

List of Maps vi

1 THE BEST OF BERMUDA 1

- The Best Beaches 2
- The Best Outdoor Pursuits 3
- The Best Dive Sites 3
- The Best Golf Courses 4
- The Best Sailing Outfitters 5
- The Best Tennis Facilities 5
- The Best Day Hikes 6
- The Best Views 6
- The Best Historic Sites 7
- The Best Old Bermuda Experiences 7
- Bermuda's Best-Kept Secrets 8
- The Best Resorts for Honeymooners 8
- The Best Places for Families to Stay 10
- The Best Hotel Bargains 11
- The Best Restaurants 11

2 BERMUDA IN DEPTH 13

- Bermuda Today 14
- Looking Back at Bermuda 18
  - THE BAFFLING BERMUDA TRIANGLE* 22
- Bermuda Art & Architecture 24
- Bermuda in Pop Culture 28
- Eating & Drinking 32
- When to Go 35
- BERMUDA CALENDAR OF EVENTS* 36
- GETTING SUCKED IN: THE OFFICIAL WORD ON THE BERMUDA TRIANGLE* 37
- The Lay of the Land 39
- Responsible Travel 42
  - GENERAL RESOURCES FOR GREEN TRAVEL* 43
- Package Tours 44

3 SUGGESTED ITINERARIES 45

- The Parishes of Bermuda 45
  - ISLAND-HOPPING ON YOUR OWN* 52
  - THE BEST OF BERMUDA IN 1 DAY* 53
  - RATTLE & SHAKE: THE BERMUDA RAILWAY TRAIL* 57
  - THE BEST OF BERMUDA IN 2 DAYS* 57
  - THE BEST OF BERMUDA IN 3 DAYS* 61

4 WHERE TO STAY 66

- Resort Hotels 68
- Small Hotels 74
- Cottage Colonies 77
- FAMILY-FRIENDLY ACCOMMODATIONS* 79
- Housekeeping Units 81
- Guesthouses 84

5 WHERE TO EAT 89

Restaurants by Cuisine 90

Sandys Parish 92

Southampton Parish 97

Warwick Parish 101

Paget Parish 102

City of Hamilton (Pembroke Parish) 103

FAMILY-FRIENDLY RESTAURANTS 111

Smith's Parish 116

Hamilton Parish 117

St. George's Parish 119

6 FUN ON & OFF THE BEACH 123

Beaches 123

DON'T GET BURNED: SMART TANNING TIPS 127

Snorkeling 128

A LOOK UNDER BERMUDA'S WATERS 129

Scuba Diving 130

A YACHT OF YOUR VERY OWN . . . SORT OF 132

More Fun in the Water 133

HANGING OUT WITH THE DOLPHINS 135

Where to Play World-Class Golf 135

Other Outdoor Pursuits 137

Spectator Sports 139

EXPLORING BERMUDA'S NATURAL WONDERLANDS 140

7 SEEING THE SIGHTS 142

Sandys Parish 142

FROMMER'S FAVORITE BERMUDA EXPERIENCES 146

A PARK OF YOUR OWN 147

ESPECIALLY FOR KIDS 148

STEPPING BACK INTO THE ICE AGE 150

Southampton Parish 150

Warwick Parish 150

Paget Parish 151

Pembroke Parish & the City of Hamilton 152

AFRICAN DIASPORA HERITAGE TRAIL 154

Devonshire Parish 156

Smith's Parish 157

Hamilton Parish 158

St. George's Parish 159

SPECIAL PLACES WHERE YOU CAN BE ALONE 160

ST. GEORGE: A WORLD HERITAGE SITE 162

Organized Tours 164

8 SHOPPING 166

The Shopping Scene 167

In the City of Hamilton 168

Around the Island 175

9 BERMUDA AFTER DARK 177

The Club & Music Scene 177

The Bar Scene 178

The Performing Arts 181

10 PLANNING YOUR TRIP TO BERMUDA 183

Getting There 183

Getting Around 185

Planning An Island Wedding 190

FAST FACTS: BERMUDA 191

Index 201

General Index 201

Accommodations Index 209

Restaurant Index 210

LIST OF MAPS

Looking Back at Bermuda	20	Where to Eat in Bermuda	94
Bermuda's Parishes	46	Where to Eat in the City of Hamilton	105
Bermuda in 1 Day	55	Where to Eat in St. George	121
Bermuda in 2 Days	59	Bermuda's Best Public Beaches & Snorkel Sites	124
Bermuda in 3 Days	63	Attractions Around the Island	144
Bermuda Hotels	70	Shopping in the City of Hamilton	169
Hotels in the City of Hamilton	73

HOW TO CONTACT US

In researching this book, we discovered many wonderful places—hotels, restaurants, shops, and more. We're sure you'll find others. Please tell us about them, so we can share the information with your fellow travelers in upcoming editions. If you were disappointed with a recommendation, we'd love to know that, too. Please write to:

Frommer's Bermuda 2012
John Wiley & Sons, Inc. • 111 River St. • Hoboken, NJ 07030-5774
frommersfeedback@wiley.com

ADVISORY & DISCLAIMER

Travel information can change quickly and unexpectedly, and we strongly advise you to confirm important details locally before traveling, including information on visas, health and safety, traffic and transport, accommodation, shopping and eating out. We also encourage you to stay alert while traveling and to remain aware of your surroundings. Avoid civil disturbances, and keep a close eye on cameras, purses, wallets and other valuables.

While we have endeavored to ensure that the information contained within this guide is accurate and up-to-date at the time of publication, we make no representations or warranties with respect to the accuracy or completeness of the contents of this work and specifically disclaim all warranties, including without limitation warranties of fitness for a particular purpose. We accept no responsibility or liability for any inaccuracy or errors or omissions, or for any inconvenience, loss, damage, costs or expenses of any nature whatsoever incurred or suffered by anyone as a result of any advice or information contained in this guide.

The inclusion of a company, organization, or Website in this guide as a service provider and/or potential source of further information does not mean that we endorse them or the information they provide. Be aware that information provided through some Websites may be unreliable and can change without notice. Neither the publisher or author shall be liable for any damages arising herefrom.

FROMMER'S STAR RATINGS, ICONS & ABBREVIATIONS

Every hotel, restaurant, and attraction listing in this guide has been ranked for quality, value, service, amenities, and special features using a star-rating system. In country, state, and regional guides, we also rate towns and regions to help you narrow down your choices and budget your time accordingly. Hotels and restaurants are rated on a scale of zero (recommended) to three stars (exceptional). Attractions, shopping, nightlife, towns, and regions are rated according to the following scale: zero stars (recommended), one star (highly recommended), two stars (very highly recommended), and three stars (must-see).

In addition to the star-rating system, we also use seven feature icons that point you to the great deals, in-the-know advice, and unique experiences that separate travelers from tourists. Throughout the book, look for:

-  special finds—those places only insiders know about
-  fun facts—details that make travelers more informed and their trips more fun
-  kids—best bets for kids and advice for the whole family
-  special moments—those experiences that memories are made of
-  overrated—places or experiences not worth your time or money
-  insider tips—great ways to save time and money
-  great values—where to get the best deals

The following abbreviations are used for credit cards:

AE	American Express	DISC	Discover	V	Visa
DC	Diners Club	MC	MasterCard

TRAVEL RESOURCES AT FROMMERS.COM

Frommer's travel resources don't end with this guide. Frommer's website, www.frommers.com, has travel information on more than 4,000 destinations. We update features regularly, giving you access to the most current trip-planning information and the best airfare, lodging, and car-rental bargains. You can also listen to podcasts, connect with other Frommers.com members through our active-reader forums, share your travel photos, read blogs from guidebook editors and fellow travelers, and much more.

THE BEST OF BERMUDA

1

Set adrift in its own dreamy archipelago in the balmy Gulf Stream, this rich little oasis of pink-sand beaches and sparkling blue waters is simultaneously slightly British, slightly American, and very Bermudian. Whether you've come to unwind on Elbow Beach, shop among the pretty pastels and whites of historic Hamilton, or discover 400 years of history at Fort St. Catherine in St. George, you'll discover a pleasant mix of formal British culture dressed in a pair of Bermuda shorts.

---

Things to Do Sit by the bustling waterfront and take in the capital scene in Hamilton or step back in time in St. George. Take a morning swim with the kids at sheltered Tobacco Bay or a sunset dip at Elbow Beach. The clear waters and starched white coves of Warwick Parish are made for scuba diving and snorkeling. Marvel at the subterranean beauty of Crystal Caves. Away from the beach, discover the Vermont Historic House Museum, with its period furnishings, or walk along the Bermuda Railway Trail for a closer look at the island's exotic wildlife.

Shopping All sorts of shops are clustered along Front Street in Hamilton. Under the atrium in The Emporium, you can browse boutiques and jewelry stores, or stroll the Royal Naval Dockyard area on Ireland Island for crafts and island pottery. You can watch local artisans at work at the Bermuda Arts Centre. Comparison shop at the Somers Wharf & Branch Stores, along Water Street, for better prices than their Hamilton counterparts.

Nightlife & Entertainment Many of Bermuda's bars and clubs hug the busy waterfront at Front Street in Hamilton, where Victorian-era balconies offer Atlantic views. The nightlife scene continues in the streets leading uphill from the harbor. Many hotels host steel-drum or calypso bands, or you can head to LV's Piano Jazz Lounge, where live jazz is performed nightly. The little port of St. George and adjoining St. David's Island are loaded with pubs. Enjoy a pint at White Horse Tavern, the oldest pub in St. George.

Restaurants & Dining Bermuda embraces a wide swath of American and European cuisines, but fresh seafood is still the default—and best—choice. Savor spiny lobster and wahoo steak in the elegant dining rooms of Sandys Parish or sink your teeth into shark hash and Bermudian rockfish in the restaurants along Hamilton's Front Street. For a cool treat, try the ice cream at island favorite Bailey's Ice Cream & Food D'Lites Restaurant in Hamilton Parish.

THE best BEACHES

Your first priority on your Bermuda vacation probably will be to kick back at the beach. But which beach? Hotels often have private stretches of sand; if so, we describe the beach in each hotel's review (see chapter 4). There are many fine public beaches as well. Here's our top-10 list, arranged clockwise around the island, beginning with the south-shore beaches closest to the City of Hamilton. For more details, see chapter 6.

- Elbow Beach (Paget Parish): The pale pink sand stretches for almost a mile at Elbow Beach, one of the most popular beaches in Bermuda. Three hotels sit on its perimeter. Because protective coral reefs surround it, Elbow Beach is one of the safest beaches on the island for swimming. See p. 123.
- Warwick Long Bay (Warwick Parish): This popular beach, on the south side of South Shore Park, features a half-mile stretch of sand against a backdrop of scrubland and low grasses. Despite frequent winds, an offshore reef keeps the waves surprisingly small. Less than 60m (200 ft.) offshore, a jagged coral island appears to be floating above the water. There is excellent snorkeling here—the waters are clear and marine life comes in close to shore. See p. 126.
- Chaplin Bay (Warwick and Southampton parishes): At the southern extremity of South Shore Park, straddling the boundary of two parishes, this small but secluded beach almost completely disappears during storms and particularly high tides. An open-air coral barrier rises from the water, partially separating one half of the beach from the other. See p. 126.
- Horseshoe Bay (Southampton Parish): This is Bermuda's most famous beach, and it's one of the best for families. Unlike most island beaches, Horseshoe Bay has a lifeguard on duty from May to September. The Horseshoe Bay Beach Cafe (☎ 441/238-2651) offers complete facilities, including watersports equipment rental. See p. 126.
- Church Bay (Southampton Parish): If you like to snorkel, this southwestern beach is for you. The relatively calm waters, sheltered by offshore reefs, harbor a variety of marine life, and a concession stand sells snacks and rents snorkel gear. Sunbathers love the unusually deep pink sands of this beach. See p. 127.
- Somerset Long Bay (Sandys Parish): The waters off this beach are often unsafe for swimming, but its isolation will appeal to anyone who wants to escape the crowds. With about .4km (¼ mile) of sand, the crescent-shaped beach is ideal for strolling. The undeveloped parkland of Sandys Parish shelters it from the rest of the island. See p. 127.
- Shelly Bay (Hamilton Parish): On the north shore, you'll discover calm waters and soft, pink sand—and you'll want for nothing else. This beach is well-known among beach buffs, but it's rarely overcrowded and there's always a spot in the sun just waiting for you. See p. 128.
- Tobacco Bay (St. George's Parish): A popular stretch of pale pink sand, this is the most frequented beach on St. George's Island. It offers lots of facilities, including equipment rentals and a snack bar. See p. 128.
- John Smith's Bay (Smith's Parish): The only public beach in Smith's Parish is long and flat. It boasts the pale pink sand for which the south shore is famous. There's usually a lifeguard on duty from May to September—a plus for families. There are toilet and changing facilities on-site. See p. 128.

THE best OUTDOOR PURSUITS

1

THE BEST OF BERMUDA

The Best Dive Sites

- Diving: If you're happiest under the sea, Bermuda has what you're looking for. That includes the wrecks of countless ships, underwater caves, rich reefs, and, during most of the year, warm, gin-clear waters. All around the island you'll find a kaleidoscope of coral and marine life that's the most varied in this part of the world. Many scuba experts consider Bermuda one of the safest and best places to learn the sport. Seasoned divers will not be disappointed, either—Bermuda has terrific diving areas for experts. Depths begin at 7.5m (25 ft.) or less, but can exceed 24m (79 ft.). Some wrecks are in about 9m (30 ft.) of water, which puts them within the range of snorkelers. See "The Best Dive Sites," below, and "Scuba Diving," in chapter 6.
- Golf: Known for its outstanding courses, Bermuda attracts the world's leading golfers. Over the years, such luminaries as President Eisenhower, President Truman, and the Duke of Windsor have hit the island's links. Rolling, hummocky fairways characterize the courses. Many avid golfers come to Bermuda to "collect courses." See "The Best Golf Courses," below, for our top picks, and "Where to Play World-Class Golf," in chapter 6.
- Boating & Sailing: Yachters around the world agree: Bermuda is one of the world's top boating destinations. Many people forget that Bermuda isn't one island, but an archipelago, with all kinds of nooks and crannies waiting to be discovered. With the fresh wind of the Atlantic blowing in your hair, you can embark on your own voyage of discovery, exploring Great Sound and its islets, including Long Island and Hawkins Island. Tiny, secluded beaches beckon you to put down anchor and relax awhile. If you're a novice, try Mangrove Bay; it's protected and safer than some of the more turbulent seas. See "More Fun in the Water," in chapter 6.
- Biking: You can't rent a car on Bermuda, so you might as well hit the road on two wheels. Most of the island isn't great cycling terrain; the roads are narrow and the traffic is heavy. So we suggest that you head for the Railway Trail, the island's premier bike path. The paved trail, which follows the former route of Bermuda's railway line, runs almost the entire length of the island. See "Other Outdoor Pursuits," in chapter 6.
- Horseback Riding: Steering a horse through the dune grass and oleander, especially at South Shore Park, is an experience you won't want to miss. Because this sport is restricted to supervised trails on Bermuda, it can be all the more memorable—you'll have the gorgeous seascapes all to yourself. Horseback-riding centers guide you on trails through the best of the countryside and to beautiful hidden spots along the north coast. See "Other Outdoor Pursuits," in chapter 6.

THE best DIVE SITES

The following are some of the most exciting shipwreck and coral-reef dives. See "Scuba Diving," in chapter 6, for information about dive outfitters and for more about the sites described below.

- The Constellation: This 60m (197-ft.), four-masted schooner, which wrecked en route to Venezuela with a cargo of glassware, drugs, and whiskey in 1943, lies in 9m (30 ft.) of water off the northwest side of the island, about 13km (8 miles) northwest of the Royal Naval Dockyard. The true story of this ship inspired Peter Benchley to write The Deep.

- The Cristóbal Colón: The largest known shipwreck in Bermuda's waters is this 144m (472-ft.) Spanish luxury liner; it ran aground in 1936 on a northern reef between North Rock and North Breaker. It lies in 9 to 17m (30–56 ft.) of water.
- The Hermes: This 50m (164-ft.) steamer ship rests in some 24m (79 ft.) of water about 1.5km (1 mile) off Warwick Long Bay on the south shore. It foundered in 1985. The Hermes, the Rita Zovetta, and the Tauton (see below) are Bermuda favorites because of the incredible multicolored variety of fish that populate the waters around the ships. You'll have a chance to see grouper, brittle starfish, spiny lobster, crabs, banded coral shrimp, queen angels, tube sponge, and more.
- L'Herminie: A first-class, 60-gun French frigate, L'Herminie was 17 days out of its Cuban port, en route to France, when it sank in 1838. The ship lies in 6 to 9m (20–30 ft.) of water off the west side of the island, with 25 cannons still visible.
- The Marie Celeste: This paddle-wheeler sank in 1864. Its 4.5m-diameter (15-ft.) paddle wheel, off the southern portion of the island, is overgrown with coral standing about 17m (56 ft.) off the ocean floor.
- The North Carolina: One of Bermuda's most colorful and well-preserved wrecks, this English sailing barkentine foundered in 1879 and now lies in about 12m (39 ft.) of water off the western portion of the island. The bow, stern, masts, and rigging are all preserved, and all sorts of vibrant marine life call the wreck home.
- The Rita Zovetta: A 120m (394-ft.) Italian cargo ship, lying in 6 to 21m (20–69 ft.) of water off the south side of the island, the Rita Zovetta ran aground off St. David's Island in 1924. It's a favorite with underwater photographers because of the kaleidoscope of fish that inhabit the area.
- South West Breaker: This coral-reef dive off the south shore, about 2.5km (1½ miles) off Church Bay, has hard and soft coral decorating sheer walls at depths of 6 to 9m (20–30 ft.).
- The Tauton: This popular dive site is a Norwegian coastal steamer that sank in 1920. It lies in 3 to 12m (10–39 ft.) of water off the north end of the island and is home to numerous varieties of colorful marine life.
- Tarpon Hole: Near Elbow Beach, off the south shore, this dive's proximity to the Elbow Beach Hotel makes it extremely popular. The honeycombed reef—one of the most beautiful off the coast of Bermuda—is known for its varieties of coral: yellow pencil, elkhorn, fire, and star.

THE best GOLF COURSES

All three of these courses are 18 holes.

- Belmont Hills Golf & Country Club (Warwick Parish): California-based designer Algie M. Pulley, Jr., radically reconfigured this par-70, 5,501m (6,017-yd.) course in 2002. Since its re-opening, amid justifiable brouhaha surrounding the most extensive golf course rebuilding in the history of Bermuda, there has been endless discussion about the peculiar features of this relatively short but quirkily challenging course. See p. 136.
- Fairmont Southampton Golf Club (Southampton Parish): This is a par-54, 2,454m (2,684-yd.) course, with elevated tees, strategically placed bunkers, and an array of water hazards to challenge even the most experienced golfer. One golfer said of this course, "You not only need to be a great player, but have a certain mountaineering agility as well." See p. 137.

- Port Royal Golf Course (Southampton Parish): This public course ranks among the best on the island, public or private; in fact, it's one of the greatest public courses in the world. Jack Nicklaus apparently agrees—he's fond of playing here. Robert Trent Jones, Sr., designed the original ocean-fronting course. One wrong hit from the club and your ball will go flying into the ocean below. See p. 137.

THE best SAILING OUTFITTERS

Bermuda is one of the Atlantic's major sailing capitals. Many sail-yourself boats are available for rent to qualified skippers, and kayaks, paddle boats, sailboards, and more are available for everyone. If you'd like to sail on a larger craft, the outfitters will provide you with a captain. Here are some of the best outfitters.

- Blue Hole Water Sports (Grotto Bay Beach Hotel, Hamilton Parish; ☎ 441/293-2915; www.blueholewater.bm): Here you'll find a large selection of watercraft, including Sunfish, sailboards, kayaks, Paddle Cats, and Sun Cats. Rentals are available for up to 8 hours. See p. 134.
- Pompano Beach Club Watersports Centre (Southampton Parish; ☎ 441/234-0222; www.pompanobeachclub.com): This is the best outfitter in this tourist-laden parish. Open from May to late October, it offers a variety of equipment, including the O'Brien Windsurfer, a popular sailboard suitable for one person at the intermediate or advanced level. Its fleet also includes vessels that hold one or two people: Dolphin paddle boats, Buddy Boards, Aqua-Eye viewing boards, Aqua Finn sailboats, and kayaks. These can be rented for up to 4 hours. See p. 134.
- Somerset Bridge Watersports (Somerset Parish; ☎ 441/234-0914; www.watersportssomersetbridge.com): This is the best place to rent a Boston Whaler, a small boat that can hold three or four passengers. It's an ideal craft for exploring the archipelago's uninhabited islands. This outfitter rents 4m (13-ft.) Whalers and a 30-hp, 5m (16-ft.) Open Bowrider, a speed-craft often used to pull water-skiers, which accommodates four. See p. 134.

THE best TENNIS FACILITIES

- The Fairmont Southampton (Southampton Parish): This is Bermuda's premier destination for avid players. Its tennis court complex is the largest on the island, and is maintained in state-of-the-art condition. The deluxe hotel, one of the finest on Bermuda, offers six Plexipave (professional color surface) courts. The courts are somewhat protected from the north winds, but swirling breezes may affect your final score. See p. 139.
- Elbow Beach (Paget Parish): With the closing of several other tennis courts on the island in recent years, avid tennis players have had to search a bit harder for suitable venues on which to play. With a pedigree dating back to the early days of Bermuda tourism, and with a sprawling physical plant that incorporates just about everything, these five tennis courts are open to visitors who phone ahead. Three of them are lit for night play. See p. 139.
- Government Tennis Stadium (Pembroke Parish): Although Bermuda has been known as the tennis capital of the Atlantic since 1873, players often complain that the trade winds around the island affect their game, especially near the water.

That's why many prefer inland courts, such as those at this government-owned stadium. It offers three clay and five shock-absorbing Plexicushion courts (three illuminated for night play). The facility, which is north of the City of Hamilton, requires players to wear proper tennis attire. A pro shop, a ball machine, and a pro offering private lessons are on-site. See p. 139.

THE best DAY HIKES

- The Bermuda Railway Trail (Sandys Parish): Stretching for about 34km (21 miles), this unique trail was created along the course of the old Bermuda Railway, which served the island from 1931 to 1948 (automobiles weren't allowed on the island until the late 1940s). Armed with a copy of the Bermuda Railway Trail Guide, available at visitor centers, you can follow the route of the train known as "Rattle and Shake." Most of the trail still winds along a car-free route, and you can travel as much of it as your stamina allows. See p. 57 and 138.
- From the Royal Naval Dockyard to Somerset (Sandys Parish): A 6.5km (4-mile) walk leads from the dockyard, the former headquarters of the British navy on Bermuda, to Somerset Island. Along the way you'll cross a beautiful nature reserve; explore an old cemetery; view the Royal Naval Hospital, where thousands of yellow-fever victims died in the 19th century; and be rewarded with a sweeping panoramic view of Great Sound. Sandy beaches along the route are perfect for pausing from your hike to stretch out on the sand or take a dip in the ocean. See "The Best of Bermuda in 3 Days," in chapter 3.
- Spittal Pond Nature Reserve (Smith's Parish): This 24-hectare (59-acre) sanctuary is the island's largest nature reserve, home to both resident and migratory waterfowl. You can spot some 25 species of waterfowl from November to May. Scenic trails and footpaths cut through the property. Explore on your own or take a guided hike offered by the Department of Agriculture. See p. 157.

THE best VIEWS

- Warwick Long Bay: This stretch of pristine pink sand is a dream beach of the picture-postcard variety. It backs up to towering cliffs and hills studded with Spanish bayonet and oleander. A 6m-high (20-ft.) coral outcrop, rising some 60m (200 ft.) offshore and resembling a sculpted boulder, adds variety to the stunning beachscape. See p. 126.
- Scaur Hill Fort Park: From Somerset Bridge in Sandys Parish, head for this fort atop the parish's highest hill. Walk the fort's ramparts, enjoying the vistas across Great Sound to Spanish Point. You can also gaze north to the dockyard and take in the fine views of Somerset Island. On a clear day, a look through the telescope reveals St. David's Lighthouse, 23km (14 miles) away on the northeastern tip of the island. After enjoying the fantastic views from the fort, you can stroll through the fort's 9 hectares (22 acres) of beautiful gardens. See p. 143.
- Gibbs Hill Lighthouse: For an even better view than the one enjoyed by Queen Elizabeth II when she visited but did not climb the lighthouse in 1953, hike the 185 spiral steps to the top. Built in 1846, it's the oldest cast-iron lighthouse in the world. From the top, you can relish what islanders consider the single finest view in all of Bermuda—a panorama of the island and its shorelines. In heavy winds, the tower actually sways, so be sure to hang on to the railing when you're up there. See p. 150.

THE best HISTORIC SITES

See “The Best Old Bermuda Experiences,” below, for a description of the Royal Naval Dockyard and its showpiece, the Commissioner’s House.

- Scaur Hill Fort Park (Sandys Parish): Fort Scaur and Fort St. Catherine were part of a ring of fortifications that surrounded Bermuda. Built by the British navy, the fort was supposed to protect the Royal Naval Dockyard from an attack that never materialized. During World War II, U.S. Marines were billeted nearby. Overlooking Great Sound, the fort offers views of some of the island’s most dramatic scenery. See p. 143.
- Verdmont (Smith’s Parish): This 1710 mansion is on property once owned by William Sayle, founder and first governor of South Carolina. Filled with portraits, antiques, and china, the house offers a rare glimpse into a long-faded life of old-fashioned style and grace. Resembling a small English manor house, it’s the finest historic home in Bermuda. See p. 157.
- St. Peter’s Church (St. George’s Parish): This is the oldest Anglican house of worship in the Western Hemisphere. At one time, virtually everyone who died on Bermuda was buried here, from governors to criminals. To the west of the church lies a graveyard of slaves. The present church sits on the site of the original, which colonists built in 1612. A hurricane destroyed the first structure in 1712, but some parts of the interior survived. It was rebuilt on the same site in 1713. See p. 163.
- Fort St. Catherine (St. George’s Parish): This fort—with its tunnels, cannons, and ramparts—towers over the beach where the shipwrecked crew of the Sea Venture first came ashore in 1609 (becoming Bermuda’s first settlers). The fort was completed in 1614, and extensive rebuilding and remodeling continued until the 19th century. The audiovisual presentation on St. George’s defense system helps you better understand what you’re seeing. See p. 164.

THE best OLD BERMUDA EXPERIENCES

Although much of Bermuda is modern, the first settlers arrived in 1609. The following places provide insights into the old, largely vanished Bermudian way of life. See chapter 7 for more details.

- St. David’s Island (St. George’s Parish): Though most of Bermuda looks pristine and proper, you’ll still find some vestiges of rustic maritime life on St. David’s. Some St. David’s Islanders never even bother to visit neighboring St. George, and to some locals, a trip to the West End of Bermuda would be like a trip to the moon. St. David’s Lighthouse has been a local landmark since 1879. To see how people used to cook and eat, drop by Black Horse Tavern (p. 120).
- The Royal Naval Dockyard (Sandys Parish): Nothing recaptures the maritime spirit of this feisty island colony more than this sprawling complex of attractions (with a multimillion-dollar cruise-ship dock) on Ireland Island. Fearing attacks on its fleet by Napoleon, greedy pirates, or rebellious Americans, Britain began building this massive fortress and dockyard in 1809. Convicts and slaves provided much of the construction labor. The Royal Navy occupied the shipyard for almost 150 years, doing much to influence the world’s perceptions about everything associated with Bermuda. The Dockyard closed as an official outpost of the British Empire in 1951, and Her Majesty's Navy has little presence here today. The Maritime Museum's centerpiece is the spectacularly restored Commissioner's House, which during the mid-1800s was the most potent symbol of British military might in the western Atlantic. Its exhibits on Britain's (and Bermuda's) nautical heritage give you a good feel for a largely vanished era. See p. 149.

- Great Head Park (St. George's Parish): This memorial to the men and women who died at sea has been cited as one of the genuinely evocative monuments of Bermuda. See p. 161.
- The Back Streets of St. George (St. George's Parish): Almost every visitor to the island has photographed the 17th-century stocks on King's Square in historic St. George. But it's in the narrow back alleys and cobblestone lanes, such as Shinbone Alley, that you'll really discover the town's old spirit. Arm yourself with a good map and wander at leisure through such places as Silk Alley (also called Petticoat Lane), Barber's Lane Alley (named for a former slave from South Carolina), Printer's Alley (where Bermuda's first newspaper was published), and Nea's Alley (former stomping ground of the Irish poet Tom Moore). Finally, walk through Somers Garden and head up the steps to Blockade Alley. On the hill is the aptly named Unfinished Cathedral. See "The Best of Bermuda in 1 Day," in chapter 3.

BERMUDA'S best-KEPT SECRETS

- St. David's Island (St. George's Parish): Part of St. George's Parish, this remote little island is often missed by many visitors, but it represents Bermuda at its most authentic (see listing above).
- Spittal Pond Nature Reserve (Sandys Parish; ☎ 441/236-6483): Bermuda still has some oases that aren't overrun with visitors. One such place is the Spittal Pond Nature Reserve, a sanctuary for migratory birds. It's a true walk through nature, with flowering bushes and citrus orchards. See p. 157.
- Crystal Caves (Hamilton Parish; ☎ 441/293-0640; www.caves.bm): Bermuda has the highest concentration of limestone caves in the world, many of them with echo patterns and sedimentary deposits that some spelunkers consider mystical. Collectively, these caves form one of the island's major natural wonderlands. Their surreal formations took millions of years to come into being, and the great stalactites and stalagmites have a gothic grandeur. Crystal Caves, at Bailey's Bay, are among the best, and also among the few whose tunnels and chambers can be navigated by laypersons as part of a guided tour. Discovered in 1907, these caves house crystal-clear Cahow Lake. See p. 158.

THE best RESORTS FOR HONEYMOONERS

Bermuda has long been a favorite destination of newlyweds. Its hotels, from deluxe resorts to guesthouses, attract lovers of all kinds looking for a little peace, solitude, and seclusion.

Although some couples seek out small cottages and guesthouses, most prefer a package offered by one of the splashy resort hotels. The following resorts feature not only romance, but also some of the best deals around.

Note: It's a good idea to consult a travel agent for help in getting the best bargain. Before you call any of these hotels directly, see "Package Tours," in chapter 2.

- Tucker's Point Hotel & Spa (Hamilton Parish; ☎ 866/604-3764 or 441/298-9800; www.tuckerspoint.com): This is the most opulent resort in Bermuda. On 80 private hectares (200 acres) of the most beautiful seafront in Bermuda, the 88-room resort is a posh pocket of privacy. With four swimming pools, a championship golf course, a state-of-the-art spa, and a private pink-sand beach, lovers will adore this resort's romance and honeymooners will want to return for a second honeymoon. It's that special. See p. 72.
- The Fairmont Southampton (Southampton Parish; ☎ 866/540-4497 in the U.S. and Canada, or 441/238-8000; www.fairmont.com/southampton): The island's most luxurious hotel does everything it can to attract honeymooners seeking lots of activities, from watersports to nighttime diversions (other than those in the honeymoon suite). Its honeymoon packages, which start at 4 days and 3 nights, include breakfast and dinner on a MAP (modified American plan), "dine-around plan" (dinner and breakfast are included in the hotel rate, but you can dine in any of the two Princess resorts' restaurants), a bottle of champagne, a basket of fruit, admission to the exercise club, and even a special-occasion cake, plus a souvenir photo and a watercolor print by a local artist. See p. 68.
- Elbow Beach Hotel (Paget Parish; ☎ 800/223-7434 or 441/236-3535; www.mandarinoriental.com/bermuda): This hotel promises "marriages made in heaven." Its Romance Packages include a daily breakfast, plus a candlelit dinner for two in your room on the first night. Upon departure, newlyweds receive a copy of the Elbow Beach Cookbook. See p. 69.
- Cambridge Beaches (Sandys Parish; ☎ 800/468-7300 in the U.S. or Canada, or 441/234-0331; www.cambridgebeaches.com): Few other resorts in Bermuda boast as loyal a roster of repeat guests, with some elderly clients breaking records for as many as 40 repeat visits. Recognizing the allure of their resort for couples and repeat visitors, Cambridge inaugurated, in 2008, an aggressive new self-image as a resort for relationship-building, sexual healing, and romantic "rediscovery." As such, it articulates New Age sensuality with more verve and gusto than any other hotel in Bermuda. Couples in search of self-discovery (or rediscovery) love it. See p. 77.
- Grotto Bay Beach Resort (Hamilton Parish; ☎ 800/582-3190 in the U.S., 800/463-0851 in Canada, or 441/293-8333; www.grottobay.com): This resort, which actively caters to honeymooners, features everything from midnight swims at a private beach to cozy lovers' nests with private balconies overlooking the ocean. The honeymoon packages include romantic dinners and arrangements for cruises and walking tours, as well as optional champagne, fruit, and flowers. See p. 74.
- Pompano Beach Club (Southampton Parish; ☎ 888/537-6448 or 441/234-0222; www.pompanobeachclub.com): The first and only American-owned hotel on Bermuda, this hotel appeals to couples in search of privacy, intimacy, and a sense of mystical union with the sea, which seems to roar and foam virtually onto its foundations. And within a cottage colony whose exterior boasts an almost universal shade of pink (they call it pompano pink; lovers refer to it as Valentine pink), how could romance possibly take a back seat? See p. 74.

THE best PLACES FOR FAMILIES TO STAY

Bermuda is more kid-friendly than any place we know in the Caribbean or The Bahamas. It's a safe, clean environment in a politically stable country. Nearly all Bermuda hotels go the extra mile to welcome families with children, but the following are our top choices.

- The Fairmont Southampton (Southampton Parish; ☎ 866/540-4497 in the U.S. and Canada, or 441/238-8000; www.fairmont.com/southampton): From June through Labor Day, this hotel features the best children's program in Bermuda. Children 17 and under stay free; and if the parents choose the MAP (breakfast and dinner included in the rates), kids also get free meals. With its many sports facilities, including two freshwater pools and six tennis courts, the Fairmont is definitely for families who enjoy the sporting life. The former Touch Club has been redesigned as Lenny's Loft, a social center for children's activities. From Lenny's Loft, kids are taken on excursions around the island. See p. 68.
- Elbow Beach Hotel (Paget Parish; ☎ 800/223-7434 or 441/236-3535; www.mandarinoriental.com/bermuda): This longtime family favorite, on one of the best beaches in Bermuda, allows children 17 and under to stay free when sharing a room with their parents (though be aware that only some rooms are really big enough for an extra person). It also offers a year-round "Family Value Package," which grants very low rates for four people (usually two children and two parents) and includes buffet breakfast, 4 hours of babysitting, 1 hour of paddle-boat rental, 2 hours of tennis, and free passes to the zoo and aquarium. Call the hotel or ask a travel agent for details. See p. 69.
- Grotto Bay Beach Resort (Hamilton Parish; ☎ 800/582-3190 in the U.S., 800/463-0851 in Canada, or 441/293-8333; www.grottobay.com): With its excellent summer children's program, this hotel attracts many families. It sits on 8.5 tropically landscaped hectares (21 acres), so guests usually don't mind its relative isolation across from the airport. The pool has been blasted out of natural rock, and there are subterranean caves to explore. Beachside barbecues and other activities make this a lively place. See p. 74.
- Sandpiper Apartments (Warwick Parish; ☎ 441/236-7093; www.sandpiperbda.com): This is a viable alternative to the big resort hotels and their high prices. This apartment complex, located a short walk from a beach, attracts self-sufficient families who like to buy their own groceries and cook in their rented apartment to cut down on the lethal dining costs of Bermuda. The accommodations are spacious and suitable for families, but they're far from luxurious. See p. 82.
- Rosemont (Pembroke Parish; ☎ 800/367-0040 in the U.S., 800/267-0040 in Canada, or 441/292-1055; www.rosemont.bm): It's a 15-minute ride from Elbow Beach, but this complex of cottages is another good choice for families who like to rent units with kitchens to keep dining costs within reason. A tranquil spot, each cottage opens onto its own veranda. Management can open and lock doors to suit different family groups—for example, as many as three rooms can be connected. A grocery store is close at hand, and there is also a coin-operated laundry on-site; babysitting can also be arranged. See p. 84.

THE best HOTEL BARGAINS

- The Oxford House (City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish; ☎ 800/548-7758 or 441/295-0503; www.oxfordhouse.bm): This is one of the best guesthouses on the island, built in the City of Hamilton in 1938 by a local doctor whose French wife wanted architectural features of her native land. Bedrooms, each named for one of Bermuda's parishes, are handsomely furnished and comfortable. The price is moderate, and quite good for the comfort offered. See p. 85.
- Rosemont (City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish; ☎ 800/367-0040 in the U.S., 800/267-0040 in Canada, or 441/292-1055; www.rosemont.bm): A collection of housekeeping cottages near the Hamilton Princess, Rosemont has long been a family favorite, offering a central location at a good price. The site offers panoramic views of Hamilton Harbour and the Great Sound. Guests often prepare their own meals. See p. 84.
- Salt Kettle House (Paget Parish; ☎ 441/236-0407). The name is not the only thing charming about this informal and secluded 2-centuries-old cottage. It's a real discovery, and bargain hunters eagerly seek it out, preferring it to the glitz of the megaresort hotels. You can swim in the nearby cove, retiring to your waterside cottage at night. See p. 88.
- Granaway Guest House & Cottage (Warwick Parish; ☎ 441/236-3747; www.granaway.com): This former private home from 1734 is a virtual picture-postcard cliché of Bermudian charm, with its pink walls and whitewashed roof. Opening onto views of Great Sound, it has been handsomely converted to receive guests—even the former slave quarters are now comfortable. See p. 86.

THE best RESTAURANTS

You don't come to Bermuda for grand cuisine. That said, there are quite a few places in which to enjoy a memorable meal.

- Tamarisk Dining Room (Sandys Parish; ☎ 441/234-0331): This is an elegant enclave at the western tip of Bermuda. Housed in one of the island's premier accommodations, Cambridge Beaches, it offers excellent service and a frequently changing menu of impeccably prepared international cuisine. For your main course, you can't do better than juicy tenderloin of beef with grain mustard and blanched garlic sauce. The wine cellar is up to the high standards of the menu. See p. 92.
- Newport Room (Southampton Parish; ☎ 441/238-8000): Part of the Fairmont Southampton Princess, this nautically decorated restaurant attracts an upscale crowd, especially yachters. The glistening teak decor makes it the most expensively furnished restaurant in Bermuda, and the French cuisine is worthy of the decor. The rack of lamb with mixed-nut crust is the stuff of which memories are made. See p. 97.

- Waterlot Inn (Southampton Parish; ☎ 441/238-8000): In a historic inn and warehouse that's part of the Fairmont Southampton Princess, this restaurant serves the island's most famous Sunday brunch, but it's also an ideal choice for dinner. Everybody from Eleanor Roosevelt to Mark Twain has praised the Mediterranean cuisine. See p. 97.
- Ascots (City of Hamilton; Pembroke Parish; ☎ 441/295-9644): In the Royal Palms Hotel, this restaurant specializes in a Continental menu that is mostly inspired by France and Italy, and does it exceedingly well. Classic techniques and first-rate ingredients are combined to make this one of the most enduring restaurants on the island. See p. 103.
- The Harbourfront Restaurant and Komodaru Sushi Lounge (City of Hamilton; Pembroke Parish; ☎ 441/295-4207; diningbermuda.com): The most fashionable restaurant in Bermuda today attracts serious gastronomes eager to sample its take on savory Asian and Mediterranean cuisine. Its sushi bar is also one of the best on the island. The location is on the ground floor of the Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute. See p. 104.
- Lobster Pot & Boat House Bar (City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish; ☎ 441/292-6898): If you don't find the local foodies at the restaurants discussed above, they'll surely be at this local favorite, enjoying some of the island's best regional dishes. Black rum and sherry peppers are the not-so-secret ingredients in the fish chowder, and baked fish and lobster are sure to tempt you. See p. 109.
- Silk (City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish; ☎ 441/295-0449; www.bermudasbestrestaurants.com): Some critics, including the discriminating readers of Condé Nast Traveler, are hailing Silk as the island's finest restaurant. After our most recent feast here, we're inclined to agree. Recipes are inspired by the ancient Kingdom of Siam (Thai, in other words). See p. 110.
- Tom Moore's Tavern (Hamilton Parish; ☎ 441/293-8020; www.tommoores.com): The Irish poet Tom Moore reportedly was a frequent visitor to this restaurant, which dates from 1652 and overlooks Walsingham Bay. The menu, however, is no relic—it's quite innovative. Duck is a specialty, as is Bermuda lobster; but who can forget the quail in puff pastry stuffed with foie gras? See p. 117.

BERMUDA IN DEPTH

2

Even some diehard fans compare Bermuda to certain beauty queens—beautiful but dull. We prefer to think of it as “tranquil.” If you’re looking for exotic local color or sizzling rum- and reggae-filled nights, look farther south to the Caribbean. But if you need to escape the stress and strain of daily life, go to Bermuda.

---

This quiet island is one of the best places in the world for a honeymoon or a celebration of any romantic occasion. The joint may not be jumping, but it’s the most relaxing—and safest—of the foreign islands, with a relatively hassle-free environment where you can concentrate on your tan, minus the annoyance of aggressive vendors and worries about crime. If you’re into sunning and swimming, it doesn’t get much better than Bermuda between May and September. Pink sand and turquoise seas—it sounds like a corny travel poster, but it’s for real. As Mark Twain said, “Sometimes a dose of Bermuda is just what the doctor ordered.”

Frankly, Bermuda is predictable, and its regular visitors wouldn’t have it any other way. The tiny island chain has attracted vacationers for decades, and there aren’t many secrets left to uncover. But those sandy pink beaches remain just as inviting as ever, no matter how many times you return.

Even to friends of Bermuda who make an annual pilgrimage to the island, the Bermudians can be a bit smug. They know their island is more attractive than Chicago, New York, Los Angeles, or Miami, and they’re not above reminding you. Bit of an imperial attitude, isn’t it? Exactly.

Some critics claim that Bermuda has become Americanized. That’s true of islands much farther south, such as The Bahamas, but not of Bermuda. Indeed, the island and its population steadfastly adhere to British customs, even if, at times, that slavish devotion borders on caricature. (The afternoon tea ritual is pleasant enough, but the lawyers’ and judges’ powdered wigs are a bit much—those things must get hot in a semitropical climate!) Some visitors find all the British decorum rather silly on a remote island that’s closer to Atlanta than to London. But many others find the stalwart commitment to British tradition colorful and quaint, enhancing the unique charm of the lovely, wonderful place that is Bermuda.

If you’re looking for some of the best golf in the world, Bermuda is your mecca. It has the scenery, the state-of-the-art courses, and the British tradition of golfing excellence. Even the most demanding player is generally satisfied with the island’s offerings.

If you're a sailor, you'll find the waters of Bermuda reason enough for a visit. The farther you go from shore, of course, the greater the visibility. Discovering a hidden cove, away from the cruise-ship crowds, can make your day.

If you hate driving on the left side of the road, that's fine with Bermudians. You can't drive here—they won't rent you a car. Bike around, or hop on a scooter and zip from one end of the island to the other.

We could go on and on with reasons for you to come to Bermuda, from exploring its natural wonderlands to playing on choice tennis courts with gentle sea breezes and warm sunshine. But we'll end here with a couple of warnings: Demanding foodies will find better dining on other islands, such as Martinique—although Bermuda has made much culinary progress lately. And if you want nightlife, glittering casinos, and all that jazz, head for San Juan. Though there is some nightlife in Bermuda—if you enjoy nursing a pint in a pub—it's always wise to bring along some good company (or a good book) to ensure a blissful night here.

BERMUDA TODAY

If there's a sore point among Bermudians today, it's their extreme desire to separate themselves from the islands of the Caribbean, particularly from The Bahamas, in the eyes of the world. They often send angry letters to publishers of maps, reference sources, and travel guides, insisting that Bermuda is not in the Caribbean. As one irate Bermudian put it, "You don't claim that Washington, D.C., is part of Dallas, Texas. They're the same distance apart that Bermuda is from the Caribbean."

Bermuda prides itself on its lack of economic, socioeconomic, and racial problems, many of which plague the Caribbean islands. Bermuda does not tolerate unsavory businesses. What the island would really like to be known for is its stellar performance in banking and multinational business.

Just Where Is Bermuda?

Many visitors are surprised to learn that Bermuda lies closer to Nova Scotia than to any island in the Caribbean.

During the first decade of the millennium, international business has positioned itself to overtake tourism as Bermuda's primary source of revenue.

Before China's takeover of Hong Kong, Bermuda persuaded some of the biggest names in world business to create official domiciles on the island. The trend began in the 1970s, when some Hong Kong businesspeople formed low-profile shipping, trading, and investment companies in Bermuda—companies that became, in essence, corporate cash cows. That trend continues to positively affect Bermuda's economy.

When Britain surrendered Hong Kong to China in 1997, Bermuda became the largest British colony. A local businessman watched the televised ceremonies in which Britain handed over control, and gleefully remarked, "All we can say is: Thank you very much, Hong Kong, because here come the insurance companies and pension funds." By the end of the 20th century, nearly half of the companies listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange—and even some of the Chinese government's own holding companies—had established a legal presence in Bermuda, because Bermuda provides such hefty tax breaks. Amazingly, tiny Bermuda has emerged as the biggest and most prosperous of all of Britain's colonies, the bulk of which are now in the Caribbean.

... Bermuda is, without doubt, a success. It is, generally speaking, a peaceful place—more so than many Caribbean islands nearby. [Still, there are critics, from whom] you hear complaints about the Americanization of the place, the suggestion that Bermudianism is merely an anomalous cultural hybrid, a mule of a culture, attractive in its own way but of no lasting value or use. And yet it does seem to work; it is rich, it is as content as any place I know, and it is stable.

—Simon Winchester, The Sun Never Sets: Travels to the Remaining Outposts of the British Empire (1985)

In the early years of the 21st century, Bermuda continues to attract a growing number of American companies that are incorporating in Bermuda to lower their taxes without giving up the benefits of doing business in the United States. Insurance companies have led the way, but now manufacturers and other kinds of companies are following. It's been trumpeted in the press as "profits over patriotism." Becoming a Bermudian company is a paper transaction that can save millions annually.

And as aggressively as Bermuda is pursuing business, it's also more aware than ever of its fragile environment. Bermuda's population density is the third highest in the world, after Hong Kong's and Monaco's. Because the number of annual visitors is 10 times higher than the population, Bermuda has had to take strong initiatives to protect its natural resources. Environmental protection takes the form of stiff anti-litter laws, annual garbage cleanup campaigns, automobile restrictions, cedar replanting (a blight in the '40s and '50s wiped out the native trees), lead-free gasoline, a strict fishing policy, and other measures.

Along the shaky road to self-government, Bermuda had some ugly racial conflicts. Riots in 1968 built up to the assassination of the British governor in 1973. But that was a long time ago; today, Bermuda has the most harmonious race relations in this part of the world, far better than those in the United States, the Caribbean, or The Bahamas. There's still a long way to go, but Bermudians of African descent have assumed important political, administrative, and managerial posts in every aspect of the local economy. Bermuda hasn't quite reached the point where the color of your skin is unimportant, but it has made more significant advancement toward that goal than its neighbors to the south.

In the 21st century, Bermuda's average household income rose to a healthy $68,500—contrast that with some of the less fortunate islands in the Caribbean, many of which don't even have the budgets to compile such statistics. Compared with residents of Puerto Rico, Jamaica, and certainly Haiti, no one is really poor in Bermuda. On the downside, home prices in Bermuda are at least three times the median cost of a house in the United States or Canada.

As a tourist destination, Bermuda has impeccable credentials. It was a resort long before Florida, Hawaii, Mexico, and many other places. Over the years, it has successfully exploited its position in the northwest Atlantic between North America and Europe. It is even working to throw off its image as a staid resort, hoping to project a lively, more with-it atmosphere (although it has a long way to go in that department). The United States remains its largest market—about 86% of visitors are Americans—but in recent years more and more visitors from Europe, the Far East, and the Near East have been seen dining, drinking, and shopping in the City of Hamilton.

Bermuda Shorts: Not Too Far Above the Knee

Most Bermudians consider the winter months too cold for Bermuda shorts; but by May, just about every businessman along Front Street has traded in his trousers for a pair. Bermuda shorts weren't initially Bermudian; they originated when the British army was sent to India. Later, when British troops were stationed in Bermuda, they were issued the shorts as part of the military's tropical kit gear.

By the 1920s and 1930s, the shorts had become quite fashionable, although they were not considered acceptable at dinner parties or at church. Now suitable attire for businessmen, the shorts are worn with a blazer, collared shirt, tie, and knee socks. They shouldn't be more than 7.6cm (3 in.) above the knee, and they must have a 7.6cm (3-in.) hem.

Life in the Onion Patch

GETTING TO KNOW THE "ONIONS"

Even though Bermuda isn't in the onion business the way it used to be, a born and bred islander is still called an "Onion." The term dates from the early 20th century, when the export of Bermuda onions and Easter lilies to the U.S. mainland were the island's major sources of income.

The "Onions"—a term that still carries a badge of pride—have their own lifestyle and even their own vocabulary. For example, "Aunt Haggie's children" are frustrating, stupid people; "married by 10 parsons" is a reference to a woman with huge breasts; "backin' up" means gay. You don't vomit in Bermuda, you "Go Europe." "Cockroach killers" (a term you may also hear in the American Southwest) are pointy-toed shoes. Although you'll rarely see it on local menus, the bream fish is called a "shit-bubbler."

Residents of more troubled islands to the south often look with envy upon the "Onions," who have a much higher standard of living than Caribbean islanders do; they also pay no personal income tax and suffer from only a 7% unemployment rate. The literacy rate is high: An estimated 99% of females age 15 and older can read and write, as can 98% of Bermudian males.

Today's 62,000 residents are mostly of African, British, and Portuguese descent. Bermuda's population density, one of the highest in the world, is about 3,210 per 2.5 sq. km (1 sq. mile). The population is about 61% black, 39% white. Many ethnic minority groups are represented, the largest and most established being the Portuguese; the majority of inhabitants, however, are islanders from the Caribbean or The Bahamas. Some Bermudians can even trace their ancestry back to the island's first settlers, and some to successful privateers and freed slaves.

Britain's influence in Bermuda is obvious in the predominantly English accents, police who wear helmets like those of London bobbies, and cars that drive on the left. Schools are run along the lines of the British system and provide a high standard of preparatory education. Children 5 to 16 years of age must attend school. The Bermuda College, which offers academic and technical studies, boasts a renowned hotel and catering program.

WHO'S MINDING THE STORE?

In essence, Bermuda is a self-governing dependency of Britain, which protects its security and stability. The governor, appointed by the Queen, represents Her Majesty in the areas of external affairs, defense, and internal security.

By choosing to remain a British dependency, Bermuda rejected the trail that many former colonies in the Caribbean (including Antigua) blazed by declaring their independence. Although they remain under the protection of the British, Bermudians manage their own day-to-day affairs. And ever since the people of Bermuda were granted the right to govern themselves in 1968, they have done so admirably well.

Bermuda has a 12-member cabinet headed by a premier. The elected legislature, referred to as the Legislative Council, consists of a 40-member House of Assembly and an 11-member Senate. Bermuda's oldest political party is the Progressive Labour Party, formed in 1963. In 1964, the United Bermuda Party was established; it stayed in power until it was toppled by the Progressive Labour Party in 1998.

Bermuda's legal system is founded on common law. Judicial responsibility falls to the Supreme Court, headed by a chief justice in a powdered wig and a robe. English law is the fundamental guide, and in court, English customs prevail.

The island consists of nine parishes, each managed by an advisory council. The capital, the City of Hamilton, is in Pembroke Parish. (For details on the individual parishes, see chapter 3.)

TOURIST DOLLARS & NO INCOME TAX

Bermuda's political stability has proved beneficial to the economy, which relies heavily on tourism and foreign investment.

For much of the island's early history, the major industry was shipbuilding, made possible by the abundant cedar forests. In the second half of the 19th century, when wooden ships gave way to steel ones, the island turned to tourism. Today, tourism is the country's leading industry, with annual revenues estimated at $450 million. Approximately 550,000 visitors come to Bermuda each year; an estimated 86% arrive from the United States, 4% from Britain, and 7% from Canada. Bermuda enjoys a 42% repeat-visitor rate.

An Island of Religious Tolerance

About a third of Bermuda's population adheres to the Church of England, which has been historically dominant in the colony. Indeed, the division of Bermuda into nine parishes dates from 1618, when each parish was required by law to have its own Anglican church, to the exclusion of any other. That division still exists today, but more for administrative than religious purposes.

Religious tolerance is now guaranteed by law. There are some 10,000 Catholics, many of them from the Portuguese Azores. There are also many members of Protestant sects whose roots lie within what were originally slave churches, among them the African Methodist Episcopal Church. Established in 1816 by African Americans, the sect was transported to Bermuda from Canada around 1870. Today, the church has about 7,000 members.

Also found in Bermuda are Seventh-day Adventists, Presbyterians, Baptists, Lutherans, and Mormons. Less prevalent are a handful of Jews, Muslims, Rastafarians, and Jehovah's Witnesses.

Bermuda today boasts more than 110 churches, an average of 5 per square mile. They range from the moss-encrusted parish churches established in the earliest days of the colony to modest structures with only a handful of members.

Impressions

You go to heaven if you want to—I'd rather stay here in Bermuda.

—Mark Twain, in a letter to Elizabeth Wallace, 1910

2

Looking Back at Bermuda

BERMUDA IN DEPTH

on the island. The reason for this curious situation? Bermuda has no corporate or income tax, so companies register on Bermuda but conduct business in their home countries, thereby avoiding taxes that their home countries would otherwise deduct.

The island's leading exports are pharmaceuticals, concentrates (primarily black rum and sherry peppers), perfumes, and beverages. Leading imports include foodstuffs, alcoholic beverages, clothing, furniture, fuel, electrical appliances, and motor vehicles. Bermuda's major trading partners are the United States, Great Britain, Canada, the Netherlands, and the Caribbean states.

LOOKING BACK AT BERMUDA

The Early Years

The discovery of the Bermudas is attributed to the Spanish—probably the navigator Juan Bermúdez—sometime before 1511, because in that year a map published in the Legatio Babylonica included “La Bermuda” among the Atlantic islands. A little over a century later, the English staked a claim to Bermuda and began colonization.

In 1609, the flagship of Admiral Sir George Somers, the Sea Venture, was wrecked on Bermuda's reefs while en route to the colony at Jamestown, Virginia. The dauntless crew built two pinnaces (small sailing ships) and headed on to the American colony, but three sailors hid out and remained on the island. They were Bermuda's first European settlers. Just 3 years later, the Bermuda islands were included in the charter of the Virginia Company, and 60 colonists were sent there from England. St. George Town was founded soon after.

Bermuda's status as a colony dates from 1620, when the first parliament convened. Bermuda's is the oldest parliament in continuous existence in the British Commonwealth. In 1684, Bermuda became a British Crown Colony under King Charles II, and Sir Robert Robinson was appointed the colony's first governor.

Slavery became a part of life in Bermuda shortly after the official settlement. Although the majority of slaves came from Africa, a few were Native Americans. Later, Scots imprisoned for fighting against Cromwell were sent to the islands, followed in 1651 by Irish slaves. This servitude, however, was not as lengthy as that of plantation slaves in America and the West Indies. The British Emancipation Act of 1834 freed all slaves.

Relations with America

Early on, Bermuda established close links with the American colonies. The islanders set up a thriving mercantile trade on the Eastern Seaboard, especially with southern ports. The major commodity sold by Bermuda's merchant ships was salt from Turks Island.

During the American Revolution, the rebellious colonies cut off trade with Loyalist Bermuda, despite the network of family connections and close friendships that bound them. The cutoff in trade proved a great hardship for the islanders, who, having chosen seafaring over farming, depended heavily on America for their food. Many of them, now deprived of profitable trade routes, turned to privateering, piracy, and “wrecking” (salvaging goods from wrecked or foundered ships).

Britain’s loss of its important American colonial ports led to a naval buildup in Bermuda. Ships and troops sailed from Bermuda in 1814 to burn Washington, D.C., and the White House during the War of 1812.

Bermuda got a new lease on economic life during the American Civil War. The island was sympathetic to the Confederacy. With the approval of the British government, Bermuda ran the blockade that the Union had placed on exports, especially of cotton, by the Southern states. St. George’s Harbour was a principal Atlantic base for the lucrative business of smuggling manufactured goods into Confederate ports and bringing out cargoes of cotton and turpentine.

When the Confederacy fell, so did Bermuda’s economy. Seeing no immediate source of income from trading with the Eastern states, the islanders turned their attention to agriculture and found that the colony’s fertile soil and salubrious climate produced excellent vegetables. Portuguese immigrants arrived to farm the land, and soon celery, potatoes, tomatoes, and especially onions were being shipped to the New York market. So brisk was the onion trade that the City of Hamilton became known as “Onion Town.”

During Prohibition, Bermudians again profited from the situation in the United States—they engaged in the lucrative business of rum running (smuggling alcohol to the U.S.). The distance from the island to the East Coast was too great for quick crossings in small booze-laden boats, which worked well from The Bahamas and Cuba. Nevertheless, Bermuda accounted for a good part of the alcoholic beverages transported illegally to the United States before the repeal of Prohibition in 1933.

A Hotbed of Espionage

Bermuda played a key role in World War II counterespionage for the Allies. The story of the “secret war” with Nazi Germany is told dramatically in William Stevenson’s A Man Called Intrepid.

Beneath the Hamilton Princess Hotel, a carefully trained staff worked to decode radio signals to and from German submarines and other vessels operating in the Atlantic, close to the United States and the islands offshore. Unknown to the Germans, the British, early in the war, had broken the Nazi code using a captured German coding machine called “Enigma.” The British also intercepted and examined mail between Europe and the United States.

Bermuda served as a refueling stop for airplanes flying between the two continents. While pilots were being entertained at the Yacht Club, the mail would be taken off the carriers and examined by experts. An innocent-looking series of letters from Lisbon, for example, contained messages written in invisible ink. The letters were part of a vast German spy network. The British became skilled at opening sealed envelopes, examining their written contents, and carefully resealing them.

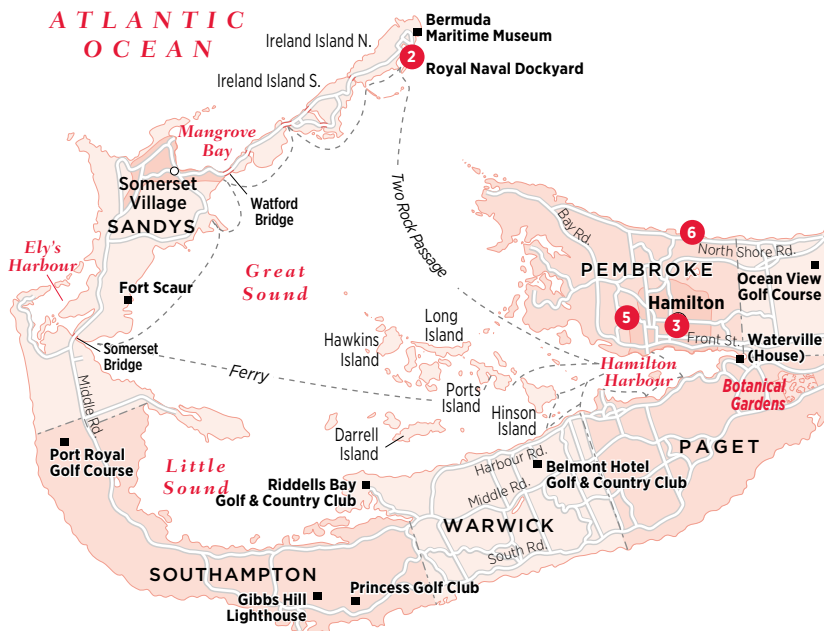

The surreptitious letter-readers were called “trappers.” Many of them were young women without any previous experience in counterespionage work, yet a number of them performed very well. As Stevenson wrote, it was soon discovered that “by some quirk in the law of averages, the girls who shone in this work had well-turned ankles.” A medical officer involved with the project reported it as “fairly certain that a girl with unshapely legs would make a bad trapper.” So, amazingly, the word went out that women seeking recruitment as trappers would have to display their gams.

Looking Back at Bermuda

2

Looking Back at Bermuda
BERMUDA IN DEPTH

- 1 1612 Richard Moore, the first governor, landed at St. George's Harbour.
- 2 1809 Royal Engineers began construction on the Royal Naval Dockyard.
- 3 1815 Hamilton became the new capital of Bermuda, superseding St. George.
- 4 1937 The first scheduled air service to Bermuda from New York landed.
- 5 1946 Ian Fleming assigned the Hamilton Princess as a residence for master spy James Bond.
- 6 1973 Governor Richard Sharples was assassinated at Government House.

During the course of their work, the trappers discovered one of the methods by which the Germans were transmitting secret messages: They would shrink a whole page of regularly typed text to the size of a tiny dot, then conceal the dot under an innocuous-looking punctuation mark! The staff likened these messages, with their secret-bearing dots, to the English dessert plum duff, for these “punctuation dots [were] scattered through a letter like raisins in the suet puddings.” The term “duff method” came to be applied to the technique that the Germans used to send military and other messages through the mail.

When the United States entered the war, FBI agents joined the British in their intelligence operations in Bermuda.

Bermuda Comes into Its Own

In 1953, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill chose Bermuda, which he had visited during the war, as the site for a conference with U.S. President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the French premier. Several such high-level gatherings have followed in the decades since; the most recent one, between former British Prime Minister John Major and former U.S. President George H. W. Bush, took place in 1991.

Bermuda's increasing prominence led to changes in its relations with Great Britain and the United States, as well as significant developments on the island itself. In 1957, after nearly 2 centuries of occupation, Britain withdrew its military forces, and decided to grant self-government to its oldest colony. Under the Lend-Lease Agreement signed

THE BAFFLING Bermuda Triangle

The area known as the Bermuda Triangle encompasses 2,414,016 sq. km (932,057 sq. miles) of open sea between Bermuda, Puerto Rico, and the southeastern shoreline of the U.S. This bit of the Atlantic is the source of the most famous, and certainly the most baffling, legend associated with Bermuda.

Tales of the mysterious Bermuda Triangle persist, despite attempts by skeptics to dismiss them as fanciful. Below are three of the most popular.

- In 1881, a British-registered ship, the Ellen Austin, encountered an unnamed vessel in good condition sailing aimlessly without a crew. The captain ordered a handful of his best seamen to board the mysterious vessel and sail it to Newfoundland. A few days later, the ships encountered each other again on the high seas. But to everyone's alarm, the crewmen who had transferred from the Ellen Austin were nowhere to be found—the ship was completely unmanned.
- Another tale concerns the disappearance of a merchant ship, the Marine Sulphur Queen, in February 1963. It vanished suddenly without warning, and no one could say why. The weather was calm when the ship set sail from Bermuda, and everything onboard was fine—the crew never sent a distress signal. In looking for explanations, some have theorized that the ship's weakened hull gave way, causing the vessel to descend quickly to the ocean floor. Others attribute the loss to more mysterious forces.
- The most famous of all the legends concerns an incident in 1945. On December 5, five U.S. Navy bombers departed from Fort Lauderdale, Florida, on a routine mission. The weather was fine; no storm of any kind threatened. A short time into the flight, the leader of the squadron radioed that they were lost, and then the radio went silent. All efforts to establish further communication proved fruitless. A rescue plane was dispatched to search for the squadron—but it, too, disappeared. The navy ordered a search that lasted 5 days, but there was no evidence of any wreckage. To this day, the disappearance of the squadron and the rescue plane remains a mystery as deep as the waters of the region.

How do those who believe in the Bermuda Triangle legend account for these phenomena? Some contend that the area is a time warp to another universe; others think the waters off Bermuda are the site of the lost kingdom of Atlantis, whose power sources still function deep beneath the surface. Still others believe that laser rays from outer space are perpetually focused on the region, or that underwater signaling devices are guiding invaders from other planets, and that these aliens have chosen the site for the systematic collection of human beings for scientific observation and experimentation. (Smacks of The X Files, doesn't it?) Some, drawing upon the Bible's Book of Revelation, are fully persuaded that the Bermuda Triangle is really one of the gates to Hell (in this version, the other gate lies midway between Japan and the Philippines, in the Devil's Sea).

No matter what your views on these mysteries, you're bound to provoke an excited response by asking residents what they think about it. On Bermuda, almost everyone has an opinion about the island's biggest and most fascinating legend.

in 1941, the United States continues to maintain a naval air station at Kindley Field, in St. George's Parish. The agreement is due to expire in 2040.

As Bermudians assumed greater control over their own affairs, they began to adopt significant social changes, but at a pace that did not satisfy some critics. Although racial segregation in hotels and restaurants ceased in 1959, schools were not integrated until 1971. Women received the right to vote in 1944, but the law still restricted suffrage to property holders. That restriction was rescinded in 1963, when voter registration was opened to all citizens.

On the rocky road to self-government, Bermuda was not without its share of problems. Serious rioting broke out in 1968, and British troops were called back to restore order. Then, in 1973, Sir Richard Sharples, the governor, was assassinated.

These events, which occurred at a time when several of the islands in the region and in the Caribbean were experiencing domestic difficulties, proved to be the exception rather than the rule. In the years since, the social and political climate in Bermuda has been markedly calm—all the better for the island's economic well-being, because it encourages the industries on which Bermuda depends, including tourism.

During the 1990s, the political status of the island again became a hot topic among Bermudians. Some people felt it would be advantageous to achieve complete independence from Britain, whereas others believed it was in Bermuda's best interest to maintain its ties to the Crown. In 1995, the majority of voters in an independent referendum rejected a proposal to sever ties with Great Britain.

In 1997, the governing party of Bermuda, the United Bermuda Party, chose the daughter of a well-known civil rights leader as its prime minister. Pamela Gordon, former environment minister, was named to the post at the age of 41, the youngest leader in the island nation's 400-year history and the first woman to be prime minister. David Saul, the reigning prime minister, resigned in favor of this younger and more popular leader. In her first months in office, Gordon, a relative political newcomer, pledged to bridge differences between Bermuda's majority black population and its white business elite.

In that stated goal, at least based on subsequent election returns, she did not succeed. In November 1998, the Progressive Labour Party, supported by many of Bermuda's blacks, ended 30 years of conservative rule by sweeping its first victory in general elections. Although Gordon is black, as was most of her cabinet, many locals saw her party as part of the "white establishment."

The Labour Party's leader, Jennifer Smith, became the new prime minister, claiming Bermuda's residents had met their "date with destiny." The Labour Party has moved more from the left to the center in recent years, and Smith has sought to reassure the island's white-led business community that it will be "business as usual" with her in power. The Labour Party made the economy an issue in the campaign,

Impressions

[Many Britons in Bermuda, to their dislike] find that while the colony is supposedly and unquestionably British—nationally, legally, officially—it is in very many senses dominated by the United States, is utterly dependent on the United States and can well be regarded, and not by cynics alone, as the only British colony which is more like an American colony, run by Bermudians, on Britain's behalf, for America's ultimate benefit.

—Simon Winchester, The Sun Never Sets: Travels to the Remaining Outposts of the British Empire (1985)

Puritan Justice

Many tales are told about the fate of persons condemned for witchcraft during the 1600s. One person suspected of collusion with the devil was thrown into St. George's Harbour; whoever did not sink was adjudged guilty. Many women floated because of their skirts and petticoats. The first woman to be found floating after her trial was Jeanne Gardiner, in 1651. Since her failure to plunge to the depths "proved" that she was a witch, the court ordered her removed from the water; she was then burned at the stake. Not only women, however, were tried for witchcraft; in 1652, a man was condemned to death for having cast a spell over his neighbor's turkeys. Justice in those Puritan times was stern, in Bermuda no less than in the American colonies.

promising higher wages and better benefits to workers, even though Bermuda residents enjoy one of the highest standards of living in the world. In 2003, W. Alexander Scott replaced Smith as the prime minister and head of the party.

Also in 2003, tragedy struck the island in the roaring fury called Hurricane Fabian, Bermuda's worst hurricane in 40 years. For some 12 hours, Fabian pummeled the island with 190 to 225kmph (120–140 mph) winds. This caused small tornadoes to spawn and unleashed a towering surge of ocean that drenched almost all of Bermuda in saltwater, uprooting trees.

In the 21st century, Bermuda faces many problems, including what many see as a declining quality of life. There are environmental concerns—notably overfishing and damage to precious reefs. Traffic jams are now common despite the ban against visitors renting automobiles. Affordable housing becomes scarcer year by year. As more cruise lines launch megaliners, Bermuda is also concerned that its tight harbors will not be able to accommodate the traffic. Nonetheless, the more unfortunate islands to the south still envy Bermuda's standard of living.

In spite of the falloff of the global economy, in late 2008 and in 2009 Bermuda still enjoyed the third highest per capita income in the world, more than 50% higher than that of the U.S.

A number of insurance companies relocated to Bermuda following the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks in New York and Washington, D.C., and again after Hurricane Katrina in Louisiana in August 2005. In spite of the falloff of real estate in the United States, the average cost of a house in Bermuda in 2008 was slightly less than 1 million U.S. dollars.

In 2009, Bermuda celebrated its 400th birthday. The island held a yearlong birthday party to honor its cultural heritage.

BERMUDA ART & ARCHITECTURE

Art

Art in Bermuda has never reached the status enjoyed by such islands as Haiti and Jamaica. A critic once wrote that "Bermuda is the perfect place for the Sunday painter." Some serious art, however, is displayed at such places as the Masterworks Foundation Gallery at the Bermuda National Gallery in the City of Hamilton

(p. 155). Still, a great deal of Bermudian art is of the watercolor variety, with idyllic landscapes and seascapes sold at various shops around the island.

Bermuda's earliest works of art were portraits painted by itinerant artists for the local gentry. Most of these were by the English-born Joseph Blackburn, whose brief visit to Bermuda in the mid-1700s led to requests by local landowners to have their portraits painted. Many of these portraits can be found today in the Tucker House Museum in St. George's (p. 163). A handful of portraits from the same period were done by the American-born artist John Green. Also prized are a series of paintings from the mid-19th century depicting sailing ships; they're signed "Edward James," but the artist's real identity remains unknown.

During the 19th century, the traditions of the English landscape painters, particularly the Romantics, came into vogue in Bermuda. Constable, with his lush and evocative landscapes, became the model for many. Other than a few amateur artists, however, whose works showed great vitality but little sense of perspective, most of Bermuda's landscape paintings were executed by British military officers and their wives. Their body of work includes a blend of true-to-life landscapes with an occasional stylized rendering of the picturesque or Romantic tradition then in vogue in England. Among the most famous of the uniformed artists was Lt. E. G. Hallewell, a member of the Royal Engineers, whose illustrations of the island's topography were used for planning certain naval installations.

Another celebrated landscapist was Thomas Driver, who arrived as a member of the Royal Engineers in 1814 and remained on the island until 1836. Trained to reproduce detailed landscape observations as a means of assisting military and naval strategists, he later modified his style to become more elegant and evocative. He soon abandoned the military and became a full-time painter of Bermuda scenes. Because of Driver's attention to detail, his works are frequently reproduced by scholars and art historians who hope to recapture the aesthetic and architectural elements of the island's earliest buildings.

Later in the 19th century, other artists depicted the flora of Bermuda. Lady Lefroy, whose husband was governor of the island between 1871 and 1877, painted the trees, shrubs, fish, flowers, and animals of the island in much detail. Later, at scattered intervals during their careers, such internationally known artists as Winslow Homer, Andrew Wyeth, George Ault, and French-born Impressionist and cubist Albert Gleizes all painted Bermudian scenes.

Among prominent Bermuda-born artists was Alfred Birdsey, who died in 1996. His watercolors represented some of the most elegiac visual odes to Bermuda ever produced. Birdsey's paintings, as well as those of other artists mentioned above, are on display in galleries around the island.

Today, Bermuda has more artists painting and creating than at any point in its history. Local favorites include Eric Amos, whose illustrations of Bermuda's wild birds are sought by collectors all over the world; Captain Stephen J. Card, who has developed an international reputation by specializing in marine art; Vivienne Gardner, known not just for her paintings but also for her sculpture, stained glass, and mosaics; and Christine Phillips-Watlington, who has achieved an international reputation for her botanical paintings.

Protecting artworks from climate damage is a constant problem on the island. As the administrator of one major art gallery explained, "Bermuda's climate is unquestionably the worst in the world for the toll it takes on works of art, with three elements—humidity, salt, and ultraviolet light—all playing their part." Some very valuable Bermudian paintings have been totally destroyed. As a result, more and more galleries and exhibition rooms on the island have installed air-conditioning.

In addition to its painters, Bermuda also boasts several noted sculptors, including Chelsey Trott, who produces cedar-wood carvings, and Desmond Hale Fountain, who creates works in bronze. Fountain's life-size statues often show children in the act of reading or snoozing in the shade.

Architecture

Today, Bermuda's unique style is best represented by its architecture: primarily, those darling little pink cottages that grace postcards. The architecture of the island—a mélange of idiosyncratic building techniques dictated by climate and the types of building materials available—is the archipelago's only truly indigenous art form.

Bermuda's early settlers quickly recognized the virtues of the island's most visible building material, coral stone. A conglomerate of primeval sand packed with crushed bits of coral and shells, this stone has been quarried for generations on Bermuda. Cut into oblong building blocks, it is strong yet porous. However, it would be unusable in any area where the climate has cycles of freezing and thawing, because it would crack. Mortared together with imported cement, the blocks provide solid and durable foundations and walls.

Bermuda's colonial architects ingeniously found a way to deal with a serious problem on the island: the lack of an abundant supply of fresh water. During the construction of a house or any other sort of building, workers excavated a water tank, or cistern, first. The cistern was created either as a separate underground cavity away from the house or as a foundation for the building. These cisterns served to collect rainwater funneled from rooftops via specially designed channels and gutters. The design of these roof-to-cellar water conduits led to the development of what is Bermuda's most distinct architectural feature: the gleaming rooftops of its houses. Gently sloping, and invariably painted a dazzling white, they are constructed of quarried limestone slabs sawed into "slates" about an inch thick and between 77 and 116 sq. cm (12–18 sq. in.). Roofs are installed over a framework of cedar-wood beams (or, more recently, pitch pine or pressure-treated wood beams), which are interconnected with a series of cedar laths. The slates are joined together with cement-based mortar in overlapping rows, then covered with a cement wash and one or several coats of whitewash or synthetic paint. This process corrects the porosity of the coral limestone slates, rendering them watertight. The result is a layered effect, since each panel of limestone appears in high relief atop its neighbor. The angular, step-shaped geometry of Bermudian roofs has inspired watercolorists and painters to emphasize the rhythmically graceful shadows that trace the path of the sun across the rooflines.

Unlike those in the Caribbean, Bermudian houses are designed without amply proportioned hanging eaves. Large eaves may be desirable because of the shade they afford, but smaller ones have proved to be more structurally sound during tropical storms. The interiors of Bermudian houses are usually graced with large windows and doors, and, in the older buildings, floors and moldings crafted from copper-colored planks of the almost-extinct Bermuda cedar. Also common is a feature found in colonial buildings in the Caribbean and other western Atlantic islands as well: ray ceilings, so named because of their resemblance to an inverted serving tray. This shape allows ceilings to follow the lines of the inside roof construction to create what would otherwise be unused space. The effect of these ceilings, whether sheathed in plaster or planking, gives Bermudian interiors unusual height and airiness.

A typical roof in Bermuda.

Despite the distinctively individualistic nature of Bermuda's architecture, decor remains faithfully—some say rigidly—British, and somewhat more formal than you might expect. Interior designs seem to be a felicitous cross between what you'd find in a New England seaside cottage and how a nautically minded society hostess would accent her drawing room in London. Bermuda homes usually have lots of Chippendale or Queen Anne furniture (sometimes authentic, sometimes reproduction). Whenever possible, decorators love to include any piece of antique furniture crafted from Bermuda cedar. Combine these features with the open windows, gentle climate, and carefully tended gardens of the fertile, mid-Atlantic setting, and the result is some very charming and soothing interiors.

No discussion of Bermudian architecture should neglect to mention a garden feature that many visitors consider unique to Bermuda: the moon gate. A rounded span of coral blocks arranged in a circular arch above a wooden gate, the moon gate was introduced to Bermuda around 1920 by the Duke of Westminster's landscape architect, who got his inspiration from such gates in China and Japan.

Bermuda moon gate.

Did You Know?

- More than 25,000 couples honeymoon on Bermuda each year.
- This mysterious island inspired William Shakespeare's 1610 play The Tempest.
- Somerset Bridge is the world's smallest drawbridge. At only 56cm (22 in.) wide, the opening is just large enough for a ship's mast to pass through.
- Bermuda has more golf courses per square kilometer than any other place in the world; there are eight of them on the island's approximate 138 sq. km (53 sq. miles).
- Sir Brownlow Gray, the island's former chief justice, played the first game of tennis in the Western Hemisphere on Bermuda in 1873.
- With the arrival of spring comes the blossoming of Bermuda's Easter lilies, first brought to the island from Japan in the 18th century.
- Bermuda has no billboards: There is a ban on outdoor advertising and neon signs.

BERMUDA IN POP CULTURE

The Literary Scene

Bermuda has long been a haven for writers, and has figured in many works of literature, beginning with Shakespeare's The Tempest. Shakespeare never visited the island himself but was inspired to set his play here by accounts he had read or heard of the island.

The Irish poet Thomas Moore (1779–1852), who visited Bermuda for several months in 1804, was moved by its beauty to write:

*Oh! could you view the scenery dear
That now beneath my window lies.*

Moore left more memories—literary and romantic—than any other writer who came to Bermuda. He once stayed at Hill Crest Guest House in St. George and soon became enamored of Nea Tucker, the adolescent bride of one of the most prominent men in town. “Sweet Nea! Let us roam no more,” he once wrote of his beloved.

It's said that the lovesick poet would gaze for hours upon Nea's veranda, hoping that she'd appear. One day a jealous Mr. Tucker could tolerate this no more and banished the poet from his property. Moore was chased down a street that now bears the name Nea's Alley to commemorate his unrequited romance.

Today, one of the most popular restaurants in Bermuda is Tom Moore's Tavern (p. 117). The building was once the home of Samuel Trott, who constructed it in the 17th century. Unlike Tucker, the descendants of Samuel Trott befriended Moore, who often visited the house. Moore immortalized the calabash tree on the Trott estate in his writing; he liked to sit under it and write his verse there.

Following in Moore's footsteps, many famous writers visited Bermuda in later years. None, however, have left their mark on the island like Tom Moore.

For Americans, it was Mark Twain who helped make Bermuda a popular tourist destination. He published his impressions in the Atlantic Monthly in 1877 through 1878, and in his first book, The Innocents Abroad. He became so enchanted by the island that, as he wrote many years later to a correspondent, he would happily choose it over heaven.

After Twain, Eugene O'Neill came to Bermuda in 1924, and returned several more times, at least through 1927. While here, he worked on The Great God Brown, Lazarus Laughed, and Strange Interlude. O'Neill was convinced that cold weather adversely affected his ability to write. He thought that Bermuda would “cure” him of alcoholism. At first, O'Neill and his family rented cottages on what is now Coral Beach Club property. Later, O'Neill bought the house “Spithead,” in Warwick. In 1927, however, his marriage ended, and O'Neill left his family—and Bermuda.

During the 1930s, several eminent writers made their way to Bermuda, in hopes of finding idyllic surroundings and perhaps a little inspiration: Sinclair Lewis, who spent all his time cycling around “this gorgeous island”; Hervey Allen, who wrote Anthony Adverse, his best-selling novel, at Felicity Hall in Somerset; and James Ramsey Ullman, who wrote The White Tower on the island. James Thurber also made several visits to Bermuda during this time.

In 1956, Noël Coward came with his longtime companion, Graham Payn, to escape “the monstrously unjust tax situation in England.” He was not, he said, “really mad about the place,” yet he purchased “Spithead” in Warwick (O'Neill's former home) and stayed some 2 years, working on London Mornings, his only ballet, and the musical Sail Away. “Spithead” is now privately owned.

Royalty Comes to “Shangri-La”

The Irish poet Thomas Moore and the American humorist Mark Twain publicized the glories of Bermuda, but—for the British, at least—the woman who put Bermuda on the tourist map was Princess Louise. The daughter of Queen Victoria, she spent several months in Bermuda in 1883. Her husband was the governor-general of Canada, so she traveled to Bermuda to escape the fierce northern cold. Although Bermuda hosted many royal visitors in the 20th century, including Queen Elizabeth II, Princess Louise was the first royal personage to set foot in the colony. When she returned to Canada, she told reporters that she’d found the Shangri-La of tourist destinations.

2

BERMUDA IN DEPTH

Bermuda in Pop Culture

Other well-known authors who visited Bermuda over the years include Rudyard Kipling, C. S. Forester, Hugh Walpole, Edna Ferber, Anita Loos, John O’Hara, E. B. White, and Philip Wylie.

Bermuda’s own writers include William S. Zuill—a former director of the Bermuda National Trust who wrote The Story of Bermuda and Her People, an excellent historical account—and Nellie Musson, Frank Manning, Eva Hodgson, and Dale Butler, who have written about the lives of African Bermudians.

RECOMMENDED READING

Most of the books listed below have been printed in Bermuda. Thus, while they’re readily available on the island, they may be hard to find in the United States and elsewhere.

The Mysterious Bermuda Triangle

Many writers have attempted to explain the Bermuda Triangle. None has sufficiently done so yet, but all of these books make good reads for those of us intrigued by this tantalizing mystery.

The best of the lot is The Bermuda Triangle Mystery Solved (Prometheus Books) by Larry Kusche. It’s a good read even though it doesn’t actually “solve” the mystery. A mass-market paperback, Atlantis: Bermuda Triangle (Berkley Publishing Group), by Greg Donegan, also digs into the puzzle; as does another paperback, The Mystery of the Bermuda Triangle (Heinemann Library), by Chris Oxlade.

Art & Architecture

For Bermuda style, both inside the house and outside, two books lead the pack: Bermuda Antique Furniture and Silver, published by Bermuda National Trust; and Architecture Bermuda Style, by David R. Raine, issued by Pompano Publications.

Divers, Hikers & Shipwrecks

Daniel Berg has written the finest book on the shipwrecks of Bermuda—a great choice for a diver to read before actually going under the water. It’s called Bermuda Shipwrecks: A Vacationing Diver’s Guide to Bermuda’s Shipwrecks (Aqua Explorers).

Divers might also like to pick up a copy of Marine Fauna and Flora of Bermuda (Wiley Publishing, Inc.), edited by Wolfgang Sterrer. Another good book for divers is Diving Bermuda (Aqua Quest Publications), part of the Aqua Quest Diving Series, this one authored by Jesse Concelmo and Michael Strohofer. Its second edition is the most up-to-date of all the sports guides to Bermuda.

History

In Bermuda's bookstores, you can find several books devoted to the colorful history of the island. Making for the best reads are the following titles: The Rich Papers—Letters from Bermuda by Vernon A. Ives (Bermuda National Trust and the University of Toronto Press); Biography of a Colonial Town by Jean de Chantal Kennedy (Bermuda Bookstores Publisher); A Life on Old St. David's by Ernest A. McCallan (Bermuda Historical Society); Chained on the Rock: Slavery in Bermuda by Cyril O. Packwood (Baxters); and Bermuda's Story by Terry Tucker (Bermuda Bookstores Publisher).

Flora & Fauna

If you're a devotee of Mother Nature, seek out Bermuda Houses and Gardens by Ann B. Brown and Jean Outerbridge (Garden Club of Bermuda); Bermuda: Her Plants and Gardens 1609–1850 by Jill Collett (Macmillan Caribbean); and A Guide to the Reef, Shore, and Game Fish of Bermuda (self-published) by Louis S. Mowbray.

Fiction

One of the most sensitive portraits, capturing Bermuda of long ago, is The Back Yard by Ann Z. Williams (Macmillan), an account of growing up in Bermuda in the 1930s and '40s.

Film

Film buffs may be surprised to discover that Bermuda has an indirect link to the movie The Wizard of Oz—Denslow's Island.

The privately owned island is named after W. W. Denslow, who created the original illustrations for the book on which the movie is based, The Wonderful Wizard of Oz (1900) by L. Frank Baum, and thus with his pen gave form to many of the characters depicted on the screen. Denslow lived in Bermuda at the turn of the 20th century. The island, however, despite its famous association, is off limits to visitors.

Several films were shot in and around Bermuda. The most famous is The Deep (1977), starring Jacqueline Bisset, Nick Nolte, Robert Shaw, and Louis Gossett, Jr., a visually arresting movie about a lost treasure and drugs and, of course, scuba diving off the island's coast. For one of the scenes, a lighthouse near the Grotto Bay Beach Hotel and Tennis Club was blown up.

A movie that was filmed partly in Bermuda is Chapter Two (1979), with James Caan and Marsha Mason. Based on the successful Broadway play by Neil Simon, it is the story of a playwright's bumpy romance soon after the death of his wife. The Bermuda scenes were shot at Marley Beach Cottages.

Music

Modern Bermudian music, which you hear today mainly in hotel lounges, is a blend of traditional Bermudian music with sounds from Jamaica, Trinidad, and Puerto Rico, as well as the United States and Britain. However, these aren't the sounds you'll predominantly hear: As elsewhere, American and British rock, modified by local rhythms, has proved the strongest and most lasting influence.

Visitors are often pleased to discover that the island's best-known singers and musicians can be heard at many of the hotels and nightclubs. Inquire about which local artist is performing during the cocktail hour at your hotel; chances are it may be one of the most popular.

GOMBEBY DANCING

Despite new pop forms, Bermuda is proud of its original musical idioms. Gombey dancing is the island's premier folk art. Gombey (commonly pronounced goom-bee or gom-bay) combines West Africa's tribal heritage with the Native American and British colonial influences of the New World. African Caribbeans brought to Bermuda as slaves or convicts introduced the tradition, and its rhythms are similar to Brazilian street samba. Gombey dancers are almost always male; in accordance with tradition, men pass on the rhythms and dance techniques from generation to generation in their family. Dancers outfit themselves in masquerade costumes, whose outlandish lines and glittering colors evoke the brilliant plumage of tropical birds.

Gombey (spelled goombay in some other places, such as The Bahamas) signifies a specific type of African drum, as well as the Bantu word for "rhythm." These rhythms escalate into an ever faster and more hypnotic beat as the movements of the dancers become increasingly uninhibited, and the response of the spectators grows ever more fervent. The most strenuous dances are usually performed during the Christmas season.

Although gombey dancing, with its local rituals and ceremonies, can be seen as one of Bermuda's major cultural contributions, it's not unique to the island. Variations are found elsewhere in the western Atlantic, as well as in the Caribbean. Indeed, during its development, Bermuda's gombey dancing was significantly influenced by some of these other versions. In colonial times, for example, when African Caribbeans were brought to Bermuda as slaves or convicts to help build the British military installations on the island, they carried with them their own gombey traditions, which eventually combined with those that had already taken root in Bermuda. What's unique about the Bermudian version of gombey, however, is its use of the British snare drum, played with wooden sticks, as an accompaniment to the dancing.

A handful of gombey recordings are available, enabling you to hear the sounds of this African-based music, with its rhythmic chanting and rapid drumbeat. Among the recordings, the album Strictly Gombey Music (Edmar 1165), performed by four members of the Pickles Spencer Gombey Group, offers a good selection of gombey dances.

Aficionados of this art form, however, will argue that gombey's allure lies not so much in the music as in the feverish—almost trancelike—dancing that accompanies it, as well as in the colorful costumes of the dancers. For that reason, they say, audio recordings can't convey the full mesmerizing power of a gombey dance the way a visual recording can. So, while you're in Bermuda, consider filming a gombey dance to show when you get back home.

Regrettably, there's no one place in Bermuda where you can always see gombey. Your best bet is to inquire at your hotel to see what events and performances might be staged during your visit. Sometimes hotels present gombey shows, but they don't follow a fixed schedule.

THE BALLADEER TRADITION

Bermuda also has a strong balladeer tradition. Although its exponents are fewer than they used to be, local balladeers continue to enjoy considerable popularity among islanders and visitors alike. A wry, self-deprecating humor has always distinguished their compositions, and balladeers can strum a song for any occasion on their guitars. Today, many of their songs have to do with Bermuda's changing way of life.

By virtually everyone's estimate, the musical patriarch of Bermuda was Hubert Smith, who was the island's official greeter in song. A balladeer of formidable talent and originality, Smith composed and performed songs for the visits of nearly all the foreign heads of state who graced Bermuda's shores in recent memory. His performances for members of the British royal family included one of the most famous songs ever written about the island: Bermuda Is Another World. The song is now the island's unofficial national anthem; it's included in the best-selling album Bermuda Is Another World (Edmar 1025).

RECORDINGS

In the last 2 decades, Bermuda saw the rise of many other recording artists, whose CDs are available in local stores. A five-man calypso band, The Bermuda Strollers, with their lively rhythms, can be heard on their album The Best of (Edmar 20G6), and also in a collection of musical odes to the island's natural beauty, South Shore Bermuda (Edmar 1156). Another balladeer and comic of great talent is Gene Steede. His popular album is called South Shore Bermuda (Edmar 2003). A challenger is Jay Fox, known for his songs of love, joy, and sorrow, all heard in the album Island Paradise (Jay Fox 1601).

Bermuda ballads, songs of love, and calypsos are also performed by Stan Seymour, a popular soloist who has been compared to Harry Belafonte. Look for Our Man in Bermuda (Edmar 1070).

The lively calypsos of Trinidad and the pulsating rhythms of Jamaica have also influenced musical tastes in Bermuda. Youth Creation, a dreadlock-sporting local reggae group, adopts the Rastafarian style in Ja's on Our Side (Edmar 2002).

For those who find that nothing quite stirs the blood as well as good old-fashioned oom-pah-pah, there are the live as well as recorded performances of the Bermuda Regiment, whose bagpipes, trumpets, and drum tattoos evoke the finest British military traditions—and must strike a nostalgic chord or two in many a British or Bermudian listener. The regiment's album Drummers Call Bermuda (Edmar 1152) is a perennial favorite.

The late Lance Hayward was a Bermuda-born musician who established his musical reputation far from home. His most appreciative audiences were found in the smoke-filled jazz houses of New York's Greenwich Village. With a musical style that has been compared to the soft jazz of George Shearing, his most popular album is Killing Me Softly (Island 90683).

A Bermuda-born trio, Steel Groove, became known for performing only instrumentals in the Trinidadian style. Their trademark adaptations used the calypso-derived steel pan combined with a keyboard, an electric guitar, and often a bass guitar. Their most popular album became Calypso Hits. An even earlier Calypso group, Esso Steel Band, also became widely known island-wide with the release of their albums, The Esso Steel Band (Sunshine 1003) and It's a Beautiful World.

EATING & DRINKING

For years, Bermuda wasn't known for its cuisine; the food was too often bland and lacking in flavor. However, the culinary scene has notably changed. Chefs seem better trained, and many top-notch (albeit expensive) restaurants dot the archipelago. Italian food is in vogue, as is Chinese. (On the other side of the coin, fast food, including KFC, has arrived, too.)

Dress Up for Your Evening Out

As most of the world dresses more and more casually, Bermuda's dress codes have loosened up a bit—but this is still a more formal destination than many other islands. Most restaurants prefer that men wear a jacket and tie after 6pm; women usually wear casual, chic clothing in the evening. It's always wise to ask about required dress when you're reserving a table. And during the day, no matter what the establishment, be sure to wear a cover-up—don't arrive for lunch sporting a bikini.

See the "Etiquette" section under "Fast Facts: Bermuda" in chapter 10 for more information.

In recent years, some Bermudians have shown an increased interest in their heritage. They've revived many traditional dishes and published the recipes in books devoted to Bermudian cooking (not a bad idea for a souvenir).

As the population grows, less and less farmland is available on the island, so Bermuda imports most of its food from the United States (which means you might want to focus on dishes made with the local ingredients noted below as much as possible; there's no telling how long that imported meat has been in storage). But lots of people still tend their own gardens; at one home, we were amazed at the variety of vegetables grown on a small plot of land, including sorrel, oyster plants, and Jerusalem artichokes.

What's Cooking?

SEAFOOD Any local fisherman will be happy to tell you that more species of shore and ocean fish—including grunt, angelfish, yellowtail, gray snapper, and the ubiquitous rockfish—are found off Bermuda's coastline than in any other place.

Rockfish, which is similar to Bahamian grouper, appears on nearly every menu. From the ocean, it weighs anywhere from 15 to 135 pounds (or even more). Steamed, broiled, baked, fried, or grilled, rockfish is a challenge to any chef. There's even a dish known as "rockfish maw," which we understand only the most old-fashioned cooks (there is still a handful on St. David's Island) know how to prepare. It's the maw, or stomach, of a rockfish, stuffed with a dressing of forcemeat (seasoned chopped fish) and simmered slowly on the stove. If you view dining as an adventure, you may want to try it.

The most popular dish on the island is Bermuda fish chowder, made with a variety of white fish (often rockfish). Waiters usually pass around a bottle of sherry peppers and some black rum, which you add to your soup; these lend a distinctive Bermudian flavor.

Shark isn't as popular on Bermuda as it used to be, but many traditional dishes, including hash, are made from shark. Some people use shark-liver oil to forecast the weather; it's said to be more reliable than the nightly TV report. The oil is left in the sun in a small bottle. If it lies still, fair weather is ahead; if droplets form on the sides of the bottle, expect foul weather.

The great game fish in Bermuda is wahoo, a sweet fish that tastes like albacore. If it's on the menu, go for a wahoo steak. Properly prepared, it's superb.

The Bermuda lobster (or "guinea chick," as it's known locally) has been called a first cousin of the Maine lobster. It's in season from September to March. Its high price tag has led to overfishing, forcing the government to issue periodic bans on its harvesting. In those instances, lobster is imported.

You can occasionally get good conch stew at a local restaurant. Sea scallops, though still available, have become increasingly rare. Mussels are cherished in Bermuda; one of the most popular traditional dishes is Bermuda-style mussel pie, with a filling of papaya, onions, potatoes, bacon, curry powder, lemon juice, thyme, and, of course, steamed mussels.

FRUITS & VEGETABLES In restaurants and homes, Portuguese red-bean soup—the culinary contribution of the Portuguese farmers who were brought to the island to till the land—precedes many a meal.

The Bermuda onion figures in many recipes, including onion pie. Bermuda-onion soup, an island favorite, is usually flavored with Outerbridge's Original Sherry Peppers.

Bermudians grow more potatoes than any other vegetable; the principal varieties are Pontiac red and Kennebec white. The traditional Sunday breakfast of codfish and bananas cooked with potatoes is still served in some homes.

"Peas and plenty" is a Bermudian tradition. Black-eyed peas are cooked with onions, salt pork, and sometimes rice. Dumplings or boiled sweet potatoes may also be added to the mix at the last minute. Another peas-and-rice dish, Hoppin' John, is eaten as a main dish or as a side dish with meat or poultry.

Both Bermudians and Bahamians share the tradition of Johnny Bread, or Johnnycake, a simple pan-cooked cornmeal bread. Fishermen would make it at sea over a fire in a box filled with sand to keep the flames from spreading to the boat.

The starchy cassava root, once an important food on Bermuda, is now used chiefly as an ingredient in the traditional Christmas cassava pie. Another dish with a festive holiday connection is sweet-potato pudding, traditionally eaten on Guy Fawkes Day (Nov 5).

Bermuda grows many fresh fruits, including strawberries, Surinam cherries, guavas, avocados, and, of course, bananas. Guavas are made into jelly, which in turn often goes into making the famous Bermuda syllabub, traditionally accompanied by Johnnycake.

What to Wash It All Down With

For some 300 years, rum has been the drink of Bermuda. Especially popular are Bacardi (formerly a Cuban company, their headquarters are now in Bermuda) and Demerara rum (also known as black rum). The rum swizzle (with rum, citrus juices, and club soda) is the most famous cocktail in Bermuda.

For decades, the true Bermudian has preferred a drink called "Dark and Stormy." Prepared with black rum and ginger beer (pronounced burr), it has been called the national drink of the island.

An intriguing drink is loquat liqueur. It can be made with loquats (a small plum-like local fruit), rock candy, and gin, or more elaborately with brandy instead of gin and the addition of such spices as cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves, and allspice.

You'll find all the usual name-brand alcoholic beverages in Bermuda, but prices on mixed drinks can run high, depending on the brand.

Like the British, Bermudians often enjoy a sociable pub lunch. There are several pubs in the City of Hamilton, St. George, and elsewhere on the island. For the visitor, a pub lunch—say, fish and chips or shepherd's pie, a pint or two of ale, and an

Local Dining Customs

One of Bermuda's most delightful traditions is the English ritual of afternoon tea, which many local homes and hotels maintain.

In hotels, the typical afternoon tea is served daily from 3 to 5pm. Adding a contemporary touch, it's often served around a pool, with guests partaking in their bathing suits—a tolerated lapse from the usual formal social and dress code.

At some places, more formal tea is served at a table laid with silver, crisp white linens, and fine china, often imported from Britain. The usual accompaniments include finger sandwiches made with thinly sliced cucumber or watercress, and scones served with strawberry jam.

animated discussion about politics, sports, or the most recent royal visit—is an experience to be cherished as truly Bermudian.

WHEN TO GO

The Weather

A semitropical island, Bermuda enjoys a mild climate; the term “Bermuda high” has come to mean sunny days and clear skies. The Gulf Stream, which flows between the island and North America, keeps the climate temperate. There's no rainy season, and no typical month of excess rain. Showers may be heavy at times, but the skies clear quickly.

Being farther north in the Atlantic than The Bahamas, Bermuda is much cooler in winter. Springlike temperatures prevail from mid-December to late March, with the average temperature ranging from 60° to 70°F (16°–21°C). Unless it rains, winter is fine for golf and tennis but not for swimming; it can be cool, and you may even need a sweater or a jacket. Water temperatures in winter are somewhat like the air temperature, ranging from about 66°F (19°C) in January to 75°F (24°C) through March. Scuba divers and snorkelers will find Bermuda's waters appreciably cooler than Caribbean waters in winter. From mid-November to mid-December and from late March to April, be prepared for unseasonable spurts of spring or summer weather.

In summer, the temperature rarely rises above 85°F (29°C). There's nearly always a cool breeze in the evening, but some hotels have air-conditioning. And local water temperatures can be as high as 86°F (30°C) during the summer—warmer than many inshore and offshore Caribbean waters.

As a result, Bermuda's off season is the exact opposite of that in the Caribbean. It begins in December and lasts until about March 1. In general, hotels offer off-season rates, with discounts ranging from 20% to 60%. This is the time to go if you're traveling on a tight budget. During autumn and winter, many hotels also offer discounted package deals. Some hotels close for a couple of weeks or months at this period.

A look at the official chart of temperature and rainfall will give you a general idea of what to expect during your visit.

Bermuda's Average Daytime Temperatures & Rainfall

	JAN	FEB	MAR	APR	MAY	JUNE	JULY	AUG	SEPT	OCT	NOV	DEC
TEMP (°F)	65	64	64	65	70	75	79	80	79	75	69	65
TEMP (°C)	19	18	18	19	21	24	30	27	30	24	21	19
RAINFALL (IN.)	4	5	4.6	3	3.9	5.2	4	5.3	5.3	6	4.5	3

2 The Hurricane Season

This curse of the Caribbean, The Bahamas, and Bermuda lasts officially from June to November, but don't panic—fewer tropical storms pound Bermuda than the U.S. mainland. Bermuda is also less frequently hit than islands in the Caribbean. Satellite forecasts are generally able to give adequate warning of any really dangerous weather.

If you're concerned, you can call the nearest branch of the National Weather Service (it's listed under the U.S. Department of Commerce in the phone book). Radio and TV weather reports from the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables, Florida, will also keep you posted.

To find the current weather conditions in Bermuda, and a 5-day forecast, go to Bermuda Weather at www.weather.bm.

Holidays

Bermuda observes the following public holidays: New Year's Day (Jan 1), Good Friday, Easter, Bermuda Day (May 24), the Queen's Birthday (first or second Mon in June), Cup Match Days (cricket; Thurs and Fri preceding first Mon in Aug), Labour Day (first Mon in Sept), Christmas Day (Dec 25), and Boxing Day (Dec 26). Public holidays that fall on a Saturday or Sunday are usually celebrated the following Monday.

Bermuda Calendar of Events

For an exhaustive list of events beyond those listed here, check <http://events.frommers.com>, where you'll find a searchable, up-to-the-minute roster of what's happening in cities all over the world.

JANUARY & FEBRUARY

Bermuda Festival. Throughout January and February, island-wide events abound. They include golf and tennis invitational; an international marathon; a dog show; open house and garden tours; and the Bermuda Festival, a 6-week international festival of the performing arts, held in the City of Hamilton. It features drama, dance, jazz, classical, and popular music, as well as other entertainment by the best international artists. Some tickets for the festival are reserved until 48 hours before curtain time for visitors. For details and a schedule for the 2011 festival, contact Bermuda Festival, P.O. Box HM 297, Hamilton HM AX, Bermuda (☎ 441/295-1291; www.bermuda-festival.org).

The Bermuda International Race Weekend, with international and local runners, takes place the third weekend in January. For further information and entry forms, contact the International Race Weekend Committee, Bermuda Track and Field Association, P.O. Box DV 397, Devonshire DV BX, Bermuda (☎ 441/296-0951; www.btfa.bm).

Bermuda Heart & Soul. Travelers 50 years of age or older can enjoy specially designed cultural activities throughout the month of February during this Golden Rendezvous month. Many hotels offer reduced rates to mature travelers, and discount coupons are also available at the Visitors Information Centre in Hamilton. For more information, call the Department of Tourism at ☎ 441/292-0023.

MARCH

Bermuda International Film Festival. Film buffs and filmmakers (mainly independent

GETTING SUCKED IN: THE OFFICIAL WORD ON THE Bermuda Triangle

In response to a flood of concern from travelers about the possibility of getting sucked into the so-called Bermuda Triangle and disappearing forever, the U.S. Board of Geographic Names has issued an official statement: "We do not recognize the Bermuda Triangle as an official name and do not maintain an official file on the area. The 'Bermuda or Devil's Triangle' is an imaginary area located off the southeastern Atlantic coast of the United States, which is noted for a high incidence of unexplained losses of ships, small boats, and aircraft. The apexes of the triangle are generally accepted to be Bermuda, Miami, and San Juan. In the past, extensive but futile Coast Guard searches prompted by search-and-rescue cases such as the disappearances of an entire squadron of TBM Avengers shortly after take-off from Fort Lauderdale, or the traceless sinking of Marine Sulphur Queen in the Florida Straits, have lent credence to the popular belief in the mystery and the supernatural qualities of the Bermuda Triangle."

ones) descend on Bermuda for the annual festival that combines screenings of independent works with movies from personal workshops. Participants get to meet and speak with industry leaders. After each film there is a Q & A session. During the festival, three daily screenings are held. For more information, log on to www.biff.bm or contact Duncan Hall at ☎ 441/293-3456. Mid-March.

Home & Garden Tours. Each spring, the Garden Club of Bermuda lays out the welcome mat at a number of private homes and gardens. A different set of houses, all conveniently located in the same parish, is open every Wednesday during this event. The program usually includes a total of 20 homes, many of them dating from the 17th and 18th centuries. The Bermuda Department of Tourism Office (see "Visitor Information" under "Fast Facts" in chapter 10) provides a complete listing of homes and viewing schedules. The tours run from the end of March to mid-May.

APRIL

Beating Retreat Ceremony. The Bermuda Regiment and massed pipes and drums (a military band and a drum corps) create an event that combines a marching band concert and a parade. The ceremony's roots are in the 17th century, when British soldiers were stationed on the island and a roll of the drums called them back to their garrisons at nightfall. It's presented once or twice per month, rotating among the City of Hamilton, St. George, and the Royal Naval Dockyard. The ceremony usually takes place from April to July, and in September and October. The Bermuda Department of Tourism Office (see "Visitor Information" under "Fast Facts" in chapter 10) supplies exact times and schedules.

Peppercorn Ceremony. His Excellency the governor collects the annual rent of one peppercorn for use of the island's Old State House in St. George. Mid- to late April. For information and the exact date, call ☎ 800/223-6106 or 441/297-1532.

Agriculture Exhibit. Held over 3 days in late April at the Botanical Gardens in Paget, this event is a celebration of Bermuda's agrarian and horticultural bounty. In addition to prize-winning produce, the Agriculture Exhibit provides a showcase for local arts and crafts. For more information, contact the Department of Environmental Protection, P.O. Box HM 834, Hamilton HM CX, Bermuda (☎ 441/236-4201), or the Bermuda Department of Tourism (see "Visitor Information" under "Fast Facts" in Chapter 10).

International Race Week. Every year, during late April and early May, this yachting event pits equivalent vessels from seven classes of sailing craft against one another. Yachting enthusiasts around the world follow the knockout elimination-style event with avid interest. The Marion-to-Bermuda Race and Newport-Bermuda Race (see below) take place in June.

Unfortunately for spectators, the finish lines for the island's sailing races usually lie several miles offshore. Afterward, boats are often moored in Hamilton Harbour; any vantage point on the harbor is good for watching the boats come in. Even better: Head for any of the City of Hamilton's harborfront pubs, where racing crowds celebrate their wins (or justify their losses) over pints of ale.

For information on all sailing events held off the coast of Bermuda, contact the Sailing Secretary, Royal Bermuda Yacht Club, P.O. Box HM 894, Hamilton HM DX, Bermuda (☎ 441/295-2214; www.rbyc.bm), or (for races originating off the U.S. coast) the New York Yacht Club, 37 W. 44th St., New York, NY 10036 (☎ 212/382-1000; www.nyyc.org).

MAY

Bermuda Heritage Day and Month. Bermuda Heritage Month culminates on Bermuda Day, May 24, a public holiday that's Bermuda's equivalent of Independence Day. Bermuda Day is punctuated with parades through downtown Hamilton, dinghy and cycling races, and the Bermuda Half-Day Marathon (open only to island residents). For the rest of the month, a program of cultural and sporting events is presented (the schedule will be available at the tourist office). Any hotel in town can fill you in on the events planned for the year's biggest political celebration, or contact the Bermuda Department of Tourism Office (see "Visitor Information" under "Fast Facts" in chapter 10).

JUNE

Queen's Birthday. The Queen's birthday is celebrated with a parade down Front Street in the City of Hamilton. First or second Monday in June; contact the Bermuda Department of Tourism Office at ☎ 800/BERMUDA [237-6832] or www.bermuda.tourism.com for exact schedules.

Marion-to-Bermuda Race. This 1,038km (645-mile) sailboat race from Marion, Massachusetts, to Bermuda is held in mid-June. See the entry for "International Race Week," under April, above, for details on international sailing events. For more information, call ☎ 441/295-2214, or visit www.marionbermuda.com.

Newport-Bermuda Race. The world's most famous wind-driven contest is held each June. The record to date, which starts in Newport, Rhode Island, is a 56-hour transit. See "International Race Week," above, for advice on viewing this race.

AUGUST

Cup Match and Somers Days. Also known as the Cup Match Cricket Festival, this annual event celebrates the year's bounty with Bermuda's most illustrious cricket match. It's often compared to American Thanksgiving. Cricketers from the East End (St. George's Cricket Club) play off against those from the West End (Somerset Cricket Club), with lots of attendant British-derived protocol and hoopla. Tickets cost about $10; they're available at the gate on match day. The event is held on Thursday and Friday before the first Monday in August. For more information, call ☎ 441/297-0374.

SEPTEMBER

Labour Day. This public holiday, held on the first Monday in September, features a host of activities; it's also the ideal time for a picnic. The high point is a parade from Union Square in the City of Hamilton's Bernard Park.

Marine Science Day. Lectures, hands-on demonstrations, and displays for adults and children mark this day devoted to the study of the sea. It is hosted by the BBSR (Bermuda Biological Station for Research, Inc.). Call ☎ 441/297-1880 or visit www.bios.edu for more information. End of September.

OCTOBER

Match Racing. For Match Racing, pairs of identical sailing vessels, staffed by a rotating roster of teams from throughout the world, compete in elimination-style contests throughout the month. For details on international sailing events, see the entry for “International Race Week,” under April, above.

NOVEMBER

Guy Fawkes Day. A small annual celebration with a minifair marks this day. The celebration starts with the traditional burning of 17th-century British traitor Guy Fawkes’s effigy at the Keepyard of the Bermuda Maritime Museum, Royal Naval Dockyard, at 4:30pm. November 5.

The Opening of Parliament. A traditional ceremony, with a military guard of honor, celebrates the opening of Parliament by His Excellency the governor, as the Queen’s personal representative. In anticipation of the entry of the members of Parliament (MPs) at 11am, crowds begin gathering outside the Cabinet Building around 9:30 or 10am. Spectators traditionally include lots of schoolchildren being trained in civic protocol, as well as nostalgia buffs out for a whiff of British-style pomp. For more information, call ☎ 800/223-6106. November 6.

Invitation Tennis Weeks. More than 100 visiting players vie with Bermudians during 2 weeks of matches. Unlike Wimbledon—this event’s role model—virtually everyone buys tickets at the gate. For information, contact the Bermuda Lawn Tennis Association, P.O. Box HM 341, Hamilton HM BX, Bermuda (☎ 441/296-0834; www.blta.bm). Early November.

Remembrance Day. Bermudian police, British and U.S. military units, Bermudians, and veterans’ organizations participate in a small parade in remembrance of all who have given their lives in battle. November 11.

World Rugby Classic. Former international rugby players, who have recently retired from the international stage, compete with Bermudians at the Bermuda National Sports Club (☎ 441/295-6574; www.worldrugby.bm). Mid-November.

DECEMBER

Bermuda Goodwill Tournament. Pro-amateur foursomes from international golf clubs play more than 72 holes on four of Bermuda’s eight courses. Anyone who wants to compete must pass the sponsors’ stringent requirements and may appear only by invitation. Spectators are welcome to watch from the sidelines for free. For more information, contact the Bermuda Goodwill Golf Tournament, P.O. Box WK 127, Warwick WK BX, Bermuda (☎ 441/295-4640; www.bermudagoodwill.org). Early December.

THE LAY OF THE LAND

Lying 920km (570 miles) east-southeast of Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, Bermuda is actually a group of some 300 islands, islets, and coral rocks clustered in a fishhook-shaped chain about 35km (22 miles) long and 3km (2 miles) wide at its broadest point. The archipelago, formally known as “The Bermudas,” forms a landmass of about 54 sq. km (21 sq. miles).

Only 20 or so of the islands are inhabited. The largest one, called the “mainland,” is Great Bermuda; about 23km (14 miles) long, it’s linked to nearby major islands by a series of bridges and causeways. Bermuda’s capital, the City of Hamilton, is on Great Bermuda.

The other main inhabited islands include Somerset, Watford, Boaz, and Ireland in the west, and St. George’s and St. David’s in the east. This chain of major islands encloses the archipelago’s major bodies of water, which include Castle Harbour, St. George’s Harbour, Harrington Sound, and Great Sound. Most of the other smaller islands, or islets, lie within these bodies of water.

Bermuda is far north of the Tropic of Cancer, which cuts through the Bahamian archipelago. Bermuda’s archipelago is based on the upper parts of an extinct volcano, which may date from 100 million years ago. Through the millennia, wind and water brought limestone deposits and formed these islands far from any continental landmass. Today, the closest continental landmass is the coast of the Carolinas. Bermuda is about 1,250km (775 miles) southeast of New York City, some 1,660km (1,030 miles) northeast of Miami, and nearly 5,555km (3,445 miles) from London. It has a balmy climate year-round, with sunshine prevailing almost every day. The chief source of Bermuda's mild weather is the Gulf Stream, a broad belt of warm water formed by equatorial currents. The stream's northern reaches separate the Bermuda islands from North America and, with the prevailing northeast winds, temper the wintry blasts that sweep across the Atlantic from west and north. The islands of Bermuda are divided, for administrative purposes, into parishes. (See chapter 3.)

More Than Onions: The Island's Flora

Bermuda's temperate climate, abundant sunshine, fertile soil, and adequate moisture account for the exceptionally verdant gardens that you'll find on the archipelago. Some of the best gardens, such as the Botanical Gardens in Paget Parish, are open to the public. Bermudian gardeners pride themselves on their mixtures of temperate-zone and subtropical plants, both of which thrive on the island, despite the salty air.

Bermuda is blessed with copious and varied flora. Examples include the indigenous sea grape, which flourishes along the island's sandy coasts (it prefers sand and saltwater to more arable soil), and the cassava plant, whose roots resemble the tubers of sweet potatoes. When ground into flour and soaked to remove a mild poison, the cassava root is the main ingredient for Bermuda's traditional Christmas pies. Also growing wild and abundant are prickly pears, aromatic fennel, yucca, and the Spanish bayonet, a spiked-leaf plant that bears a single white flower in season.

Bermuda's only native palm, the palmetto, proved particularly useful to the early settlers. Its leaves were used to thatch roofs, and when crushed and fermented, the palm fronds produced a strong alcoholic drink called bibby, whose effects the early Puritans condemned. Palmetto leaves were also fashioned into women's hats during a brief period in the 1600s, when they represented the height of fashion in London.

The banana, one of Bermuda's most dependable sources of fresh fruit, was introduced to the island in the early 1600s. It is believed that Bermudian bananas were the first to be brought back to London from the New World. They created an immediate sensation, leading to the cultivation of bananas in many other British colonies.

The plant that contributed most to Bermuda's renown was the Bermuda onion (Allium cepa). Imported from England in 1616, it was grown from seeds brought from the Spanish and Portuguese islands of Tenerife and Madeira. The Bermuda onion became so famous along the East Coast of the United States that Bermudians themselves became known as "Onions." During the 1930s, Bermuda's flourishing export trade in onions declined due to high tariffs, increased competition from similar species grown in Texas and elsewhere, and the limited arable land on the island.

Today, you'll see oleander, hibiscus, royal poinciana, poinsettia, bougainvillea, and dozens of other flowering shrubs and vines decorating Bermuda's gently rolling land. Of the island's dozen or so species of morning glory, three are indigenous; they tend to grow rampant and overwhelm everything else in a garden.

Close Encounters with the Local Fauna

AMPHIBIANS

Because of the almost total lack of natural freshwater ponds and lakes, Bermuda's amphibians have adapted to seawater or slightly brackish water. Amphibians include tree frogs (Eleutherodactylus johnstonei and Eleutherodactylus gossei), whose nighttime chirping newcomers sometimes mistake for the song of birds. Small and camouflaged by the leafy matter of the forest floor, the frogs appear between April and November.

More visible are Bermuda's giant toads, or road toads (Bufo marinus), which sometimes reach the size of an adult human's palm. Imported from Guyana in the 1870s in hopes of controlling the island's cockroach population, giant toads search out the nighttime warmth of the asphalt roads—and are often crushed by cars in the process. They are especially prevalent after a soaking rain. The road toads are not venomous and, contrary to legend, do not cause warts.

Island reptiles include colonies of harmless lizards, often seen sunning themselves on rocks until approaching humans or predators scare them away. The best-known species is the Bermuda rock lizard (Eumeces longirostris), also known as a skink. It's said to have been the only nonmarine, nonflying vertebrate on Bermuda before the arrival of European colonists. Imported reptiles include the Somerset lizard (Anolis roquet), whose black eye patches give it the look of a bashful bandit, and the Jamaican anole (Anolis grahami), a kind of chameleon.

BIRD LIFE

Partly because of its ample food sources, Bermuda has a large bird population; many species nest on the island during their annual migrations. Most of the birds arrive during the cooler winter months, usually between Christmas and Easter. Birders have recorded almost 40 different species of eastern warblers, which peacefully coexist with martins, doves, egrets, South American terns, herons, fork-tailed flycatchers, and even some species from as far away as the Arctic Circle.

Two of the most visible imported species are the cardinal, introduced during the 1700s, and the kiskadee. Imported from Trinidad in 1957 to control lizards and flies, the kiskadee has instead wreaked havoc on the island's commercial fruit crops.

The once-prevalent eastern bluebird has been greatly reduced in number since its preferred habitat, cedar trees, was depleted by blight. Another bird native to Bermuda is the gray-and-white petrel, known locally as a cahow, which burrows for most of the year in the sands of the isolated eastern islands. During the rest of the year, the cahow feeds at sea, floating for hours in the warm waters of the Gulf Stream. One of the most elusive birds in the world—it was once thought to be extinct—the petrel is now protected by the Bermudian government.

Impressions

A major problem for Bermudians remained the question of whether to obtain independence. The Bermuda people have always been under the Union Jack, unlike many other British colonies, and while the British Empire has only a little of its former glory, it still gives a degree of safety for those who shelter under its wing.

—W. S. Zuill, The Story of Bermuda and Her People

Also native to Bermuda is the cliff-dwelling tropic bird, which you can identify by the elongated plumage of its white tail. The bird resembles a swallow and is the island's harbinger of spring, appearing annually in March.

Although the gardens and golf courses of many of the island's hotels attract dozens of birds, some of the finest bird-watching sites are maintained by the Bermuda Audubon Society (www.audubon.bm) or the National Trust. Isolated sites known for sheltering thousands of native and migrating birds include Paget Marsh, just south of the City of Hamilton; the Idwal Hughes Nature Reserve in Hamilton Parish; and Spittal Pond in Smith's Parish.

SEA LIFE

In the deep waters off the shores of Bermuda are some of the finest game fish in the world: blackfin tuna, marlin, swordfish, wahoo, dolphin, sailfish, and barracuda. Also prevalent are bonefish and pompano, both of which prefer sun-flooded shallow waters closer to shore. Any beachcomber is likely to come across hundreds of oval-shaped chitons (Chiton tuberculatus), a mollusk that adheres tenaciously to rocks in tidal flats; locally, it is known as "suck-rock."

Beware of the Portuguese man-of-war (Physalia physalis), a floating colony of jellyfish whose stinging tentacles sometimes reach 15m (50 ft.) in length. Give this dangerous and venomous marine creature a wide berth: Severe stings may require hospitalization. Avoid the creature when it washes up on Bermuda beaches, usually between March and July—the man-of-war can sting even when it appears to be dead.

The most prevalent marine animal in Bermuda is responsible for the formation of the island's greatest tourist attraction—its kilometers of pale pink sand. Much of the sand consists of broken shells, pieces of coral, and the calcium carbonate remains of other marine invertebrates. The pinkest pieces are shards of crushed shell from a single-celled animal called foraminifer. Its vivid pink skeleton is pierced with holes, through which the animal extends its rootlike feet (pseudopodia), which cling to the underside of the island's reefs during the animal's brief life, before its skeleton is washed ashore.

Impressions

Bermuda . . . it's a nutty, nutty place.

—Paul Shaffer, Late Night with David Letterman

RESPONSIBLE TRAVEL

The eco-tourist will find Bermuda a rich stomping ground with its bird-watching, nature trails, and tours.

Some of these chief attractions include the following:

- The Arboretum, Middle Road in Devonshire Parish, is 7.7 pristine hectares (19 acres) close to the City of Hamilton, with a large expanse of open space and a small woodland.
- Bermuda Railway Trail, West End. Totalling 34km (21 miles), this trail provides a scenic route from East to West. It is used by walkers and birders alike.
- Blue Hole Park, Hamilton Parish. An abundance of wildlife exists in nearly 5 hectares (12 acres), with a natural small pond and caves close by.
- Hog Bay Park, Sandys Parish. On 15.4 hectares (38 acres), this park has well-maintained trails, vegetable gardens, and wooded hillsides with native and endemic vegetation.
- Spittal Pond Nature Reserve, Smith's Parish. At South Road, 13.8 hectares (34 acres) of nature form the largest and most accessible nature reserve on the island. There are excellent trails plus bird-watching at several observation points, where you can see a large variety of wildlife.

Some of the best eco-tours are offered by Bermuda Lectures & Tours (6 Leacraft Hill Rd., Southampton Parish; ☎ 441/234-4082; www.bermutatourism.com/217.aspx). Lasting 1½ hours and costing $15 per person, this outfit's tours are

GENERAL RESOURCES FOR green travel

In addition to the resources for Bermuda listed above, the following websites provide valuable wide-ranging information on sustainable travel.

- Responsible Travel (www.responsibletravel.com) is a great source of sustainable travel ideas; the site is run by a spokesperson for ethical tourism in the travel industry. Sustainable Travel International (www.sustainabletravelinternational.org) promotes ethical tourism practices and manages an extensive directory of sustainable properties and tour operators around the world.
- In the U.K., Tourism Concern (www.tourismconcern.org.uk) works to reduce social and environmental problems connected to tourism. The Association of Independent Tour Operators (AITO); (www.aito.co.uk) is a group of specialist operators leading the field in making vacations sustainable.
- Carbonfund (www.carbonfund.org), TerraPass (www.terrapass.com), and Carbon Neutral (<http://coolclimate.berkeley.edu>) provide info on “carbon offsetting,” or offsetting the greenhouse gas emitted during flights.
- Greenhotels (<http://greenhotels.com>) recommends green-rated member hotels around the world that fulfill the company’s stringent environmental requirements. Environmentally Friendly Hotels (www.environmentallyfriendlyhotels.com) offers more green accommodations ratings.
- For information on animal-friendly issues throughout the world, visit Tread Lightly (www.treadlightly.org). For information about the ethics of swimming with dolphins, visit the Whale and Dolphin Conservation Society (www.wdcs.org).
- Volunteer International (www.volunteerinternational.org) has a list of questions to help you determine the intentions and the nature of a volunteer program. For general info on volunteer travel, visit www.volunteerabroad.com and www.idealists.org.

filled with information about the history and ecology of Bermuda and its parks, railway trails, and local hideaways.

The Nonsuch Island Field Trip (☎ 441/297-1980) offers 4½-hour tours on Thursday only, costing $75 per person. These tours begin at 9:15am at the Bermuda Biological Station for Research Dock. A pristine 6-hectare (15-acre) island, Nonsuch is called a living museum of nature. It offers a glimpse of Bermuda as it was 400 years ago. A picnic lunch is part of the deal.

A local eco-heritage group, Rock Ramblers (Somerset Bridge, Sandys Parish; ☎ 441/234-3438), offers walkabouts through parklands, nature reserves, beaches, forts, trails, and back country lanes. Commentary includes local history, ecology, and culture.

Among hotels, 9 Beaches is the most eco-sensitive. The Spartan resort sprawls across 7.3 waterfront hectares (18 acres), and makes a valiant attempt to recycle reusable materials.

Ask Before You Go

Before you invest in a package deal:

- Always ask about the cancellation policy. Can you get your money back? Is there a deposit required?
- Ask about the accommodations choices and prices for each. Then look up the hotels' reviews in this guide
- and check their rates online for your specific dates of travel. Also find out what types of rooms are offered.
- Finally, look for hidden expenses. Ask whether airport departure fees and taxes, for example, are included in the total cost—they rarely are.

PACKAGE TOURS

Package tours are simply a way to buy the airfare, accommodations, and other elements of your trip (such as airport transfers and some activities) at the same time and often at discounted prices.

One good source of package deals is the airlines themselves. Most major airlines offer air/land packages, including American Airlines Vacations (☎ 800/321-2121; www.aavacations.com), Delta Vacations (☎ 800/654-6559; www.deltavacations.com), Continental Airlines Vacations (☎ 800/829-7777; www.covacations.com), and United Vacations (☎ 888/854-3899; www.unitedvacations.com). Several big online travel agencies—Expedia, Travelocity, Orbitz, and Lastminute.com—also do a brisk business in packages.

Travel packages are also listed in the travel section of your local Sunday newspaper. Or check ads in the national travel magazines such as Budget Travel Magazine, Travel + Leisure, National Geographic Traveler, and Condé Nast Traveler.

SUGGESTED ITINERARIES

For visitors on the run, who are forced by their schedules to see Bermuda in anywhere from 1 to 3 days, we've devised a trio of self-guided tours, written as three 1-day itineraries. With these ready-made itineraries, you can have a complete, unforgettable trip, even though time is short.

3

You can cover much of Bermuda, especially the harbor City of Hamilton and the historic town of St. George, on foot. A week's visit will let you break

Planning Pointer

It's enlightening to take a ferry ride around the inner harbor before or after your City of Hamilton walking tour. You can get an overview of the City of Hamilton before concentrating on specific landmarks or monuments, or gain a new perspective on what you've just seen.

up your sightseeing trips with time on the beach, boating, or engaging in some of the island's other outdoor activities, such as golf or scuba diving. Hitting the beach is the first priority for most visitors—but you don't need us to tell you how to schedule your time in the sun.

THE PARISHES OF BERMUDA

For administrative purposes, the islands of Bermuda are divided into parishes, all named for shareholders of the Bermuda Company, which was formed by English investors in the early 1600s to develop Bermuda as a profit-making enterprise. From west to east, the parishes are listed below.

Sandys Parish

In the far western part of the archipelago, Sandys (pronounced “sands”) Parish encompasses the islands of Ireland, Boaz, and Somerset. This parish (named for Sir Edwin Sandys) is centered in Somerset Village, on Somerset Island. Sandys Parish is often called Somerset.

Some visitors to Bermuda head directly for Sandys Parish and spend their entire time here; they feel that the far western tip, with its rolling hills, lush countryside, and tranquil bays, is something special and unique. (This area has always stood apart from the rest of Bermuda: During the U.S. Civil War, when most Bermudians sympathized with the Confederates, Sandys Parish supported the Union.) Sandys Parish has areas of great natural beauty, including Somerset Long Bay, the biggest and best public beach in the West End (which the Bermuda Audubon

Bermuda's Parishes

3

The Parishes of Bermuda

SUGGESTED ITINERARIES

Society is developing into a nature preserve), and Mangrove Bay, a protected beach in the heart of Somerset Village. Take a walk around the old village; it's filled with typically Bermudian houses and shops. On Somerset Road is the Scaur Lodge Property, whose waterfront hillside is open daily at no charge.

The parish boasts some of the most elegant places to stay in Bermuda, but if you want to be near the shops, restaurants, and pubs of the City of Hamilton, you may want to stay in a more central location and visit Sandys Parish on a day trip. You can commute to the City of Hamilton by ferry, but it's a bit time-consuming. Those who prefer tranquility and unspoiled nature to shopping or lingering over an extra pint in a pub will be happy here. Another advantage of staying here is that Sandys has several embarkation points for various types of sea excursions.

Southampton Parish

Southampton Parish (named for the third earl of Southampton) is a narrow strip of land opening at its northern edge onto Little Sound and on its southern shore onto the Atlantic Ocean. It stretches from Riddells Bay to Tucker's Island, and is split by Middle Road.

If dining at waterfront restaurants and staying at big resort hotels is part of your Bermuda dream, then Southampton is your parish; it's the site of such famed resorts as the Fairmont Southampton and the Sonesta Beach Resort. Southampton is also the best place to stay if you plan to spend a great deal of time on the island's fabled pink, sandy beaches. Among Southampton's jewels is Horseshoe Bay, one of Bermuda's most attractive public beaches, with changing rooms, a snack bar, and space for parking.

Southampton lacks the intimacy and romance of Sandys, but it has a lot of razzle-dazzle going for it. It's the top choice for a golfing holiday. If you like to sightsee, you can easily occupy 2 days just exploring the parish's many attractions. It also has more nightlife than Sandys—although not as much as the City of Hamilton.

Warwick Parish

Named in honor of the second earl of Warwick, this parish lies in the heart of Great Bermuda Island. Like Southampton, it is known for its long stretches of rosy sand. Along the south shore is Warwick Long Bay, one of Bermuda's best public beaches. Warwick also offers parklands bordering the sea, winding country roads, two golf courses, and a number of natural attractions. This area is the best on the island for horseback riding, which is the ideal way to see pastoral Bermuda up close.

Warwick is a great choice for visitors seeking cottage or apartment rentals (where you can do some of your own cooking to cut down on the outrageous expense of food). The parish is not strong on restaurants; one of its disadvantages is that you have to travel a bit if you like to dine out. Nightlife is also spotty—just about the only action you can find after dark is in hotel lounges. This parish is for tranquility-seekers, but because of its more central location, it doesn't offer quite the seclusion that Sandys does.

Paget Parish

Paget Parish lies directly south of the capital City of Hamilton, separated from it by Hamilton Harbour. Named after the fourth Lord Paget, it has many residences and historic homes and it's also the site of the 15-hectare (37-acre) Botanical Gardens. But the south-shore beaches—the best in the chain of islands—are what draw visitors here in droves. Paget Parish is also the site of Chelston, on Grape Bay Drive, the official residence of the U.S. consul general. Situated on 5.8 hectares (14 acres) of landscaped grounds, it's open only during the Garden Club's Home and Garden Tours in the spring (see "Bermuda Calendar of Events," in chapter 2, for details).

This is one of the best parishes to stay in; it has many excellent accommodations, including Elbow Beach Hotel. It's close enough to the City of Hamilton for an easy commute, but far enough away to escape the hordes. Because public transportation is all-important (you can't rent a car), Paget is a good place to situate yourself; it has some of the best and most convenient ferry connections and bus schedules. There are docks at Salt Kettle, Hodson's, and Lower Ferry; you can even "commute" by ferry to Warwick Parish or Sandys Parish, to the west. Paget's relatively flat terrain, rural lanes, and streets lined with old mansions make this an ideal place for biking. And hikers will find many small trails bordering the sea.

If you don't like big resort hotels, you can rent a cottage or one of several little guesthouses here. Unlike Warwick, Paget has a number of dining choices, too. Elbow Beach offers the most, but other fine options include Fourways Inn and Paraquet Restaurant. Most of the parish's nightlife centers on Elbow Beach.

There are no major disadvantages to staying in Paget. You will find overcrowded beaches during spring break, however, and congestion in the City of Hamilton in the summer, when many cruise ships arrive.

Pembroke Parish

This parish (named after the third earl of Pembroke) houses one-quarter of Bermuda's population. It is home to the City of Hamilton, Bermuda's capital and its only

Finding an Address

The island chain of Bermuda doesn't follow a rigid system of street addresses. Most hotels, even in official government listings, don't bother to include an address, although they do include post office boxes and postal codes. Bermudians just assume that everybody knows where everything is, which is fine if you've lived on Bermuda all your life. But if you're a first-time visitor, get a good map before setting out—and don't be shy about asking directions. In general, people are very helpful.

Most of the establishments you'll be seeking are on some street plan. However, some places use numbers in their street addresses, and others—perhaps their neighbors—don't. The actual building number is not always important, because a building such as a resort hotel is likely to be set back so far from the main road that you couldn't see its number anyway. Look for signs with the name of the hotel rather than the street number. Cross streets will also aid you in finding an address.

3

SUGGESTED ITINERARIES

The Parishes of Bermuda

full-fledged city. The parish opens at its northern rim onto the vast Atlantic Ocean and on its southern side onto Hamilton Harbour; its western border is on Great Sound. The City of Hamilton is the first destination that most cruise-ship passengers will see.

This parish is not ideal for those seeking a tranquil holiday. Pembroke Parish, already packed with the island's greatest population density, also attracts the most visitors. The little city is especially crowded when cruise ships are in the harbor and travelers pour into the stores and restaurants. Yet for those who like to pub-crawl English style, shop until they drop, and have access to the largest concentration of dining choices, Pembroke—the City of Hamilton, in particular—is without equal on Bermuda.

Whether or not you stay in Pembroke, try to fit a shopping (or window-shopping) stroll along Front Street into your itinerary. The area also boasts a number of sightseeing attractions, most of which are easily accessible on foot (a plus because you don't have to depend on taxis, bikes, or scooters—which can get to be a bit of a bore after a while). Nightlife is the finest on the island. Don't expect splashy Las Vegas-type revues, however; instead, think restaurants, pubs, and small clubs.

Devonshire Parish

Lying east of Paget and Pembroke parishes, near the geographic center of the archipelago, Devonshire Parish (named for the first earl of Devonshire) is green and hilly. It has some housekeeping (self-catering) apartments, a cottage colony, and one of Bermuda's oldest churches, the Old Devonshire Parish Church, which dates from 1716. Three of Bermuda's major roads traverse the parish: the aptly named South Road (also unofficially referred to as South Shore Rd.), Middle Road, and North Shore Road. As you wander its narrow lanes, you can, with some imagination, picture yourself in the parish's namesake county of Devon, England.

Golfers flock to Devonshire to play at the Ocean View Golf Course. Along North Shore Road, near the border of Pembroke Parish, is Devonshire Dock, long a seafarer's haven. In fact, during the War of 1812, British soldiers came to Devonshire Dock to be entertained by local women. Today, fishermen still bring in grouper and rockfish, so you can shop for dinner if you're staying at a nearby cottage with a kitchen.

Devonshire has a number of unspoiled nature areas. The arboretum on Montpelier Road is one of the most tranquil oases on Bermuda. This open space, created by the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries, and Parks, is home to a wide range of Bermudian plant and tree life, especially conifers, palms, and other subtropical trees. Along South Road, west of the junction with Collector's Hill, is the Edmund Gibbons Nature Reserve. This portion of marshland, owned by the National Trust, provides living space for a number of birds and rare species of Bermuda flora.

Devonshire is one of the sleepy residential parishes, known for its hilly interior, beautiful landscape, and fabulous estates bordering the sea. There's little sightseeing here; all those stunning private estates aren't open to the public, so unless you get a personal invitation, you're out of luck. But the parish is right in Bermuda's geographic center, so it's an ideal place to base yourself if you'd like to explore both the West End and the East End. There are two major drawbacks, though: With a few notable exceptions, the parish has very few places to stay and almost no dining choices.

Smith's Parish

Named for Sir Thomas Smith, this parish faces the open sea to the north and south. To the east is Harrington Sound; to the west, bucolic Devonshire Parish.

The parish encompasses Flatts Village, one of the island's most charming parish towns (take bus no. 10 or 11 from the City of Hamilton). It was a smugglers' port for about 200 years and served as the center of power for a coterie of successful "planter politicians" and landowners. Flatts Village's government was second in importance to that of St. George, which was once Bermuda's capital. People gathered at the rickety Flatts Bridge to "enjoy" such public entertainment as hangings; if the offense was serious enough, victims were drawn and quartered here. From Flatts Village, you have panoramic views of both the inlet and Harrington Sound. At the top of McGall's Hill is St. Mark's Church, based on the same designs used for the Old Devonshire Parish Church.

Most visitors view Smith's Parish as a day trip or a half-day trip, although the parish does have places to stay, such as the Pink Beach Club and Cottages. Dining choices are extremely limited, however, unless you stick to the hotels. Again, if you're seeking lots of nighttime diversion, you'll have to go to another parish. Because the Spittal Pond Nature Reserve is here, many nature lovers prefer Smith's to the more populated parishes. Basically, Smith's Parish is for the visitor who wants serenity and tranquility but not at the celestial prices charged at the "cottages" of Sandys.

Hamilton Parish

Not to be confused with the City of Hamilton (which is in Pembroke Parish), Hamilton Parish lies directly north of Harrington Sound, opening onto the Atlantic. It's bordered on the east by St. George and on the southwest by Smith's Parish. Named for the second marquis of Hamilton, the parish surrounds Harrington Sound, a salt-water lake stretching some 10km (6¼ miles). On its eastern periphery, the parish opens onto Castle Harbour.

The big attractions here are the Bermuda Aquarium and the Crystal Caves. Scuba diving and other watersports are also very popular in the area.

Around Harrington Sound, the sights differ greatly from those of nearby St. George (see below). You'll find such activities as fishing, swimming, sunfish sailing,

Finding Your Way

The Bermuda Department of Tourism publishes a free Bermuda Handy Reference Map. The tiny pocket map, distributed by the tourist office and available at most hotels, includes an overview and orientation map of Bermuda, highlighting its major attractions, golf courses, public beaches, and hotels. (It does not, however, pinpoint individual restaurants unless they are attached to hotels.) On the other side is a detailed street plan of the City of Hamilton, indicating all its major landmarks and service facilities, such as the ferry terminal and the post office. There's also a detailed map of the Royal Naval Dockyard, the West End, and the East End, plus tips on transportation—ferries, taxis, buses—and other helpful hints, such as a depiction of various traffic signs. For exact locations of Visitors Information Centre branches where you can pick up a copy of the Bermuda Handy Reference Map, see “Visitor Information” in the “Fast Facts” section of chapter 10.

3

SUGGESTED ITINERARIES

The Parishes of Bermuda

and kayaking at Harrington Sound, but it doesn't offer the historical exploration that St. George does. Some experts believe that Harrington Sound was a prehistoric cave that fell in. Harrington Sound's known gateway to the ocean is an inlet at Flatts Village (see “Smith's Parish,” above). However, evidence suggests that there are underwater passages as well—several deep-sea fish have been caught in the sound.

For the best panoramic view of the north shore, head for Crawl Hill, the highest place in Hamilton Parish, just before you come to Bailey's Bay. “Crawl” is a corruption of the word kraal, which is where turtles were kept before slaughter. Shelly Bay, named for one of the passengers of the British ship Sea Venture that foundered on Bermuda's reefs in 1609, is the longest beach along the north shore.

At Bailey's Bay, Tom Moore's Jungle consists of wild woods. The poet Tom Moore is said to have spent many hours writing verse here under a calabash tree (which is still standing). The jungle is now held in private trust, so you must obtain permission from a security guard to enter it. It's much easier to pay your respects to the Romantic poet by going to Tom Moore's Tavern (p. 117).

Although the parish has some major resorts, such as Grotto Bay Beach Hotel, most visitors come here for sightseeing only. We have to agree: Hamilton is a good place to go exploring for a day or half-day, but you're better off staying elsewhere. If you stay here, you'll spend a great deal of your holiday time commuting into the City of Hamilton or St. George. Bus no. 1 or 3 from the City of Hamilton gets you here in about an hour.

St. George's Parish

At Bermuda's extreme eastern end, this historic parish encompasses several islands. The parish borders Castle Harbour on its western and southern edges; St. George's Harbour divides it into two major parts, St. George's Island and St. David's Island. A causeway links St. David's Island to the rest of Bermuda, and St. George's is also linked by a road. Many parish residents are longtime sailors and fishers. St. George's Parish also includes Tucker's Town (founded in 1616 by Gov. Daniel Tucker), on the opposite shore of Castle Harbour.

Settled in 1612, the town of St. George was once the capital of Bermuda; the City of Hamilton succeeded it in 1815. The town was settled 3 years after Sir George

ISLAND-HOPPING ON your OWN

Most first-time visitors think of Bermuda as one island, but in fact it's a small archipelago. Many of the islands that make up the chain are uninhabited. If you're a bit of a skipper, you can explore them on your own. With a little guidance and the proper maps, you can discover small islands, out-of-the-way coral reefs, and hidden coves that seem straight out of the old Brooke Shields B-movie The Blue Lagoon.

For this boating adventure, rent a Boston Whaler with an outboard engine. The name of these small but sturdy boats reveals their origins: New Englanders once used similar boats in their pursuit of Moby Dick. It's important to exercise caution, remembering that the English found Bermuda in 1612 only after the Sea Venture, en route to the Jamestown Colony, was wrecked off the Bermuda coast.

In the East End, you can explore Castle Harbour, which is almost completely surrounded by islands, forming a protected lake. If you stop to do some fishing, snapper will be your likely catch.

(Visitors who rent condos or apartments often take their quarry back to their kitchenette to prepare it for dinner.) To avoid the often-powerful swells, drop anchor on the west side of Castle Harbour, near Castle Harbour Golf Club and Tucker's Town. Then head across Tucker's Town Bay to Castle Island and Castle Island Nature Reserve. In 1612, Governor Moore ordered the construction of a fort on Castle Island, the ruins of which you can see today.

In the West End, begin your exploration by going under Somerset Bridge into well-protected Ely's Harbour. To the north, you can visit Cathedral Rocks before making a half-circle to Somerset Village; from here, you can explore the uninhabited islands off Mangrove Bay.

You can rent a 4m (13-ft.) Boston Whaler—and pick up some local guidance—at Blue Hole Water Sports, Grotto Bay Beach Hotel, Hamilton Parish (☎ 441/293-2915; www.blueholewater.com). Prices begin at $90 for 2 hours, $135 for 4 hours, and $195 for 8 hours. Rates do not include gas.

Somers and his shipwrecked party of English sailors came ashore in 1609. (After Admiral Somers died in Bermuda, in 1610, his heart was buried in the St. George area, while the rest of his body was taken home to England for burial.) Founded by Richard Moore, of the newly created Bermuda Company, and a band of 60 colonists, St. George was the second English settlement in the New World, after Jamestown, Virginia. Its coat of arms depicts St. George (England's patron saint) and a dragon.

Almost 4 centuries of history come alive here. Generations of sailors have set forth from its sheltered harbor. St. George even played a role in the American Revolution: Bermuda depended on the American colonies for food, and when war came, supplies grew dangerously low. Although Bermuda was a British colony, the loyalties of its people were divided because many Bermudians had relatives living on the American mainland. A delegation headed by Col. Henry Tucker went to Philadelphia to petition the Continental Congress to trade food and supplies for salt. George Washington had a different idea. He needed gunpowder, and a number of kegs of it were stored at St. George. Without the approval of the British Bermudian governor, the parties struck a deal. The gunpowder was trundled aboard American warships waiting in the harbor of Tobacco Bay under cover of darkness. In return, the grateful colonies supplied Bermuda with food.

Although St. George still evokes a feeling of the past, it's actively inhabited. When cruise ships are in port, it's likely to be overrun with visitors. Many people prefer to visit St. George at night, when they can walk around and enjoy it in relative peace and quiet. You won't be able to enter any of the sightseeing attractions, but they're of minor importance. After dark, a mood of enchantment settles over the place: It's like a storybook village.

Would you want to live here for a week? Probably not. Once you've seen the glories of the town of St. George—which you can do in a day—you're inconveniently isolated at the easternmost end of Bermuda for the rest of your stay. Several chains, including Club Med, have tried and failed to make a go of it here. Accommodations are extremely limited, although there are a number of restaurants (many of which, frankly, are mediocre). For history buffs, no place in Bermuda tops St. George's. But as a parish to base yourself in, you might do better in the more centrally located and activity-filled Pembroke or Southampton parishes. As for nightlife in St. George, you can always go to a pub on King's Square.

THE BEST OF BERMUDA IN 1 DAY

If you have only 1 day for sightseeing, we suggest you spend it in the historic former capital of St. George, a maze of narrow streets with quaint names: Featherbed Alley, Duke of York Street, Petticoat Lane, Old Maid's Lane, and Duke of Kent Street. You can spend a day exploring British-style pubs, seafood restaurants, shops (several major City of Hamilton stores have branches here), old forts, museums, and churches.

And what would a day in Bermuda be without time spent on the beach? Elbow Beach and Warwick Long Bay are among the most appealing spots. The no. 7 bus will take you there from St. George.

At the eastern end of Bermuda, St. George was the second English town established in the New World (after Jamestown, Virginia). For the history buff, it holds more interest than the City of Hamilton (see below).

---

We begin the tour at:

1 King's Square

Also known as Market Square and King's Parade, the square is the very center of St. George. Only about 200 years old, it's not as historic as St. George itself. This was formerly a marshy part of the harbor—at least when the shipwrecked passengers and crew of the Sea Venture first saw it. At the water's edge stands a branch of the Visitors Information Centre, where you can pick up additional information on the area. On the square you'll notice a replica of a pillory and stocks. The devices were used to punish criminals—and, in many cases, the innocent. You could be severely punished here for such "crimes" as casting a spell over your neighbor's turkeys.

From the square, head south across the small bridge to:

2 Ordnance Island

The British army once stored gunpowder and cannons on this island, which extends into St. George's Harbour. Today, the island houses the Deliverance, a replica of the vessel that carried the shipwrecked Sea Venture passengers on to Virginia. Alongside the vessel is a ducking stool, a contraption used in 17th-century witch trials.

Retrace your steps across the bridge to King's Square. On the waterside stands the:

3 White Horse Tavern

This restaurant juts out into St. George's Harbour. Consider the tavern as a possible spot for lunch later (p. 122). For now, we focus on its history: It was once the home of John Davenport, who came to Bermuda in 1815 to open a dry goods store. Davenport was a bit of a miser; upon his death, some £75,000 in gold and silver was discovered stashed away in his cellar.

Across the square stands the:

4 Town Hall

Located near the Visitors Information Centre, this is the meeting place of the corporation governing St. George. It has antique cedar furnishings and a collection of photographs of previous lord mayors. Bermuda Journey, a multimedia audiovisual presentation, is shown here several times a day.

From King's Square, head east along King Street, cutting north (left) on Bridge Street. You'll come to the:

5 Bridge House

Constructed in the 1690s, this was once the home of several governors of Bermuda. Located at 1 Bridge St., it's furnished with 18th- and 19th-century antiques and houses an art gallery and souvenir shop.

Return to King Street and continue east to the:

6 Old State House

The Old State House opens onto Princess Street, at the top of King Street. This is the oldest stone building in Bermuda, dating from 1620, and was once the home of the Bermuda Parliament. It's the site of the Peppercorn Ceremony, in which the Old State House pays the government a "rent" of one peppercorn annually. See chapter 7 for details on this grand ceremony.

Continue your stroll down Princess Street until you come to Duke of York Street and the entrance to:

7 Somers Garden

The heart of Sir George Somers, the admiral of the Sea Venture, is buried here. The gardens, opened in 1920 by the Prince of Wales, contain palms and other tropical plants.

Walk through Somers Gardens and up the steps to the North Gate onto Blockade Alley. Climb the hill to the structure known as "the folly of St. George," the:

8 Unfinished Church

This cathedral was intended to replace St. Peter's Church (see stop 12 on this tour). Work began on the church in 1874, but ended when the church was beset by financial difficulties and a schism in the Anglican congregation.

Bermuda in 1 Day

- 1 King's Square
- 2 Orphanage Island
- 3 White Horse Tavern
- 4 Town Hall
- 5 Bridge House
- 6 Old State House
- 7 Somers Garden
- 8 Unfinished Church
- 9 St. George's Historical Society Museum
- 10 Featherbed Alley Printery
- 11 Old Rectory
- 12 St. Peter's Church
- 13 Bermuda National Trust Museum
- 14 Barber's Alley & Petticoat Lane
- 15 Tucker House
- 16 Café Gio
- 17 Somers Wharf

3

SUGGESTED ITINERARIES

The Best of Bermuda in 1 Day

After viewing the cathedral, turn left onto Duke of Kent Street, which leads down to the:

9 St. George's Historical Society Museum

Located at Featherbed Alley and Duke of Kent Street, the museum building is an example of the rather plain 18th-century Bermudian architecture. It contains a collection of Bermudian historical artifacts and cedar furniture.

Around the corner on Featherbed Alley is the:

10 Featherbed Alley Printery

Here you can see a working replica of the type of printing press invented by Johannes Gutenberg in Germany in the 1450s.

Go up Featherbed Alley and straight onto Church Street. At the junction with Broad Lane, look to your right to see the:

11 Old Rectory

The Old Rectory is located at the head of Broad Alley, behind St. Peter's Church. Now a private home administered by the National Trust, it was built in 1705 by a reformed pirate. You can go inside only on Wednesdays from noon to 5pm.

After seeing the Old Rectory, go through the church's backyard, opposite Broad Alley, to reach:

12 St. Peter's Church

The church's main entrance is on Duke of York Street. St. Peter's is the oldest Anglican place of worship in the Western Hemisphere. In the churchyard, you'll see many headstones, some 300 years old. The assassinated governor, Sir Richard Sharples, was buried here. The present church was built in 1713, with a tower added in 1814.

Across the street is the:

13 Bermuda National Trust Museum

When it was the Globe Hotel, this was the headquarters of Maj. Norman Walker, the Confederate representative in Bermuda. It was once a hotbed of blockade running (artillery smuggling during the Civil War).

Go west along Duke of York Street to:

14 Barber's Alley & Petticoat Lane

Barber's Alley honors Joseph Hayne Rainey. A former slave from South Carolina, Rainey fled to Bermuda with his French wife at the outbreak of the Civil War. He became a barber in St. George and eventually returned to South Carolina, where in 1870 he was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives—the first African American to serve in Congress.

Nearby is Petticoat Lane, also known as Silk Alley. The name dates from the 1834 emancipation, when two former slave women who'd always wanted silk petticoats like their former mistresses finally purchased some—and paraded up and down the lane to show off their new finery.

Continue west until you reach:

15 Tucker House

Opening onto Water Street, this was the former home of a prominent Bermudian family, whose members included an island governor, a treasurer of the

RATTLE & SHAKE: THE Bermuda Railway Trail

One of the most unusual sightseeing adventures in Bermuda is following the Bermuda Railway Trail (or parts thereof), which stretches for 34km (21 miles) along the old railroad way, across three of the interconnected islands that make up Bermuda. Construction of this rail line may have been one of the most costly ever on a per-kilometer basis. Opened in 1931, the Bermuda Railway ceased operations in 1948. Once the island's main mode of transportation, the train eventually gave way to the automobile.

Before setting out on this trek, arm yourself with a copy of the Bermuda Railway Trail Guide, which is available at the Bermuda Department of Tourism in the City of Hamilton and the Visitors

Information Centres in Hamilton and St. George. You're now ready to hit the trail of the old train system that was affectionately called "Rattle and Shake." You can explore the trail on horseback, bicycle, or foot.

Although the line covered 34km (21 miles), from St. George in the east to Somerset in the west, a 5km (3-mile) stretch has been lost to roads in and around the capital City of Hamilton. For the most part, however, the trail winds along an automobile-free route.

In the West End, the trail begins near the Watford Bridge, but there are many convenient access points. In the East End, it's easiest to pick up the trail on North Shore Road.

United States, and a captain in the Confederate Navy. The building houses an excellent collection of antiques, including silver, portraits, and cedar furniture. One room is devoted to memorabilia of Joseph Hayne Rainey.

16 Café Gio 🍷

Near Tucker House is the family-friendly Café Gio, 36 Water St. (☎ 441/297-1307), with its outdoor terrace overlooking the harbor. It features everything from an ice-cream parlor to a pizza oven, and even full meals, in its tutti-frutti-colored dining room.

End your tour across the street at:

17 Somers Wharf

This multimillion-dollar waterfront restoration project contains shops, restaurants, and taverns.

THE BEST OF BERMUDA IN 2 DAYS

Spend Day 1 as indicated above. Devote Day 2 to sightseeing and shopping in the City of Hamilton. If you're staying in Paget or Warwick, a ferry from either parish will take you right into the city. For many visitors, the City of Hamilton's shops are its most compelling attraction. Try to time your visit to avoid the arrival of cruise ships; on those days, the stores and restaurants in the city can get really crowded. You can obtain a schedule of cruise-ship arrivals and departures from the tourist office.

If you took our advice and went to the beach yesterday, try a different one today. After all, Bermuda isn't just about sightseeing and shopping—it's about those marvelous pink sands, too.

Begin your tour along the harborfront at the:

1 Visitors Information Centre/Ferry Terminal

Pick up some free maps and brochures of the island here.

From the bureau, you'll emerge onto Front Street, the City of Hamilton's main street and principal shopping area. Before 1946, there were no cars here. Today, the busy traffic includes small automobiles (driven only by Bermuda residents), buses, mopeds, and bicycles. You'll also see horse-drawn carriages, which are the most romantic (and, alas, the most expensive) way to see the City of Hamilton.

At the docks behind the Ferry Terminal, you can find the ferries to Warwick and Paget parishes; for details on their attractions, see chapter 8. You can also take a ferry across Great Sound to the West End and Somerset.

Walk south from the Ferry Terminal toward the water, taking a short side street between the Visitors Information Centre and the large Bank of Bermuda. You'll come to:

2 Albouy's Point

This is a small, grassy park with benches and trees, which opens onto a panoramic vista of the boat- and ship-filled harbor. Nearby is the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club, which has been an elite rendezvous for the Bermudian and American yachting set—including the rich and famous—since the 1930s. To use the word “royal” in its name, the club obtained special permission from Prince Albert, Queen Victoria's consort. The club sponsors the widely televised Newport–Bermuda Race.

After taking in the view, walk directly north, toward Front Street. Continue east along Front Street to the intersection with Queen Street. This is the site of the:

3 “Birdcage”

This is the most photographed sight in Bermuda. Here you can sometimes find a police officer directing traffic. If the “bobby” is a man, he's likely to be wearing regulation Bermuda shorts. The traffic box was named after its designer, Michael “Dickey” Bird. It stands at Heyl's Corner, which was named for an American southerner, J. B. Heyl, who operated a nearby apothecary in the 1800s.

Continue north along Queen Street until you reach:

4 Par-la-Ville Park

This was once a private garden attached to the town house of William B. Perot, Bermuda's first postmaster. Perot, who designed the gardens in the 19th century, collected rare and exotic plants from all over the globe, including an Indian rubber tree, which was seeded in 1847. Mark Twain wrote that he found the tree “disappointing” in that it didn't bear rubber overshoes and hot-water bottles.

Also opening onto Queen Street at the entrance to the park is the:

5 Bermuda Historical Society Museum

This museum, at 13 Queen St., is also the Bermuda Library. It's filled with curiosities, including cedar furniture, collections of antique silver and china, hog money (the original monetary unit minted in Bermuda), Confederate money, a 1775 letter from George Washington, and other artifacts. The library

Bermuda in 2 Days

3

SUGGESTED ITINERARIES

The Best of Bermuda in 2 Days

has many rare books, including a 1624 edition of John Smith's General Historie of Virginia, New England and the Somers Isles, which you can ask to view. If you'd like to rest and catch up on your reading, you'll also find a selection of current local and British newspapers and periodicals here.

Across the street is the:

6 Perot Post Office

William Perot ran this post office from 1818 to 1862. It's said that he'd collect the mail from the clipper ships, then put it under his top hat in order to maintain his dignity. As he proceeded through town, he'd greet his friends and acquaintances by tipping his hat, thereby delivering their mail at the same time. He started printing stamps in 1848. A Perot stamp is extremely valuable today—only 11 are known to exist, and Queen Elizabeth II owns several. The last time a Perot stamp came on the market, in 1986, it fetched $135,000.

Continue to the top of Queen Street, then turn right onto Church Street to reach:

7 Hamilton City Hall

Located at 17 Church St., the city hall dates from 1960 and is crowned by a white tower. The bronze weather vane on top is a replica of the Sea Venture. Portraits of the queen and paintings of former island leaders adorn the main lobby. The Bermuda Society of Arts holds frequent exhibitions in this hall. The Benbow family's collection of rare stamps is also on display.

8 Paradiso Café ☕

The Paradiso Cafe (p. 113), on the ground floor of the Washington Mall, a shopping and office complex on Reid Street, which is parallel to Church Street to the south (☎ 441/295-3263), serves the most irresistible pastries in town. You can also order ice cream, tartlets, quiches, croissant sandwiches, espresso, and cappuccino.

In back of Hamilton City Hall, opening onto Victoria Street, lies:

9 Victoria Park

Office workers frequent this cool, refreshing oasis on their lunch breaks. It features a sunken garden, ornamental shrubbery, and a Victorian bandstand. The 1.6-hectare (4-acre) park was laid out in honor of Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee in 1887. Outdoor concerts are held here in summer. Contact the tourist office for dates.

Cedar Avenue is the eastern boundary of Victoria Park. If you follow it north for 2 blocks, you'll reach:

10 St. Theresa's

This Roman Catholic cathedral is open daily from 8am to 7pm and for Sunday services. Its architecture was inspired by the Spanish Mission style. Dating from 1927, it's one of a half-dozen Roman Catholic churches in Bermuda; its treasure is a gold-and-silver chalice—a gift from Pope Paul VI when he visited the island in 1968.

After seeing the cathedral, retrace your steps south along Cedar Avenue until you reach Victoria Street. Cedar Avenue now becomes Burnaby Street; continue south to Church Street and turn left. A short walk along this street (on your left) will bring you to the:

11 Bermuda Cathedral

Also known as the Cathedral of the Most Holy Trinity, this is the seat of the Anglican Church of Bermuda, and it towers over the city skyline. Its style is neo-Gothic, characterized by stained-glass windows and soaring arches. The lectern and pulpit duplicate those of St. Giles in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Leave the cathedral and continue east along Church Street to the:

12 Sessions House (Parliament Building)

Located on Parliament Street, between Reid and Church streets, the Sessions House is open to the public Friday at 10am. The speaker wears a full wig and a flowing black robe. The Parliament of Bermuda is the third oldest in the world, after Iceland's and England's.

Continue south along Parliament Street to Front Street, and turn left toward the:

13 Cabinet Building

The official opening of Parliament takes place here in late October or early November. Wearing a plumed hat and full regalia, the governor makes his "Throne Speech." If you visit on a Wednesday, you can see the Bermuda Senate in action. The building is open Monday through Friday from 9am to 5pm.

In front of the Cabinet Building is the:

14 Cenotaph

The Cenotaph is a memorial to Bermuda's dead from both World Wars. In 1920, the Prince of Wales laid the cornerstone. (In 1936, as King Edward VIII, he abdicated to marry an American divorcée, Wallis Simpson, and during World War II, as the Duke of Windsor, he served as governor of The Bahamas.) The landmark is a replica of the Cenotaph in London.

Continue east along Front Street until you reach King Street, then turn left and head north until you come to Happy Valley Road. Go right on this road until you see the entrance (on your right) to:

15 Fort Hamilton

This imposing old fortress lies on the eastern outskirts of town. The Duke of Wellington ordered its construction beginning in 1868 to protect Hamilton Harbour. Filled with underground passageways and complete with a moat and 18-ton guns, the fort was outdated before it was even completed, and it never fired a shot. It does, however, offer panoramic views of the city and the harbor, and it's worth a trip just for the view. In summer, try to be here at noon, when the kilted Bermuda Isles Pipe Band performs a skirling ceremony on the green, accompanied by dancers and drummers.

THE BEST OF BERMUDA IN 3 DAYS

Spend Days 1 and 2 as outlined above. On Day 3, take the ferry from the City of Hamilton across Great Sound to Somerset. You'll disembark at the western end of Somerset Island in Sandys Parish, which consists of Somerset Island (the largest and southernmost island), and Watford, Boaz, and Ireland islands. When Bermudians cross into Somerset on Somerset Bridge, they say they are "up the country."

Craggy coastlines, beaches, nature reserves, fishermen's coves, old fortifications, winding lanes, and sleepy villages characterize this area. All of Sandys' major attractions lie along the main road from Somerset Bridge to the Royal Naval Dockyard, which is at the end of Ireland Island.

Although we describe this as a walking tour, you may want to rent a bicycle or moped to help you cover the longer stretches.

To begin the tour, take the ferry from the City of Hamilton to:

1 Somerset Bridge

This bridge links Somerset Island with the rest of Bermuda. It was among the first three bridges constructed on Bermuda in the 1600s, and it's said to be the smallest drawbridge in the world; its opening is just wide enough to accommodate a sailboat mast. Near the bridge you can see the old Somerset Post Office and an 18th-century cottage known as Crossways.

Next, walk up Somerset Road about 70m (230 ft.) to the entrance to the:

2 Railway Trail

Open only to pedestrians and bikers, the trail follows the path of old "Rattle and Shake," the Bermuda Railway line that once ran the length of the island. This section of the trail—between Somerset Bridge and Sound View Road—is one of the most attractive segments (good to know if you don't want to walk the whole trail—although some hearty visitors do just that). Parts of the trail open onto the coast, affording panoramic vistas of the Great Sound. See "Rattle & Shake: The Bermuda Railway Trail," above, for more information.

3 Take a Break

The trail goes across the parkland of Fort Scour (see below), with its large moat. If you're here around noontime, you might want to consider this as a picnic spot (get your picnic fixings in the City of Hamilton). If you can spend all day in Somerset (which we highly recommend), you might also want to take time out for a swim before returning to your walking or cycling.

Follow the signposts to:

4 Fort Scour

In the 1870s, the British feared an attack from the United States, so they built this fort on the highest hill in Somerset to protect Her Majesty's Royal Naval Dockyard. It sits on 9 hectares (22 acres) of land and opens onto Somerset Road; the huge dry moat cuts right across Somerset Island. You can wander around this fort, which proved to be unnecessary because the American invasion never materialized. If you stand on the ramparts, you'll be rewarded with a marvelous view of Great Sound. Through a telescope, you can see such distant sights as St. David's Lighthouse and Fort St. Catherine in the East End of Bermuda. If you follow the eastern moat all the way down to the Great Sound shore, you'll find ideal places for swimming and fishing.

After exploring the surrounding Scour Hill Fort Park, resume your walk along the railway track and continue north for more than 1.5km (1 mile), then turn right onto:

5 Sound View Road

Take a stroll along this sleepy residential street, which has some of the finest cottages in Bermuda.

Bermuda in 3 Days

- 1 Somerset Bridge
- 2 Railway Trail
- 3 Fort Scaur
- 4 Sound View Road
- 5 Cavello Bay
- 6 Royal Naval Dockyard
- 7 Bermuda Arts Centre
- 8 Lagoon Park
- 9 Somerset Village
- 10 Somers Country Squire
Pub & Restaurant
- 11 Somerset Long Bay Park

3

SUGGESTED ITINERARIES

The Best of Bermuda in 3 Days

Four or Five Days for Bermuda?

Spend Days 1 through 3 as outlined above. Make Day 4 a beach day. Head for Horseshoe Bay Beach, in Southampton Parish, in the morning. Spend most of your time there, exploring hidden coves in all directions. Have lunch right on the beach at a concession stand. In the afternoon, visit Gibbs Hill Lighthouse. After a rest at your hotel, sample some Bermudian nightlife.

On Day 5, conclude your stay with an excursion to Flatts Village, which lies in the eastern sector of Smith's Parish. Explore the Bermuda Aquarium, Natural History Museum & Zoo, and consider an undersea walk (see the box "A Look Under Bermuda's Waters," on p. 129).

Spend the rest of the day at the fabled Elbow Beach. After relaxing over afternoon tea at one of the hotels, arrange to see an evening show—if it's scheduled, make it gombey dancing, which has its roots in Africa and which remains a strong cultural symbol in Bermuda (p. 31).

Continue around a wide arc, passing Tranquillity Hill and Gwelly and Saltsea lanes. When you come to Scott's Hill Road, take a right and go about 80m (260 ft.) to East Shore Road. At the first junction, take Cavello Lane, which branches off to the right; it will take you to:

6 Cavello Bay

The sheltered cove is a stopping point for the City of Hamilton ferry.

Wait for the next ferry and take it (with your cycle or moped) to Watford Bridge or directly to the:

7 Royal Naval Dockyard

There's so much to see here, you could spend an entire afternoon exploring the area. The dockyard is a sprawling complex encompassing 2½ hectares (6¼ acres) of Ireland Island. The major attraction is the Bermuda Maritime Museum (p. 147), opened by Queen Elizabeth II in 1975. There's an exhibit of Bermuda's old boats, documenting the island's rich maritime history. You can cross a moat to explore the keep and the 9m-high (30-ft.) defensive ramparts.

Across the street from the Bermuda Maritime Museum is the Old Cooperage Building, site of the Neptune Cinema. Adjacent to the cinema is the Craft Market, which sells interesting items. Next door is the:

8 Bermuda Arts Centre

Princess Margaret opened the Centre in 1984. Showcasing the visual arts and crafts of the island, this not-for-profit organization has a volunteer staff.

From the dockyard, it's 19km (12 miles) to Somerset Village, but many people who have walked or cycled the distance consider it one of the highlights of their Bermuda trip. Most opt to walk for only an hour or two before they tire and decide to take a bus. You'll find some of the best beaches here, so if you get tired along the way, take time out for a refreshing dip in the ocean.

Leave through the dockyard's south entrance and walk down Pender Road about 1km (¾ mile). Cross Cockburn's Cut Bridge and go straight along Cockrange Road, which will take you to:

9 Lagoon Park

Enter the park as you cross over the Cut Bridge onto Ireland Island South. Walking trails crisscross the park, which has a lagoon populated with ducks and other wild fowl. There are places for picnicking in the park, which is free and open to the public.

To continue, cross Grey's Bridge to Boaz Island, and walk or cycle along Malabar Road. On your right, you'll see the calm waters of Mangrove Bay. You'll eventually arrive at:

10 Somerset Village

Somerset is one of the most charming villages on Bermuda. Only one road goes through the village. Most of the stores are branches of larger stores in the City of Hamilton.

11 Somerset Country Squire Pub & Restaurant 🍷

Somerset Country Squire Pub & Restaurant (☎ 441/234-0105; p. 93) is an English-style pub that serves sandwiches, burgers, and such pub grub as steak-and-kidney pie and bangers and mash (sausages and mashed potatoes). The kitchen is also noted for its desserts.

Follow Cambridge Road west to:

12 Somerset Long Bay Park

Families like this park because of its good beach and shallow waters, which open onto Long Bay. You can picnic here. The Bermuda Audubon Society operates the nature reserve, and the pond attracts migrating birds, including the Louisiana heron, the snowy egret, and the purple gallinule, in both spring and autumn.

WHERE TO STAY

Bermuda offers a wide choice of lodgings, ranging from small, casual guesthouses to large, luxurious resorts. Facilities vary greatly in size and amenities within each category. This chapter is organized by the type of available accommodations to help you find your ideal stay.

4

Choosing the Place That's Right for You

Accommodations in Bermuda basically fall into five categories:

- Resort Hotels: These generally large properties are Bermuda's most lavish, offering many facilities, services, and luxuries—but also charging the highest prices. The lowest rates, usually discounted about 20%, are in effect from mid-November to March. The large resorts usually have their own beaches or beach clubs, along with swimming pools; some have their own golf courses. It's cheaper to choose the Modified American Plan (MAP) dining option (see "Rates & Reservation Policies" below for details) than to order all your meals a la carte. However, if you go the MAP route, you'll be confined to the same dining room every night and miss the opportunity to sample different restaurants.
- Small Hotels: This option might be just the right fit for those who hate megaresorts. Bermuda's small hotels offer the intimacy of upscale B&Bs, but with more facilities. At a small hotel, you might feel more connected to the island and its people. Another plus? They're often cheaper than the big resorts.
- Cottage Colonies: This uniquely Bermudian option consists of a series of bungalows constructed around a clubhouse, which is the center of social life, drinking, and dining. The cottages, usually scenically arranged on landscaped grounds, are designed to provide maximum privacy and are typically equipped with kitchenettes for preparing light meals. In many of the cottage colonies, breakfast isn't available; you can go out, or buy supplies the night before and prepare your own meal. Most colonies have their own beaches or swimming pools.
- Housekeeping Units: These cottage or apartment-style accommodations (often called efficiencies in the U.S.) occupy landscaped estates surrounding a main clubhouse. All of them offer kitchen facilities—perhaps not a full, well-equipped kitchen, but a kitchenette at least where you can whip up snacks and breakfast. Most offer minimal daily maid service. Generally, housekeeping units are simpler and less expensive than cottage colonies.

- Guesthouses: These are Bermuda's least expensive accommodations. The larger guesthouses are old Bermuda homes in garden settings. Generally, they've been modernized and have comfortable guest rooms. Some have swimming pools. A number are small, modest places, offering breakfast only; you may share a bathroom with other guests, as well as have to "commute" to the beach.

Another option is renting a villa or vacation home. Villa rentals are like renting someone's home. At some, you're entirely on your own; others provide maid service. Most are on or near a beach. It is generally safe to consider this an expensive option.

Private apartments offer fewer frills than villas or condos; the building housing the apartment may not have a swimming pool or even a front desk. Apartments are available with or without maid service.

Cottages, or cabanas, offer the most independent lifestyle in the category of vacation accommodations—they're entirely self-catering. Some open onto a beach, and others surround a communal swimming pool. Most of them are fairly basic, consisting of a simple bedroom plus a small kitchen and bathroom. For the peak summer season, make cabana reservations at least 5 or 6 months in advance.

Several U.S. and Canadian agents can arrange these types of rentals. Bermuda Realty, Atlantic House, 11 Par-la-Ville Rd., Hamilton (☎ 441/292-1793; www.bermudarealty.com), specializes in condos and villas and can arrange bookings for a week or longer.

Rates & Reservation Policies

The rates that we list throughout this chapter are "rack rates"—the rates you'd be quoted if you walked in off the street. These are helpful for purposes of comparison, but almost no one ever pays the rack rate, especially at the big resorts. By booking a package deal that includes airfare, or just by asking for packages and discounts at the hotel when you make your reservation, you can usually do much better. At small hotels and guesthouses, the rates quoted here are much more likely to be accurate. Before you book anything, read "Package Tours" in chapter 2.

All room rates, regardless of meal plan, are subject to a 7.5% tax, which will be tacked onto your bill. A service charge (10%–15%) is also added to your room rate in lieu of tips. Keep in mind, the service charge does not cover bar tabs. Note: The rack rates we list in this chapter include tax and service charge unless otherwise noted. However, we strongly encourage you to confirm what the rates include when you reserve, to avoid any misunderstanding.

Bermuda's high season is spring and summer. Most of Bermuda's hotels charge high-season rates from March (Easter is the peak period) through mid-November. A few hotels have year-round rates, and others charge in-between, or "shoulder," prices in spring and autumn. If business is slow, many smaller places shut down in winter.

For the purposes of grouping hotels in this chapter, any hotel with most rooms costing more than $400 is very expensive, with expensive in general being rooms costing $300 to $400 a night. For the most part, moderate rooms rent for $200 to $300 a night, with anything costing under $200, believe it or not, classified as inexpensive.

Note that some hotels offer a wide range of rooms. For instance, one guest at the Elbow Beach Hotel might be paying a price that can be categorized as "moderate," whereas another might be booked at a "very expensive" rate—it all depends on your room assignment. So even if you can't pay $400 per night, it might be worth a call to see if a cheaper room is available.

Hotel Dining

Chances are, you'll take more meals at your hotel in Bermuda (where you can't rent a car) than you would in other destinations. Although you're generally out and about for lunch, many visitors don't care to hire an expensive taxi or take a bike or motorbike along Bermuda's narrow roads at night in search of a spot for dinner. As a result, you're often stuck at your hotel for meals, and therefore you might want to consider food options when deciding where to stay.

You may see some unfamiliar terms and abbreviations used to describe rate plans. AP (American Plan), sometimes called "full board," includes three meals a day. MAP (Modified American Plan), sometimes called "half-board," includes breakfast and dinner. BP (Bermuda Plan) includes full American or English breakfast. CP (Continental Plan) includes only continental breakfast (basically bread, jam, and coffee). EP (European Plan) is always cheapest—it includes only the room, no meals.

4

RESORT HOTELS

Very Expensive

SOUTHAMPTON PARISH

The Fairmont Southampton ★★★ 😊 Sitting atop Bermuda's highest point, this resort is the largest, most comprehensive, and most luxurious property on the island. It overlooks the ocean, the bay, and its own beach, located in front of the hotel. The hotel's beach is sheltered in a jagged cove, flanked by cliffs. The atmosphere is mahogany-trimmed conservatism, glowing and rich-looking and perhaps a little bit uptight and stuffy for some. This mammoth resort stands on 40 gloriously manicured hectares (99 acres).

It's often compared to its sibling, The Fairmont Hamilton Princess (p. 69), which is situated in a more urban environment. This hotel is not necessarily the place for travelers looking for a sense of isolation and an intimate, romantic hideaway; in fact, its biggest drawback is that it's a favorite with conventions and tour groups. Nonetheless, along with Tucker's Point (p. 72) and Elbow Beach (p. 69), it is considered one of the finest choices for the well-heeled family looking for a place with virtually everything on-site.

The Fairmont Southampton is decorated in a tastefully conservative style with rare but usually welcome touches of glitziness and razzmatazz, always with well-upholstered furnishings and a sense of airy spaciousness. The plush guest rooms each have a private veranda with a sweeping view of the water. Rooms are spacious, each with a larger-than-expected balcony. For those who can afford it, the choicest accommodations are on the Fairmont Gold floor, where guests are offered an array of services including private check-ins, complimentary continental breakfast, newspapers, and the use of a fax and VCR.

The cuisine is among the island's finest—we recommend several of the resort's restaurants even if you're not staying here. Choices include Wickets (p. 101), the Newport Room (p. 97), the Ocean Club (p. 99), the Waterlot Inn (p. 97), and Bacci (p. 98). Nightlife is a bit staid here, and not every restaurant has a bar that's open to nondiners (the Waterlot Inn does). Jasmine's Lounge has an active singles scene, and live music, usually a jazz combo, beginning most evenings at 8pm. On the premises is the vast, Fairmont-owned Willow Stream Day Spa, with 20 separate treatment rooms and 31,000 square feet of surface area.

Guests who don't want to leave the premises enjoy a self-contained village of bars, restaurants, shops, and athletic facilities that are among the island's finest. Everyone's favorite pool is a re-creation of a Polynesian waterfall, with streams of heated water spilling from an artificial limestone cliff. You can swim here even during cold weather, thanks to the greenhouse above. A trolley carries guests around the grounds, and a ferry reserved for guests only goes from the Waterlot Inn to the piers of the Fairmont Hamilton Princess.

101 South Rd. (P.O. Box HM 1379), Southampton Parish HM FX, Bermuda. www.fairmont.com/southampton. ☎ 866/540-4497 in the U.S. and Canada, or 441/238-8000. Fax 441/238-8968. 593 units. Winter $290-$449 double, from $539 suite; summer $509-$689 double, from $789 suite. Children 17 and under stay free in a room with 1 or 2 adults. AE, DC, DISC, MC, V. Free private ferry to the Fairmont Hamilton Princess. Amenities: 7 restaurants; 2 bars; babysitting; beach club; children's programs; concierge; 18-hole golf course; health club & spa; pool (outdoor); room service; watersports equipment/rentals. In room: A/C, TV, TV/VCR, hair dryer, Wi-Fi ($14 per day).

PAGET PARISH

Elbow Beach Hotel ★ This resort has long been a Bermuda legend, but today it has been considerably downsized. Its main building was closed in 2009, and its current operators, Mandarin Oriental, hawk it with some accuracy as a "downsized, more intimate resort." Guest rooms are spread across 20 hectares (49 acres) of landscaped gardens, and the resort has its own .5km (½ mile) pink-sand beach on the South Shore. Most rooms feature Asian furnishings, hardwood floors, and exposed ceiling beams. The most spacious units are in low-rise buildings on terraces leading to the sands.

Package Deals

Refer to the "Package Tours" section of chapter 2 before you call these resorts. Buying a package is the way to go; you can save hundreds over what you would pay by booking your hotel and airfare separately.

The Mandarin Oriental Spa contains six suites—oases where clients can spend hours or even the entire day in total comfort. This is about the most luxurious way to stay in Bermuda if you want complete pampering. The suites, each with an ocean view, are spacious, Zen-like retreats featuring granite soaking tubs, showers lined with river pebbles, and bamboo floors.

The hotel has formal and casual dining options, as well as the Deep Lounge & Nightclub (p. 177).

60 South Rd. (P.O. Box HM 455), Paget Parish HM BX, Bermuda. www.mandarinoriental.com/bermuda. ☎ 800/223-7434 or 441/236-3535. Fax 441/236-8043. 103 units. Summer $495-$525 double, from $975 suite; off season $295-$465 double, from $725 suite. Children 17 and under stay free in parent's room (not all rooms are large enough to comfortably fit an extra person). Per-person supplement for MAP, year-round, $88 adults, $44 children 3-11. Packages available. AE, DC, MC, V. Bus: 1, 2, or 7. Amenities: 3 restaurants; 2 bars; babysitting; children's program; concierge; health club & spa; pool (outdoor); room service; 5 all-weather tennis courts (2 lit); watersports equipment/rentals. In room: A/C, TV, hair dryer, minibar, Wi-Fi ($20).

PEMBROKE PARISH (CITY OF HAMILTON)

The Fairmont Hamilton Princess ★★ This landmark luxury hotel launched Bermuda's tourist industry and, thanks to a healthy demand from business travelers, is still going strong. Its younger but larger sibling, the Fairmont Southampton (see

Bermuda Hotels

4

Resort Hotels

WHERE TO STAY

Aunt Nea's Inn at Hillcrest 38
 Bay City Guest House 12
 Cambridge Beaches 1
 Clairfont Apartments 25
 Clear View Suites & Villa 35
 Coco Reef Resort 30
 Dawkins Manor 26
 Edgehill Manor Guest House 10
 Elbow Beach Hotel 29
 Erith Guest House 28

The Fairmont Hamilton Princess 13
 The Fairmont Southampton 6
 Fourways Inn 20
 Granaway Guest House & Cottage 22
 Grape Bay Beach Hotel 31
 Grape Bay Cottages 32
 Greenbank Guest House 17
 Greene's Guest House 4

Grotto Bay Beach Resort 36
 Horizons & Cottages 18
 Little Pomander Guest House 16
 Mazarine by the Sea 8
 Newstead Belmont Hills Golf Resort & Spa 19
 The Oxford House 14
 Parquet Guest Apartments 27
 Pink Beach Club & Cottages 34
 Pompano Beach Club 3

The Reefs Hotel & Club 5
 Robin's Nest 7
 Rosedon Hotel 12
 Rosemont 11
 Royal Palms Hotel 9
 St. George's Club 37
 Salt Kettle House 17
 Sandpiper Apartments 23
 Surf Side Beach Club 24
 Tucker's Point Hotel & Spa 33

Watercolours 21
 The Wharf Executive Suites 15
 Willowbank Hotel &
 Conference Centre 2

See also "Where to Stay in the City of Hamilton" map

above), has better dining, grander and more comprehensive facilities, and the advantage of being on a beach, but it's somewhat remote; the more "urban" Fairmont Hamilton earns devotees because it is more conveniently positioned for shopping and sightseeing. The hotel, whose pink walls and gingerbread trim evoke a wedding cake, is a short walk from downtown Hamilton, on the edge of Hamilton Harbour. Elbow Beach (the closest beach) is a 20-minute taxi ride or 45-minute bicycle ride from the hotel. The easily accessible ferry delivers guests to the Fairmont Southampton, and sun lovers can get their fill at the sandy stretch there. This is the hotel of choice for movie stars and the yachting set.

Opened in 1884 and named for Princess Louise (Queen Victoria's daughter), this princess is far more staid than the Fairmont Southampton, and with a higher percentage of business clients. It doesn't even attempt to offer the roster of activities available at Elbow Beach, so the young and the restless might want to book elsewhere. This is the oldest and one of the most deeply entrenched members of the Fairmont hotel chain, and it's certainly the one with the most history: British intelligence officers stationed here during World War II worked to crack secret Nazi codes.

Modern wings, pierced with row upon row of balconied loggias, surround the hotel's colonial core. The property was designed around a concrete pier that extends into the harbor, near a Japanese-style floating garden. Many of the spacious rooms have private balconies, and the hotel has a wide array of bars and restaurants, including Harley's (p. 108).

76 Pitts Bay Rd., Pembroke Parish HM CX, Bermuda. www.fairmont.com/hamilton. ☎ 866/540-4447 in the U.S., or 441/295-3000. Fax 441/295-1914. 410 units. Winter $379-$439 double, $499-$739 suite; summer $459-$519 double, $579-$819 suite. Children 17 and under stay free in a room with 1 or 2 adults. AE, DC, MC, V. Frequent ferry service to and from the Fairmont Southampton, weather permitting. Amenities: 4 restaurants; 2 bars; babysitting; concierge; health club w/saunas; mopeds; 2 pools (outdoor); room service; watersports equipment/rentals. In room: A/C, TV/DVD, hair dryer, Internet ($14 per day), minibar.

HAMILTON PARISH

Tucker's Point Hotel & Spa ★★★ This resort's inauguration in 2009 signaled the debut of the most opulent and expensive construction in the history of Bermuda (at the time of its opening, construction costs were estimated in excess of $800,000 per guest room). Beginning in 1958, its forerunner, the Castle Harbour Club, welcomed the wintering wealthy of the American and British Empires. In the 1970s, Marriott attempted a renaissance of the place but failed to make a go of it. Recognizing the value of the terrain (81 hectares/200 acres of what some people say is the most beautiful seafront in Bermuda), the need for upscale homes, and the legendary cachet of the old Castle Harbour, the present owners tore most of the infrastructure to the ground. Rising triumphantly from the wreckage is a spectacularly comprehensive resort that proudly asserts its room rates as the most expensive on Bermuda, and its physical plant as the island's most comprehensive, imaginative, and theatrical.

Creative styling fairly oozes out of this place. Its centerpiece is a balconied, big-windowed manor house loaded with contemporary art and a combination of antiques and reproductions that evoke a home where items were "collected" over several generations of discerning owners. A uniformed staff guides virtually every aspect of your arrival and well-being. Because the hotel has a huge physical plant but only 88 units, it feels like an intensely personalized boutique resort with big-city amenities. There's a higher percentage of upscale shops within the hotel than within any other competitor on the island, a beach that's the envy of lesser hotels, and the most comprehensive spa in Bermuda.

Hotels in the City of Hamilton

4 WHERE TO STAY

Resort Hotels

60 Tucker's Point Club Dr., Harrington Sound, Hamilton Parish HS 02, Bermuda. www.tuckerspoint.com. ☎ 866/604-3764 or 441/298-9800. Fax 441/298-4001. 88 units. Summer (May-Aug) $460-$850 double, $1,240-$2,700 suite; off season $375-$550 double, $950-$1,050 suite. AE, DC, MC, V. Amenities: 6 restaurants; bar; concierge; 18-hole golf course; health club & spa; watersports equipment/rentals. In room: A/C, TV, hair dryer, MP3 docking station, wet bar (in suites), Wi-Fi (free).

Expensive

HAMILTON PARISH

Grotto Bay Beach Resort ★ ☺ This resort (named after its subterranean caves) is lushly planted with tropical fruit trees. The beach is sandy but narrow, with rocky outcroppings, and unfortunately there are not a lot of other decent beaches nearby. However, the nearby coastline is enchanting, with many natural caves and intimate coves. From the seaside, the airy public areas look like a modern version of a mogul's palace, with big windows, thick white walls, and three peaked roofs with curved eaves.

This restored resort appeals to young couples and families who don't need all the hustle and bustle and central location of a resort such as the Elbow Beach. Although it's unattractively located across from the airport, noise from planes is not a problem. The sprawling, 8.5-hectare (21-acre) property contains 11 three-story buildings with balconies and sea views (but no elevators). All accommodations are well furnished; the bathrooms are well maintained. The children's programs and playground make this a safe bet for families. There are also a lot of activities offered, including nature walks, twice-weekly "cave crawls," daily cave swims, organized activities for teenagers, scavenger hunts, communal croquet near the bar, fish feeding, and bridge competitions. The best rooms are directly on the beach, but those with limited mobility should note that they're at the bottom of a serpentine flight of about 30 masonry steps.

The on-site restaurants serve fair if unremarkable Continental cuisine, enlivened by fresh seafood. A multimillion-dollar renovation has perked up the look of all food and beverage outlets, including the Palm Court (p. 118). The lounge books live entertainment nightly, and there are a handful of other bars on the property. Afternoon tea is served every day, and there's a daily happy hour. Blasted out of natural rock, the pool has a swim-up bar. Solitude, tranquility, and friendly, personal service are the draws here.

11 Blue Hole Hill, Hamilton Parish CR 04, Bermuda. www.grottobay.com. ☎ 800/582-3190 in the U.S., 800/463-0851 in Canada, or 441/293-8333. Fax 441/293-2306. 201 units. May-Oct $346-$399 double; Nov-Apr $189-$309 double. Year-round suite for two $450. MAP (breakfast and dinner) $58 supplemental fee per person. AE, MC, V. Bus: 1, 3, 10, or 11. Amenities: 3 restaurants; 2 bars; babysitting; children's programs; exercise room; Jacuzzi; mopeds; pool (outdoor); 4 tennis courts (2 lit); watersports equipment/rentals; Wi-Fi in lobby ($15). In room: A/C, TV, fridge, hair dryer.

SMALL HOTELS

Very Expensive

SOUTHAMPTON PARISH

Pompano Beach Club ★ Directly adjacent to the Port Royal Golf Course, with a respected pedigree dating back to 1956, this resort is perched on a limestone hill, with a spectacular view of the cove beach fringed with rocky outcroppings. From the beach, waist-deep water covers the clean, sandy bottom for the length of 2½ football fields before the deep water begins. Contained within a low-rise complex of well-maintained buildings, the hotel attracts couples of all ages who want privacy and tranquility; golfers especially like this place.

The hillside villas scattered over the landscaped property have a balcony or terrace to take advantage of the ocean views. If you can afford it, request the deluxe rooms at the top of the price scale, as these accommodations have double sinks and showers near (separate) oversize tubs.

If you don't want to dine around at night, you can order meals in either of its two well-orchestrated restaurants; the Ocean Grill and the Cedar Room alike are recommended (p. 99). The hotel offers a complimentary shuttle to and from the local Rockaway ferry stop, making it easier for guests to commute back and forth from Hamilton.

36 Pompano Beach Rd., Southampton Parish SB 03, Bermuda. ☎ 888/537-6448 in the U.S. and Canada, or 441/234-0222. Fax 441/234-1694. www.pompanobeachclub.com. 75 units. May–Oct $530–$1,100 double; off season $300–$850 double. Rates include MAP (breakfast and dinner). Packages available. AE, MC, V. Hamilton ferry to Somerset. Bus: 7 or 8. Amenities: 2 restaurants; cafe; 3 bars; babysitting; concierge; health club & spa; mopeds; Jacuzzi; pool (outdoor); watersports equipment/rentals; Wi-Fi (free in clubhouse). In room: A/C, TV, fridge, hair dryer.

The Reefs Hotel & Club ★★ Having benefited from a radical renovation, this is one of the island's state-of-the-art inns, opening onto a private beach of pink-flecked sand surrounded by palm trees and jutting rocks.

This inn boasts unmatched ocean views and a somewhat startling loyalty from many island residents, many of whom cite it as their preferred island getaway. With components interconnected with steep and sometimes long flights of concrete stairs, this "lanai colony" of salmon-pink cottages on Christian Bay spreads along the top of a low coral ridge. Each accommodation is cheerfully decorated with comfortable furnishings and has a private sun deck, not-overly spacious bathrooms, separate dressing areas, and dual basins. The hotel's "Cottage Suites by the Reefs" are the most desirable.

If you want to let your hair down a bit, opt for Coconuts (p. 98); there's no finer or more romantic spot in Bermuda for an alfresco sunset dinner than this beach terrace. La Serena spa offers Thai and other styles of massage, reflexology, facials, and other services.

56 South Shore Rd., Southampton Parish SN 02, Bermuda. www.thereefs.com. ☎ 800/742-2008 in the U.S. and Canada, or 441/238-0222. Fax 441/238-8372. 65 units. Summer $615–$699 double, from $925 suite; off season $285–$469 double, from $469 suite. Rates include breakfast and dinner. AE, MC, V. Bus: 7. Amenities: 2 restaurants; 2 bars; babysitting; 3 golf courses nearby; limited health club; mopeds; pool (outdoor); watersports equipment/rentals; Wi-Fi (free in clubhouse). In room: A/C, TV/DVD, fridge, hair dryer.

PAGET PARISH

Coco Reef Resort ★ Pink sands lie just a few steps from your room at this reincarnation of the old Stonington Beach Hotel. Opening onto the island's South Shore Beach, the restored property is inviting with its Caribbean-style fabrics and wicker furnishings. In each room there are original paintings of scenes of Bermudian life. Redevelopment involved the creation of a dramatic atrium lobby, improved dining, the refurbishment of all public rooms, and the complete restoration of all the guest bedrooms, which are midsize and comfortably furnished. At La Vista Bar, you can enjoy a panoramic view of the ocean while sitting in an antique rattan chair.

3 Stonington Circle, Paget Parish PG BX, Bermuda. www.cocoreefbermuda.com. ☎ 800/648-0799 in the U.S. and Canada, or 441/236-5416. Fax 441/236-9766. 62 units. Mid-Apr to Oct $466–$570 double, from $750 suite; Nov to mid-Apr $466–$527 double, from $714 suite. Rates include full breakfast. AE, MC, V. Bus: 7. Amenities: Restaurant; bar; babysitting; access to nearby health club; pool (outdoor); 2 tennis courts (lit); Wi-Fi (free in lobby). In room: A/C, TV, hair dryer, kitchenette.

Grape Bay Beach Hotel ★ 🎁 This is the incarnation of a well-respected hotel that was, until a reconfiguration early in the millennium, known as White Sands Hotel. The core of this place is a shell-pink two-story Bermuda-style house. The hotel is a 3-minute walk from the white sands of Grape Bay Beach. In the 1980s, a concrete-sided annex was shoehorned into the narrow space that had been a lawn. The result is simple and completely unpretentious motel-style lodgings, most of which have access to a private balcony, a respectable amount of space, and a simple but serviceable decor that represents value on an otherwise expensive island. One of the best aspects of the place is its location within a neighborhood of otherwise private homes, each set either on the crest of a hill or on the side of a hill, with views of the wide Atlantic. The on-site restaurant, Sapori, offers a sun terrace and large-windowed views of the sea.

White Sands Rd. (P.O. Box PG 174), Paget Parish PG BX, Bermuda. www.grapebay.com. ☎ 800/548-0547 in the U.S., or 441/236-2023. Fax 441/236-2486. 32 units. Apr–Oct $245–$325 double; off season $219–$259 double. AE, MC, V. Bus: 2, 7, or 8. Amenities: Restaurant; bar; babysitting; room service; Wi-Fi (free in lobby). In room: A/C, TV, fridge, hair dryer.

Horizons & Cottages ★★ Set on an 18th-century plantation estate of 10 hectares (25 acres) overlooking South Shore, this elegant retreat is not as well known as it should be. The main houses contain nine beautifully furnished bedrooms, often with four-poster beds, and there is a complex of cottages and suites scattered throughout the property, each in a pure Bermudian architectural style. Most of the accommodations open onto private gardens and ocean terraces. Rooms are furnished rather luxuriously in a traditional island style. An array of activities is offered, including dancing in summer or weekly barbecues, plus other entertainment. It's very English here, complete with a pub and afternoon tea.

33 South Shore Rd., Paget Parish PG 04, Bermuda. www.horizonscottages.com. ☎ 800/468-0022 in the U.S. or 441/236-0048. Fax 441/236-1981. 46 units. Summer $250–$370 double; winter $200–$320 double. AE, MC, V. Bus: 1, 2, or 7. Amenities: Restaurant; cocktail lounge; pub; exercise room; Internet (free); pool (outdoor); spa. In room: A/C, TV.

The Wharf Executive Suites ★ One of Bermuda's most modern accommodations, this boutique hotel caters to the business traveler and the extended-stay visitor. The location is on the harbor overlooking the City of Hamilton, which is reached by taking a 7-minute ferry ride. The management, with some justification, bills its offering as a "home away from home." No hotel can be that, but this one tries admirably. The hotel is in a pale-yellow-painted building offering studio suites equipped with kitchenettes and full suites with full kitchens. All bedrooms have executive work centers, including a desk and ergonomic chair, a two-line speakerphone, and a fax machine/printer/copier. Personalized concierge service is also provided. Rooms are spacious, each with a balcony overlooking Hamilton Bay. There is no on-site restaurant, but a continental breakfast is served.

1 Harbour Rd., Paget Parish PG BX, Bermuda. www.wharfexecutivesuites.com. ☎ 866/782-9232 or 441/232-5700. Fax 441/232-4008. 15 units. Nov–Apr $179 studio for two, $290 suite; May–Oct $279 studio for two, $399 suite. Rates include continental breakfast. AE, MC, V. Amenities: Babysitting. In room: A/C, TV, fax, hair dryer, kitchenette (in studios)/full kitchen (in suites), Wi-Fi (free).

Expensive

PEMBROKE PARISH (CITY OF HAMILTON)

Bay City Guest House Across from the harbor in the city of Hamilton, this hotel is popular with vacationers and commercial travelers alike. There is no pool, and you have to walk to the beach, but this is a bright, airy place to stay close to the center of town. Opening onto scenic views of the harbor, it was a former private mansion. There is a graciousness about the place, and fine hospitality is offered. Bedrooms are traditional and most quite spacious, and each is immaculately maintained and comfortably furnished. Perhaps the most romantic is the Longtail Suite with a fireplace. The Bay View junior suite offers its own Jacuzzi and a cozy bay nook sitting area.

53 Pitts Rd., City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish HM 06, Bermuda. www.baycity.bm. ☎ 441/295-1275. Fax 441/295-3166. 12 units. $220-$250 double, $280 junior suite, $310 superior suite. Rates include continental breakfast. AE, MC, V. Bus: 1, 2, or 10. Amenities: Bar; breakfast room. In room: A/C, TV, Wi-Fi (free).

Rosedon Hotel ★☆☆ If you'd prefer a small local hotel with charm and character in the City of Hamilton, Rosedon is for you. The staff at this stately 1906 mansion is polite and personable. Although its rates are rather high for what it is—basically, an overblown guesthouse—it has its fans. Business travelers often stay here because of its proximity to the City of Hamilton.

Once occupied by an English family, this was the first house in Bermuda with gaslights. The main house, with the exception of a half-dozen upstairs bedrooms, is mostly used as a reception area and office. Most of the accommodations lie within a rambling two-story contemporary-looking annex that encircles a garden, a flagstone terrace, and a temperature-controlled swimming pool in back.

Regardless of their location, mid-size bedrooms are individually decorated. Each was recently renovated and has a private balcony or patio, along with a small but neat bathroom. The modern, pool-fronting accommodations in the rear are often preferred over rooms in the main house. The colonial-style bedrooms in the main house, however, have more island flavor and character. The honor system prevails at the self-service bar. A tasty, full breakfast, included in the rates, is plentiful. It can also be delivered to your room. There's afternoon tea, but no restaurant.

57 Pitts Bay Rd. (P.O. Box HM 290), City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish HM AX, Bermuda. www.rosedon.com. ☎ 800/742-5008 in the U.S. and Canada, or 441/295-1640. Fax 441/295-5904. 44 units. Apr-Nov $260-$402 double; off season $204-$336 double. Extra person $35-$40. Rates include full breakfast and afternoon tea. AE, MC, V. Free round-trip shuttle service to Stonington Beach, 10 min. away. Amenities: Bar; babysitting; pool (outdoor); room service; access to tennis courts at South Shore Beach & Tennis Club. In room: A/C, TV, DVD (in some), CD player (in some), hair dryer, Wi-Fi (free).

COTTAGE COLONIES

Very Expensive

SANDYS PARISH

Cambridge Beaches ★★★ Discreetly but relentlessly upscale, the much-restored Cambridge Beaches attracts rich honeymooners, old-money families, and fashionable couples who seek privacy, pampering, and plenty of facilities. It's one of the most deeply respected resorts in Bermuda, with dozens of clients who return year after year. If you're a first-time visitor, the clubby atmosphere may make you feel like an outsider. Persons 17 and under are in most cases not particularly appreciated, and raucous 20-somethings would probably not fit in.

On a peninsula overlooking Mangrove Bay in Somerset, the colony's 12 hectares (30 acres) of semitropical gardens and green lawns occupy the entire western tip of the island. The colony centers on an old sea captain's house that over the years grew into a compound of lounges, bars, dining rooms, and drawing rooms that give the feeling of a conservative country estate. Scattered throughout the gardens are nicely furnished pink-sided cottages, some of which are nearly 300 years old and much-restored. All of the cottages are conservatively furnished—nothing too ostentatious, nothing too flashy—and come with terraces, generally with unobstructed views of the bay and gardens. A cottage can comfortably house four. The less expensive units have land rather than ocean vistas, and balconies and terraces that in some cases are a bit too close to immediate neighbors.

Dining options include the excellent and very pricey Tamarisk Dining Room (p. 92), as well as some less formal venues. There's also an informal lounge, the Port O' Call Pub, whose dark beams and roughly textured plasterwork evoke a 17th-century inn somewhere in the U.K. Live entertainment is presented frequently during the high season. Relatively new on the agenda of this resort is a rotating series of lectures offering insight into relationship building, sexual healing, and advice on how to enrich a sense of intimacy, either with your significant other or with the world at large. Within a self-contained building on the property is the small but well-equipped Ocean Spa. The hotel continues to improve, adding a new pool, a clothing-optional deck, and a beachfront cafe.

30 Kings Point Rd., Sandys Parish MA 02, Bermuda. www.cambridgebeaches.com. ☎ 800/468-7300 in the U.S., or 441/234-0331. Fax 441/234-3352. 94 units. Mid-Apr to mid-Oct $620-$890 double, $920-$1,020 suites; mid-Oct to mid-Apr $595-$855 double, $895-$985 suites. Rates include MAP and afternoon tea. AE, MC, V. Bus: 7 or 8. Amenities: 3 restaurants; cafe; 3 bars; babysitting; health club & spa; mopeds; 3 pools (1 indoor, 2 outdoors); room service; 3 tennis courts (1 lit); watersports equipment/rentals; Wi-Fi (free in lobby). In room: A/C, TV, fridge, hair dryer.

PAGET PARISH

Newstead Belmont Hills Golf Resort & Spa ★★ Early in 2008, one of Bermuda's most visible real-estate developments interconnected two separate plots of land within Paget Parish. It involved a "marriage" between a once-lackluster, since-demolished hotel, known since the 1950s as Newstead, and one of the island's most appealing golf courses, Belmont Hills.

With the exception of four pre-existing cottages, the entire Newstead hotel was demolished to make room for a new entity. That newcomer now rises in a four-story rather avant-garde design that includes open-to-the-breeze-on-one-side corridors, a color scheme of moss green and putty, lots of exposed limestone, and ample use of an exotic Brazilian hardwood (jatoba) for the interior louvers, doors, and trim. Each of the units is posh, postmodern, boutiquey, and stylish, in a high-style urban-hip way that's actually rather unusual in understated and conservative Bermuda.

Don't expect a conventional hotel. The resort operates as a time share, and whenever investors don't want access to their units, the resort's management will rent them out to short-term visitors. Hotel guests can opt for studios, 1-bedroom units, or 2-bedroom units. These lie within a low-rise compound of buildings close to the sea, but within a 10-minute drive of the golf course.

FAMILY-FRIENDLY accommodations

The Fairmont Southampton (p. 68)

This giant resort offers the best children's program on the island, including parties and reliable babysitting. Children 18 and under stay free in a room with one or two adults.

Grotto Bay Beach Resort (p. 74) A longtime family favorite, this hotel features a heavily discounted "Family Special" for two adults and two children 15 and under spending at least 4 nights.

Rosemont (p. 84) Rosemont caters to families, and each of its units contains a kitchen. Some rooms can be joined together to accommodate larger broods. Babysitting can be arranged.

Royal Palms Hotel (p. 84) Although it can't compete with the big resorts in facilities, this longtime family favorite extends a cordial welcome. It's within walking distance of the City of Hamilton, so families can save on transportation. There's a freshwater pool, but the beach is a 10-minute ride or 30-minute walk away.

Sandpiper Apartments (p. 82) Families looking for a moderately priced vacation might check in here. Some units have living/dining areas with two double pullout sofa beds. Each unit has a kitchen where Mom and Dad can prepare simple meals to cut down on the high cost of dining out in Bermuda.

Willowbank Hotel & Conference Centre (p. 80) This unique resort, which offers daily Bible study, appeals to families who welcome a religious element to their vacation.

This resort contains a full-service spa, a gym, a pool, a well-recommended restaurant and bar, and water taxi service that makes several runs a day across the Sound to the commercial center of Hamilton.

27 Harbour Rd., Paget Parish PG 02, Bermuda. www.newsteadbelmonthills.com. ☎ 866/706-7801 or 441/236-6060; fax 441/236-2296. 60 units. Year-round studio for 2 $415-$550; 1-bedroom unit for 2 $520-$730; 2-bedroom unit for 4 $730-$1,045. Rates include breakfast. AE, DC, MC, V. Amenities: 2 restaurants; bar; exercise room; spa; 2 tennis courts (lit). In room: A/C, TV, CD player, hair dryer, Wi-Fi (free).

SMITH'S PARISH

Pink Beach Club & Cottages ★★★ Pink Beach remains proudly defiant to the changes that have swept through many of Bermuda's other cottage colonies. Far removed from the congestion of Hamilton, it's the largest cottage colony on Bermuda. Two pretty beaches (Pink Beach and West Beach) flank this complex of pink-sided, white-roofed cottages, and bay grape trees and hibiscus bushes grace its 6.5-hectare (16-acre) oceanfront setting. The staff, among the best on the island, includes people who have been with Pink Beach, in some cases, for decades. Accommodations are among the largest in Bermuda, and are configured as either a junior suite or a suite. All units have a generously proportioned bedroom/sitting area, a fully equipped kitchen, a decent-size bathroom, a patio, and an outdoor terrace or veranda. The most luxurious accommodations include a quartet of oceanfront suites. These are ideal for families seeking spacious accommodations. Management remains faithful to an age-old policy of not furnishing any of its units with a television, although one receiving only the three local Bermuda stations can be brought in for a supplemental fee of $50 a week.

The heart of the colony is the limestone clubhouse, with a dining room that reflects the service rituals of the Bermuda of many years ago. At least 85% of the clientele here opts for the MAP plan. Vegetables, many of them grown nearby, and fresh seafood go into the international cuisine. Every table provides a view of the ocean, and occasionally of a celebrity diner on discreet getaway from the madding crowds. During clement weather, an additional outdoor dining terrace, with a separate menu, is available.

116 South Shore Rd., Tucker's Town, Smith's Parish (P.O. Box HM 1017), Hamilton HM DX, Bermuda. www.pinkbeach.com. ☎ 800/355-6161 in the U.S. and Canada, or 441/293-1666. Fax 441/293-8935. 94 units. Summer $540-$970 double; off season $445-$635 double. Rates include MAP (breakfast and dinner). AE, MC, V. Bus: 1. Amenities: 2 restaurants; bar; babysitting; concierge; access to 2 golf courses; health club & spa; 2 tennis courts (lit); watersports equipment/rentals. In room: A/C, hair dryer, Wi-Fi (free).

ST. GEORGE'S PARISH

St. George's Club ★ A bit less stuffy than the cottage colonies listed above, this resort encompasses 7 hectares (17 acres) atop Rose Hill (off York St.). It features clusters of traditionally designed Bermudian one- and two-bedroom cottages. For a family or for two or three couples traveling together and sharing a cottage, the price is reasonable. A shuttle bus takes guests to the beach club at Achilles Bay, about a 2-minute ride away, where the beach is sandy with some rocky outcroppings. The Atlantic waters are a bit turbulent in autumn and spring, but they calm during the summer. The complex functions primarily as a time-share property; units are rented to the public when the owners are not using them. Cottages have private balconies or patios, comfortable living and dining areas, fully equipped kitchens, and bathrooms with sunken tubs (and showers) and marble vanities. Views are of the ocean, the pool, or the golf course.

The colony's elegant restaurant, Griffin's (p. 120), is open to the public, and is among the finest dining rooms in the area.

6 Rose Hill (P.O. Box GE 92), St. George's Parish GE BX, Bermuda. www.stgeorgesclub.bm. ☎ 441/297-1200. Fax 441/297-8003. 71 units. Summer $376 1-bedroom cottage, $476 2-bedroom cottage; winter $180 1-bedroom cottage, $226 2-bedroom cottage. AE, DC, MC, V. Bus: 1, 3, 6, 10, or 11. Amenities: 2 restaurants; 2 bars; babysitting; 18-hole golf course; 3 pools (outdoor); mopeds; 3 tennis courts (2 lit); watersports equipment/rentals. In room: A/C, TV/DVD; kitchenette or kitchen; Wi-Fi (in some; free).

Moderate

SANDYS PARISH

Willowbank Hotel & Conference Centre ☺ This resort will definitely not appeal to everyone, but for those who appreciate a religious context to their holidays, it might be just the thing. Established in 1960 by a consortium of church-going Bermudian businessmen, it's the only Bible-based resort on the island. As such, it's a frequent site of religious retreats. It actively discourages alcohol consumption on its premises, there's a daily 45-minute Bible study, and it frequently mixes interdenominational Christian gospel with faith-fortifying entertainment and group prayer. The degree of brimstone associated with the daily sermons and prayers varies according to the individual "pastor in residence" during your visit. (On loan from churches throughout North America and the West Indies, they change weekly.)

Accommodations within this resort resemble the clean, decent, modern, and somewhat anonymous lodgings you might expect from a decent motel in Florida. New lodgings were added in 2007. Public areas are inspired by simple seafaring days of Bermuda's early 20th century.

126 Somerset Rd., Sandys Parish MA 06, Bermuda. www.willowbank.bm. ☎ 800/752-8493 in the U.S., 800/463-8444 in Canada, or 441/234-1616. Fax 441/234-3373. 75 units. Apr-Oct $194-$259 double; Nov-Mar $193-$213 double. Rates include breakfast, afternoon tea, and dinner. Additional adult sharing a room for two pays supplement of $112 extra; extra children 16 and under sharing a room pay a supplement of $25-$44, depending on their age. MC, V. Amenities: Restaurant; coffee shop. In room: A/C, fridge, hair dryer, Internet (free).

HAMILTON PARISH

Clear View Suites & Villas Adjacent to a grassy, rock-strewn patch of seafront, Clear View offers units that feature kitchenettes and a good deal of privacy. Midway between the City of Hamilton and St. George, it's a cluster of one- and two-story pink concrete buildings erected during the 1970s. Each holds two to six units decorated with pastel upholstery, tiled surfaces, and big windows. Most of the rooms have spectacular views of the ocean because of its cliff-side perch.

The centerpiece of the resort is a white-sided farmhouse that holds the restaurant, Landfall (p. 118), which offers Bermudian cuisine and a bar. You can swim in the ocean, but there's no beach—most guests head 1.5km (1 mile) west to the sands of Shelly Bay Beach. A small art gallery displays the works of local painters. Residents are welcome to drop in to the on-site working studio of Otto Trout, a widely renowned local painter whose work has been featured in the Bermuda Masterworks Museum.

Sandy Lane, Hamilton Parish CR 02, Bermuda. www.experiencebermuda.com/lodging/details.html?id=6. ☎ 441/293-0484. Fax 441/293-0267. 30 units. Summer $182-$210 double; off season $160-$182. MAP (breakfast and dinner) $55 per person. AE, DC, MC, V. Bus: 10 or 11. Amenities: Restaurant; bar; mopeds; 2 pools (outdoor); tennis court. In room: A/C, TV, hair dryer, Internet (in some; free), kitchenette.

HOUSEKEEPING UNITS

Expensive

WARWICK PARISH

Surf Side Beach Club ★ This club occupies a steeply sloping hillside that descends through gardens to the sea. There are many things to recommend about this place, but if immediate access to a pristine strip of sand is important to you, you'd be wise to look elsewhere. Flowering trees and panoramic walkways adorn the terraced property. From lookout points in the garden, visitors can see grouper and other fish swimming near the rocks of the shallow sea.

Your Own Private Villa

Bermuda Accommodations (☎ 877/730-1352 or 416/232-2243; fax 416/237-9138; www.bermudarentals.com) offers more than 55 privately owned cottages, apartments, and villas for rent in Bermuda, at prices beginning at $55 per person per day. Many rentals for two guests range from $100 to $200 daily for a well-equipped and fully furnished unit, although a few can go as high as up to twice that amount. Regardless of the price, each has a private garden entrance, kitchen, and bathroom, and many accommodations also have pools on-site as well as easy access to the ocean. The homes are owned by Bermudians for the most part, and are rented when they are not occupied by the owners.

Accommodations consist of 1-bedroom apartments near the terrace pool and other lodgings in hillside buildings. The self-contained units are simple and sunny, outfitted in bright colors with comfortable accessories. Each has a fully equipped kitchen. This is a pet-friendly facility. A local grocery accepts phone orders and will deliver to your unit, with no delivery charge for orders over $20. The apartments also have private balconies or patios; some have sitting rooms as well.

90 South Shore Rd. (P.O. Box WK 101), Warwick Parish WK BX, Bermuda. www.surfsidebermuda.com. ☎ 800/553-9990 in the U.S., or 441/236-7100. Fax 441/236-9765. 43 units, 10 with shower only. Summer $325-$410 double, from $385-$995 suite; off season $180-$275 double, from $225-$750 suite. Rates include breakfast and dinner. AE, MC, V. Amenities: Restaurant; bar; babysitting; pool (outdoor); room service; small spa w/sauna; Wi-Fi (free in office). In room: A/C, TV, hair dryer, kitchen.

PAGET PARISH

Fourways Inn ★ This posh little place feels like a secret hideaway. Pink-sided, airy, and stylish, the Bermudian cottages occupy well-maintained gardens. The sands of Elbow Beach and Mermaid Beach lie within a 15-minute walk or 5-minute scooter ride. The main building is a former private home dating from 1727. Each of the two-bedroom cottages is renovated and contains conservative, comfortable furniture. There's a medium-size grocery store across the road, but the kitchenettes are better suited for sandwich and snack preparation than for making a feast. There's also a well-regarded restaurant on-site.

1 Middle Rd. (P.O. Box PG 294), Paget Parish PG BX, Bermuda. www.fourwaysinn.com. ☎ 800/962-7654 in the U.S. and Canada or 441/236-6517. Fax 441/236-5528. 10 units within 5 cottages. Apr-Oct $195 double, $275 suite, $475 2-bedroom unit; off season $125 double, $165 suite, $325 2-bedroom unit. Extra person $40. Rates include continental breakfast; MAP (breakfast and dinner) $54 per person. AE, MC, V. Bus: 8. Amenities: Restaurant; bar; pool (outdoor); room service. In room: A/C, TV, fridge, hair dryer, Wi-Fi (free).

Moderate

SOUTHAMPTON PARISH

Grape Bay Cottages Small-scale and folksy, this "resort" consists of two cozy saltbox-style cottages directly beside the sea. Each has comfortable, unpretentious furniture and lots of reminders of Bermuda's maritime traditions, as well as a simple bathroom containing a tub/shower combination, a fully equipped kitchen, a wide front veranda, and family-friendly ambience. Maid service is provided for the bedrooms and living rooms (but not for the kitchens) Monday through Saturday. The venue, which is often booked 6 months in advance, is about as laissez-faire as you're likely to find anywhere in Bermuda, but it's well-suited to visitors who prefer self-catered holidays in a simple cottage by the beach.

Grape Bay Dr., off Middle Rd., Southampton Parish (P.O. Box HM 1851), Hamilton HM HX, Bermuda. ☎ 441/236-2515. Fax 441/236-1662. Two 2-bedroom units. Apr-Oct $345 1-4 persons; Nov-Mar $270 1-4 persons. Extra person $35 year-round. No credit cards. Bus: 7 or 8. In room: A/C, TV, kitchen.

WARWICK PARISH

Sandpiper Apartments 😊 Built in 1979 and frequently upgraded, this apartment complex is a bargain. Nine units are studios for one or two people, with two double beds, a small tiled bathroom, and a fully equipped kitchenette that's sufficient for simple meals. Five units contain a bedroom (with king-size or twin beds), a kitchen, and a living/dining area with two double pullout sofa beds. Every apartment has a balcony, and there's daily maid service. The Sandpiper is minutes away from restaurants and the supermarket. The closest beach is about 450m (1,500 ft.) away, and the property has gardens for lounging.

4

Housekeeping Units

WHERE TO STAY

South Shore Rd., Warwick Parish (P.O. Box HM 685), Hamilton HM CX, Bermuda. www.sandpiperbda.com. ☎ 441/236-7093. Fax 441/236-3898. 14 units. Apr–Oct $155 double, $195 suite for 3 or 4; off season $115 double, $160 suite for 3 or 4. Children 11 and under stay free in parent's room; for children 12 and older, add $20 per child. AE, MC, V. Bus: 7. Amenities: Babysitting; Jacuzzi; pool (outdoor); Wi-Fi (free by pool). In room: A/C, TV, hair dryer, kitchenette, minibar.

Watercolours ★ 🎁 England-born entrepreneur Carole Holding—owner of the Carole Holding Studio (p. 171) gift shops—rents two of the most charming bedrooms on record within her private home. They lie within an unconventional and extraordinary house: Built to her specifications in 1996, it occupies land once devoted to a boatbuilding yard directly at waterside on the channel leading in and out of Hamilton's harbor; each unit has ocean views. The design of the house allows guests to have virtually the entire ground floor of the building to themselves. Throughout, the place is gracious, immaculate, and outfitted in color schemes of coral and white. Breakfasts are stylish, and Carole, a gracious hostess with strong points of view about what's good and what's not in Bermuda, is on hand for advice about nearby dining. The pier, where you can catch a ferry to downtown Hamilton, is a 3-minute walk away.

75 Harbour Rd., Warwick Parish PG 01, Bermuda. www.bermudagetaway.com/indexWC.htm. ☎ 441/535-4001 or 441/236-6002. 2 units. Apr–Oct $250–$295 double; Nov–Mar $195 double. Rates include breakfast. AE, DC, MC, V. 3-night minimum stay required. Amenities: Wi-Fi (free). In room: A/C, hair dryer.

PEMBROKE PARISH (CITY OF HAMILTON)

Mazarine by the Sea Lying a mile from the City of Hamilton, this cluster of apartments stands on the edge of a wild, windswept promontory overlooking the ocean. The special feature of the complex is a private pool set high on a cliff on the island's North Shore. There aren't any hotel services, and the setting is in a residential area, so you'll have to commute by bus to the beaches and into the capital itself.

The apartments are furnished in a basic, yet comfortable style and are well maintained. Five of the units open onto views of the water. Even though it's not on a beach, you can deep-water swim here and also snorkel. A small dive center is on site, offering both scuba and snorkeling opportunities.

91 N. Shore Rd., Pembroke Parish HM 13, Bermuda. www.bermudaforvisitors.com/Housekeeping-SelfCater/Mazarine-By-The-Sea.html. ☎ 441/292-1690. Fax 441/292-6891. 7 units. Summer $150–$220 double; winter $120–$180 double. AE, MC, V. Bus: 4. Amenities: Pool (outdoor); dive center. In room: Kitchen, no phone.

Robin's Nest Consider Robin's Nest if you'd like a snug and utterly unpretentious little apartment in a sleepy, family-managed compound in a residential neighborhood. It consists of several buildings scattered amid a small but well-maintained garden that's supervised by Milt and Renée Robinson. Units are spacious and have a summery-looking decor that includes lots of wicker. Each unit contains a fully equipped kitchen and a bathroom with a tub/shower combination. The most desirable rooms here are eight studios added in 2008 overlooking the pool. Each unit is equipped for full housekeeping, with an excellent modern kitchen, and each comes with a private balcony opening onto a view. Hibachis are available in case you want to expand your cooking facilities into the great outdoors. Two coves, suitable for swimming, lie within a 10-minute walk of the compound.

10 Vale Close, North Shore, Pembroke Parish HM 04, Bermuda. www.robinsnestbda.com. ☎/fax 441/292-4347. 12 units. $175 double; $220 triple. Children 11 and under $10 each. No credit cards. Bus: 4. Amenities: Pool (outdoor). In room: A/C, TV, fridge, hair dryer.

Rosemont ★ 😊 Not to be confused with the more comfortable and more expensive Rosedon Hotel, which is located nearby, Rosemont is a cluster of gray-walled cottages, each with a large veranda, on a flowered hillside near the Hamilton Princess. Two of the cottages are former private homes, built in the 1940s; the rest are more modern structures constructed within the past 2 decades. The harbor is visible from the raised terrace. Business travelers, “subdued” families, and older couples frequent Rosemont, attracted by its peace and tranquility. There is a policy here to “keep it quiet,” so the hotel usually doesn’t accept college students or large groups.

Rooms are well-furnished, though we find some a little on the dark side. As many as three rooms can be joined together to accommodate families. The hotel also has three suites with private entrances and better furnishings. Each room comes with a kitchen and a small but neat private tiled bathroom.

There’s no restaurant on the premises; everybody cooks in. A grocery store is close by, downtown City of Hamilton is 10 minutes away, and Elbow Beach is a 15-minute scooter or taxi ride away. Management presents a complimentary buffet of coffee and muffins every morning.

41 Rosemont Ave. (P.O. Box HM 37), City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish HM AX, Bermuda. www.rosemont.bm. ☎ 800/367-0040 in the U.S., 800/267-0040 in Canada, or 441/292-1055. Fax 441/295-3913. 47 units. Apr–Nov $253–$339 double; Dec–Mar $250–$282 double. For children 2–12, add $20 per child. AE, MC, V. Amenities: Babysitting; pool (outdoor); mopeds. In room: A/C, TV, fridge, hair dryer, Wi-Fi (free).

PAGET PARISH

Paraquet Guest Apartments 🏠 If you’ll settle for a no-frills type of place, evoking a roadside motel, this is the cheapest option for those who want to lodge only a 5-minute walk from Elbow Beach, one of the island’s best. Rooms are well maintained but furnished in a very basic style. A family-owned business for some 30 years, Paraquet rents mainly efficiency units, some with two bedrooms accommodating up to five guests. There is also a trio of cottages, each a non-efficiency unit with a spacious bedroom, a small refrigerator, and patio. In the courtyard, guests can lounge under umbrellas or barbecue their dinners. The Paraquet Restaurant is nearby, evoking an American diner with family meals offered at moderate prices.

72 South Rd., Paget Parish PG BX, Bermuda. www.paraquetapartments.com. ☎ 441/236-5842. Fax 441/236-1665. 12 units. Summer $176 double; winter $154 double. Third person $50 per day. MC, V. Bus: 1, 2, or 7. Amenities: Restaurant. In room: Fridge (in some), kitchen (in some), no phone (in some).

GUESTHOUSES

Expensive

PEMBROKE PARISH (CITY OF HAMILTON)

Royal Palms Hotel ★ 😊 Just a 5-minute walk from the City of Hamilton, the Royal Palms is one of the most sought-after small hotels on the island, thanks to the care and restoration work of owners (and siblings) Richard Smith and Susan Weare and their polite, hardworking staff. Built in 1903, it’s a fine example of Bermudian architecture, with coral-colored walls, white shutters, a white roof, and a wraparound front porch with rocking chairs and armchairs. The closest beach is Elbow Beach, a 10-minute taxi or scooter ride or a 30-minute walk away.

The guest rooms were once the living rooms, parlors, and bedrooms of the grand private house. All are spacious, sunny, and comfortably furnished, with rich fabrics throughout. Most units have high ceilings and tall windows, and each comes with a small, well-maintained private bathroom. In the mid-1990s, the mews house associated with this place was radically upgraded into some of the most charming minisuites in the hotel. The mews house is connected via a brick-paved walkway and a formal courtyard with a fountain to the original (main) house. This guesthouse is an excellent choice for budget-minded families traveling together. Family travelers generally request one of the units that come with kitchen facilities.

Cozy public areas include Ascots restaurant (p. 103).

24 Rosemont Ave. (P.O. Box HM 499), City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish HM CX, Bermuda. www.royalpalms.bm. ☎ 800/678-0783 in the U.S., or 441/292-1854. Fax 441/292-1946. 32 units. Apr–Nov $296–$339 double, $343–$414 suite; off season $237–$320 double, $323–$392 suite. Extra person $40. Children 15 and under $25; children 2 and under stay free in parent’s room. Rates include continental breakfast. AE, MC, V. Amenities: Restaurant; bar; babysitting; pool (outdoor); Wi-Fi (free in lobby). In room: A/C, TV, hair dryer, kitchen (in suites).

Moderate

PAGET PARISH

Dawkins Manor In a sleepy residential neighborhood, a 5-minute walk from Elbow Beach, this inn offers simple, unpretentious accommodations. Originally built in the 1930s, it has expanded massively since Jamaican-born Celia Dawkins bought the place in the early 1990s. Visiting lecturers conducting classes at nearby Bermuda College sometimes stay here. Even the simplest rooms contain microwaves and coffee makers; more elaborate ones contain kitchens that are bigger than those in lots of other rental properties, suitable for bona fide cooking. A grocery store is nearby.

29 St. Michael’s Rd. (P.O. Box PG 34), Paget Parish PG BX, Bermuda. www.bermuda-charm.com. ☎ 441/236-7419. Fax 441/236-7088. 8 units. Summer $190–$250 double with no kitchenette, $275 1-bedroom suite; $280 2-bedroom suite for 2–4 with kitchenette; off season $125–$155 double with no kitchenette, $175 1-bedroom suite for 2 with kitchenette, $280 2-bedroom suite for 4 with kitchenette; extra person $50 in any season. No credit cards. Bus: 7. Amenities: Babysitting; bikes; pool (outdoor). In room: A/C, TV, fridge, hair dryer, Internet (free), kitchenette (in some).

PEMBROKE PARISH (CITY OF HAMILTON)

Edgehill Manor Guest House Just outside the city limits and a 15-minute walk from the nearest beach, Edgehill Manor is in a quiet residential area that’s convenient to the City of Hamilton’s restaurants and shopping. It was built around the time of the American Civil War, exudes an old-fashioned, homey quality, and attracts a generally middle-age clientele. British-born proprietor Bridget Marshall serves English tea in the afternoon. Although each unit has its own style, all have small balconies or patios and come with small tiled bathrooms. The continental breakfast, Ms. Marshall is proud to say, is “all home baked.”

36 Rosemont Ave. (P.O. Box HM 1048), City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish HM EX, Bermuda. www.bermuda.com/c-g/edgehill-manor.aspx. ☎ 441/295-7124. Fax 441/295-3850. 14 units. Apr–Nov $230–$250 double; off season $202–$220 double. Extra person $28–$36. Rates include continental breakfast. AE, DC, MC, V. Bus: 7 or 8. Amenities: Babysitting; pool (outdoor); room service. In room: A/C, TV, fridge, Internet (free).

The Oxford House ★ The Oxford House is one of the best and most centrally located guesthouses in the City of Hamilton, about a 10-minute scooter ride or a 30-minute walk from Elbow Beach. The only property in Bermuda constructed specifically as a guesthouse, it reeks of a spiffy sense of Britishness thanks to its Welsh-born owner, Ann Smith.

The guesthouse was built in 1938 by a doctor and his French wife, who requested that some of the architectural features follow French designs. Doric columns, corner mullions, and urn-shaped balustrades flank the entrance portico. Inside, spacious, well-furnished guest rooms have high ceilings and dressing areas. At least half of them were recently renovated. There's also a sunny upstairs sitting room. Breakfast might include a fresh fruit salad made with oranges and grapefruit grown in the yard.

20 Woodbourne Ave. (P.O. Box HM 374), City of Hamilton, Pembroke Parish HM BX, Bermuda. www.oxfordhouse.bm. ☎ 800/548-7758 in the U.S., or 441/295-0503. Fax 441/295-0250. 12 units. Mid-Mar to Nov $246 double, $315 triple, $346 quad; off season $224 double, $261 triple, $340 quad. Rates include continental breakfast. AE, MC, V. In room: A/C, TV, hair dryer, Wi-Fi (free).

Inexpensive

SOUTHAMPTON PARISH

Greene's Guest House From the outside, this 70-year-old guesthouse overlooking Great Sound is well maintained, cheerful, and unpretentious. A look on the inside reveals pleasant, conservatively furnished rooms that are more impressive than you might have guessed. A pair of lions on stone columns flanks the entry. Owner Jane Greene welcomes guests to use the spacious, well-furnished living room and the sun-washed terraces in back. Bedrooms are small to medium-size, each comfortably furnished with a tidily kept compact private bathroom.

There's a swimming pool in the back garden, and Whale Bay Beach lies 3 minutes away by bus or 10 minutes by foot. Facing the sea is a cozy lounge where guests record their drinks on the honor system. The bus to and from the City of Hamilton stops in front of the house.

71 Middle Rd. (P.O. Box SN 395), Southampton Parish SN BX, Bermuda. www.thegreenesguesthouse.com. ☎ 441/238-0834. Fax 441/238-8980. 7 units. Year-round $175 double. Rates include full breakfast. MC, V. Bus: 7 or 8. Amenities: Internet (free in lobby); pool (outdoor). In room: A/C, TV, fridge, hair dryer.

WARWICK PARISH

Clairfont Apartments 🏠 It's not on a beachfront but there are other reasons to recommend this well-run series of accommodations on the South Shore, and price is one of them. Guests meet fellow guests as they relax around the pool. You have a choice of studio units, a large room with a king-size bed and separate kitchen and living area, or else a 1-bedroom unit with a better-equipped kitchen and more space with a king-size bed that can be split into twins. Two extra guests can sleep in the living area. This is basically a recommendation for self-service types. The location is a 5-minute walk from pink-sand beaches and just a 3-minute walk to public transportation.

6 Warwickshire Rd., South Shore, Warwick Parish WK 02, Bermuda. www.clairfontapartments.bm. ☎ 441/238-3577. 8 units. $150-$175 double; extra person $50. AE, MC, V. Bus: 8. Amenities: Pool (outside). In room: A/C, DVD, kitchen, no phone.

Granaway Guest House & Cottage ★🎁 Granaway is a cliché of pink-walled, white-roofed Bermudian charm, with guest rooms and a garden cottage. The property opens onto views of Great Sound.

Once a stately waterfront home, the old cedar beams of the original house are still maintained, although modern conveniences have been added. The bedrooms are handsomely furnished and comfortable, each with a small private bathroom. Four of the rooms are in the main house, although the most romantic retreat is the separate Granaway Cottage, which has a full kitchen, hand-painted Italian floor tiles, and a fireplace. The most scenic way to reach the City of Hamilton is by taking a short walk to Harbour Road, where you can board one of the ferryboats. In fair weather, guests are served breakfast in the garden, by a pool surrounded by lush foliage.

Harbour Rd. (P.O. Box WK 533), Warwick Parish, Bermuda. www.granaway.com. ☎ 441/236-3747. Fax 441/236-3749. 5 units. Summer $175–$225 double, $250–$325 double with kitchen in cottage; off season $125–$175 double, $150–$225 double with kitchen in cottage. Extra person $25. Rates include continental breakfast (cottages excluded). MC, V. Bus: 8. Amenities: Pool (outdoor). In room: A/C, TV, fridge, no phone, Wi-Fi (free).

PAGET PARISH

Aunt Nea's Inn at Hillcrest ★🏡 This little hotel in St. George's is named after the unrequited love of the Irish poet Tom Moore. Set in formal gardens, the house, much restored, dates from the 1700s. You have a choice of bedrooms, some with four-posters or canopy beds. The Jasmine Rooms are eclectically furnished with four-posters, wrought iron, or sleigh beds. The two elegant and spacious Palm Suites open onto an upstairs veranda with panoramic views of St. George's harbour.

1 Nea's Alley, St. George's, Bermuda. <http://1neasalley.com>. ☎ 441/297-1630. Fax 441/297-1908. 14 units. Year round $125–$299 double. AE, MC, V. Amenities: Lounge. In room: A/C, TV/DVD player (in some), Wi-Fi (free).

Erith Guest House This old Bermuda home has been lovingly renovated and turned into a B&B of charm and grace. On the outskirts of Hamilton, it lies within walking distance of beaches, shops, and restaurants. Guest rooms are midsize and exceedingly bright, fresh, and well maintained, the superior accommodations coming with a private entrance, patio, and kitchenette. A pool and hot tub are in the courtyard, adjacent to a tennis club.

15 Pomander Rd., Paget Parish PG 05, Bermuda. www.erithguesthouse.com. ☎ 441/232-1827. Fax 441/236-0284. 8 units. Summer $175–$195 double, $250 suite; off season $140–$155 double, $200 suite. Rates include continental breakfast. AE, MC, V. Amenities: Internet ($10 per day); pool (outdoor). In room: A/C, TV, fridge, no phone.

Greenbank Guest House This charming guesthouse stands at the water's edge in Salt Kettle, just across the bay (a 10-minute ferry ride) from the City of Hamilton. It's an old home (the oldest section dates from the 1700s), hidden under pine and palm trees, with shady lawns and flower gardens. There is an antiques-filled drawing room, the atmosphere is relaxed, and the service is personal.

Greenbank offers accommodations with private entrances and kitchens in water-side and garden-view cottages. Rooms vary in size and shape, but most are small, with small bathrooms, each with a shower unit. The furnishings are somewhat plain but comfortable. The four units in the main house afford less privacy than the cottages. On the premises is a private dock for swimming. The nearest beach is Elbow Beach, a 15-minute taxi or moped ride away, and one of the departure points for the fast ferry to Hamilton is less than a minute's walk away.

17 Salt Kettle Rd. (P.O. Box PG 201), Paget Parish PG BX, Bermuda. www.greenbankbermuda.com. ☎ 441/236-3615. Fax 441/236-2427. 11 units. Summer $160–$185 double without kitchen, $175–$230 double with kitchen; winter $140–$165 double without kitchen, $155–$210 double with kitchen. Extra person $25 year-round. AE, MC, V. Amenities: Wi-Fi (free). In room: A/C, fridge, kitchen.

Little Pomander Guest House 🏡 The two waterfront Bermuda cottages that form this guesthouse are among the oldest in Bermuda, some 400 years old. The location is on a one-way residential street along an inlet of Hamilton harbor. It's about a 15-minute walk to the City of Hamilton or to the beaches. The guest rooms have a bit of an old-fashioned aura, but they are comfortable and well maintained, with such extras as microwaves and clock radios. Most of them open onto views of the water, and there is also a well-manicured terrace with lounge chairs where you can sit out and watch harbor traffic. A continental breakfast is served around a large communal table in the dining room.

16 Pomander Rd., Paget Parish, Bermuda. www.bermuda.com/h-p/little-pomander-guest-house.aspx?source=12355. ☎ 441/236-7635. 5 units. Summer $115 double; winter $80 double. AE, MC, V. Bus: 7. Amenities: Wi-Fi (free). In room: A/C, TV, fridge.

Salt Kettle House ★★ 🎁 Informal and secluded, with a discreet kind of elegance, this little charmer sits on a narrow peninsula jutting into Hamilton Harbour. You can swim in a cove and watch ships going in and out of the harbor. The core of this guesthouse is a 200-year-old cottage that has been enlarged over the years. Over time, other cottages were built on the lot. Today, the compound is a cheerful architectural hodgepodge that's popular with boaters. Rooms are generally small, but comfortably furnished; they evoke a traditional Bermuda compound. In addition to the main house, four waterside cottages each have sitting rooms, shaded patios, and kitchens. The Starboard, the best cottage, can comfortably accommodate four guests. Guests in the main house have use of a fully equipped kitchen, and cottages have full kitchens. The outdoor barbecue pits in the garden get frequent use by guests.

10 Salt Kettle Rd., Paget Parish PG 01, Bermuda. ☎ 441/236-0407. Fax 441/236-8639. 11 units. Year round $85 double, $95 cottage per person per night. Additional guests $45 per day. Rates include full breakfast. No credit cards. Hamilton ferry to Salt Kettle, then 3-min. walk. Amenities: Wi-Fi (free). In room: A/C, kitchen (cottages), no phone (pay phone on premises).

WHERE TO EAT

Whooh steak, shark hash, mussel pie, fish chowder laced with rum and sherry peppers, Hoppin' John (black-eyed peas and rice), and the succulent spiny Bermuda lobster (called "guinea chick") await you in Bermuda. Of course, you won't find these dishes on all menus, as many resorts and mainstream restaurants specialize in a more Continental or international cuisine. But for a true taste of Bermuda, search the menu for local grub.

Bermudian food has improved in recent years, but dining out is still not a major reason to visit the island. American and British dishes are common. Innovative gourmet fare often isn't—although the prices might suggest you're getting something special. Dining in Bermuda is generally more expensive than it is in the United States and Canada. Because virtually everything except fish must be imported, restaurant prices are closer to those in Europe.

In general, it's not a good idea to order meat very often; it's flown in, and you can't be sure how long it has been in storage. Whenever possible, stick to local food; for a main course, that usually means fish. The seafood, especially Bermuda rockfish, is generally excellent—that is, when local fishers have caught something that day. Sometimes the waters are too rough for fishing. A lot of fish is imported frozen from the United States; you may want to ask before you order. To find the dishes that are truly worthy, you'll have to pick and choose your way carefully through the menu—and that's where we come in.

Most restaurants, at least the better ones, prefer that men wear a jacket and tie after 6pm; women usually wear casual, chic clothing in the evening. Of course, as most of the world dresses more and more casually, Bermuda's dress codes have loosened up a bit—but this is still a more formal destination than many other islands. It's always wise to ask about required dress when you're reserving a table. During the day, no matter what the establishment, be sure to wear a coverup—don't arrive for lunch sporting a bikini.

Because of the absence of inexpensive transportation, many travelers on a budget eat dinner at their hotels. If you like to dine around and you're concerned about cost, find a hotel that offers a variety of dining options, or stay in or near the City of Hamilton.

Bermuda's Best Dining Bets

You'll find some of the best sushi at the Harbourfront Restaurant & Komodaru Sushi Lounge, in the basement of the Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute (BUEI) on the outskirts of the City of Hamilton;

A Note on Reservations

Nearly all major restaurants prefer that you make a reservation; many popular places require that you do so as far in advance as possible. Weekends in summer can be especially crowded. Some repeat visitors make their reservations for the most popular spots before they leave home.

the best Chinese and Thai at Chopsticks Restaurant in the City of Hamilton; the best sandwiches at Paradiso Cafe in the City of Hamilton; the best British pub grub at Hog Penny in the City of Hamilton; the best ice cream at Bailey's Ice Cream & Food D'Lites Restaurant in Hamilton Parish; and the best pizza at Portofino in the City of Hamilton. For a wide sampling of Bermuda seafood, go to the Bolero Brasserie, on Front Street in the City of Hamilton. Here you can enjoy the best of the day's catch, preceded by a bowl of Bermuda fish chowder. For a romantic dinner with touches of Bermudian history thrown in, head for Tom Moore's Tavern in Hamilton Parish, which was built as a private home in 1652. It once housed Thomas Moore, the Irish romantic poet, and a sense of tragic romance still lingers in a refined setting with a classic French and Mediterranean menu.

5 RESTAURANTS BY CUISINE

Restaurants by Cuisine

AMERICAN

- Blü ★★ ($$$, p. 101)
- Coconuts ★ ($$$, p. 98)
- Heritage Court ($$, p. 108)

ASIAN

- Harbourfront Restaurant & Komodaru
- Sushi Lounge ★★ ($$$, p. 104)
- L'Oriental ★ ($$, p. 109)
- Ocean Club ★ ($$$, p. 99)

BERMUDIAN

- Blackbeard's Hideout ($$, p. 119)
- Black Horse Tavern ★★ ($$, p. 120)
- Cafe Coco ★★ ($$$$, p. 102)
- Flanagan's Irish Pub & Restaurant ($$, p. 107)
- Heritage Court ($$, p. 108)
- Hog Penny ($, p. 112)
- Landfall ★ (p. 118)
- North Rock Brewing Company ★ ($$, p. 116)
- Ocean Echo ★★ ($$$, p. 99)
- The Spot Restaurant ($, p. 114)

- Swizzle Inn Bailey's Bay ($, p. 119)
- White Horse Tavern ($$, p. 122)

BRITISH

- Flanagan's Irish Pub & Restaurant ($$, p. 107)
- The Frog & Onion Pub ($, p. 96)
- The George & Dragon ($$, p. 120)
- Henry VIII ($$, p. 100)
- Hog Penny ($, p. 112)
- Lighthouse Restaurant ($, p. 101)
- North Rock Brewing Company ★ ($$, p. 116)
- Somerset Country Squire Pub & Restaurant ($$, p. 93)
- Swizzle Inn Bailey's Bay ($, p. 119)

CARIBBEAN

- Coconuts ★ ($$$, p. 98)
- Jamaican Grill ($, p. 112)

CHINESE

- Chopsticks Restaurant ★ ($, p. 110)
- East Meets West ★ ($$, p. 107)

KEY TO ABBREVIATIONS:

$$$$ = Very Expensive $$$ = Expensive $$ = Moderate $ = Inexpensive

CONTINENTAL

- Bolero Brasserie ★ ($$$, p. 104)
- Fourways Inn ★★★ ($$$, p. 102)
- Lemon Tree Café ($, p. 113)
- Lighthouse Restaurant ($, p. 101)
- Little Venice ★ ($$$, p. 106)
- Palm Court ★ ($$, p. 118)
- Royston's ★★ ($$$, p. 99)
- Tom Moore's Tavern ★★ ($$$$, p. 117)

DELI/LIGHT BITES

- Bailey's Ice Cream & Food D'Lites Restaurant ($, p. 119)
- The Hickory Stick ($, p. 112)
- L'Oriental Express ($, p. 113)
- Paradiso Cafe ($, p. 113)
- Ten ($, p. 115)

FRENCH

- Ascots ★ ($$$, p. 103)
- Beau Rivage ★★ ($$$, p. 102)
- Broadway Bistro at Coquille ★ ($$$, p. 104)
- Newport Room ★★★★★ ($$$$, p. 97)
- Tom Moore's Tavern ★★ ($$$$, p. 117)

ICE CREAM

- Bailey's Ice Cream & Food D'Lites Restaurant ($, p. 119)
- Café Gio ($$, p. 120)

INDIAN

- East Meets West ★ ($$, p. 107)
- House of India ★ ($, p. 112)

INTERNATIONAL

- The Bermudiana/The Breakers ★ ($$$, p. 116)
- Blackbeard's Hideout ($$, p. 119)
- Black Horse Tavern ★★ ($$, p. 120)
- Breezes ★★ (p. 92)
- Café Coco ★★ ($$$, p. 102)
- Café Gio ($$, p. 120)
- Coconut Rock ($, p. 111)
- Green Lantern ($, p. 111)
- Harry's ★★ ($$$, p. 106)
- The Ocean Grill & The Cedar Room ($$$, p. 99)
- The Pickled Onion ★★ ($$$, p. 106)
- Port O' Call ($$, p. 109)

- The Robin Hood ($, p. 114)
- Specialty Inn ($, p. 116)
- Tamarisk Dining Room ★★ ($$$, p. 92)
- Tavern by the Sea ($$, p. 121)
- Wickets ($, p. 101)

ITALIAN

- Ascots ★ ($$$, p. 103)
- Bacci ($$$, p. 98)
- Little Venice ★ ($$$, p. 106)
- Pasta Basta ($, p. 114)
- Portofino ($, p. 114)
- Primavera ($$, p. 110)
- Rustico ($$, p. 118)
- Tio Pepe ($$, p. 100)
- Trattoria Café ($, p. 115)

JAMAICAN

- Jamaican Grill ($, p. 112)

MEDITERRANEAN

- Beethoven's ($$, p. 93)
- Bonefish Bar & Grill ($$, p. 93)
- East Meets West ★ ($$, p. 107)
- Fresco's Restaurant & Wine Bar ★ ($$, p. 108)
- Harbourfront Restaurant & Komodaru Sushi Lounge ★★ ($$$, p. 104)
- Harley's ($$, p. 108)
- The Lido ★ ($$$, p. 103)
- The Point Restaurant ★★ ($$, p. 118)

MEXICAN

- Latin Restaurant ($$, p. 109)

PIZZERIA

- Rustico ($$, p. 118)

SEAFOOD

- Barracuda Grill ★★ ($$$, p. 103)
- Bonefish Bar & Grill ($$, p. 93)
- The George & Dragon ($$, p. 120)
- Harbourfront Restaurant & Komodaru Sushi Lounge ★★ ($$$, p. 104)
- Lobster Pot & Boat House Bar ★★ ($$, p. 109)
- Ocean Club ★ ($$$, p. 99)
- Port O' Call ($$, p. 109)
- Somerset Country Squire Pub & Restaurant ($$, p. 93)

SOUTHWESTERN

Blú ★★★ ($$$, p. 101)

SPANISH

Latin Restaurant ($$, p. 109)

Tio Pepe ($$, p. 100)

STEAK & SEAFOOD

Freeport Seafood Restaurant ★

(Sandys Parish, $, p. 96)

Griffin's ★ ($$, p. 120)

Harry's ★★★ ($$$, p. 106)

Mickey's Beach Bistro & Bar ★

($$$, p. 117)

Salt Rock Grill & Sushi Bar

($, p. 97)

Waterlot Inn ★★★ ($$$$, p. 97)

SUSHI

Harbourfront Restaurant & Komodaru

Sushi Lounge ★★★ ($$$, p. 104)

Henry VIII ($$, p. 100)

Primavera ($$, p. 110)

Salt Rock Grill & Sushi Bar ($, p. 97)

Specialty Inn ($, p. 116)

Yashi Sushi Bar ($, p. 115)

SWISS

Beethoven's ($$, p. 93)

THAI

Chopsticks Restaurant ★ ($, p. 110)

Silk ★★★ ($$, p. 110)

WEST INDIAN

The Spot Restaurant ($, p. 114)

SANDYS PARISH

The following restaurants are all on Somerset Island.

5

Expensive

Breezes ★★ INTERNATIONAL In Cambridge Beaches in the west of the island, this alfresco restaurant lives up to its name. You can dine on the covered veranda attractively positioned beside one of the resort's five beaches, where barbecues are sometimes held. Most diners at lunch opt for freshly made and well-stuffed sandwiches or crisp salads with tantalizing dressings. At night, steaks shipped in from the mainland and seafood (some freshly caught) are offered. The chef features a seafood market concept for dinner: You choose from a wide array of fish options and then you tell the chef to cook it to your taste.

30 King's Point Rd., Somerset. ☎ 441/234-0331. www.cambridgebeaches.com. Reservations required for dinner. Lunch main courses $12-$22; dinner main courses $23-$50. AE, MC, V. Daily noon-3pm and Wed-Sun 7-9:30pm. Closed Oct-May. Bus: 7 or 8 (each marked "Dockyard").

Tamarisk Dining Room ★★ INTERNATIONAL This elegant cottage colony is the top dining spot in the parish for classic cuisine and also for innovative fare. Tamarisk boasts impeccable service.

The formal and very large dining room has the kind of decor you might associate with an extremely sophisticated country club: tones of salmon and lime-green in big-patterned jungle themes, limed wood, and a heavily trussed and beamed ceiling. In warm weather, sliding glass doors extend the dining area onto a rambling, east-facing terrace that overlooks the bay.

At lunch, you're likely to come across platters of chicken-macadamia salad, a signature pita-bread sandwich (stuffed, California-style, with chicken salad, avocado slices, and bean sprouts), and some of the best cheeseburgers in the parish. The dinner menu changes every night, and depending on the season, might include a mousse of foie gras; shrimp cocktail; snails in garlic butter; chargrilled vegetables fashioned into a spicy terrine; grilled lobster tail with drawn butter; tamarind-glazed mahi-mahi; duck breast roulade; pan-seared sea scallops with mango, pineapple, sweet chile salsa, and saffron oil; and a rack of lamb with mustard and garden-herb crust. Dessert might include a terrine of prunes with vanilla ice cream. Live entertainment is featured April through October.

At Cambridge Beaches Hotel, 30 Kings Point Rd. ☎ 441/234-0331. Reservations required. Jacket optional for men dining inside, not for those dining on terrace. Dinner main courses $23–$50. AE, MC, V. Daily 7–9pm. Bus: 7 or 8 (each marked “Dockyard”).

Moderate

Beethoven’s MEDITERRANEAN/SWISS A pub-cum-restaurant, this luncheon eatery lies within the Clocktower Building’s shopping mall at the historic Royal Dockyard. It was established and for many years run by a team of expatriate Swiss chefs. In 2008, other entrepreneurs bought the place, but have kept it pretty much as it was at the time of their takeover. The setting is casual, and surprisingly nonelaborate—its sheathing of beige and brown tiles and darkly nondescript furniture don’t contribute to a setting that’s particularly cozy. Nonetheless, it’s a worthwhile choice for meals throughout the day, as well as for afternoon tea. An extensive lunch menu includes fish chowder, roast lamb, fried chicken, beef burgers, salads, sandwiches, and platters with fish of the day or onion quiche with goat cheese and sun-dried tomatoes.

Clocktower Building, Royal Naval Dockyard. ☎ 441/234-5009. Reservations recommended for dinner. Smart casual attire required. Main courses $12–$26. AE, MC, V. Daily 9am–4pm. Bus: 7 or 8, or ferry from the City of Hamilton.

Bonefish Bar & Grill MEDITERRANEAN/SEAFOOD Overlooking a landlocked piazza within the Dockyard Complex, this bar and grill offers a diverse menu that pleases diners who aren’t too jaded or too demanding. If you want filling and satisfying food, it’s a suitable choice, though it’s not quite on par with the Frog & Onion Pub (p. 96). There are a limited number of tables inside, a fact that encourages most diners to head for the tables on the large piazza outside. Livio Ferigo, the likable owner, prepares chicken casseroles, rib-eye steaks, lightly braised tuna with black olives, several tempting pastas, and lots of seafood. There’s live entertainment, usually presented every Monday and Wednesday from 9 to 11:30pm.

Royal Naval Dockyard. ☎ 441/234-5151. www.bermuda.com/bonefish. Lunch main courses $8–$26; dinner main courses $16–$29. AE, MC, V. Daily 11:30am–10:30pm. Closed Jan–Mar. Bus: 7 or 8, or ferry from the City of Hamilton.

Somerset Country Squire Pub & Restaurant BRITISH/SEAFOOD You’ll pass through a moon-gate arch to reach the raised terrace of this waterside restaurant in the center of the village. Limestone blocks and hedges ring the terrace; inside, the dining room is located downstairs. The bill of fare ranges from British pub grub to fresh local fish to traditional roast beef with Yorkshire pudding. Local Bermudian favorites and the specialties of the day, including curried mussel pie and fresh Bermuda tuna or wahoo, are your best bets. During some months of the year, lobster is a big deal around here, with much hoopla. Most of the food is fairly routine, but the chef is especially proud of his Bermuda fish chowder, a tomato-based soup that some locals consider the best in the West End.

10 Mangrove Bay Rd., Somerset Village. ☎ 441/234-0105. Lunch main courses $18–$26; dinner main courses $16–$31. AE, MC, V. Daily 11:30am–4pm and 5:30–10pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Where to Eat in Bermuda

5

Sandys Parish

WHERE TO EAT

- Bacci 11
- Bailey's Ice Cream & Food D'Lites Restaurant 25
- Beau Rivage 13
- Beethoven's 1
- The Bermudian/The Breakers 18
- Black Horse Tavern 28
- Blü 12
- Bonefish Bar & Grill 1
- Breezes 3
- Café Coco 14

- Coconuts 7
- Fourways Inn 17
- Freeport Seafood Restaurant 2
- The Frog & Onion Pub 1
- Henry VIII 9
- Landfall 23
- The Lido 16
- Lighthouse Restaurant 8
- Mickey's Beach Bistro & Bar 16
- Newport Room 11

- North Rock Brewing Company 20
- Ocean Club 15
- Ocean Echo 7
- The Ocean Grill & The Cedar Room 6
- Palm Court 27
- The Point Restaurant 21
- Royston's 7
- Rustico 22
- Salt Rock Grill & Sushi Bar 4
- Somerset Country Squire Pub & Restaurant 5

- Specialty Inn 19
- Swizzle Inn Bailey's Bay 26
- Tamarisk Dining Room 3
- Tio Pepe 10
- Tom Moore's Tavern 24
- Waterlot Inn 11
- Wickets 11

Check, Please! A Note on Service Charges

Although a service charge (typically 10%–17%) is added to most restaurant bills, it's customary to leave something extra if the service has been good. However, it isn't necessary—in fact, many diners find 15% too generous. Be on the lookout for this scam: Some restaurants include the basic 15% service charge in the bill, but leave the service charge line blank. Many diners unknowingly add another 10% to 15%, without realizing they've already paid for service. Scrutinize your bill, and don't be shy about asking if you're not sure what's included.

Inexpensive

Freeport Seafood Restaurant ★  STEAK & SEAFOOD Set within the foreboding walls of the Dockyard complex, and outfitted in tones of Aegean blue and white, this place represents a charming, raffish corner of maritime Italy, thanks to San Remo (Italy)-born owner Valerio Ausenda. Come here for completely unpretentious locally caught seafood. Somehow this old favorite manages to turn up a fresher catch than its Somerset competitors, and broils it to perfection, a welcome change from the greasy fish and chips grub served at some other dockyard spots. There is no great presentation or dramatic flourish to the platters served, and some aspects of the place might remind you of a tough maritime bar and grill. But the taste is often delectable, especially the fish platter or one of the broiled Bermuda rockfish dishes, our particular favorite. At least some of the seasonings derive from Sr. Ausenda's herb garden, which thrives within an assortment of battered plastic containers in back. The menu is less formal—and somewhat less expensive—at lunch than at dinner. During the day, you get the regular chow you'd find almost anywhere, including burgers, salads, pizzas, and steak on the grill. The tasty fish sandwich is usually the star of the lunch menu. In the evening, the fish selection might feature tuna or wahoo. For those who want a good old T-bone, those are on the menu, too. We found the lobster overpriced and overcooked. This restaurant has a pair of Internet stations for the use of its patrons.

Royal Naval Dockyard. ☎ 441/234-1692. www.freeportseafood.com. Lunch main courses $10–$25; pizzas $11–$12; dinner main courses $15–$27. AE, MC, V. Daily 11:30am–10pm. Bar until around midnight. Bus: 7 or 8.

The Frog & Onion Pub BRITISH Within the dark and shadowy premises of the former 18th-century cooperage at the Royal Naval Dockyard, the Frog & Onion is the most traditional British pub in Bermuda. It's "named" for the founders, French-born Jean-Paul Magnin (the Frog, who's no longer associated with the place) and Bermuda-born Carol West (the Onion, who is). The place rambles on through at least three rock-sided dining rooms and two separate outdoor decks, so we recommend that you wander around a bit to find the table that best suits your mood. You might opt to relax with a pint of English lager near the cooperage's cavernous stone fireplace, perhaps pondering the majesty of what used to be the British Empire. At lunch there are standard sandwiches, salads, and some tasty bar pies. We especially like the version with curried mussels for a real taste of Bermuda, although you might opt for the shepherd's pie. The dinner menu includes all of the lunchtime choices plus a

5

Sandys Parish

WHERE TO EAT

grilled sirloin steak with mushrooms, Thai-style shrimp or chicken curries, yellowfin tuna sashimi, and melted Brie with walnuts. The food is not spectacular, but it is well-prepared and hearty, and no one leaves hungry.

The Cooperage, at the Royal Naval Dockyard. 📞 441/234-2900. www.frogandonion.bm. Lunch sandwiches, salads, and platters $12–$18; dinner main courses $17–$29; pub menu platters $11–$24. MC, V. Mon–Sat 11:30am–4pm and 6–9:30pm; Sun noon–4pm and 5:30–9pm. Bar daily 11:30am–midnight. Closed Mon Dec–Feb. Bus: 7 or 8, or ferry from the City of Hamilton.

Salt Rock Grill & Sushi Bar STEAK & SEAFOOD/SUSHI At the old Loyalty Inn in Somerset, this restaurant has a panoramic terrace overlooking Mangrove Bay. It's a good choice for watching sunsets. The chefs are skilled at cooking Bermuda lobster, locally caught fish, and certified Angus beef. The price of lobster and the Angus beef depends on market conditions. There is also a sushi bar with more than 100 choices. Many locals come here to sit in the bar and watch live sports on the TVs. Daily innovative specialties are a regular feature. Some of the best sushi selections include a Tsunami platter containing eight pieces ranging from yellowtail to crab and smoked eel. Another specialty is a Korean barbecue roll with thin slices of prime rib and a sweet potato tempura. Live music is a feature Friday to Sunday from 7:30 to 11pm.

27 Mangrove Bay Rd. 📞 441/234-4502. www.saltrackgrillbda.com. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $12–$30; dinner main courses $22–$70. Daily noon–9:30pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

SOUTHAMPTON PARISH

Very Expensive

Newport Room ★★★ FRENCH The Newport Room is unequalled in its sumptuous but subtle decor and succulent French cuisine. Set within the main core of the Fairmont Southampton, it's on the short list of the best restaurants in Bermuda. The only nearby establishment that can compete with it is the Waterlot Inn, which lies in a seafront annex that's part of the same resort. The Newport, however, is much grander and much more formal. The dining room, entirely paneled in teak and rosewood with nautical brass touches, suggests the interior of a yacht. A maitre d' stationed beside a ship's compass greets diners at the entrance, and the service is attentive. In the center of the room are exact miniature replicas of two of the former winning sailboats from the Newport–Bermuda Race.

Settle into a leather armchair and prepare yourself for what just might be your most memorable meal in Bermuda. The regularly changing menu reads like a textbook of modern gourmet cuisine; it might include lamb cassoulet or crab-cruste grouper. The kitchen uses the freshest and best ingredients in its carefully prepared, artfully presented dishes. The wine list includes a wide array of international selections, all served in Irish crystal.

At the Fairmont Southampton, 101 South Shore Rd. 📞 441/238-8000. Reservations required. Jacket required, tie recommended. Main courses $35–$62; fixed-price menus $85 for 3 courses, $95 for 4 courses, tasting menu $110. AE, DC, MC, V. Daily 6:30–10pm. Usually closed Oct–Mar. Bus: 7.

Waterlot Inn ★★ STEAK & SEAFOOD Less formal than the Newport, and with a more spontaneous and less rigid staff, this is one of our all-time favorites for a special night in Bermuda. The service is alert, and the culinary repertoire is inventive—doubly impressive given the large number of diners every evening.

About 300 years ago, merchant sailors unloaded their cargo into the basement of this historic inn and warehouse. Over the years, it has attracted such guests as Mark Twain, James Thurber, Eleanor Roosevelt, and Eugene O'Neill. You can enjoy a drink in an upstairs bar, where a classical pianist entertains. After descending a staircase with a white balustrade, you'll be seated in one of three conservatively nautical dining rooms. Each is filled with captain's or Windsor chairs, oil paintings of old clipper ships, and lots of exposed wood. Menu items include well-prepared steaks and beef dishes, each of them grilled and served according to your wishes, along with tasty other dishes such as seared scallops wrapped in pancetta ham; oysters Rockefeller; Bermuda onion soup; and breast of duck roasted with maple syrup, lentils, and foie gras. In addition, many kinds of fresh fish can be grilled, broiled, or blackened, according to your request.

At the Fairmont Southampton, 101 South Shore Rd. ☎ 441/238-8000. Reservations recommended. Jacket required for men. Main courses $30-$145. AE, MC, V. Daily 6-10pm. Bus: 7.

Expensive

Bacci ITALIAN Set on the upper floor of the golf clubhouse, on the manicured grounds of the also-recommended hotel, this restaurant became one of the most vibrant and talked-about Italian restaurants in Bermuda shortly after its inauguration during the post-Hurricane Fabian rebuilding of the Fairmont Southampton Hotel. Its staff describes it as "Italian with passion," thanks to excellent food and a decor that incorporates striking tones of red, black, yellow, and pastels; a bar that's especially busy with espresso and after-dinner-drink lovers late in the evening; and a view that sweeps down over the golf course to the sea. The chef prepares some of the best and most raved-about spaghetti carbonara and lasagna on the island, a sumptuous version of osso buco, several types of simply grilled fresh fish (red snapper in parchment with capers and tomatoes is delicious), acclaimed versions of rib-eye steaks that are served over beds of risotto, and vegetarian dishes such as risotto with wild mushrooms and truffles. The restaurant's name, incidentally, translates from the Piemontese dialect as "quick and friendly kisses."

In the golf clubhouse of the Fairmont Southampton, 101 South Shore Rd. ☎ 441/238-8000. Reservations required. Main courses $10-$39. AE, DC, MC, V. Daily 6-10pm. Bus: 7.

Coconuts ★ 🎁 CARIBBEAN/AMERICAN We recommend Coconuts not only for its scenic vista, but also for its sense of being tightly woven into the fabric of Bermuda's complicated social pecking order. Enjoying favor among long-time residents of the island, it's set between high cliff rocks and a sandy pink beach on the island's mostly residential south coast. Alfresco dining here is most romantic, although those breezy nights tend to cool your food before you've finished it.

The restaurant is based within an open-sided dining room that's partially paneled with varnished cedar. Lunch is nothing special—burgers, salads, sandwiches, and the like. But at night, the chefs strut their stuff, offering a set menu (which changes daily) full of variety and flavor, and presented with flair. Freshly grown produce is served with Cajun and West Indian spices, for a "taste of the islands." We can't guarantee what you'll get on any given night here, but the scope is wide enough to appeal to most diners—though if you're a picky eater, you'd better call ahead and check.

In the Reefs Hotel, 56 South Rd. ☎ 441/238-0222. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $12-$26; fixed-price 4-course dinner $68 per person. AE, MC, V. Daily noon-3pm (Apr-Nov) and 7-10pm (May-Nov). Bus 7.

Ocean Club ★ ASIAN/SEAFOOD This oceanfront restaurant, perched atop a low cliff overlooking rocks and pink sands, is an artfully minimalist, modern venue surrounded with clusters of sea grapes and Norfolk Island pines. The panoramic view through the huge windows is the airy restaurant's most prominent feature.

Expect a roster of Pacific Rim cuisine. Examples include steamed mussels with a coconut curry lemon-grass sauce; tuna tartare with mango; spicy Asian chicken salad; rockfish with smoked paprika, Manila clams, and chorizo sausage; and pan-seared halibut in fennel broth with shiitake mushrooms.

There's live entertainment Tuesday through Sunday.

In the Fairmont Southampton, 101 South Rd. ☎ 441/238-8000. Reservations required. Main courses $25-$39. AE, MC, V. Daily 6-10pm. Bus: 7.

Ocean Echo ★★ BERMUDIAN At the Reefs Hotel, this panoramic restaurant enjoys a 180-degree view of the horizon from its perch high on a cliff. Patio seating for 40 diners is slightly less formal. A romantic dining experience, the restaurant has a blue-green decor, inspired by the ocean, and Bermuda cedar beams adorning the ceiling.

You can start with Bermuda classics including a rum-laced fish chowder or else a traditional Bermuda fishcake with Asian black plum sauce. For your main course, try a daily fresh Bermudian delicacy, or such classics as rack of lamb crusted with mustard and fresh herbs or grilled beef tenderloin with a smoky bacon sauce and shallots glazed with Bermuda honey. There are always vegetarian options.

In the Reefs Hotel, 56 South Shore Rd. ☎ 441/238-0222. www.thereefs.com. Reservations required. Jackets recommended but not required. Main courses $32-$42. Daily 6-10pm. Bus: 7.

The Ocean Grill & The Cedar Room INTERNATIONAL Set within the previously recommended Pompano Beach Club, this pair of restaurants offers well-prepared food and big-windowed views over some of the most dramatic seacoast in the Atlantic. The more cutting-edge and "trendy" of the two is the Ocean Grill, offering a double tier of windows with sweeping sea views, and a la carte seafood dishes that evoke a big-city dining enclave. The Cedar Room is more conservative, with furniture crafted from pre-blight cedar. It focuses on traditional North American and Bermudian mainstays. Menu items change with the seasons but are likely to include lamb chops marinated in lavender and pink peppercorns served with a port wine sauce; grilled tiger shrimp with a miso and sake glaze; 10-ounce New York strip steaks with guava-flavored black rum sauce; and a wide array of sinfully rich—and often artfully decorated—desserts such as a dark chocolate pyramid.

In the Pompano Beach Club, 36 Pompano Beach Rd., ☎ 441/234-0222. Reservations recommended. Set-price dinners (in Cedar Room only) $56; main courses $19-$40. AE, DC, MC, V. Daily 6:30-9:30pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Royston's ★★ CONTINENTAL As part of the multi-million dollar expansion of the Reefs Hotel & Club, the owners installed a formal restaurant that's one of the best bets for hotel dining on the island. The cuisine is light, full flavored, and sometimes impertinently inventive. Start with such well-crafted appetizers as beef carpaccio in white truffle oil and perhaps the freshly made cold lobster and melon bisque. Main courses feature the market-fresh catch of the day or else such meat selections as beef Wellington in a truffle sauce. Lobster ravioli is a savory delight, as is the seared halibut with a vegetable ratatouille. One of the chef's specialties is an oven-roasted Cornish hen marinated in Bermuda black rum and served with Italian couscous.

Putting Together the Perfect Picnic

The kitchens of many major hotels will prepare a picnic lunch for you, but you need to request it at least a day in advance. On Front Street in the City of Hamilton, you can order sandwiches at a cafe and pick up a bottle of wine or mineral water. If it's a weekday, the best place to buy picnic supplies is the Hickory Stick (p. 112).

If you enjoy picnicking and biking, you can do both in Sandys Parish. Start by crossing Somerset Bridge (heading in the direction of Somerset Village), and continue along Somerset Road to Fort Scaur Park, where you'll enjoy a panoramic view of Ely's Harbour.

Another ideal picnic location is Spanish Point Park in Pembroke, where you will find a series of little coves and beaches. You don't need to go to the trouble of packing a picnic basket—in warm weather, a lunch wagon rolls around every day at noontime. We also love to picnic at one of the island's best beaches, Warwick Long Bay.

In the Reefs Hotel, 56 South Rd. ☎ 441/238-0222. www.thereefs.com. Reservations required. Main courses $26-$42. AE, MC, V. Daily 6:30-10pm. Bus: 7.

Moderate

5

Henry VIII BRITISH/SUSHI Within a stucco-sided, veranda-ringed building set prominently beside the parish's busiest coastal highway, this restaurant serves a clientele that's about equally divided between local residents and dining-room refugees from the relatively expensive hotels nearby. There's something that's just a bit cloying about the Tudor theme of the place—waitresses, some of them British, in long dresses of royal purple, a menu that makes coy references to Henry VIII's ongoing and oft-changing marriage vows, and a timbered and oak-paneled decor with lots of polished brass. But despite any drawbacks, the food is straightforward and a wee bit less expensive than what you'd find within the more glamorous dining rooms of nearby hotels. The menu is strong on beef dishes, especially steaks and burgers, with some pork and fish choices thrown in for variety. A sushi bar operates in a corner, surprising nearly everybody. Some kind of entertainment, usually a vocalist with a keyboard, begins at 9:30pm and runs until 1am every night of the week except Monday and Tuesday.

52 South Shore Rd. (near the Fairmont Southampton Resort). ☎ 441/238-1977. www.henrys.bm. Reservations recommended for dinner. Lunch main courses $11-$29; dinner main courses $28-$70; sushi platters $7-$16. Sun brunch $30 per person. AE, DC, MC, V. Daily noon-4:30pm and 6-10pm. Bus: 7.

Tio Pepe ITALIAN/SPANISH Don't let the Spanish name fool you—the cuisine here is predominantly traditional Italian. A few Spanish dishes do appear on the menu, including roast suckling pig. It's fairly straightforward fare: pizzas, pastas, and classic Italian cuisine in generous portions, all with a bit of Mediterranean pizzazz. The kitchen also prepares local fish, plus salmon and lobster, with subtle Italian flavors. We especially like the huge range of hot appetizers; the clams steamed in white wine, garlic, and parsley; and the chef's linguine pescatore with mussels, clams, calamari, shrimp, and fresh tomato sauce. Seating is on a wide garden-view terrace and in three indoor dining rooms. The restaurant is convenient to the Fairmont Southampton and Horseshoe Bay Beach.

117 South Rd., Horseshoe Bay. 📞 441/238-1897. www.tiopepebermuda.com. Reservations recommended. Dress smart casual. Lunch platters $10–$36; dinner main courses $18–$36. AE, MC, V. May–Sept daily 11:30am–10pm, Oct–Apr daily noon–10pm; lunch served until 5pm. Bus 7.

Inexpensive

Lighthouse Restaurant 🍷 BRITISH/CONTINENTAL If you step inside the local lighthouse, you'll find a contemporary-looking and colorful dining room serving meals that evoke Bermuda and Britain alike. It's a handy place if you're touring the south shore of Southampton Parish. After you've climbed the winding steps leading up to the famous Gibbs Hill Lighthouse, you'll have worked up an appetite. Begin with such starters as warm Camembert cheese topped with a mix of wild berries or salmon-stuffed crepes. A vegetable grill is served with fettuccine noodles in a light hoisin dressing, or you can order a mango, mozzarella, and walnut salad on a bed of fresh greens. Lots of clients opt for one of the fish sandwiches, the curried lamb pie, or the codfish croquettes. A bar in the corner chugs out impressive numbers of both frozen smoothies and martinis. In the afternoon, you can enjoy any number of specialty teas, including mango, apple, and strawberry. The owner, Heidi Cowen, is the granddaughter of the last lighthouse keeper who lived here in the 1960s. She, too, lived in the lighthouse with her grandparents.

Gibbs Hill Lighthouse, 68 St. Anne's Rd. 📞 441/238-8679. Breakfast $10–$14; lunch main courses $10–$17; dinner main courses $16–$32. AE, MC, V. May–Sept daily 9am–10pm; Oct–Dec and Feb–Apr daily 9am–5pm. Closed Jan. Bus: 7 or 8.

Wickets 😊 INTERNATIONAL Outfitted like a British cricket club, this brasserie and bistro features a Sunday morning health-conscious breakfast buffet with low-calorie and low-fat options, as well as one of the most comprehensive lunch menus on the island. It's decent food—nothing more. Standard “family fare” includes deli-style sandwiches, soups, chowders, pastas, salads, and platters such as grilled steaks and veal. The most popular fish dish is cod fish with potatoes, which has more flavor than the routine steaks and chops on the menu.

The restaurant, on the lower lobby level of the Fairmont Southampton, overlooks the swimming pool and the ocean beyond. Many Bermudians, with kids in tow, come here for a late lunch or a light supper. The informal but traditional restaurant requests only that guests cover their bathing suits with a shirt. A children's menu is available.

In the Fairmont Southampton, 101 South Rd. 📞 441/238-8000. Breakfast buffet $25; lunch main courses $12–$22; dinner main courses $15–$69. AE, DC, MC, V. Daily 7am–6pm. Ferry from the City of Hamilton.

WARWICK PARISH

Expensive

Blû ★★ AMERICAN/SOUTHWESTERN Set in the same building that houses the clubhouse and pro shop of the Belmont Hills Golf Course, Blû has a sinuous postmodern decor that evokes a sophisticated corner of Italy, with tones of blue, white, and yellow that reflect the sea views that sweep out from it on all sides. A prominent area is devoted to a bar, and the staff will seem poised on the balls of their feet to make your entrance as theatrical as possible. The restaurant features dishes that may include fresh oysters; Cajun-style fried calamari; shrimp seiche with jalapeño and red onion; roasted pumpkin ginger soup; barbecued chicken quesadillas;

Dressing the Part

Some of the upscale restaurants in Bermuda ask that men wear a jacket and tie for dinner; some restaurants require a jacket but not a tie. When making reservations, always ask what the dress code is. "Casual but elegant" dress is preferred at most Sunday buffets.

firecracker rolls of roasted duck with rice paper noodles, tofu, and mango chili; chili-infused pork loin with mushroom-sausage stuffing and creamy polenta; Spanish meat and seafood paella; organic bourbon-infused chicken; macadamia-crusting wild salmon steaks; or Yankee-style pot roast.

In the Clubhouse of the Belmont Hills Golf Course, 97 Middle Rd. ☎ 441/232-2323. Reservations recommended. Pizzas $12-$16. Main courses $22-$46. Set menus are available for groups. AE, MC, V. Daily 11:30am-2:30pm and 6-10pm. Bus: 7.

PAGET PARISH

Very Expensive

Cafe Coco ★★ BERMUDIAN/INTERNATIONAL This resort restaurant with ocean views turns out vibrant and innovative cuisine that combines flavor with color. Begin with such selections as a vichyssoise with poached lobster and orange oil or else grilled ahi tuna and calamari with a chorizo oil and an olive strudel. Some of the best main courses are sautéed Gulf shrimp with a timbale of beetroot, or pan-seared Sonoma foie gras with a smoked bacon mousseline and chicken livers with a serving of confit plums.

In Coco Reef Resort, 3 Stonington Circle, Paget Parish. ☎ 441/236-5416. www.cocoreefbermuda.com. Reservations required. Main courses $35-$44. AE, MC, V. Daily 6:30-10pm. Bus: 7.

Expensive

Beau Rivage ★★ FRENCH Beau Rivage is the most authentically French restaurant on island. Overlooking Hamilton Harbour, it is the domain of award-winning chef Jean Claude. He not only offers some of the finest dishes on island, but also features tables opening onto a panoramic view.

Using quality ingredients, he gives a modern interpretation to classic French dishes. Come here to be served radiantly authentic flavors in fresh shrimp concoctions; tender, well-aged steaks; or succulent veal or lamb chops. Blue crab is often featured, as are vegetarian dishes. Start, perhaps, with a bowl of the velvety lobster bisque.

In the Newstead Belmont Hills Golf Resort & Spa, 27 Harbour Rd. ☎ 441/236-6060. Reservations required. Main courses $25-$50. AE, DC, MC, V. Mon-Fri 11:30am-2:30pm, Sun 11:30am-1:30pm and 2-4pm; daily 6:30-9:30pm.

Fourways Inn ★★★ CONTINENTAL This elegant restaurant in a restored 17th-century house (now a stylish accommodation; see p. 82 for review) provides a romantic setting for refined cuisine. It's like walking into an English manor house, with prints on the walls and white-clothed tables set with silver and crystal. At dinner, a pianist entertains with soft music.

5

Paget Parish

WHERE TO EAT

A classic French cuisine is blended with innovative dishes from the chef, who features locally caught fish and seafood, but also has offerings for vegetarians and for those who are health conscious. The menus change to reflect seasonal ingredients. Classic dishes include chateaubriand for two with a Béarnaise sauce; fresh Maine lobster; veal tenderloin in a lemon and lime butter, or rack of young New Zealand lamb with ratatouille. The dessert specialty is a soufflé with Dark & Stormy rum, coconut, chocolate, strawberry, and a dash of Grand Marnier. It's one of the island's finest dining choices.

1 Middle Rd., Paget Parish. ☎ 441/236-6571. Reservations required. Main courses $28-$39. AE, MC, V. Mon-Sat 6-9:30pm. Bus: 8.

The Lido ★ MEDITERRANEAN This well-recommended beachfront restaurant consists of an outdoor terrace and an indoor dining room with big windows that fill the room with light. Come here for the location and convenience to Elbow Beach. Shades of pale yellow and red predominate, the chairs are comfortable enough to linger in, and the menu is one of the most diverse on the island. We strongly recommend trying the seafood casserole with Mediterranean-style red sauce and chili, olives, and capers; Angus rib-eye steak (grilled); or the roasted lamb.

In the Elbow Beach Hotel Sea Terrace, 60 South Rd. ☎ 441/236-9884. Reservations recommended. Dinner main courses $16-$45. AE, MC, V. Daily 6:30-9pm. Bar until 1am. Bus: 1, 2, or 7.

CITY OF HAMILTON (PEMBROKE PARISH)

5

Expensive

Ascots ★ FRENCH/ITALIAN This restaurant and its tempting Continental menu deserve to be better known. Within a residential neighborhood at the edge of the City of Hamilton, it occupies a spacious house, originally built in 1903, at the end of a country lane. The antique porcelain, Queen Anne armchairs and Welsh pine evoke a chintz-filled English country house. In the summer, diners sit at candlelit tables on the front porch and sometimes beneath a tented canopy in the garden.

The menu relies on classic techniques and first-rate ingredients. It includes one of the best selections of hot and cold appetizers in the City of Hamilton, ranging from Mediterranean chicken salad with goat cheese to fresh homemade ravioli filled with crabmeat and served in smoked-salmon-and-spinach cream sauce. Vegetarian dishes are available. Count on the chef's catch of the day, prepared as you like it, or try blackened mahi-mahi with tomato, pineapple, and lemon compote. If you prefer more traditional dishes, you might find the grilled sirloin steak with port glaze and roasted thyme polenta more to your taste. For dessert, the crepe Garibaldi (warm crepes filled with strawberries and a chocolate-hazelnut sauce, served with fresh berries and crème Chantilly) is a tasty choice. Even more exciting are seasonal berries with Frangelico and chocolate ice cream.

In the Royal Palms Hotel, 24 Rosemont Ave. ☎ 441/295-9644. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $20-$30; dinner main courses $20-$60. AE, MC, V. Mon-Fri noon-2:30pm; Mon-Sat 6:30-10pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Barracuda Grill ★★ SEAFOOD One of Hamilton's more stylish and contemporary-looking restaurants occupies a pair of dining rooms one floor above street level of a building in downtown Hamilton. Established in April 2002, it boasts an ultramodern lighting design, with dozens of hanging lamps that shed the kind of light that makes virtually everyone look attractive. Amid walls sheathed with unusual modern paintings, you can order a roster of mostly fish-based dishes that change with whatever comes in from local fishermen on the day of your arrival. The best examples include lobster fettuccine, barracuda crab cake with hazelnut sauce, or the wild Pacific salmon in a hoisin glaze. The most expensive and elegant item on the menu is the Kobe beef and foie gras burger.

5 Burnaby Hill. ☎ 441/292-1609. www.irg.bm. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $15-$40; dinner main courses $24-$55. AE, MC, V. Mon-Fri noon-2:30pm; daily 5:30-10pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Bolero Brasserie ★ CONTINENTAL Casual but classy, this is one of the most attractive and appealing new restaurants in Bermuda. In the heart of downtown Hamilton, it occupies a large, woody-looking dining room with a long bar area, red walls, and lots of mirrors. It does a busy, big-city lunchtime business with the local banking and financial community, with a presentation that's a bit less stressful and more leisurely at night. The venue is that of a typical French or British brasserie, with flavorful menu items inspired by Olde Europe and enough buzz and theatricality to keep virtually anyone amused. Jonny Roberts and his artist wife Fiona cook and serve, respectively, offering a successful array of dishes which include coq au vin; tempura versions of classic French frogs' legs; crepes filled with a confit of chicken with garlic; steak au poivre; filet mignon with Yorkshire pudding; and a startlingly varied selection of fresh local fish. Examples include shrimp piri-piri and tuna prepared niçoise-style, with tomatoes, peppers, and onions. During the midafternoon, there's a tapas menu, any item of which seems to go well with cocktails.

95 Front St. ☎ 441/292-4507. www.bolero-brasserie.com. Reservations recommended Fri-Sat. Lunch main courses $18-$35; dinner main courses $22-$35. AE, DC, MC, V. Mon-Fri 11:30am-2:30pm; Mon-Sat 6-10:30pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Broadway Bistro at Coquille ★ FRENCH The adjacent bar and lounge of this restaurant has become a popular rendezvous spot after dark. An authentic French cuisine is served, some of the platters evoking those served in Paris. The waterside restaurant lies at the foot of Hamilton Harbour. The cookery is characterized by a sound technique, as evoked by such starters as pheasant terrine with grapefruit marmalade or white beans and chorizo soup. Main dishes are classic bistro fare, including steak frites, duck confit, and frog legs provençale. Desserts are luscious, especially the warm and "runny" chocolate cake with crème fraîche and a passion fruit coulis.

E. Broadway, Hamilton. ☎ 441/292-6122. www.lacoquille.bm. Main courses $13-$33. MC, V. Mon-Sat 11:45am-2pm and 6-10pm. (Dinner also served on summer Sun.) Bus: 1, 2, or 7.

Harbourfront Restaurant & Komodaru Sushi Lounge ★★ ASIAN/MEDITERRANEAN/SEAFOOD/SUSHI This is the most talked about and most fashionable restaurant in Bermuda, with combinations of Asian and European fare that aren't easily available in most other restaurants. Set on the eastern edge of downtown Hamilton, on the ground floor of the Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute (BUEI), it is an intersecting jumble of sinuous, sun-flooded curves. There's an etched aluminum bar near the entrance, a cozy and woody central dining room that evokes a postmodern spin on a traditional British pub, and a high-ceilinged second dining room where the light seems to leap into the room from the yacht-filled piers you'll see through high banks of windows. Menu items are the kind of thing that food and dining magazines like to feature, such as rigatoni with chicken, spinach, and cream

Where to Eat in the City of Hamilton

5

WHERE TO EAT

City of Hamilton (Pembroke Parish)

sauce; lobster salads; blackened codfish; Venetian-style calf's liver; yellowfin tuna with a wasabi-flavored cream sauce; tuna or steak tartare; and charbroiled loin of veal with a shitake mushroom sauce. Sushi, served Monday to Saturday from 5 to 10pm, is the specialty of the chef, and ranges in price from $6.50 to $15. There is also vegetarian sushi served. Dessert might include fondant au chocolat—a warm, partially melted chocolate pudding.

40 Crow Lane, E. Broadway. ☎ 441/295-4207. www.diningbermuda.com. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $15–$30; dinner main courses $22–$89 (lobster). AE, DC, MC, V. Mon–Sat 11:45am–3pm; daily 6–10pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Harry's ★★ INTERNATIONAL/STEAK & SEAFOOD This upscale restaurant is the best in Bermuda for the carnivore. In the 1950s, before Harry, its founder, boarded the PanAm Clipper to Bermuda, he stopped in New York to dine at Peter's Backyard. The steak was so exceptional he returned to Bermuda with a suitcase full of sirloin, the first unfrozen prime beef that island had ever seen. Harry's beef is still full of flavor and aged for 21 days.

The selection from the grill ranges from filet mignon to boneless rib-eye, from New York hand-cut strip loin to flat iron steak. If you want to go even more upmarket, try the double thick Welsh lamb chops or 14-ounce veal rack chop. All the sides are here, from Bermuda onion rings to a wild mushroom sauté. There's even a raw bar serving oysters on the half shell or yellowfin tuna carpaccio. The classic Old School shrimp cocktail is the most favored appetizer. Harry's still features all sorts of salads from arugula to wild watercress, but the perennial favorite remains the petite iceberg, just as it was back in the '50s.

96 Pitts Bay Rd. ☎ 441/292-5533. www.harrys.bm. Reservations required. Main courses $28–$58. MC, V. Mon–Fri 11am–2:30pm and Mon–Sat 6–10pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Little Venice ★ CONTINENTAL/ITALIAN This is one of the most prominent Italian restaurants in Bermuda, a staple that has been here as long as anyone can remember. The owner, Emilio Barberio (originally from Capri), is justly proud of his specialties. One star is a savory casseruola di pesce dello chef, which consists of a medley of local seafood—including lobster, shrimp, mussels, clams, and several kinds of fish—cooked together with white wine, herbs, and tomatoes. Other choices include flavorful fish chowder, spaghetti with seafood, several veal dishes, and an array of pastas, including superb homemade ravioli stuffed with tomatoes and ricotta. Italian wines are featured, in bottles and (less expensively) in carafes. An abbreviated menu is offered at lunchtime. The downside to this place is that service here sometimes leaves much to be desired.

Bermudiana Rd. (btw. Par-la-Ville Rd. and Woodbourne Ave.). ☎ 441/295-3503. www.littlevenice.bm. Reservations recommended. Main courses $19–$43. AE, MC, V. Daily noon–2:15pm and 6:30–10pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

The Pickled Onion ★★ INTERNATIONAL Originally built as a liquor warehouse overlooking Hamilton Harbour, this is a popular, reasonably priced dining choice and after-dark venue. The menu is satisfying, though not memorable. You might begin with Caribbean seafood salad, loaded with calamari, shrimp, fresh mussels, and other local fish, all in a basil vinaigrette. Angus beef, cut and trimmed in-house, is the chef's signature dish; it's tender and cooked to your specifications, accompanied by steak-cut potatoes and zesty peppercorn sauce. Prime rib, sizzling pizza, and some of the island's best fish chowder are regularly featured.

A Note on Hotel Dining

In high season (Apr–Nov), many resort hotels require guests to take the Modified American Plan (MAP), or half-board arrangement of breakfast and dinner. To spare guests the routine of eating in the same dining room every night, some hotels offer a “dine around” program. It allows you to dine at other hotels on your own meal plan or at somewhat reduced prices. Ask about dine-around arrangements when booking your room.

The balcony opens onto Front Street. On Wednesday—Harbor Night, the busiest night of the week—the street is closed off and the scene becomes a festive mini-celebration, with street performers and vendors setting the tone (May–Oct). There is live entertainment 7 nights a week during high season.

53 Front St. 📞 441/295-2263. www.irg.bm. Reservations recommended Wed and Fri–Sat. Lunch main courses $13–$25; dinner main courses $15–$40. AE, DC, MC, V. Sun–Thurs 11am–1am; Fri–Sat 11am–2am; Sun brunch 11am–5pm. Closed Dec 25. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Moderate

East Meets West ★ CHINESE/INDIAN/MEDITERRANEAN At this restaurant, bistro, and low-end takeout joint, culinary influences range from Asia to California. An appetizer such as cold Mediterranean tuna with potato salad sounds simple but is a well-flavored entry into a meal. From the Bayou country of Louisiana comes a savory jambalaya served atop Cajun rice. The kettle of spicy rice noodles, with a Malaysian accent, is stir-fried. Indian rotis are filled with lamb curry, and chicken breast is well seasoned and served with fresh broccoli. The chef relies heavily on such ingredients as lime juice, coconut milk, jalapeños, coriander, garlic, and lemongrass. This restaurant can be many things to many people, from a moderately priced and conventional sit-down restaurant, to a slapdash takeout joint.

27 Bermudiana Arcade, off Queen St. (btw. Reid and Church sts.). 📞 441/295-8580. Reservations recommended. Main courses $10–$16. MC, V. Mon–Sat 7:30am–10pm. Bus: 2, 8, 10, or 11.

Flanagan's Irish Pub & Restaurant BERMUDIAN/BRITISH Flanagan's occupies a prime position on Front Street, immediately across the street from the spot where cruise ships float at anchor during their Bermuda sojourns. Don't judge the place by what you'll find on the street level, where you'll find pool tables, big-screen TVs broadcasting up to three different international sporting events at a time, and pinball and automated poker games blaring away in the corners. Try to get a seat in the upstairs dining room or on the panoramic veranda (your best chance to achieve that is to make reservations).

Flanagan's is not known for culinary distinction except in one category: It serves the best fish chowder in Bermuda. Fish chowder is sometimes a bland dish, tasting like boiled fish in milk, but at Flanagan's, the dish has zest and flavor. Their char-broiled 8-ounce sirloin tastes even more delectable when served with a zesty peppercorn sauce. If you prefer lighter fare, opt for the daily changing menu of fresh fish, grilled to perfection.

In the Emporium Building, 69 Front St. 📞 441/295-8299. www.flanagans.bm. Lunch main courses $11–$29; dinner main courses $13–$39. AE, MC, V. Daily 10:30am–10pm; bar 10:30am–1am (happy hour 5–7pm). Bus: 7 or 11.

Fresco's Restaurant & Wine Bar ★ MEDITERRANEAN Nestled in an early-1900s building with a vaulted ceiling and thick stone walls, this cozy spot feels very much like a European wine cellar. We find dining and drinking wine here to be less boisterous and more satisfying than at the Hog Penny (p. 112) or the Pickled Onion (p. 106). A trellis-covered courtyard in back holds a handful of tables for alfresco dining. Oenophiles will appreciate the selection of more than 160 different wines from around the world. The dress code is casual, and the atmosphere is relaxed.

The menu changes monthly. The specialty is the fresh catch of the day—perhaps mahi-mahi, tuna, or wahoo—which can be seared, grilled, or pan-fried. Another delectable option is sea scallops framed with potato and basil dumplings. Whenever possible, local flavors such as papaya, cassava, and loquats are used. One of the best desserts on Bermuda is Fresco's chocolate mousse cake, freshly baked and served with roasted almonds, toffee, marshmallow ice cream, and pistachio crème.

Chancery Lane (btw. Reid and Front sts.). ☎ 441/295-5058. www.bermudasbestrestaurants.com. Reservations recommended (required for wine cellar). Lunch main courses $10–$23; dinner main courses $17–$37. AE, MC, V. Mon–Fri noon–2:30pm; Mon–Sat 6–10pm; wine cellar opens at 5pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Harley's MEDITERRANEAN The food at this popular hotel restaurant exhibits some flair, making it a worthwhile choice even if you aren't a Fairmont Hamilton Princess hotel guest. In warm weather, you can dine alfresco near the pool.

People who are shopping in the City of Hamilton for the day often drop by for lunch, when there's a large selection of salads. Our favorite is the classic Caesar with grilled goujons (slices) of grouper. The catch of the day is available grilled, and there are burgers galore. They also have pizzas and a kids' menu. The dinner menu is significantly better, with a choice of pastas—the best is grilled salmon filets on linguine. We also recommend the prime rib, tuna, salmon, and rockfish. Many of the main dishes conjure up thoughts of sunny Italy. Also delicious are the beef tenderloin with shrimp, stuffed chicken breast served with shiitake mushrooms, and rack of lamb.

In the Fairmont Hamilton Princess, 76 Pitts Bay Rd. ☎ 441/295-3000. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $17–$30; dinner main courses $30–$52. AE, MC, V. Daily 7–10:30am; Mon–Sat noon–10pm; Sun 12:30–3:30pm and 6–10pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Heritage Court AMERICAN/BERMUDIAN Inside the Fairmont Hamilton Princess, this is a safe choice for breakfast, lunch, or dinner. It gets rather festive in the evening, when live piano music is featured (daily 4:30–6:30pm) and the skilled bartender cranks out rum punches. There's also an excellent selection of single-malt whiskies along with both wine and champagne sold by the glass.

Most people come here for the food, however, which includes such specialties as charbroiled filet of beef with a sweet butter and chipotle glaze with arugula-stuffed potatoes. Perhaps you'll opt for the chef's daily pasta special, or else pan-roasted salmon with a tomato mushroom ragout with a lobster and brandy reduction. Appetizers are tangy and tasty, especially the bloody mary prawn cocktail or the sweet chile- and garlic-flavored pork ribs. Every day a different special is featured at lunch, perhaps tandoori rockfish with saffron Basmati rice and banana chutney. At lunch you can also enjoy Bermuda fish chowder, delicious club sandwiches, and even spiny lobster burgers. If you venture inside between May and October on any Friday night between 5:30 and 10pm, there might not be room to sit thanks to the hordes of singles who gather at the bar and on the nearby verandas of the hotel that contains it.

76 Pitts Bay Rd. ☎ 441/295-3000. Breakfast $16; salads and sandwiches $11–$20; afternoon teas $8–$14; dinner main courses $16–$25. AE, DC, MC, V. Daily 10:30am–1am. Bus: 7 or 8.

Latin Restaurant MEXICAN/SPANISH In the center of Hamilton, this restaurant also features a Spanish-themed bar (Rumbar) and a cafe (Java Jive). The food is perfectly partnered with a selection of wines. The cuisine is good without being great, but they do offer one of the tastiest and spiciest lists of tapas in the city. Examples include sautéed shrimp in a garlic and chili olive oil or slow-cooked beef brisket stuffed with yucca croquettes. Seviche and a raw bar are a special feature, including a seiche of the day or else a tasting plate of eight different choices. Served for two to six diners, six different paellas are offered, including the classic one from Valencia and also one from Argentina.

29 Victoria St. ☎ 441/296-5050. www.latin-rumbar.com. Reservations recommended. Main courses $28–$39. MC, V. Mon–Fri noon–2:30pm and 5:30–11pm; Sat–Sun 5:30–10pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Lobster Pot & Boat House Bar ★★ SEAFOOD For standard island dishes, this traditional favorite one-ups its neighbor Hog Penny (p. 112). Near the Hamilton Princess Hotel, within a 5-minute drive of the heart of the City of Hamilton, this is one of the most consistently popular restaurants on the island—a fixture since 1973. The Lobster Pot’s cedar plank walls sport brass and bamboo trim, and such underwater touches as fishing nets, branches of coral, and sea fans. There’s a bar near the entrance if you want a before-dinner drink, and a dining room behind it. Menu items include both Maine and spiny Caribbean lobster, each prepared seven different ways. Fish sandwiches and platters of hogfish, wahoo, tuna, and rockfish are prepared any way you want; we prefer them grilled with amandine, banana, or lemon-butter sauce. The best starter is a cup or bowl of steaming Bermuda fish chowder, enhanced with sherry peppers and shots of black rum. If you like it, you won’t be alone—visitors haul quarts of the stuff (frozen) back to North America.

6 Bermudiana Rd. ☎ 441/292-6898. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $10–$46; dinner main courses $24–$72. MC, V. Mon–Sat 11am–3pm, 5:30–11pm. Closed Sun and public holidays. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

L’Oriental ★ ASIAN Located in the same building as Little Venice (p. 106), L’Oriental is a pan-Asian restaurant with a penchant for gracefully mixing cuisines as diverse as those of Malaysia, Thailand, Japan, and China. The restaurant is situated in a mahogany- and stone-lined room with bridges, a pagoda, and lots of Asian art. Within the efficiently organized space, you’ll find an oyster, salmon, sushi, and caviar bar, and a teppanyaki table where a team of Japan-trained chefs prepares food on a super-hot grill right in front of you. Since L’Oriental prides itself on the variety of its all-Asian cuisine, no one will mind if you “fuse” together a meal from the far corners of the world’s biggest continent. Tuesday night features a winning all-Chinese sampler menu, with tastings from most of the selections on the menu. The cuisine is reliable without ever rising to the ranks of sublime. L’Oriental is a good choice for vegetarians and the health conscious. Most dishes are at the lower end of the price range listed below.

32 Bermudiana Rd. (above Little Venice restaurant). ☎ 441/296-4477. Reservations recommended. Main courses $19–$40. AE, MC, V. Mon–Fri noon–2:15pm; daily 6–10pm. Bus: 7 or 11.

Port O’ Call SEAFOOD/INTERNATIONAL In the heart of Hamilton, this restaurant is popular with visitors and locals alike, the patrons dining inside an elegant interior or alfresco on the harbor-view terrace. The emphasis is on fresh Bermuda seafood. The chefs entice with such classic dishes as Bermuda spiny lobster with a lemon risotto, and seared grilled lemon sole in a chive beurre blanc. They also prepare meat and poultry extremely well, including roast rack of lamb with a fresh herb crust or a seared New York strip steak with braised beef short rib. For appetizers, opt for the seared diver scallops with a golden raisin and caper vinaigrette or the beef carpaccio with an arugula salad.

5

Front St. 📞 441/295-5373. www.portocall.bm. Reservations recommended. Dinner main courses $21-$39. AE, MC, V. Mon-Fri noon-2:30pm; daily 6-10pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Primavera ITALIAN/SUSHI Tired of the traditional steak and seafood served at most City of Hamilton restaurants? Long a staple on the dining scene, Primavera offers the zesty flavors of Italy, from regions ranging from Rome to Sicily, and even some Sardinian dishes. We won't say that this has the best Italian food in the City of Hamilton, because many diners prefer Little Venice (p. 106). But what you get here is retro fare that would have suited the Rat Pack. Savory appetizers come hot or cold and range from fresh oysters to fresh mussels served in a zesty marinara sauce. For your main course, opt for the gnocchi verdi with Gorgonzola cheese and walnuts, or the tenderloin of beef in a peppercorn sauce. Our favorite main dish is the zuppa di pesce alla Livornese, a savory kettle of clams, mussels, jumbo shrimp, and fish filets with fresh tomatoes, wine, and garlic sauce served in a sizzling cast-iron pan. Diners can also order specialties prepared to order at Primavera's Sushi Bar. Top off your meal with an espresso or a frothy cappuccino. The service is impeccable.

In Hamilton West, 69 Pitts Bay Rd. (btw. Front St. and the Fairmont Hamilton). 📞 441/295-2167. www.primaverarestaurant.com. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $11-$26; dinner main courses $24-$39. AE, MC, V. Daily 11:45am-2:30pm and 6:30-10:30pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Silk ★★★ THAI With an authentic cuisine sometimes based on recipes from the old Kingdom of Siam, a team of chefs from the Shangri-La Hotel in Bangkok dazzle local palates with the stormy flavors of their home country. Evocative aromas and subtle blends of herbs and spices characterize the cuisine. Start with the prawns-and-coconut wrap or the duck-and-mango salad. The curries are exceptional—especially one made with chicken breast in a green curry coconut milk sauce. In addition to a number of spicy rice and noodle dishes, you can order such delights as stir-fried duck breast with baby corn chili and basil sauce or marinated pan-fried quail in a soy sauce laced with cilantro and garlic. Our favorite specialty is the spicy steamed filet of red snapper served on a banana leaf and topped with a ginger-chile sauce.

Master Building, 55 Front St. 📞 441/295-0449. www.bermudasbestrestaurants.com. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $15-$26; dinner main courses $15-$30. AE, MC, V. Sun-Fri noon-2:30pm; daily 6:30-10:30pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Inexpensive

Chopsticks Restaurant ★ CHINESE/THAI It's off the beaten track at the eastern end of the City of Hamilton, but Chopsticks offers Bermuda's best Chinese and Thai food, including spicy soup, tangy pork ribs, and seafood. The chef concocts Szechuan, Hunan, Thai, and Cantonese dishes, with an emphasis on fresh vegetables and delicate sauces. Most of the dishes are the standard ones you'd find in any North American Chinese restaurant, including sweet-and-sour chicken, beef in oyster sauce, and shrimp in lobster sauce. But some, including the duck in red curry, have real flair. We also love the excellent jade chicken, with spears of broccoli, mushrooms, and water chestnuts in a mild Peking wine sauce. Peking duck (served only for two)

FAMILY-FRIENDLY restaurants

Bacci (p. 98) Bacci is one of the only eateries within the Fairmont Southampton Resort that's specifically designated as family-friendly, and it tends to attract goodly numbers of parents with teen-aged and younger children in tow, especially during early dinner hours.

Bailey's Ice Cream & Food D'Lites Restaurant (p. 119) Bailey's is a great place to take the kids for some all-natural ice cream on a hot, sunny day. They also serve sandwiches if you're looking for more than just a snack.

Café Gio (p. 120) What kid wouldn't be drawn to this colorful cafe with its selection of pizzas and an ice-cream parlor on the premises?

Palm Court (p. 118) The staff here is one of the most gracious in welcoming the family trade. Children tend to go for the burgers and well-stuffed sandwiches, and especially the piping hot pizzas straight from the oven, instead of the more elaborate fare served in many Bermudian restaurants. By 6:30pm, the tables start filling up with families who find the pricing affordable.

Wickets (p. 101) The children's menu at this popular spot in the Fairmont Southampton makes this a great place to take the kids. If you arrive before 6:30pm, kids can order dinner from the lower-priced lunch menu.

must be ordered 24 hours in advance. The best Thai dish is green curry chicken (chicken breast strips simmered with onions and bamboo shoots and served with fresh basil, coconut milk, and green-curry paste).

88 Reid St. ☎ 441/292-0791. www.bermudarestaurants.com. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $9-$14; dinner main courses $12-$27. AE, MC, V. Mon-Fri noon-2:30pm; daily 5-11pm. Closed public holidays. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Coconut Rock INTERNATIONAL This lively, informal eatery in the center of the City of Hamilton is both a drinking and a dining destination. German-born Christian Herzog and his two Bermuda-born partners preside over a main restaurant and two popular bars where music videos play. The place is a bit of a discovery and not likely to be overrun. Your best bet for dinner is the fish of the day, most often pan-seared and served in lemon-butter sauce with potatoes and vegetables. Spicy linguine and tiger shrimp in spicy tomato sauce are two of our favorites. Chicken quesadillas are a fast-moving item, as are Buffalo chicken wings in honey and hot sauce.

Williams House, 10 Reid St. ☎ 441/292-1043. <http://coconutrock.com>. Reservations recommended Sat-Sun. Lunch main courses $9-$27; dinner main courses $11-$29. AE, MC, V. Mon-Sat 11:30am-2:30pm; daily 6-10:30pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Green Lantern 🍷 INTERNATIONAL This unpretentious Formica-clad diner offers value in the often-expensive City of Hamilton. It's a safe place to stave off starvation, but not a prime spot for collecting recipes for Gourmet magazine. The limited menu changes every day, but you'll always find fresh fish, roasted chicken, and roast beef. The menu might also feature meatloaf and pork chops, lamb chops and stewed oxtail, or curried chicken and steak. No liquor is served, but you can bring your own bottle. The setting is a century-old house about a mile west of the city limits of Hamilton; the outside is painted—you guessed it—a pale shade of green, and the clientele is very, very local.

Serpentine Rd. (at Pitts Bay Rd.). ☎ 441/295-6995. Main courses $12–$27. AE, MC, V. Mon–Tues and Thurs–Sat 9am–9pm; Wed 9am–3pm. Closed 1st 2 weeks in Mar. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

The Hickory Stick DELI/LIGHT BITES Near the Hamilton Princess, the Hickory Stick is the most popular delicatessen and takeout restaurant in the city. It serves 1,000 customers a day, including lots of office workers. Although one section seems like a coffee shop (with scones, doughnuts, and coffee), most customers come here for overstuffed sandwiches and takeout meals. It ain't glamorous: You'll stand in line, order your food, pay, and carry your food to a table. Offerings include steaming portions of chicken Parmesan and fish cakes. Even more popular are the salads, sandwiches, and hot dogs, all of which can be wrapped up for a picnic—the staff provides paper napkins and plastic cutlery on request. The restaurant has added a sushi bar. Advance telephone orders are accepted—a good idea if you don't want to wait.

2 Church St. (at Bermudiana Rd.). ☎ 441/292-1781. Salads $4–$7; sandwiches and platters $4–$12. No credit cards. Daily 6:30am–4pm (closing times vary). Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Hog Penny BERMUDIAN/BRITISH A bit tired these days, Hog Penny remains Bermuda's most famous and enduring pub, serving draft beer and ale to each new generation of mainlanders who head here, probably on the advice of their grandparents. The dark paneled rooms are decorated in the British style, with old fishing and farm tools, bentwood chairs, and antique mirrors. At lunch you can order pub specials (including shepherd's pie) or tuna salad and the like. The kitchen prepares a number of passable curries, including chicken and lamb. Fish and chips and steak-and-kidney pie are the perennial favorites, and they are comparable to what you'd find in a London pub. Dinner is more elaborate; the menu might include a whole lobster, a fresh fish of the day (perhaps Bermuda yellowfin tuna), and excellent Angus beef. The food is better upstairs at the Barracuda Grill (p. 103). There's nightly entertainment from 9:30pm to 1am; dress is casual.

5 Burnaby Hill. ☎ 441/292-2534. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $13–$23; dinner main courses $15–$32. AE, MC, V. Daily 11:30am–3pm, 5:30–10pm; pub hours daily 11:30am–1am. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

House of India ★ 🎁 INDIAN This is one of the few Indian restaurants in Bermuda, and the only one in the City of Hamilton itself. As such, it's viewed as something of a dining oddity, even though its fans insist that the food here can be genuinely wonderful. Within a dining room that's decorated with Indian paintings and woodcarvings, on the northern edge of the City of Hamilton, you'll enjoy a menu that specializes in the slow-cooked, often-spicy cuisine of northern India. There is a wide variety of vegetarian, beef, lamb, and chicken dishes, prepared to whatever degree of spiciness you request. Our favorite dishes on the menu are lamb maas (lamb simmered in an array of spices) and beef rogan josh (Indian curry with a variety of spices, plus yogurt and tomatoes). A buffet lunch is served weekdays, including a wide selection of vegetarian dishes. The chefs point out that except for breads and pastries, all dishes are free of gluten and wheat.

Park View Plaza, 57 North St. ☎ 441/295-6450. Main courses $10–$18. MC, V. Mon–Fri 11:30am–2:30pm; daily 5:30–10pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Jamaican Grill CARIBBEAN/JAMAICAN This casual, aggressively local eatery specializes in the spicy cookery of Jamaica and also serves other West Indian specialties. It's geared mostly to the takeout crowd who place their orders downstairs. You can also sit at tables upstairs. Frankly, we don't recommend it for evening meals, as the surrounding neighborhood is unsafe, but at lunchtime, it represents value for simple, local food. No alcohol is offered; customers consume either natural juices or iced tea at their meals. Many of the juices are of the health-bar variety, including mango, carrot, or a ginger-flavored pineapple concoction. The Jamaican national dish, ackee and salt fish, is served here with peas and rice. You can also order such classics as jerk chicken, curried goat, or oxtail stew. We are especially fond of the pineapple-glazed chicken, and there are also such old favorites as macaroni and cheese or roast beef in a mushroom sauce. Unless you order lobster, most main dishes are priced at the lower end of the range listed below.

32 Court St. ☎ 441/296-6577. Reservations recommended Sat–Sun. Main courses $13–$29. AE, MC, V. Mon–Thurs 7am–10pm; Fri–Sat 7am–11pm; Sun 3–9pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Lemon Tree Café CONTINENTAL Right in the center of Hamilton, this upmarket cafe is being discovered by more and more visitors. You can drop in here for breakfast, ordering some unusual concoctions in addition to the standard scrambled eggs and bacon. Try, for example, a Bermuda fish cake served on a raisin bun. For lunch you might opt for one of their freshly made sandwiches, our favorite being the Parma ham with Brie cheese. Ask the staff about the daily specials—perhaps chilled fresh salmon with a garlic blue-cheese dressing or one of the wraps, such as one filled with crabmeat and avocado. The chicken salad is arguably the best in Hamilton. Between May and October, every Friday beginning at around 5pm it serves drinks until midnight to local office workers, who transform the place into something akin to a convivial singles bar. The place is at its best when customers and their tables expand outward into neighboring Par-la-Ville Park.

7 Queen St. ☎ 441/292-0235. Breakfast main courses $4–$8; sandwiches $6.50–$12; main courses $10–$20. MC, V. Mon–Fri 7am–4pm; Sat 7am–2pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

L'Oriental Express DELI This is a state-of-the-art deli, one of the best choices for takeout if you're planning a picnic. You are offered both exotic and traditional dishes, along with sushi, breakfast wraps, fresh salads, and homemade desserts. It opens for breakfast, offering hot dishes and a wide range of pastries. A fresh soup of the day is also sold, along with the widest array of sandwiches in town, including New York roast beef. There is also a wide selection of hot Asian food, including crispy duck and beef teriyaki.

Maxwell Roberts Building, 1 Church St. ☎ 441/296-7475. www.diningbermuda.com. Sandwiches $7.50–$10; Asian dishes $8 per pound. AE, MC, V. Mon–Fri 8am–7pm. Bus: 7, 8, 9, or 10.

Paradiso Cafe DELI/LIGHT BITES One of the City of Hamilton's most consistently crowded lunch spots, with big voyeuristic front windows that allow peek-a-boo views of the passersby outside, the Paradiso Cafe serves hundreds of office workers every day. The most popular choices are pastries, sandwiches, and endless cups of tea and very good coffee, and the platters of the day are full meals in themselves. Depending on what's available at the market, daily specials might include lasagna with a side salad, savory breast of chicken with greens, or a platter of "deep-fried rice" with minced beef or pork.

In the Washington Mall, Reid St. (at Queen St.). ☎ 441/295-3263. Reservations not accepted. Sandwiches $6–$10; daily specials $9. MC, V (for purchases of $25 or more). Mon–Fri 7:30am–5pm; Sat 8am–5pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Pasta Basta ITALIAN This is the larger of two Bermuda restaurants that serve the same cafeteria-style pasta-and-salad combination. Pasta Basta's Italian cuisine seems almost utilitarian, ranking far below those restaurants already recommended, and there's virtually no romance associated with the place, but its prices are very low.

In a summery setting, customers are offered two kinds of salad (tossed and Caesar) and about a dozen varieties of pasta. Served in full or half portions, they include two kinds of lasagna (one is meatless), plus a frequently changing array of pastas topped with a choice of meat, seafood, and vegetarian sauces. The daily special is likely to be shells with sausage and onions, in a pink sauce. This restaurant is a great place to fill up on decent food at a reasonable price. Note: No wine, beer, or alcohol is served, and local licensing laws do not permit you to bring your own drinks.

1 Elliott St. ☎ 441/295-9785. Reservations not accepted. Pastas $9 half portion or $16 full portion. No credit cards. Mon-Sat 11:45am-11pm; Sun 5-11pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Portofino ITALIAN The warm and inviting decor of this trattoria, complete with hanging lamps, evokes northern Italy. We think Trattoria Café (p. 115) will feed you better, but this place has its devotees, and some locals insist that it's the most romantic-looking Italian restaurant in Bermuda.

You'll find well-prepared, reasonably priced specialties, including classic minestrone; three kinds of spaghetti; freshly made pastas, including lasagna, ravioli, and cannelloni; and 18 varieties of 9-inch pizzas. There are also familiar Italian dishes such as Venetian-style liver, veal parmigiana, chicken cacciatore, and beefsteak pizzaiola. Some members of the long-lived Italian staff have been here longer than virtually anyone can remember, adding to its sense of stability and charm. Your best bet is one of the freshly made daily specials. There's a limited selection of Italian wines.

20 Bermudiana Rd. ☎ 441/292-2375. Reservations recommended. Pizzas $13; main courses $11-$25. AE, MC, V. Mon-Fri noon-3pm; Sat-Sun 6pm-midnight. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

The Robin Hood INTERNATIONAL Woodsy-looking and percolating in a sense of nostalgia for Merrie Olde England, this is a comfortably rustic tavern that has evolved into the local watering hole for many of Pembroke Parish's nearby residents. No one will mind if you drop in just for a drink or two, and many of your fellow elbow-benders traditionally do that many nights until the closing bell. But if you're in the mood for food as well, you'll find the kind of fare (pizzas, burgers, steaks, and curries) that goes well with liquor and suds. Menu items include jalapeño nachos, spicy buffalo wings, Caesar salads with shrimp or grilled chicken, and pizzas (including a "porker" that's topped with bacon, ham, ground sausage, pepperoni, and hamburger meat). Main-course platters include sweet-and-sour chicken, pastas of the day, and curried versions of chicken, beef, and shrimp.

25 Richmond Rd. ☎ 441/295-3314. Lunch salads and sandwiches $8-$13, platters $10-$16; dinner pizzas $10-$27, main courses $13-$25. AE, MC, V. Daily noon-11pm. Bar Mon-Sat 11am-1am, Sun noon-1am. Bus: 6 or 7.

The Spot Restaurant  BERMUDIAN/WEST INDIAN Set on a street running downhill into downtown Hamilton's harbor, this local diner offers a welcome alternative to the high prices you're likely to find in many other nearby restaurants. Originally established in the 1930s, it attracts a clientele of off-duty police officers, construction workers, nurses from the local hospital, residents of nearby self-catering vacation apartments, and all kinds of local residents who appreciate the low prices and plentiful portions. You'll find breakfast platters that range from international (all kinds of bacon, egg, pancake, and waffle dishes) to West Indian (codfish with potato fritters). Your best bet involves scheduling lunch here, but not necessarily dinner. Meals focus on burgers, salads, sandwiches, and daily specials such as roast turkey or chicken platters, oxtail stew, lamb or pork chops, or curried chicken. No alcoholic drinks of any kind are served, but since there is no shortage of bars within the neighborhood for a before-dinner drink, no one seems to mind.

6 Burnaby St. ☎ 441/292-6293. Reservations accepted only for parties of 6 or more. Breakfast platters $7-$12; burgers, sandwiches, and salads $8-$13; main-course platters $8-$24. MC, V. Mon-Sat 6:30am-10pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Ten LIGHT BITES This elegant cafe in a residential building in the City of Hamilton is a hot spot for home-brewed coffees, freshly made salads, succulent pastas, well-stuffed sandwiches, delicious tapas, homemade desserts, and a daily changing blackboard of house specials. You can complement your meal with a glass of wine or a cocktail made from fresh fruit and berries. The place is casual but elegant.

Some of the best tapas include feta and caramelized onion-stuffed peppers with an arugula pesto or lobster sausage prosciutto wrapped with pear salsa. Sandwiches feature the likes of a Cajun-spiced shrimp wrap or seared wahoo.

Dundonald St. ☎ 441/295-0857. www.ten.bm. Small plates and tapas $8-$15; sandwiches $9-$11. AE, MC, V. Mon-Fri 7am-10:30pm; Sat 9am-10:30pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Trattoria Café ITALIAN This family-oriented restaurant is tucked away in a narrow alley 2 blocks north of the City of Hamilton's harborfront. There's not a single cutting-edge or glamorous thing about it, and that's just what the loyal regulars like. The decor is straight out of old Naples, with a wood-burning pizza oven (the only one in Hamilton) and hanging Chianti bottles. The attentive, if somewhat harried, wait-staff serves generous portions of rather standard, well-flavored Italian food. You'll find 17 kinds of pizza, and the kitchen is happy to create variations for you. Pastas include lasagna and spaghetti pescatore. Veal can be ordered parmigiana- or Milanese-style, and there's a revolving array of fresh fish. If you're very demanding of your Italian cuisine, you'll fare better at Little Venice (p. 106).

23 Washington Lane (in the middle of the block bordered by Reid, Church, Burnaby, and Queen sts.) ☎ 441/295-1877. Reservations recommended. Pizzas $11-$16; lunch main courses $6-$16; dinner main courses $10-$25. AE, MC, V. Mon-Sat 11:30am-3:30pm and 5:30-10pm (to 10:30pm in summer). Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Yashi Sushi Bar SUSHI Bermuda's only sushi bar that is not attached to another restaurant, Yashi Sushi lies in Hamilton next to Coconut Rock (p. 111). Many food fanciers consider this the best sushi outlet on island. Specialties are sushi, sashimi, or *makimono*s (special rolls or hand rolls). Appetizers are among the best of their kind in any of the sushi restaurants, including a soft shell crab tempura or deep-fried calamari. Some of the most favored sushi items include peppered tuna or smoked eel (or salmon). Among *makimono*s offerings is "Hot Rock" (spicy tuna, salmon, yellowtail, smoked eel, scallions, cucumber, and sesame seeds).

Reid St. ☎ 441/296-6226. Main courses $10-$17. Mon-Fri 11:30am-2:30pm; Mon-Sat 5:30-10pm. MC, V. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

SMITH'S PARISH

Expensive

The Bermudiana/The Breakers ★ INTERNATIONAL Some clients of this hotel define this as two restaurants, others as one, but regardless, a team of skilled chefs works to please you within the dining facilities at Pink Beach Club & Cottages (p. 79). At least one, and often both, will be open during the months the hotel is operating, but which of the two appeals to you will depend on the weather and the season (the Bermudiana is an indoor venue, the Breakers is on an outdoor terrace). Chef Michael Ryan takes his inspiration from many light and healthy contemporary styles of cooking and prepares traditional dishes with less fat. The aim is to produce appetizing food with first-rate ingredients, light textures, and natural flavors. He uses fresh herbs from the garden nearby and builds a menu around the fishermen's daily catch. Appetizers include classics such as Bermuda fish chowder and Caesar salad, as well as more imaginative fare such as wild mushroom strudel or Scottish smoked salmon scented with ricotta cheese and truffles.

At the Pink Beach Club & Cottages, South Rd. ☎ 441/293-1666. www.pinkbeach.com. Reservations required for dinner, recommended for lunch. Lunch main courses $11-$25; dinner main courses $25-$45; fixed-price menus $45, $55, and $65. AE, MC, V. Daily noon-2:30pm and 6:30-9:30pm. Closed mid-Dec to Mar. Bus: 1.

5

Moderate

North Rock Brewing Company ★ 🍺 BERMUDIAN/BRITISH Although beer is brewed by other enterprises in Bermuda, this is the only brewery on the island that serves most, if not all, of its product on the premises. The setting is a sometimes rowdy replica of an English pub, complete with ceiling beams and paneling, plus a casually upscale dining room outfitted in shades of burgundy and forest green. Most patrons tend to gravitate to the dining room, but dyed-in-the-wool locals sometimes opt to spend their entire time, meal and all, in the pub section. Until recently, at least five kinds of beer were brewed within the premises here. However, a few years ago brewing operations were moved to the Dockyard. Fresh beer, however, is still hauled over in barrels at frequent intervals.

If you come here to drink the local brew, that's fine, but we suggest you stick around for the cuisine, too. This is not the typical pub grub dished up at one of those Front Street drinking emporiums in the City of Hamilton. Dishes here have flair, such as the Brewmaster's veal chop, grilled and served with grain and Dijon mustard sauce. You can also order pub classics such as steak-and-ale pie, or perhaps beef and mushrooms simmered in porter ale. The fish and chips aren't bad either, and we like the luscious pork tenderloin and the codfish cakes. Unless you order shellfish, most dishes are inexpensively priced.

10 South Rd. ☎ 441/236-6633. <http://northrockbrewing.com>. Lunch main courses $15-$27; dinner main courses $18-$37. AE, DC, MC, V. Daily 11:30am-3pm (until 4:30pm Sat-Sun) and 6-10pm. Bus: 1.

Inexpensive

Specialty Inn INTERNATIONAL/SUSHI This south-shore restaurant's international menu revolves around Bermudian cuisine with Italian zest. Seating 35 to 40 (mostly locals), the inn is known for its value, generous portions, and its sense of fun, unpretentious cooking. Red bean soup, an ideal starter, reflects the island's Portuguese influence, and the Bermuda fish chowder is particularly good. The fresh catch of the day is usually delectable. Pasta dishes, including lasagna, are homemade. Poultry and meat, though frozen, are generally excellent—the roast lamb and barbecued chicken are especially tasty. Many other dishes display influences that run from Chinese and Indian to Mexican, Spanish, and Portuguese. The sushi bar adds a Japanese flavor to the inn, and sushi is served Monday to Saturday 11:30am to 10pm.

Collectors Hill, 4 South Rd. 📞 441/236-3133. Lunch main courses $12-$19; dinner main courses $16-$26. MC, V. Mon-Sat 6am-10pm. Bus: 1.

HAMILTON PARISH

Very Expensive

Tom Moore's Tavern ★★ CONTINENTAL/FRENCH Bermuda's oldest restaurant, built in 1652 as a private home, is on Walsingham Bay, near the Crystal Caves. The Irish romantic poet Thomas Moore visited in 1804 and wrote some of his verses here; he referred to a calabash tree that still stands some 180m (590 ft.) from the tavern. The most famous dining room in Bermuda has gone through many incarnations. When Bologna-born Bruno Fiocca and his Venetian partner Franco Bortoli opened the present tavern in 1985, it quickly became one of the island's most popular upscale restaurants. With its four fireplaces and darkened cedar walls, this landmark establishment serves classic French and Italian cuisine. Its fans have referred to this place as one of the most appealing and evocative restaurants in Bermuda.

Seafood is a specialty. During the summer, there's usually a tank of Bermuda lobsters outside. Local fish selections are likely to include rockfish and yellowtail, which may be your best bet. One reader wrote that he found the place "very expensive, but worth the price, as the service and atmosphere are both top-notch." He also noted, "The cuisine is not light, however. Extremely well-prepared meals contain very rich sauces." He's right. But if you're in the mood for a rich dinner, we recommend the chef's specialty: quail filled with gooseliver, morels, and truffles, then baked in puff pastry. Two other recommendations are roasted duck in a raspberry vinaigrette and Latino-style jambalaya. The table settings (English silver, German crystal, Luxembourg china) and general ambience contribute to a memorable visit.

Walsingham Lane (in Bailey's Bay). 📞 441/293-8020. www.tommoores.com. Reservations required. Jacket preferred. Main courses $28-$40. AE, V. Daily 6:30-10pm. Closed Jan. Bus: 1 or 3.

Expensive

Mickey's Beach Bistro & Bar ★ STEAK & SEAFOOD In Bermuda's most famous hotel, the Elbow Beach Hotel (p. 69), this terrace dining room under the stars is Bermuda's only bistro-on-the-beach. It's even been suggested that to be in Bermuda anytime between April and November and to not visit this place involves missing part of the "spirit" of the island. Protected by a large custom-made tent, this is one of the island's best venues for summer dining, and it's also ideal for a sun-downer cocktail. The cooking is light and inventive and never overdresses the fresh ingredients. For a Caribbean touch, you might opt for a skewer of scallops and pineapple grilled with a light lemon sauce. Salmon is grilled to perfection and comes with a lemon sauce. The crab cakes are well flavored, and Bermuda lobster is featured almost daily. Meat-lovers may prefer the grilled Angus sirloin steak with a grainy mustard sauce. For dessert, nothing tops the mango cheesecake with orange sauce.

At the Elbow Beach Hotel, 60 South Rd. ☎ 441/236-3535. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $14–$28; dinner main courses $16–$37. AE, MC, V. Daily noon–4pm and 6–11pm. Bar 10am–1am. Closed Nov–Apr. Bus: 1, 2, or 7.

The Point Restaurant ★★★ MEDITERRANEAN There's a "land menu" and a "sea menu" here, but whether it swims or walks, Chef Serge Bottelli wants quality products. He is also inventive, because as he claims, "In Bermuda you find yourself eating the same things." Whenever possible, he buys all meat, vegetables, and seafood locally. For example, he gets chicken and lamb from Wadson's Farm. The restaurant celebrates Bermuda's maritime heritage with an extraordinary mural of seafaring ships from the mid-1800s. Guests can wine and dine in luxurious surroundings, enjoying the sunset over Harrington Sound alfresco on the terrace. Serious foodies can also enjoy the "chef's table" in a kitchen where a customized tasting menu is available for up to a dozen people. Constantly searching for new taste explosions, the chef promises to invent something different every day.

In Tucker's Point Hotel & Spa, 60 Tucker's Point Club Dr. ☎ 441/298-9800. Reservations required. Main courses $28–$40; fixed-price menus $70 for 4 courses, $80 for 5 courses. Daily 6:30–9:30pm. Bus: 1, 3, 10, or 11.

Moderate

Landfall ★ BERMUDIAN Landfall has thrived in the district near the airport for almost as long as anyone can remember. It's set within a white-sided antique home that's at least 200 years old, with a view that some locals claim is the best in Bermuda, encompassing large stretches of seacoast as well as faraway St. David's Island. One of the island's best-known chefs, Seab Ming, took over a few years ago. An expert on Bermuda's cuisine, Ming brings many island specialties to the menu, incorporating fresh local foodstuffs whenever he can. Try his rockfish in orange sauce, Bermuda lobster, fish chowder, pumpkin soup, and cassava cake.

At Clearview Suites & Villas, Sandy Lane. ☎ 441/293-1322. Lunch main courses $12–$18; dinner main courses $20–$35. AE, DC, MC, V. Daily 10am–10pm. Bus: 10 or 11.

Palm Court ★ 😊 CONTINENTAL Set within the Grotto Bay Beach Resort (p. 74), this restaurant is of particular appeal to families, since, according to local wits, there would be absolutely no judgments rendered even if you showed up with an entire boisterous orphanage. Casual and cost-conscious, the setting features terra-cotta tiles, mahogany, and decor with a tropical theme. The chefs focus on Bermuda for their culinary inspiration: Oven-roasted salmon is served, along with succulent steaks. You can also dine on light fare in the evening, including a beef dip sandwich or juicy burgers and pizzas. You can arrive early for an island cocktail at the elegant bar.

At the Grotto Bay Beach Resort, 11 Blue Hole Hill. ☎ 441/293-8333. www.grotto bay.com. Reservations recommended. AE, MC, V. Main courses $12–$36. Daily 6:30–9pm. Bus: 1, 3, 10, or 11.

Rustico ITALIAN/PIZZERIA This is a local favorite known for its thin-crust pizzas as well as such dishes as tempura-fried soft-shell crab or rockfish with a Black Sea ginger sauce. It's casual and fun. You can stop in during the day for sandwiches (often made from fish) or else a homemade burger. At night, the pizza oven is going strong, with the Rustico special topping being Parma ham, arugula salad, and shaved Parmesan cheese. Pastas are succulent, especially the rigatoni with a sweet Italian sausage, roasted red pepper, broccoli, and cherry tomatoes in wine sauce. Fish chowder is made fresh daily. Main meat or poultry courses are limited but full of flavor, especially the roast lamb chops with a shallot-laced tarragon sauce.

8 N. Shore Rd. (in Flatts Village). ☎ 441/295-5212. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $9–$23; dinner main courses $14–$32. AE, MC, V. Daily 11:45am–2:30pm and 6–10pm. Bus: 10 or 11.

Inexpensive

Bailey's Ice Cream & Food D'Lites Restaurant 😊 DELI/LIGHT BITES/ICE CREAM This ice-cream parlor near Grotto Bay Resort and the airport occupies a small cottage. For all-natural, homemade ice cream, there's no comparable spot in Bermuda—the staff concocts at least 30 flavors in the shop's 40-quart ice-cream maker. You can enjoy Bermuda banana, coconut, cherries and white-chocolate chips, or other exotic flavors at one of the outdoor tables. The popular sandwiches are served on fresh-baked bread. Also featured are fresh fruit ices, frozen yogurt, and bottled juices—perfect on a hot, sunny day.

At Wilkinson Ave. and Blue Hole Hill (in Bailey's Bay). ☎ 441/293-8605. Sandwiches $5–$8; ice cream $3.40 per scoop. No credit cards. Daily 11am–6pm. Closed Dec–Feb. Bus: 1, 3, 10, or 11.

Swizzle Inn Bailey's Bay BERMUDIAN/BRITISH The oldest pub in Bermuda—some 300 years old—is also the home of the famous Bermuda rum swizzle drink (made with sugar and citrus juice). The pub lies west of the airport, near the Crystal Caves. Thousands of business cards and reams of graffiti cover the walls. The Bermudian magazine voted the meaty Swizzleburger best in Bermuda; other freshly prepared pub favorites include fish and chips, conch fritters, and shepherd's pie. These dishes are at least a notch above typical Bermudian pub grub. At lunch, the Bailey's Bay fish sandwich and onion rings are popular with locals and visitors alike. The larger, more varied dinner menu appeals to many tastes and diets. Pub grub is available for dinner, as is a seafood medley (rockfish, mussels, and shrimp in marinara sauce), the catch of the day, and some tasty Asian curries. Seating is available inside and on the upper and lower patios; upstairs there are also a nonsmoking room and a gift shop. There is an additional location at 87 South Shore Rd., Warwick Parish.

3 Blue Hole Hill (in Bailey's Bay). ☎ 441/293-1854. Reservations accepted only for parties of 8 or more. Lunch main courses $11–$19; dinner main courses $16–$28. AE, MC, V. Daily 11am–1am. Closed 1st 2 weeks of Jan. Bus: 1, 3, 10, or 11.

ST. GEORGE'S PARISH

Moderate

Blackbeard's Hideout BERMUDIAN/INTERNATIONAL At Fort Catherine's, this eatery has become one of the best places in Bermuda to—well, hide out. With a panoramic view of Achilles Bay, it offers appetizing seafood as well as other “grub and grog.” For starters, opt for such well-prepared selections as calamari served with a mango garlic aioli dip or fresh oysters on the half shell. You can also begin with a Bermuda fish chowder prepared with black rum and sherry peppers. For your main, the chef prepares a rum-laced tenderloin of pork flambéed with Calvados, or else a 10- or 14-ounce sizzler steak topped with fried onions and garlic butter. A seafood platter is also offered nightly.

5 Coot Pond Rd., Fort St. Catherine's. ☎ 441/297-1200. www.stgeorgesclub.bm. Main courses $21–$48. MC, V. Daily 11am–11pm. Closed Nov–Mar. Bus: 7.

Black Horse Tavern ★★ BERMUDIAN/INTERNATIONAL If you should land here, in a section of the island that Bermudians call “the country,” you’ll dine with the locals, many of whom maintain (with some justification) that this is the best place for “an authentic taste of Bermuda.” Black Horse Tavern looks like a private home: It boasts a dusty rose exterior with green shutters and a glassed-in porch in the rear that looks over Smith’s Sound. Over the years, the tavern has attracted many celebrities, and some diners arrive in yachts. You can begin your meal with curried conch stew, shark hash (made with minced puppy shark), fish chowder, or curried mussels. Other choices include sandwiches, burgers, and platters of fish and chips. The chef also prepares tempting sirloin steak. If your luck holds, the only Bermuda Triangle you’ll encounter is Black Horse’s delicious drink—pineapple juice, orange juice, black rum, and Bermuda Gold liqueur.

101 St. David’s Rd., on St. David’s Island. ☎ 441/297-1991. Reservations recommended for parties of 4 or more. Main courses $18–$42. AE, MC, V. Tues–Sat 11am–1am; Sun noon–1am. Bus: 6.

Café Gio 😊 ICE CREAM/INTERNATIONAL This restaurant occupies a narrow but brightly colored storefront whose rear opens onto an outdoor terrace with a view out over St. George’s historic harbor. The cafe is an all-purpose family-friendly venue that includes a cubbyhole-size ice-cream parlor near the entrance, and a tutti-frutti-colored dining room with a menu of pizzas and tried-and-true international specialties. No one will mind if you opt just for a pizza or some ice cream, but if you’re in the mood for a full meal, starters include Bermuda fish chowder, or crisp calamari. Main courses include chargrilled Angus strip loin steak and garlic mashed potatoes, or pan-seared filet of salmon. The vibe here is informal.

36 Water St. ☎ 441/297-1307. www.cafegio.bm. Reservations recommended Fri–Sat. Lunch main courses $12–$25; dinner main course platters $19–$29. AE, MC, V. Mon–Sat 11:30am–2:30pm; daily 6:30–9:30pm. Bus: 3, 10, or 11.

The George & Dragon BRITISH/SEAFOOD In a restored 18th-century building with a balcony overlooking King’s Square, this popular local hangout suits diners on a variety of budgets. You can come for sandwiches and English pub fare, such as fish and chips or shepherd’s pie. The more formal areas serve some very expensive fish dishes, mostly based on the catch of the day. Linen tablecloths and subdued lighting at night enhance the elegant atmosphere. Portions are very large, judging from our Angus beef and rack of lamb. The salads, including avocado, Caesar, chef’s, Greek, Mexican, and seafood, are among the best in St. George.

3 King’s Sq. ☎ 441/297-1717. Reservations recommended. Sandwiches $12–$18; vegetarian dishes $8.50–$17; dinner main courses $15–$34. AE, MC, V. Daily 11am–3am. Bus: 7.

Griffin’s ★ STEAK & SEAFOOD Just off York Street, this first-class restaurant opens onto panoramic views of the harbor. Dishes are robust with a strong emphasis on succulent pastas and fresh seafood, including fresh snow crab, Alaskan king crab legs, and scallops in a white-wine sauce. Carnivores will also be pleased by the quality of the beef dishes—the best in the East End—including T-bone steaks, juicy prime rib, and melt-in-your-mouth beef tenderloin. Desserts are usually sumptuous and are prepared fresh daily. Note: Splitting meals costs an additional $4.50.

In the St. George’s Club, 6 Rose Hill. ☎ 441/297-1200. www.stgeorgesclub.bm. Reservations recommended. Lunch main courses $10–$20; dinner main courses $19–$33. AE, MC, V. Tues–Sat noon–2:30pm; Mon–Sat 6:30–9:30pm. Bus: 3, 10, or 11.

Where to Eat in St. George

5

WHERE TO EAT

St. George's Parish

Tavern by the Sea INTERNATIONAL This restaurant prides itself on its sweeping view of St. George's Harbour. During clement weather, most visitors opt for a seat beneath brightly striped parasols on its wraparound veranda; otherwise, an air-conditioned interior provides nautical nostalgia. The menu here includes pastas, burgers, salads, shepherd's pie, and a short list of German dishes such as Wiener schnitzel and bratwurst. Fish and chips are always reliable, as are the steaks. Pizzas bear names of local monuments, including one known as "The Stocks," made with pepperoni, onions, green peppers, mushrooms, and cheese.

14 Water St. ☎ 441/297-3305. Reservations strongly recommended. Sandwiches, salads, pastas, and burgers $7-$20; main courses $16-$36. AE, MC, V. Daily 11:30am-10pm. Bar daily 11:30am-midnight (Fri-Sat until 3am in the summer). Bus: 3, 10, or 11.

White Horse Tavern BERMUDIAN The oldest tavern in St. George is the most popular in Bermuda; it's always jammed with visitors. This white building with green shutters has a restaurant and cedar bar with a terrace jutting into St. George's Harbour. The most popular item on the menu is fish and chips, in a seasoned flour batter and often overdone. The fish chowder is good, as are the baby back ribs and grilled wahoo (the local catch). At lunch, there are burgers and fresh salads. The food is passable, but not special. Another horsy tavern, the Black Horse Tavern (see above), serves a more authentic Bermudian cuisine. Dress is smart casual, and there's often enjoyable entertainment.

King's Sq. ☎ 441/297-1838. www.whitehorsebermuda.com. Reservations accepted only for groups. Breakfast $4-$15; lunch main courses $11-$26; dinner main courses $15-$47. AE, MC, V. Daily 9am-11pm; bar daily 10am-1am. Bus: 3, 10, or 11.

FUN ON & OFF THE BEACH

6

Although people visit Bermuda mainly to relax on its spectacular pink sand beaches, the island also offers a wealth of activities, both onshore and off. In fact, Bermuda's sports facilities are better than those on most Caribbean and Bahamian islands.

---

The most popular outdoor pursuits in Bermuda are tennis and golf, but sailing ranks high, too. If you hesitate to pick up a racket or golf club because you've neglected your game, fear not: Your Bermudian partner, on the court or on the links, would deem it quite improper to remark that your play was anything but superb. If a word of friendly criticism is ever offered, be assured that it will be as gentle as the island's ocean breezes.

Bermuda's waters are the clearest in the western Atlantic. Reefs, shipwrecks (many in such shallow water that they're even accessible to snorkelers), a variety of marine life and coral formations, and underwater grottoes make Bermuda ideal for scuba diving and snorkeling. For locations of many of these activities, see the maps throughout this chapter.

BEACHES

Bermuda is one of the world's leading beach resorts. It boasts kilometers of pink shoreline, broken only now and then by cliffs that form sheltered coves. Many stretches have shallow, sandy bottoms for some distance out, making them safe for children and nonswimmers. Some beaches (usually the larger ones) have lifeguards; others do not. The Parks Division of the Department for Agriculture and Fisheries supervises public facilities. Hotels and private clubs often have their own beaches and facilities. Even if you're not registered at a hotel or resort, you can often use their beach and facilities if you become a customer by having lunch there.

You'll find dozens of spots for sunbathing, swimming, and beachcombing; here's a list of the island's most famous sands, arranged clockwise beginning with the south-shore beaches closest to the City of Hamilton.

Elbow Beach ★★★

One of the most consistently popular beaches in Bermuda, Paget Parish's Elbow Beach incorporates almost 1.5km (1 mile) of (occasionally interrupted) pale pink sand. Private homes and resort hotels dot the edges. Because protective coral reefs surround it, Elbow Beach is one of the safest beaches on the island—and it's the family favorite.

6 Bermuda's Best Public Beaches & Snorkel Sites

Beaches

FUN ON & OFF THE BEACH

Bermuda's government provides lifeguards as a public service. The Elbow Beach Hotel (☎ 441/236-3535; www.mandarinoriental.com/bermuda) offers a variety of facilities and amenities free to hotel guests, but they're off-limits to others. Amenities and facilities include sun chairs, cabanas, changing rooms, showers, restrooms, and beach towels distributed three times a day by beach attendants who are trained in water safety and lifeguard techniques. The on-site Dive Shop also rents paddle boats and sea kayaks for $30 per hour for a single, $40 per hour for a double, and snorkeling equipment ($20 per hour) to anyone on the beach. Take bus no. 2 or 7 from the City of Hamilton. For more information, see www.divebermuda.com.

Astwood Cove ★

This Warwick Parish public beach has no problem with overcrowding during most of the year; it's in a remote location, at the bottom of a steep, winding road that intersects with South Road. Many single travelers and couples head here to escape the families that tend to overrun beaches, such as Elbow Beach, in the high season. We prefer this beach for many reasons, one of them being that its cliffs are home to nesting Bermuda longtails, also known as white-tailed tropic birds. Astwood Beach has public restrooms but not many other facilities. An added advantage is nearby Astwood

Park, a favorite picnic and hiking area. If you prefer your beaches small and secluded, head here. Take bus no. 2 or 7 from Southampton.

Warwick Long Bay ★★

Like Astwood Cove, this is one of the best places for people who want to escape the family crowds and find solitude. Unlike the sheltered coves of nearby Chaplin and Horseshoe bays (see below), this popular beach features the longest uninterrupted stretch of pink sand on the island. This expanse is conducive to social interaction, but also offers plenty of space to stretch out solo—it all depends on what you prefer. Against a backdrop of scrubland and low grasses, the beach lies on the southern side of South Shore Park, in Warwick Parish. Despite the frequent winds, the waves are surprisingly small thanks to an offshore reef. Jutting above the water less than 60m (200 ft.) from the shore is a jagged coral island that, because of its contoured shape, appears to be floating above the water's foam. There are restrooms at the beach's western end, plus lots of parking, but no other facilities. There are no lifeguards because the undertow is not very strong. Take bus no. 7.

Jobson's Cove ★

This Warwick Parish beach has the feel of a secret hideaway, thanks to pink sands, gentle waves, and calm waters. It's only 9m (30 ft.) wide where the horseshoe-shaped bay opens to the ocean. Adjacent to the much larger and more popular Warwick Long Bay, it's excellent for snorkeling—the water is about 2m (6½ ft.) deep for a long way out into the bay. There are no buildings along the water, adding to the feeling of seclusion and peace. There are no facilities here, but it's close enough to Warwick Long Bay to walk over and use their restrooms if necessary. Take bus no. 7.

Stonehole Bay

Near Jobson's Cove in Warwick Parish, Stonehole Bay is more open and less sheltered than Jobson's, with a sandy shoreline that's studded with big rocks. It's almost never crowded, and wading is safe even though strong waves sometimes make the waters cloudy (so they're less than ideal for snorkeling). There are no facilities at Stonehole Bay. Take bus no. 7.

Chaplin Bay

Straddling the boundary between Warwick and Southampton parishes, this small but secluded beach disappears almost completely during storms and exceptionally high tides. Geologists come here to admire the open-air coral barrier that partially separates one half of the beach from the other. Chaplin Bay, like its more famous neighbor, Horseshoe Bay (see below), lies at the southern extremity of South Shore Park. From Chaplin, you can walk over to use the facilities and equipment at Horseshoe, but you'll enjoy more solitude here than at the more active Horseshoe Bay. Take bus no. 7.

Horseshoe Bay Beach ★★

With its long, curved strip of pink sand, Horseshoe Bay, on South Road in Southampton Parish, is one of Bermuda's most famous beaches. That means it's likely to be crowded, especially if cruise ships are in port. Although families flock here, Horseshoe Bay isn't the safest beach on Bermuda. Don't be fooled by the seemingly smooth surface; there can be dangerous undercurrents. If you're using the beach after a

DON'T GET BURNED: SMART tanning TIPS

6

FUN ON & OFF THE BEACH

Nobody is completely safe from the sun's harmful rays: All skin types and races can burn. To ensure that your vacation won't be ruined by a painful sunburn, be sure to wear a strong sunscreen that protects against both UVA and UVB rays at all times (look for zinc oxide, benzophenone, oxybenzone, sulisobenzone, titanium dioxide, or avobenzone in the list of ingredients). Wear a wide-brimmed hat and sunglasses. Keep infants under 6 months out of the sun completely, and slather older babies and children with strong sunscreen frequently.

If you do get a burn, aloe vera, cool compresses, cold baths, and benzocaine can help with the pain. Stay out of the sun until the burn is completely gone.

storm, be especially careful that you don't encounter a Portuguese man-of-war—they often wash up here in greater numbers than elsewhere on Bermuda.

One advantage this beach has over others is the Horseshoe Bay Beach Cafe (☎ 441/238-2651), which offers changing rooms, toilets, beach-gear rentals, and showers. It also serves snacks and sandwiches daily from 9am to 5pm. A lifeguard is on duty from May to September. Insider's tip: When you tire of the crowds at Horseshoe Bay, take one of the little trails that wind through the park nearby; they'll lead you to secluded cove beaches that afford more privacy. Our favorites are Port Royal Cove to the west, and Peel Rock Cove and Wafer Rocks Beach to the east. You might also sneak over to Chaplin Bay to the east (see above). Take bus no. 7.

Church Bay

This beach off West Side Road lies along Bermuda's southwestern edge, at the point in Southampton Parish where the island hooks off to the northeast. The waves pound much of the shore mercilessly, but rows of offshore reefs shelter Church Bay. Marine life abounds in the relatively calm waters, much to the delight of snorkelers. If you're just planning to lounge in the sun, this is a great place: The beach offers unusually deep pink sands. There are toilets at the top of the hill near the parking area, and a concession stand (May 1–Oct 31 Mon–Sat 10am–5pm) sells soda and chips, and rents out masks and fins for snorkeling. Take bus no. 7 or 8.

Somerset Long Bay

When offshore storms stir up the waters northwest of Bermuda, the water here is unsafe for swimming. Because its bottom isn't always sandy or of a consistent depth, many people find Somerset Long Bay better suited to beachcombing or long walks than to swimming. Nevertheless, many single travelers favor this beach when they're looking for seclusion. The undeveloped parkland of Sandys Parish shelters it from the rest of the island, and the beach's crescent shape and length—about .5km (1/3-mile)—make it unusual by Bermudian standards. It has restrooms and changing facilities. We think this is one of the best places on Bermuda to watch the sunset. A plus is the beach's proximity to the Bermuda Audubon Society Nature Reserve (www.audubon.bm), where you can go for long walks and enjoy moments of solitude—except on weekends, when family picnics abound. Take bus no. 7 or 8.

Beaches

Shelly Bay

This beach of abundant pink sand is suitable for both families and those seeking solitude. Because it's not well-known, it's unlikely to be crowded, and its calm, shallow basin makes it safe for swimming. Off North Shore Road in Hamilton Parish, Shelly Bay lies in a cove whose encircling peninsula partially shelters it from mid-Atlantic waves. There are trees to sit under when the beach gets too hot, and the beach house rents snorkeling equipment, lounge chairs, beach towels, and other items; there are also public restrooms. Buses from the City of Hamilton heading east along the north shore, primarily no. 11, stop here.

Tobacco Bay, Achilles Bay & St. Catherine's Beach

St. George's Island's beaches include Achilles Bay, Tobacco Bay, and St. Catherine's Beach (formerly known as the Club Med beach), all of which are sandy, with water so clear you can see to the bottom of the ocean floor.

Lovely Tobacco Bay is an East End family favorite. It's the most popular beach on St. George's Island, especially among those who come for the day to visit the historic town of St. George. With its broad sands, Tobacco Bay resembles a south-shore beach. Its pale pink sand lies within a sheltering coral-sided cove just a short walk west of Fort St. Catherine and St. Catherine's Beach. The major disadvantage here is that the beach is likely to be overrun with cruise-ship passengers; when they're in port, you may want to seek more secluded beaches such as St. Catherine's. You can sunbathe here and even go for a swim, but don't venture out too far; the currents are dangerously strong, and a lot of seaweed washes up on the shore.

Look for the Tobacco Bay Beach House (☎ 441/297-2756) in Naval Tanks Hill, St. George, which has toilets, changing rooms, showers, and a snack bar. At beachfront kiosks, you can rent flotation devices and snorkeling gear for $10 (per hr. or $25 per day) from May to September. Stands also sell cold sodas and sandwiches (tuna, grilled cheese, hamburgers, hot dogs, and the like). Take bus no. 10 or 11.

John Smith's Bay

This is the only public beach in Smith's Parish. It's more popular with residents of Bermuda's eastern end than with visitors, who often don't know about it. It's ideal for those seeking solitude. Long, flat, wide, and rich with pale pink sand, this beach has a lifeguard daily from 10am to 6pm May 24 to mid-September. Some shallow areas are perfect for snorkeling; however, the bay occasionally experiences rip currents. There are toilet and changing facilities. Take bus no. 1.

SNORKELING

Bermuda is known for the gin-clear purity of its waters and for its vast array of coral reefs. If you're ready to explore, all you need are a snorkel, mask, and fins—if you can swim, you can snorkel. A handful of companies can help you (we recommend our favorite, below); otherwise, you can hit the water on your own.

The best places to go snorkeling are public beaches (see above). Many hotels that are right on the beach will lend or rent you fins, masks, and snorkels, and will advise you of the best sites in your area. You almost never have to travel far.

A LOOK UNDER BERMUDA'S waters

6

FUN ON & OFF THE BEACH

Snorkeling

The Ocean Discovery Centre at the Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute, East Broadway (☎ 441/292-7219; www.buei.org), hopes to give visitors an underwater adventure. The highlight of a visit is a simulated dive 3,600m (12,000 ft.) to the bottom of the Atlantic. Author Peter Benchley's videotaped commentary adds to the fun of exploring Bermuda's reefs. You'll learn about newly discovered ocean animals that live in the murky depths. Displays include large murals of sea creatures, artifacts rescued from long-sunken vessels off the coast, and even a scale model of a ship that wrecked centuries ago. On-site facilities include gift shops, a theater showing films, and La Coquille, a French bistro that specializes, of course, in seafood. Admission is $13. for adults, $6 for children 6 to 17, free for children 5 and under; hours are Monday through Friday from 9am to 4:15pm, Saturday and Sunday from 10am to 5pm. Bus: 1, 3, 7, or 8.

Die-hard snorkelers—some of whom visit Bermuda every year—prefer Church Bay above all other snorkeling spots on Bermuda. It lies on the south shore, west of the Fairmont Southampton Golf Club and Gibbs Hill Lighthouse. The little cove, which seems to be waiting for a movie camera, is carved out of coral cliffs. It's well protected and filled with snug little nooks. Another advantage is that the reefs are fairly close to land. But remember, the seas can be rough (as is true anywhere in Bermuda); use caution.

At the eastern end of the south shore, John Smith's Bay, east of Spittal Pond Nature Reserve and Watch Hill Park, is another top spot, especially if your hotel is nearby. Even more convenient, especially for snorkelers staying at St. George or at a hotel near the airport, is Tobacco Bay, north of St. George's Golf Club. Another small but reliable snorkeling spot is West Whale Bay; it lies along the south shore at the west end of Southampton, west of the Port Royal Golf Course.

Although snorkeling is a year-round pursuit, it's best from May to October. Snorkelers usually wear wet suits in winter, when the water temperature dips into the 60s. The waters of the Atlantic, which can be tempestuous at any time of the year, can be especially rough in winter.

Some of the best snorkeling sites are accessible only by boat. If you want to head out on your own, and you have a knowledge of Bermuda's waters, we suggest renting a small boat (see "Sailing," under "More Fun in the Water," later in this chapter), some of which have glass bottoms. If you rent a boat, the rental company will advise you on where to go and not to go. Countless wrecked boats lie on the many reefs that surround Bermuda. If you're not familiar with Bermuda's waters, you should stay in the sounds, harbors, and bays, especially in Castle Harbour and Harrington Sound. If you want to visit the reefs, it's better and easier to contact one of the diving outfitters recommended below than to captain your own boat. The use of snorkeling equipment is included in the prices listed.

Jessie James Cruises This outfitter operates some of the best snorkeling trips on the islands, and novices are welcome (they're accompanied by a crew member in shallow water). Some of the shipwrecks include the Constellation and the Montana. The most stunning snorkel trips take you to a spectacular coral reef and sea garden.

Operating from April to October, trips cost $65 for adults and children 11 or older, and $45 for ages 8 to 10.

Glen Court, Warwick. ☎ 441/236-4804. www.jessiejames.bm. Bus: 7.

SCUBA DIVING

Bermuda is a world-class dive site, known for its evocative and often eerie shipwrecks, teeming with marine life. All scuba diving outfitters go to all sites. If you're diving, talk to the dive master about what you'd like to see, including any or all of the various wrecks that are accessible off the coast and not viewed as dangerous. For the locations of many of these sites, see the map on p. 124.

The Diving Sites

CONSTELLATION When Peter Benchley was writing The Deep (later made into a film), he came here to study the wreck of the Constellation for inspiration. Lying in 9m (30 ft.) of water, this wreck is 13km (8 miles) northwest of the Royal Naval Dockyard. Built in 1918, the Constellation is a four-masted, wooden-hulled schooner. During World War II, it was the last wooden cargo vessel to leave New York harbor. It wrecked off the coast of Bermuda on July 31, 1943, and all the crew survived. Today, the hull, broken apart, can be seen on a coral and sand bottom. You can see the 36,300kg (80,000 lbs.) of cement it was carrying, and morphine ampoules are still found at this site. Large populations of parrotfish, trumpet fish, barracuda, grouper, speckled eels, and octopus inhabit the wreck today.

CRISTÓBAL COLÓN Bermuda's largest shipwreck is the Cristóbal Colón, a Spanish luxury liner that went down on October 25, 1936, between North Rock and North Breaker. A transatlantic liner, it weighed in excess of 10,000 tons. The ship was traveling to Mexico to load arms for the Spanish Civil War when it crashed into a coral reef at a speed of 15 knots. During World War II, the U.S. Air Force used the ship as target practice before it eventually settled beneath the waves. Its wreckage is scattered over a wide area on both sides of the reef. It is recommended that you take two dives to see this wreck. Most of the wreck is in 9 to 17m (30–56 ft.) of water, but the range is actually from 4.5m (15 ft.) at the bow to 24m (79 ft.) at the stern. Some artillery shells from World War II remain unexploded, so don't have a blast, please.

HERMES This 1984 American freighter rests in some 24m (79 ft.) of water about 1.5km (1 mile) off Warwick Long Bay on the south shore. The 825-ton, 50m (164-ft.) freighter is popular with divers because its U.S. Coast Guard buoy tender is almost intact. The crew abandoned this vessel (they hadn't been paid in 6 months), and the Bermuda government claimed it for $1 (50p), letting the dive association deliberately sink it to make a colorful wreck. The visibility at the wreck is generally the finest in Bermuda, and you can see its galley, cargo hold, propeller, and engines.

L'HERMINIE This 1838 French frigate lies in 6 to 9m (20–30 ft.) of water off the west side of Bermuda, with 25 of its cannons still visible. A large wooden keel remains, but the wreck has rotted badly. However, the marine life here is among the most spectacular of any shipwreck off Bermuda's coast: brittle starfish, spiny lobster, crabs, grouper, banded coral shrimp, queen angels, and tons of sponges.

MARIE CELESTE This is one of the most historic wrecks in the Atlantic, a 207-ton paddle-wheel steamer from the Confederacy. The steamer was a blockade runner during the Civil War. In exchange for guns, this vessel would return to Bermuda with cotton and cash. Evading capture for most of the war, it was wrecked off the coast of Bermuda on September 25, 1864. The ship sank in 17m (56 ft.) of water, where its ruins lie like a skeleton today. This is not a great dive site for observing marine life, but the wreck is evocative and offers many caves and tunnels to explore.

NORTH CAROLINA This iron-hulled English bark lies in 7.5 to 12m (25–39 ft.) of water off Bermuda's western coast. While en route to England, it went down on New Year's Day in 1879 when it struck the reefs. The bow and stern remain fairly intact. There is often poor visibility here, making the wreck appear almost like a ghost ship. Hogfish, often reaching huge sizes, inhabit the site, along with schools of porgies and snapper.

RITA ZOVETTA This Italian cargo steamer was built in 1919 in Glasgow and went aground off St. David's Island in 1924. The ship lies in 6 to 21m (21–69 ft.) of water just off St. David's Head. The wreck measures 120m long (395 ft.), and its stern is relatively intact. Divers go through the shaft housings to see the large boilers. Stunning schools of rainbow-hued fish inhabit the site.

SOUTH WEST BREAKER Some 2.5km (1½ miles) off Church Bay, this was the location chosen for the famous Jacqueline Bisset scene in Peter Benchley's movie The Deep. The breaker was supposed to be a hideout for a man-eating squid. In reality, the breaker was created from fossilized prehistoric worms (believe it or not). It has an average depth of 8.5m (28 ft.), and on most days a visibility of 30m (98 ft.). New divers prefer this site because it's not considered dangerous and it has a large variety of hard and soft coral. It's also a good place for snorkelers. A large tunnel split through the center of the breaker provides a protective cover for green moray eels and spiny lobsters. Schools of barracuda are also encountered here.

TARPON HOLE This series of large breakers lies directly off the western extremity of Elbow Beach. The site is named Tarpon Hole because of the large schools of tarpon that often cluster here, some in excess of 2m (6½ ft.) long. It is a sea world of lush fans and soft corals, made all the more intriguing with its tunnels, caves, and overhangs.

TAUTON This Norwegian coastal steamer ran afoul on Bermuda's treacherous reefs on November 24, 1920. The 68m (228-ft.) steel-hulled vessel sank in 3 to 12m (10–39 ft.) of water off the northern end of Bermuda. Its boilers and steam engines are still visible. This is a favorite dive for beginners, as the wreck lies in shallow water. Because of its breathtaking varieties of fish, it's a favorite site for photographers.

Diving Schools & Outfitters

Diving in Bermuda is great for novices, who can learn the fundamentals and go diving in 6 to 7.5m (20–25 ft.) of water on the same day as their first lesson. In general, Bermuda's reefs are still healthy, despite talk about dwindling fish and dying coral formations. On occasion, in addition to the rainbow-hued schools of fish, you may even find yourself swimming with a barracuda.

Although scuba fanatics dive all year, the best diving months are May through October. The sea is the most tranquil at that time, and the water temperature is moderate—it averages 62°F (17°C) in the spring and fall, 83°F (28°C) in the summer.

Weather permitting, scuba schools function daily. Fully licensed scuba instructors oversee all dives. Most dives are conducted from a 12m (39-ft.) boat, and outfitters cover a wide range of dive sites. Night dives and certifications are also available.

M.Y. Bermuda IV, No. 3 Stowe Hill in Paget Parish (☎ 441/232-7000; www.bermudaiv.com), is Bermuda's only live-aboard scuba-diving charter yacht. Both divers and underwater photographers book charters aboard this luxury vessel in one of three double en-suite state-rooms. A highly trained chef prepares gourmet meals, and the charter includes up to five dives per day, as overseen by a professional diving instructor. The cost is $3,000 per person (6–8 person minimum), including an accommodation for 5 nights and all meals and diving costs. Even if you don't live aboard, it's possible to book the yacht at $500 per hour, or else you can call and try to arrange a dinner aboard the yacht, costing $100 per person for a gourmet five-course meal, including cocktails, wine, and beer.

All dive shops display a map of wreck sites that you can visit; there are nearly 40 in all, the oldest of which dates to the 17th century. Although locals believe there may be some 300 wrecks, the mapped sites are the best known and in the best condition. Dive depths at these sites run 7.5 to 26m (25–85 ft.). Inexperienced divers may want to stick to the wreck sites off the western coast, which tend to be in shallower waters—about 9.5m (31 ft.) or less. These shallow wreck sites are popular with snorkelers as well.

Many hotels have their own watersports equipment. If yours doesn't, the outfitters below rent equipment.

Note: Spearfishing is not allowed within 1.5km (1 mile) of any shore, and spear guns are not permitted in Bermuda.

Bermuda Scuba This is one of the island's leading dive operators. It offers a popular "Discover Scuba" resort course that is $200 for 3 hours and begins daily at 10:15am at Hamilton and 1:15pm at Southampton. Course participants get to complete a shallow-water scuba dive by the end of the day. All dives are from a 12m (39-ft.) boat. A two-tank dive, including a view of a shipwreck and the exploration of a reef in 7.5 to 9m (25–30 ft.) of water, costs $135 (equipment not included). It is $190 with equipment. This is a PADI, five-star center.

At the Fairmont Southampton, 101 South Rd., Southampton Parish; and the Fairmont Hamilton Princess, 76 Pitts Bay Rd., Pembroke Parish. ☎ 441/238-2332. www.bermudascuba.com. Daily 8:30am–4:30pm. Bus: 8.

Blue Water Divers & Watersports Ltd. Bermuda's oldest and largest full-service scuba-diving operation offers introductory lessons and half-day dives for between $120 and $185. Daily one- and two-tank dive trips cost $80 and $120, respectively. Snorkeling trips are $50. Full certification courses are available through PADI, NAUI, and SSI. Equipment costs extra, and reservations are required. The outfitter offers underwater scooters called DPVs or "diver propulsion vehicles." This exciting vehicle takes adventurers through underwater caves and canyons. Who knows? You may even discover a shipwreck from long ago.

Robinson's Marina, Southampton Parish. ☎ 441/234-1034. www.divebermuda.com. Daily 9am–5pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Triangle Diving This outfitter appeals to the serious scuba diver and to the helmet diver alike. It sets out every day to explore the shipwrecks off the East End along with stunning coral reefs. PADI certification courses are also a feature. The reefs it explores daily at North Rock are among the most beautiful on the island. Two-tank dives cost $120 for the dives, plus $40 for the equipment.

Grotto Beach Hotel, 11 Blue Hill, Hamilton Parish. ☎ 441/293-7319. www.trianglediving.com. Bus: 1, 3, 10, or 11.

MORE FUN IN THE WATER

Fishing

Bermuda is one of the world's finest destinations for anglers, especially in light-tackle fishing. Blue marlin catches have increased dramatically in recent years, and Bermuda can add billfishing (for marlin, swordfish, and sailfish) to its already enviable reputation. Fishing is a year-round sport, but it's best from May to November. No license is required.

You can obtain fishing information from the International Game Fish Association's representative for Bermuda, Keith Winter, at ☎ 441/292-7131. He can be reached only at home in the evening.

DEEP-SEA FISHING

Wahoo, amberjack, blue marlin, white marlin, dolphin, tuna, and many other varieties of fish call Bermuda's warm waters home. A number of island outfitters offer the equipment to help you fish for them; these are our favorites:

Bermuda Sportsfishing The DeSilva family runs Bermuda Sportsfishing, which has been in business for many years. They charge \$900 for up to six people for a half-day of fishing, \$1,100 for  $\frac{3}{4}$  of a day, and \$1,300 for a full day. Boats range from 11 to 14m (36–46 ft.), and all equipment is provided.

Creek View House, 8 Tulo Lane, Pembroke Parish HM 02, Bermuda. ☎ 441/295-2370. Daily 7am–10pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Fish Bermuda This outfitter offers one of the largest charter boats in Bermuda, with a fully air-conditioned cabin. Tackle is updated every year, and the DeMako craft is owner operated. Captain Allen DeSilva is one of Bermuda's most skilled skippers. A standard  $\frac{3}{4}$  day trip costs \$1,600, rising to \$2,000 for the day from June to August.

Mill Creak, Pembroke. ☎ 441/295-0835. <http://fishbermuda.com>. Bus: 7 or 8.

REEF FISHING

Three major reef banks lie off Bermuda, and they're likely to yield such catches as greater amberjack, almaco jack, great barracuda, little tunny, Bermuda chub, gray snapper, yellowtail snapper, and assorted bottom fish. The closest reef, the Inner System, begins about 1km ( $\frac{1}{2}$ -mile) offshore and stretches for nearly 8km (5 miles). The Challenger Bank is about 23km (14 miles) offshore, and the Argus Bank is about 50km (31 miles) distant. The farther out you go, the more likely you are to turn up larger fish.

Several companies offer half- or full-day charters. Arrangements can be made through the activities desks of the big resort hotels as well as Bermuda Sportsfishing.

SHORE FISHING

Shore fishing turns up such catches as bonefish, palometa (pompano), gray snapper, and great barracuda. Locals and most visitors prefer shore fishing at Spring Benny's Bay or West Whale Bay; Great Sound and St. George's Harbour are other

Anglers Aweigh: How to Make Your Big Catch a Winning One

The Bermuda Game Fishing Tournament is open to any angler who takes the time and trouble to fill out the tournament application when he or she catches a really big fish. No special license is required, but your catch must be weighed and three witnesses must sign an affidavit attesting to its weight. Special prizes are awarded each year for top catches of 17 species of game fish. For more information on registering the ones that didn't get away, contact the Bermuda Department of Tourism, Global House, 43 Church St., Hamilton HM 12, Bermuda (☎ 441/292-0023; www.bermudatourism.com). Open daily 9am to 5pm.

promising grounds. The activities director at your hotel can help make fishing arrangements for you.

Sailing

Bermuda is one of the world's sailing capitals. Sail-yourself boats are available to rent for 2, 4 (half-day), and 8 (full-day) hours. A number of places charter yachts with licensed skippers.

Blue Hole Water Sports This outfitter rents sail-yourself Windsurfers or Sunfish for $30 to $35 per hour. A wide range of other equipment is on hand, including single ($20) and double ($30) kayaks.

Grotto Bay Beach Hotel, 11 Blue Hole Hill, Hamilton Parish. ☎ 441/293-2915. www.blueholewater.bm. Daily 8:30am-5:30pm. Bus: 1, 3, 10, or 11.

Pompano Beach Club Watersports Centre This is one of the island's best outfitters, mainly because of its variety of modern boats. Windsurfers, which hold one novice or experienced passenger, rent for $15 to $30 per hour depending on whether you are a guest or nonguest. One or two people can rent a Sunfish sailboat for $30 to $60 per hour. Single-person kayaks go for $15 to $30 for 1 hour; double kayaks, $15 to $30 for 1 hour. Two-person Sun Cats, which travel 9.5kmph (6 mph) and look like motorized lawn chairs, go from $30 to $60 per hour.

36 Pompano Beach Rd., Southampton Parish. ☎ 441/234-0222. www.pompanobeachclub.com. Mid-May to Oct daily 10am-6pm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Sail Bermuda Charter sailing and snorkeling are the features of this outfitter in business since 1997. Clients are allowed great leeway in designing their own tours (within reason, of course). Several watersports options are also available, including parasailing, jet skiing, and scuba diving. Charters for up to six persons range from $500 for a 3-hour jaunt to $800 for a 6-hour boat trip; for more than six, it's $25 per person plus $100 per additional hour.

Caleb Zuill, 71 Harbour Rd., Paget Parish. ☎ 441/737-2993. www.sailbermuda.com.

Somerset Bridge Watersports Somerset Bridge is the best outlet for renting Boston Whalers for island-hopping on your own. A 4m (13-ft.) Whaler (25 or 30 hp) carries four and costs $75 for 2 hours, $120 for 4 hours, and $200 for 8 hours, plus a gas fee of $25. Somerset provides lots of extras, such as canopies, special maps, a ladder, a viewing box, and a fish and coral ID card. "Jet Ski Adventures" cost $105 for

HANGING OUT WITH THE dolphins

6

FUN ON & OFF THE BEACH

Where to Play World-Class Golf

The well-publicized Dolphin Quest Experience, at the Bermuda Maritime Museum in the Royal Naval Dockyard (☎ 441/234-4464; www.dolphinquest.org), offers in-the-water encounters with Atlantic bottlenose dolphins. Seven dolphins are kept in a holding pen that's 1 to 3.5m (3¼–11 ft.) deep and separated from the open sea with underwater netting. Typically, up to 10 swimmers, wearing bathing suits in summer and wet suits in winter (Nov–May), cavort in the water with the dolphins. The price for 45 minutes is $245. Other packages are available, with prices varying by time spent in the water; call or check the website for details. In winter, it's easy to get a slot, but in summer, there's a much heavier demand.

Is all this cruel to the dolphins? The staff is rigorous about protecting and caring for them; the overall atmosphere is playful and lighthearted; and the dolphins have a fairly large area to swim in. But we can't help worrying that continued contact with hordes of people and separation from their natural habitat must have something of a traumatizing effect on these beautiful animals. For more (mostly troubling) information, check out the Whale and Dolphin Conservation Society's website at www.wdcs.org. For more information about responsible travel in general, check out these websites: Tread Lightly (www.treadlightly.org) and the International Ecotourism Society (www.ecotourism.org).

1 hour and 10 minutes for one person, $125 for a double. The jet ski reaches speeds of up to 81kmph (50 mph).

Somerset Bridge, Ely's Harbour, Sandys Parish. ☎ 441/234-0914. www.watersportssomersetbridge.com. Daily 8am–sunset. Bus: 7 or 8.

Water-Skiing

You can water-ski in the protected waters of Hamilton Harbour, Great Sound, Castle Harbour, Mangrove Bay, Spanish Point, Ferry Reach, Ely's Harbour, Riddells Bay, and Harrington Sound. May through September, when the waters are usually calm, is the best time for water-skiing. Bermuda law requires that a licensed skipper take water-skiers out. Only a few boat operators handle this sport, and charges fluctuate with fuel costs. Rates include the boat, skis, safety belts, and usually an instructor. Hotels and guesthouses can assist with arrangements.

Bermuda Waterski Centre Up to five people can water-ski at the same time from a specially designed Ski Nautique. Lessons are also available. The charge for a party of any size (not per person) is $75 for a 15-minute session, $95 for a 30-minute session, and $170 for a 60-minute session. The driver is included in the price.

Robinson's Marina, Somerset Bridge, Sandys Parish. ☎ 441/234-3354. May–Sept daily 8am–7:30pm. Bus: 6 or 7.

WHERE TO PLAY WORLD-CLASS GOLF

Since the island's first course was laid out in 1922, golf has been one of Bermuda's most popular sports. You can play year-round, but spring, fall, and early winter offer the best seaside conditions. You must arrange tee times at any of the island's eight courses in advance through your guesthouse or hotel. Women's and men's clubs (right- and left-handed) are available at each course, and most leading stores in Bermuda sell golf balls. Generally speaking, children under 18 are usually not welcome on golf courses; definitely check in advance if you have any underage duffers in your party.

The Tucker's Point Club is one of the most scenic courses on the island (though it is a private club), while the Port Royal course, designed by Robert Trent Jones, Sr., is a challenge. Two famous courses—the Mid Ocean Club at Tucker's Town and the Riddells Bay Golf and Country Club—are private, and require introduction by a member before you can play, though certain luxury hotels can sometimes secure playing privileges at the Riddells Bay course. One of the most photographed courses on Bermuda is the Fairmont Southampton Golf Club, where a landscape of rolling hills and flowering shrubs adds to the players' enjoyment.

The golf courses listed below that are part of hotel complexes permit nonguests to use their facilities. All of these golf courses have pros and offer lessons.

Top players participate in tournaments throughout the year. For information, contact the Bermuda Golf Association, P.O. Box HM 433, Hamilton HM BX, Bermuda (☎ 441/295-9972; www.bermudagolf.org).

Belmont Hills Golf & Country Club This course, one of the most respected in Bermuda, was originally designed by Scotsman Emmett Devereux in 1923. In 2002, California-based designer Algie M. Pulley, Jr., radically reconfigured its layout as a means of adding a series of golf "features" that brought the standards and allure of this course up to the demands of modern-day golf pros. Since its reopening, amid justifiable brouhaha surrounding the most extensive golf course rebuilding in the history of Bermuda, there has been endless discussion about the peculiar features of this relatively short (6,017 yd.) but challenging course. Despite the fact that some of the undulations in its terrain were flattened during the 2002 overhaul, an interconnected network of caves beneath the turf sometimes cause the ball to roll unpredictably. Another odd feature involves exceptionally narrow fairways. But despite these quirky disadvantages, golf pros recommend the Belmont for beginners as well as seasoned pros. Although the first hole is said to be "confidence building," holes 6 and 12 are both relatively difficult (each with a par of 5). Likewise, the 17th and 18th holes, arguably the most difficult on the course, reward golfers with some of the best ocean views. It's estimated that with a 9 or 10 handicap, golfers will shoot in the 70s at Belmont—but there aren't any guarantees. With the exception of the above-mentioned 17th and 18th holes, most of the course is inland, so unlike most of the other golf courses in Bermuda, this one provides few views of the Atlantic.

Greens fees (which do not include golf carts) are $110 daily. A full set of clubs rents for about $45 to $60 depending on the brand you select. Carts rent for $35.

Btw. Harbour and Middle roads, Warwick Parish. ☎ 441/236-6060. www.newsteadbelmonthills.com. Daily 6am–5pm. Holes: 18. Par: 70. Length: 5,501m (6,017 yd.). Ferry from the City of Hamilton. Bus: 8.

The Golfer's Dress Code

Remember to dress appropriately for your golf game. Most courses have strict dress codes that require shirts with collars, Bermuda-length shorts or slacks, and soft-spiked golf shoes or tennis shoes. No bathing suits, cutoffs, short shorts, or jeans.

Fairmont Southampton Golf Club On the grounds of one of the most luxurious hotels on Bermuda, this course occupies not only the loftiest but also one of the most scenic settings on the island. Elevated tees, strategically placed bunkers, and plenty of water hazards make it a challenge, and golfers have been known to use every club in their bag when the wind blows in from the Atlantic. Against the backdrop of the Gibbs Hill Lighthouse, the 16th hole sits in a cup ringed by flowering bushes. The vertical drop on the 1st and 2nd holes is almost 60m (200 ft.). Even experienced golfers like to “break in” on this course before taking on some of Bermuda’s more challenging ones. This well-irrigated course is often green when some other courses suffer a summer brownout.

There are also “Sunset Rates” if you begin playing in the afternoon. You will need to contact the course to get the “Sunset Rates” times (usually 2:30 or 3:30pm). Adults can walk the course for $59 or add a cart for an additional $27. There are no caddies, and club rental is $25.

101 South Rd., Southampton Parish. ☎ 441/238-3225. www.fairmont.com/southampton. Daily 7am–sunset. Holes: 18. Par: 54. Length: 2,454m (2,684 yd.). Bus: 7 or 8.

Ocean View Golf Course In the 1950s, this was a club for black Bermudians. Later, as other clubs started to admit black players, the course was neglected and fell into disrepair. Ocean View’s reputation for spotty maintenance lives on despite a $2-million renovation that vastly improved the course. However, the course is nicer than many people expect. In the center of Bermuda, in Devonshire Parish, it offers panoramic views of the ocean from many of its elevated tees. Many golfers consider the terrain unpredictable; that, combined with rambling hills and winds from the Great Sound, makes the course more challenging than it appears. A few holes have as many as six tees. The green on the 162m (177-yd.), par-3 5th hole has been cut into the coral hillside. Because the hole is draped with semitropical vines, golfers sometimes have the eerie feeling that they’re hitting the ball into a cave.

On weekdays, this course tends to be the least crowded on Bermuda. Greens fees are $89 for 18 holes and $74 for 9 holes. Golf shoes (soft spikes) or tennis shoes will work.

2 Barkers Hill Rd., Devonshire Parish. ☎ 441/295-9092. www.oceanview.bm. Daily 7:30am–6:30pm. Holes: 9 (18 tee positions). Par: 35. Length: 2,688m (2,940 yd.). Bus: 2, 10, or 11.

Port Royal Golf Course ★★ Originally designed by Robert Trent Jones, Sr., in 1970, this stellar golf course was restored and reopened in June 2009 after a multi-million-dollar overhaul. Golfers cite its 7th and 8th holes as being particularly difficult, subject as they are to steep dogleg turns and occasional high winds, and the 15th and 16th holes as “gorgeous but treacherous,” thanks to their location on windy cliff-tops ringing the periphery of Whale Bay. Greens fees are $148, or else $180 with golf cart included.

5 Middle Rd., Southampton Parish. ☎ 441/234-0974. www.portroyalgolf.bm. Daily 7:30am–6pm. Holes: 18. Par: 71. Length: 5,999m (6,561 yd.). Bus: 7 or 8.

OTHER OUTDOOR PURSUITS

Biking

With a year-round average temperature of 70°F (21°C), Bermuda offers ideal weather for bicycling. Plus, biking is a great way to have fun and stay in shape, and it allows you to take a hands-on approach to your sightseeing. But be forewarned: Most roads aren't suitable for beginners. Think carefully and ask around when you're deciding where you or your children can ride safely and comfortably.

In general, roadways are well paved and maintained. The island's speed limit is 32kmph (20 mph) for all vehicles, but the roads are narrow and winding, and car traffic, especially during the day, tends to be heavy. Always exercise caution when riding a bike or scooter. Most drivers are considerate of cyclists, but a car may approach without warning because the government discourages unnecessary horn honking. Fellow cyclists might even overtake you—bicycle racing is one of the most popular local sports.

Much of the island's terrain consists of flat stretches, although the hills provide what the locals call "challenges." Some climbs are steep, especially on roads that run north and south. South Road, through Southampton and Warwick parishes, often leaves bikers huffing and puffing.

RENTING A BIKE

Push bikes or pedal bikes, the terms Bermudians use to distinguish bicycles from mopeds, are a popular form of transportation. You can rent a bicycle by the hour, by the day, or for your entire stay. For information about bicycle and scooter rentals, see "Getting Around," in chapter 10. All recommended scooter and cycle shops rent bicycles. Many hotels have bicycles for guests' use, with or without a fee. Rentals generally cost $35 for 1 day, $60 for 2 days. Ten- and 12-speed bikes are usually available. It's always a smart idea to call as far in advance as possible, because demand is great, especially from April to October.

WHERE TO BIKE ON BERMUDA

Only the hardest cyclists set out to traverse the 34km (21-mile) length of Bermuda in 1 day. For most people, it's far better to focus on smaller sections at different times. So, decide what interests you parish by parish, and proceed from there. To save time, you can take your bike aboard various ferries (they're free), and then begin cycling.

A safe choice for beginning riders is the Bermuda Railway Trail (see below). Some of the most interesting cycling trails are in Devonshire and Smith's parishes. The hills throughout these areas guarantee that you'll get your exercise for the day, and the beautiful landscapes make your effort worthwhile. Spittal Pond, a wildlife sanctuary with bike paths running along seaside cliffs, is one of the most rewarding destinations. Stop by a cycle shop for a trail map and some advice. Nearly all bike shop owners know Bermuda intimately and will mark up a map for you or give you any special guidance you need.

If you're a real demon on a bike, you can go farther west for the challenge of pumping up to Gibbs Hill Lighthouse, the oldest cast-iron lighthouse in the world. From here, you'll have one of the most panoramic views in Bermuda.

If you'd like to combine a picnic with your bicycle outing, head for Sandys Parish. First cross Somerset Bridge, the smallest drawbridge in the world, then pedal along Somerset Road to Fort Scaur Park. There you can relax and admire the view of Ely's Harbour while enjoying your picnic.

THE BERMUDA RAILWAY TRAIL An interesting bicycle option is the Bermuda Railway Trail (see the box "Rattle & Shake: The Bermuda Railway Trail," on p. 57), which is restricted to bicyclists and pedestrians. The Railway Trail consists of seven sections, each with its own character. You can decide how much of the trail you'd like to cover in 1 day, and which sections to focus on. Pick up a copy of the Bermuda Railway Trail Guide, available at the Bermuda Department of Tourism in the City of Hamilton, or the Visitors Information Centres in the City of Hamilton and St. George, to help you plan your route.

Horseback Riding

Spicelands Riding Centre This stable offers group trail rides for $80 per person. The regularly scheduled 1-hour jaunts begin daily at 7:30, 9, and 11am, year-round. On spring, summer, and fall weekends, there are also rides at 3 and 5pm. Book at least 1 day ahead, calling between 6am and 7pm.

Middle Rd., Warwick Parish. ☎ 441/238-8212. www.spicelandsriding.com. Bus: 8.

Tennis

Nearly all the big hotels (and many of the smaller ones) have courts, most of which can be lit for night play. Pack your tennis clothing and sneakers, because a tennis outfit (though it no longer needs to be white) may be required.

Each of the facilities listed below has a tennis pro on duty, and lessons can be arranged. All rent racquets and sell balls.

Elbow Beach Hotel The Elbow Beach Hotel has five Laykold courts (one for lessons only). Lessons cost $75 for 1 hour. The 1-hour court fee is $12. Racquets can be rented for $7 per hour, and balls are $8 per can of three.

60 South Rd., Paget Parish. ☎ 441/236-3535. Call for bookings daily mid-Oct to mid-Apr 8am-5:30pm; mid-Apr to mid-Oct 8am-7pm (3 courts are floodlit for night play 7-9pm). Bus: 1, 2, or 7.

The Fairmont Southampton This resort has Bermuda's largest tennis court layout, with six Plexipave courts, three of which are lit for night play. The price for guests and nonguests is $15 per hour. Evening rates are $6 extra. Racquets rent for $8 per hour, balls cost $7 per can. Lessons are $80 for 1 hour.

101 South Rd., Southampton Parish. ☎ 441/238-8000. Daily 8am-7pm (until 6pm in winter). Bus: 7 or 8.

Government Tennis Stadium (W. E. R. Joell Tennis Stadium) There are three clay and five Plexicushion courts here. Charges to play are $10 per hour for adults, $5 per hour for juniors (12 and under). Playing at night on one of the three lit courts costs $8 extra. Tennis attire is mandatory. Racquets rent for $7 per hour; balls cost $6 per can.

Cedar Ave., Pembroke Parish. ☎ 441/292-0105. Mon-Fri 8am-10pm; Sat-Sun 8am-7pm. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Grotto Bay Beach Club This resort across from the airport has some of the best tennis courts on the island. The 8.5-hectare (21-acre) property offers four Plexipave courts, two of which are well-lit for night games. During the day, guests play for $10, nonguests $12; at night, guests pay $15, nonguests $17. The hotel also rents rackets for $4 and sells tennis balls for $6 a can at the on-site pro shop.

11 Blue Hole Hill, Hamilton Parish. ☎ 441/293-8333. Daily 24 hr. Bus: 1, 3, 10, or 11.

SPECTATOR SPORTS

In this tradition-bound British colony, the most popular spectator sports are cricket, soccer, field hockey, and the not terribly genteel game of rugby. As you might expect, boating, yachting, and sailing are also popular. The Bermuda Department of Tourism

EXPLORING BERMUDA'S natural wonderlands

The National Trust in Bermuda has wisely protected the island's nature reserves. If you play by the rules—that is, don't disturb animal life or take plant life as a souvenir—you can explore many of these natural wonderlands. If you enjoy nature trails, they're one of the most rewarding reasons to visit Bermuda.

The best and largest sanctuary is Spittal Pond Nature Reserve in Smith's Parish. Birders visit the reserve—especially from September to April—to see herons, ducks, flamingos, terns, and many migratory fowl (which can't be seen after Mar). This 24-hectare (59-acre) untamed seaside park is always open to the public with no admission charge. The Department of Parks (☎ 441/236-5902) offers free guided tours. Tours are offered primarily from November to May; call for schedules and additional information.

The island abounds with other places of natural wonder. Craggy formations shaped over the centuries out of limestone and coral dot the beaches along the southern coast, with towering cliffs forming a backdrop. Some of Bermuda's natural beauty spots were badly damaged by recent hurricanes, but 344 hectares (850 acres) of trails, parks, and preserves are up and running again. You can join one of the many interpretative tours offered by local eco-heritage groups. To learn what's available at the time of your visit, contact the Bermuda Audubon Society in Hamilton (www.audubon.bm).

can provide dates and venues for upcoming events; see “Visitor Information” under “Fast Facts” in chapter 10. Also see the “Bermuda Calendar of Events” in chapter 2.

Cricket

Far more Bermudians than you might suspect have memorized this terribly British sport's arcane rules. If you arrive in midsummer (the game's high season), you'll probably see several regional teams practicing on cricket fields throughout the island. Each match includes enough pageantry to remind participants of the game's imperial antecedents and enough conviviality (picnics, socializing, and chitchat among the spectators) to give you a real feel for Bermuda.

The Cup Match Cricket Festival is Bermuda's most passionately watched cricket event, with hundreds of viewers turning out to cheer on family members and friends. Conducted during late July or early August, it pairs Bermuda-based teams against one another. The event usually occurs at the headquarters of two of the island's approximately 30 cricket teams, either the St. George's Cricket Club, Willington Slip Road (☎ 441/297-0374), or the Somerset Cricket Club, Broome Street off Somerset Road (☎ 441/234-0327). Buy your tickets at the gate on the day of each event, and expect to pay between $12 and $20 per ticket for entrance to this long-standing Bermuda tradition.

Golf Tournaments

Bermuda offers some of the finest golfing terrain in the world, partly due to the climate, which supports lush driving ranges and putting greens. In addition, the ever-present golfers play at surprisingly high levels. Golf tournaments are held throughout the year, culminating in the annual, much-publicized Bermuda Open at the Port Royal Golf Course in early October. Amateurs and professionals are welcome to vie for one of the most sought-after golfing prizes in the world. For information or an application, contact the secretary of the Bermuda Golf Association (☎ 441/295-9972; www.bermudagolf.org).

Horse Racing & Equestrian Competitions

Contact the National Equestrian Centre, Vesey Street, Devonshire Parish (☎ 441/291-7223), for information about upcoming events. From September to Easter, harness races take place about twice a month.

A major equestrian event is in October: the FEI/Samsung Dressage Competition and Show-Jumping. Details are available from the Bermuda Equestrian Federation, P.O. Box DV 583, Devonshire DV BX, Bermuda (☎ 441/234-0485; www.bef.bm).

Soccer

Bermudians view soccer as an important part of elementary education and actively encourage children and teenagers to participate. In early April, teams from countries around the Atlantic and Caribbean compete in three age divisions for the Diadora Youth Soccer Cup. Games are held on various fields throughout the island. More accessible to spectators at other times are the many high-school games held regularly throughout the year. Contact the tourist office for a schedule.

Yachting

Bermuda capitalizes on its geographical position in the mid-Atlantic to lure the yachting crowd. The racing season runs from March to November, with most races scheduled on weekends in the relatively calm waters of Bermuda's Great Sound. The best land vantage points include Spanish Point, the islands northeast of Somerset, and Hamilton Harbour. Shifting sightlines can make it confusing to watch races from land. Better views are available from the decks of privately owned boats that anchor near the edge of the racecourse, so it's good to befriend a private boat owner. Although the carefully choreographed regattas might be confusing to newcomers, the sight of a fleet of racing craft with spinnakers and pennants aloft is always exciting.

Bermuda is the final destination in two of the most important annual yacht races: the Annapolis–Bermuda Race (www.bermudaoceanrace.com) and the even more prestigious Newport–Bermuda Race (www.bermudarace.com), both held in late June. Both provide enough visual distraction and maritime pageantry to keep you enthralled. Participating yachts range from 9 to 30m (30–98 ft.) in length, and their skippers are said to be among the most dedicated in the world.

Around Halloween, the autumn winds propel dozens of less exotic racing craft through the waters of the Great Sound. They compete in a series of one-on-one playoffs for the King Edward VII Gold Cup International Match Racing Tournament.

The island's yachting events are by no means limited to international competitions. Bermuda's sheltered bays and windswept open seas provide year-round enticement for anyone who has ever wanted to experience the thrill of a snapping jib and taut mainsail. See "Sailing," under "More Fun in the Water," earlier in this chapter, for details on yacht charters.

SEEING THE SIGHTS

7

Even though a large number of people live on this small island, you should never feel crowded. There are no billboards or neon signs, and, except for the rush hour in and around Hamilton, relatively few cars to spoil the rolling countryside. Most houses seem to fit quite naturally into the landscape.

---

Because of Bermuda's small size, it's easy to get to know the island parish by parish. There's much to see, whether you travel by bike, ferry, bus, or taxi. You'll need plenty of time, however, because the pace is slow. Cars and other motorized vehicles, such as mopeds, must observe the maximum speed of 24kmph (15 mph) in the City of Hamilton and St. George, and 32kmph (20 mph) in the countryside. The speed limits are rigidly enforced, and there are severe penalties for violations.

If you're visiting for the first time, you may want to follow the traditional tourist route. The Aquarium, Devil's Hole, and cruise-boat outings are all popular for first-time visitors. For travelers on a second, third, or fourth visit to Bermuda, a different experience unfolds. Once you've done all the "must-sees," you'll want to walk around and make discoveries on your own. The best parishes for walking are Somerset and St. George's, and the City of Hamilton.

But don't fill your days with too much structured sightseeing. You'll also want time to lounge on the beach, play in the water, or hit the links; and to enjoy moments such as sitting by the harbor in the late afternoon, enjoying the views as the yachts glide by. Absorbing Bermuda's beauty at your own pace and stopping to chat with the occasional islander will give you a real taste of Bermuda.

In this chapter, we go on a do-it-yourself tour, parish by parish. Also consider taking one or more of the walking tours that we describe in chapter 3.

SANDYS PARISH

Sandys Parish is one of the island's real beauty spots. If you're looking for a place to just wander about and get lost on a summer day, this lovely parish is well worth your time. Fort Scaur and the Royal Naval Dockyard on Ireland Island are the major attractions. If you're pressed for time, skip the Gilbert Nature Reserve and St. James' Anglican Church.

The Fun of Getting Lost

Many guidebooks contend that you can't get lost in Bermuda. Don't believe them! As you travel along the narrow, winding roads, originally designed for the horse and carriage, you may go astray—several times—especially if you're looking for an obscure guest-house on some long-forgotten lane. But don't worry, you won't stay lost for long. Bermuda is so narrow—only about 3km (1¾ miles) wide at its broadest point—that if you keep going east or west, you'll eventually come to a main road. The principal arteries are North Shore Road, Middle Road, and South Road (also unofficially referred to as South Shore Rd.), so you'll usually have at least some sense of what part of the island you're in.

To explore this tip of the fishhook that is Bermuda, it's best to take a ferry (the fare is $4). The trip from the City of Hamilton to Watford Bridge takes 45 minutes, and you can take your bike onboard free (there's an additional $4 charge for scooters and mopeds). Ferries originating in the City of Hamilton also stop at Cavello Bay, Somerset Bridge, Boaz Island, and the Royal Naval Dockyard. The Visitors Information Centre is at the Royal Naval Dockyard (☎ 441/799-4842), across from the ferry terminal. From May to October, hours are Sunday to Friday 9am to 5pm (closed Sat). For more information on the ferry service, call ☎ 441/295-4506 or visit www.seaexpress.bm.

Gilbert Nature Reserve In the center of the island lies the Gilbert Nature Reserve, 2 hectares (5 acres) of unspoiled woodland. It bears the name of the family that owned the property from the early 18th century until 1973, when the Bermuda National Trust acquired it (in conjunction with the Bermuda Audubon Society). The reserve is one of the best places on the island for bird-watching, and it is riddled with paths that connect to the Railway Trail that crosses Bermuda. In the northeastern corner of the reserve are the finest examples of mature Bermuda cedars on the island.

Somerset Rd. ☎ 441/236-6483. www.bnt.bm. Free admission. Daily dawn to dusk. Organized tours available. Bus: 7 or 8 from the City of Hamilton.

Scaur Hill Fort Park ★ On the highest hill in Somerset, Fort Scaur was part of a ring of fortifications constructed in the 19th century, during a period of troubled relations between Britain and the United States. Intended as a last-ditch defense for the Royal Naval Dockyard, the fort was skillfully constructed, taking advantage of the land contours to camouflage its presence from detection at sea. The fort has subterranean passages and a dry moat that stretches across the land from Ely's Harbour to Great Sound.

Open to visitors since 1957, Fort Scaur has become one of Somerset's most popular tourist attractions. The fort has panoramic views of Ely's Harbour and Great Sound; using the free telescope, you'll see such faraway points as St. David's Lighthouse and Fort St. Catherine. The fort sits on 9 hectares (22 acres) of parkland filled with interesting trails, picnic areas, a rocky shoreline for fishing, and a public dock. Picnic tables, benches, and restrooms are available.

Ely's Harbour, Somerset Rd. ☎ 441/236-5902. Free admission. Daily 10am–4:30pm. Closed Dec 25, Jan 15. Bus: 7 or 8 from the City of Hamilton.

Attractions Around the Island

7

Sandys Parish

SEEING THE SIGHTS

Admiralty House Park 14
 Bermuda Aquarium,
 Museum & Zoo 28
 Bermuda Arts Centre 2
 Bermuda Biological Station for Research 30
 Bermuda Craft Market 2
 Bermuda Historical Society Museum 17
 Bermuda Maritime Museum 1
 Bermuda National Gallery 17

The Bermuda National Trust Museum 32
 Bermuda Underwater
 Exploration Institute 18
 "Birdcage" 17
 Birdsey Studio 21
 Black Watch Well 15
 Botanical Gardens 22
 Bridge House Gallery 29
 Carter House (St. David's Island Historical Site) 31

Cathedral of the Most Holy Trinity 17
 Christ Church 13
 Crystal Caves 29
Deliverance 33
 Firefly and Freer Cox
 Memorial 23
 Fort Hamilton 17
 Fort St. Catherine 34
 Gates Fort 35
 Gibbs Hill Lighthouse 11

✈ Airport

ATLANTIC OCEAN

St. George's Historical Society Museum 32
 St. James' Anglican Church 6
 St. Peter's Church 32
 Sessions House 17
 Seymour's Pond
 Nature Reserve 10
 Somerset Bridge 8
 Somers Garden 32
 Spittal Pond Nature Reserve 27
 Town Hall (St. George's) 32
 Tucker House Museum 32
 Unfinished Church 32
 Vermont 26
 Warwick Long Bay 12
 Warwick Pond 13
 Waterville 19

Gilbert Nature Reserve 4
 Government House 16
 Hamilton City Hall & Arts Centre 17
 Heydon Trust 5
 Hog Bay Park 9
 Idwal Hughes Nature Reserve 29
 The Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art 22
 Old Devonshire Parish Church 24
 Old Rectory 32
 Old State House 32
 Paget Marsh 20
 Palm Grove 25
 Perot Post Office 17
 Royal Naval Dockyard 3
 Scour Hill Fort Park / Fort Scour 7

FROMMER'S favorite BERMUDA EXPERIENCES

Strolling Bermuda's Pink Sands The pink sand beaches are reason enough to come to Bermuda. Find your favorite cove (perhaps Whale Bay, Astwood Cove, or Jobson's Cove) and stroll aimlessly at dawn, at twilight, or whenever your fancy dictates. See the map "Bermuda's Best Public Beaches & Snorkel Sites" on p. 124.

Cycling On a rented bicycle, or maybe a moped built for two, explore Bermuda from end to end. Start in St. George in the East End and go all the way to the Royal Naval Dockyard in the West End, or vice versa. You can do this in 1 day or stretch it out. See "Other Outdoor Pursuits," in chapter 6.

Touring the Commissioner's House at the Royal Naval Dockyard Around 1850, it was the most visible symbol in the mid-Atlantic of the Imperial power of the British Navy. After the turn of the millennium, it was majestically restored from a dilapidated ruin into a glowing memorial to another age and time.

Visiting the Bermuda Masterworks Collection in the Botanical Gardens A source of enormous civic pride, it contains the largest assortment of Bermudian and Bermuda-inspired artwork in the world—proof positive that lots of other artistically sensitive people have loved the island as much as we do.

Following the Bermuda Railway Trail As you follow this intermittent trail from one end of the island to the other, you'll take in panoramic seascapes, see exotic flora and fauna, hear the soothing sounds of the island's bird life, and often have long stretches of trail completely to yourself. See "Rattle & Shake: The Bermuda Railway Trail" on p. 57.

Viewing Bermuda from Gibbs Hill Lighthouse Climb the 185 steps of the oldest cast-iron lighthouse (p. 150) in the world for one of the greatest views of the Atlantic Ocean. Springtime visitors may be lucky enough to see migrating whales beyond the shore reefs.

St. James' Anglican Church This is one of the most beautiful churches on Bermuda. It was constructed on the site of a structure that was destroyed by a hurricane in 1780. The present church was built 9 years later. A unique feature is the altar, which faces west instead of the customary east. The north and south aisles were added in 1836, the entrance gate in 1872, and the spire and chancel in 1880. The church was struck by lightning in 1939 and restored shortly thereafter.

90 Somerset Rd. ☎ 441/234-0834. Free admission. Daily 8am–5pm. Bus: 7 or 8 from the City of Hamilton.

Ireland Island & the Royal Naval Dockyard

The American War of Independence created a crisis for Britain's military planners: Ports along the U.S. Atlantic seaboard were closed to British warships for repairs and replenishments. And during the Napoleonic Wars with France, the need for a British-controlled stronghold in the mid-Atlantic became something approaching an obsession with Britain's military leaders. Beginning in 1809, foundations for a massive naval fortress evolved, based mostly on enforced labor from slaves (and later freed slaves), prisoners, and prisoners-of-war.

Today, the Royal Naval Dockyard is one of the premier attractions of Bermuda. Within the sprawling compound are a scattering of shops and restaurants, and the attractions listed below.

Bermuda Arts Centre Works by local artists are the focus in this gallery, with exhibits changing about every 4 to 6 weeks. An eclectic range of original art and prints is for sale. Local artists in residence include a cedar sculptor and a jewelry maker. You'll see four artists laboring in their respective mediums: wood-sculpting, jewelry making, oil painting, and weaving. There's a small gift shop on-site, displaying and selling the wares of these and other artists.

Maritime Lane. ☎ 441/234-2809. www.artbermuda.bm. Free admission. Daily 10am-5pm. See transportation information under the Royal Naval Dockyard listing below.

Bermuda Craft Market This is the prime place to watch local artists at work and to buy their wares, some of which make ideal souvenirs. Established in 1987, within the shadowy, thick-walled premises of what was originally conceived as a warehouse and boat repair yard, this market offers items made from Bermuda cedar, candles, clothing, dolls, fabrics, hand-painted goods, jewelry, metal and gem sculpture, needlework, quilts, shell art, glass panels, and woven-cane goods, among other things.

In the Cooperage Building, 4 Freeport Rd. ☎ 441/234-3208. Free admission. Nov-Mar daily 10:30am-5pm; Apr-Oct daily 9:30am-6pm. See transportation information under the Royal Naval Dockyard listing below.

Bermuda Maritime Museum ★★😊 Housed in a 19th-century fortress built by convict labor, this museum exhibits artifacts, models, and maps pertaining to Bermuda's nautical heritage. The fortress's massive buildings of fitted stone, with their vaulted ceilings of English brick, would be worth visiting even if they weren't crammed with artifacts and exhibits. So are the 9m (30-ft.) defensive ramparts; the underground tunnels, gun ports, and magazines; and the water gate and pond designed for boats entering from the sea. Exhibits in six large halls illustrate the island's long, intimate connection with the sea—from Spanish exploration to 20th-century ocean liners, from racing dinghies to practical fishing boats, from shipbuilding and privateering to naval exploits.

The compound's most impressive component is the Commissioner's House, dating from around 1834. The world's first cast-iron building was once the British colonial government's equivalent of the White House in Washington, D.C. Although its life as a historic monument began after its restoration in 2000, many of its exhibits weren't fully operational until about 7 years later. Today, glistening with a richly

A park OF YOUR OWN

Just when you thought that everything in "Paradise" (as locals call Bermuda) had been discovered, you happen upon 15-hectare (37-acre) Hog Bay Park. In spite of its unattractive name, this is one of the beauty spots of Bermuda, and one of its least visited attractions. To reach the park from the City of Hamilton, take a ferry across Great Sound, getting off at the Somerset Bridge ferry stop. Cross the Somerset drawbridge and follow the trail of the old Bermuda

Railway. Cross Middle Road into the park. Once at the park you'll pass ruins of kilns once used for making lime to paint the famous whitewashed roofs of island homes. As you meander, you'll come across old abandoned cottages, finally reaching Sugar Loaf Hill with its Look Out Point. From here, you'll be rewarded with one of the greatest panoramic views on Bermuda. As Barbra Streisand might put it: "On a clear day, you can see forever."

ESPECIALLY FOR kids

7

Sandy's Parish

SEEING THE SIGHTS

Bermuda is a great destination for the entire family. Most resorts offer children's activities and special family packages. Most of the larger properties also give Mom and Dad an opportunity to spend some time alone by offering babysitting services for minimal fees.

More importantly, Bermuda offers many activities that will keep kids interested all day long. Kid-friendly activities include sailing, water-skiing, snorkeling, and glass-bottom-boat trips from April to October, plus tennis, visits to museums and caves, and a wide array of walking tours. Here are some of Bermuda's top sights and activities for kids:

Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & Zoo

(p. 158) This complex offers kids a wonderful introduction to the undersea world. Hand-held recordings let you listen to a history of marine life as you visit live exhibits of Bermuda's native fish.

Bermuda Maritime Museum

(p. 147) Everyone in the family takes equal delight in seeing the exhibits of Bermuda's nautical history in this authentic Victorian fortress museum. Although exhibits are scattered around the grounds of a half-dozen outbuildings, its centerpiece, the Commissioner's House, is packed with enough references to the historical dramas of yesterday to keep pre-teens diverted and amused.

Bermuda Railway Trail This nature walk, with strolls overlooking the seashore and along quiet tree-lined alleyways, is suitable for the entire family. You can pick up the 34km (21-mile) trail at many points and explore as many sections as you like, according to your stamina and interests. See "Rattle & Shake: The Bermuda Railway Trail" on p. 57.

Crystal Caves (p. 158) Two boys chasing a runaway ball in 1907 discovered an enormous cavern and an underground lake. Easily navigable walkways and informative guides take parents and kids down into the caverns in Hamilton Parish.

restored sense of Imperial Britain at the height of the Victorian age, it contains exhibits associated with slavery and the slave trade, antique maps, a collection of 19th- and 20th-century maritime paintings, watercolors with maritime themes painted in Bermuda, exhibits linking Bermuda's trade and emigration patterns to the Azores and the West Indies, and testimonials to the cooperative efforts of the British and U.S. Navies.

Don't omit a visit to the half-dozen stone and masonry buildings surrounding the Commissioner's House. The best of these is the 1837 Shifting House, which opened for viewing by the public in 1979. The artifacts inside include gold bars, pottery, jewelry, silver coins, and other items recovered from 16th- and 17th-century shipwrecks. The collection includes some earthenware and pewter that belonged to the English settlers on their way to Jamestown aboard the Sea Venture, which was wrecked in 1609. Most visitors come here to gaze at the Tucker Treasure. A well-known local diver, Teddy Tucker, made a significant find in 1955 when he discovered the wreck of the San Antonio, a Spanish vessel that had gone down off the coast of Bermuda in a violent storm in 1621. One of the great treasures of this find, the Pectoral Cross, was stolen in 1975 just before Queen Elizabeth II officially opened the museum. The priceless original cross was replaced by a replica, and the original cross has not been recovered—its mysterious disappearance is still the subject of much discussion.

As you enter the Parade Ground at the entrance to the museum, you'll notice a 3m-high (9¾-ft.) figure of King Neptune. This replica in Indiana limestone is modeled on a figure that was recovered from HMS Irresistible, when the ship was broken up in 1891. The Queen's Exhibition Hall houses general maritime exhibits, including displays on navigation, whaling, and cable and wireless communications. A "Bermuda in Five Hours" exhibit focuses on Pan American's early "flying boats." The building itself was constructed in 1850 for the purpose of storing 4,860 barrels of gunpowder. Some of the most intriguing objects on display within this building were salvaged from 16th- and 17th-century wrecks discovered in Bermuda's offshore waters.

The Forster Cooper Building (1852) illustrates the history of Bermuda and its Atlantic trade routes. The Boatloft houses part of the museum's boat collections, including the century-old fitted dinghy Victory, the 5m (16-ft.) Spirit of Bermuda, and the Rambler, the only surviving Bermuda pilot gig (a commanding officer's light boat kept on a large ship). On the upper floor, the original dockyard clock, which is still working, chimes every quarter-hour. Admission to the Shifting House, Queen's Exhibition Hall, Forster Cooper Building, Boatloft, and Commissioner's House are included in the entrance price to the Bermuda Maritime Museum.

Royal Naval Dockyard. © 441/234-1418. www.bmm.bm. Admission $10 adults, $8 seniors, free for children 12 and under. Daily 9:30am–5pm (last ticket sold at 4pm). Closed Dec 25. See transportation information under the Royal Naval Dockyard listing below.

The Royal Naval Dockyard ★★ The Dockyard, with its Bermuda Maritime Museum, is the number one tourist attraction on Bermuda. Even if you plan to spend all your precious time on Bermuda's pink sandy beaches, try to schedule at least a half-day to check it out.

The Royal Naval Dockyard has been transformed into a park, with Victorian street lighting and a Terrace Pavilion and bandstand for concerts. When the Bermudian government bought this dockyard, which had been on British Admiralty land, in 1953, it marked the end of British naval might in the western Atlantic. A multimillion-dollar cruise-ship dock has been built and a tourist village has emerged; today, vendors push carts filled with food, dry goods, and local crafts. There's a full-service marina with floating docks, a clubhouse, and showers. The area also houses the Bermuda Maritime Museum, the Neptune Theatre (a 118-seat cinema showing feature films two times a night, with matinees Fri–Sun; © 441/291-2035), the Crafts Market, and the Bermuda Arts Centre, which are all described above. The entire dockyard is closed Good Friday and Christmas Day. For more information about the Dockyard and its Maritime Museum, call © 441/234-1333 or visit www.bmm.bm.

The World's Smallest Drawbridge

After leaving Fort Scaur, you can continue over the much-photographed 17th-century Somerset Bridge, the world's smallest drawbridge. During the rare moments when it's open for marine traffic, the space between the spans is a mere 56 centimeters (22 in.) at road level—just large enough for the mast of a sailboat to pass through.

STEPPING BACK INTO THE Ice Age

Bermuda has one of the highest concentrations of limestone caves in the world. Most began forming during the Pleistocene Ice Age. As early as 1623, the adventurer Capt. John Smith wrote that he had encountered “vary strange, darke, cumbersome caves.”

In Bermuda, nature’s patient, relentless underground sculpting has left behind a dream world for even the casual spelunker. Deep in the majestic silence of the earth’s interior, you can roam in caverns full of great stalactites and stalagmites of Gothic grandeur, delicacy, and beauty. This awesome underground has been the inspiration for creative achievements as diverse as Shakespeare’s The Tempest and Henson Associates’ Fraggle Rock.

You can visit Crystal Caves on guided tours; the cave complex is along Harrington Sound Road in Hamilton Parish (p. 158).

Ferries from the City of Hamilton stop at Ireland Island, at the western end of Bermuda, once each hour 7am–6pm. Fare $4 each way. (In addition to the regular ferry route, additional runs have been added to the schedule to allow visitors greater access to the Dockyard’s after-dark activities; depending on the day of the week, you might still be able to catch a ferry from Hamilton to the Dockyard at 8pm and then return to Hamilton as late as 11:30pm. Call ☎ 441/295-4506 for information on these later schedules.) Bus 7 or 8 leaves the City of Hamilton for the Royal Naval Dockyard Mon–Sat every 15 min. 6:45am–11:45pm. The trip takes 1 hr. and costs $4 for adults, $2 for children 5–15, free for children 4 and under. Note: Drivers accept this exact bus fare in coins only.

SOUTHAMPTON PARISH

Most visitors stop by Southampton for the beaches, if for no other reason. Even if you’re not staying here, it’s worth a journey to see the view from Gibbs Hill Lighthouse—there’s no finer panorama in all of Bermuda.

Gibbs Hill Lighthouse ★ Southampton’s main attraction is this completely restored lighthouse, built in 1846. It’s the oldest cast-iron lighthouse in the world. Although there’s a 185-step climb to the top, the panoramic view of Bermuda and its shoreline from the balcony make the exertion worthwhile. You can also view the same panorama that Queen Elizabeth II gazed on in 1953; just find the commemoration plaque by the entrance to the lighthouse. The lighthouse keeper will explain the workings of the machinery. If you visit in the spring, you may spot migrating whales beyond the south-shore reefs.

Gibbs Hill, Lighthouse Rd. (btw. South and Middle roads). ☎ 441/238-8069. www.bermudalighthouse.com. Admission $2.50; free for children 4 and under. Daily 9am–5pm. Closed Feb. Bus: 7 or 8 from the City of Hamilton.

WARWICK PARISH

This parish has few sightseeing attractions, but it is a place of natural beauty. Visitors come here mostly for the sandy beach, Warwick Long Bay, on South Road—it’s one of the finest on Bermuda (see “Beaches,” in chapter 6, for details). Nearby, you can visit Christ Church, across from the Belmont Hotel on Middle Road. Built in 1719, it’s one of the oldest Scottish Presbyterian churches in the New World.

Warwick is also the site of some of the best golf and horseback riding in Bermuda. See chapter 6 for specifics on these activities.

PAGET PARISH

On every visit to Bermuda, we schedule a long stopover at the Botanical Gardens with its associated art museum, the Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art. They're worth the trip, even if you're staying in the East End. Once you're here, Waterville, one of the oldest houses in Bermuda, merits a look. You could cap your visit with a walk through unspoiled Paget Marsh, although you might skip it if you've already seen Spittal Pond (see "Smith's Parish," later in this chapter).

The Birdsey Studio Jo Birdsey Lindberg, daughter of the island's best-known artist, Alfred Birdsey (1912–96), sells original artwork, watercolors, and oils. An experienced painter, she continues a family tradition by producing and showing her work here, in a garden setting. Her impressionistic style appears in compositions ranging from landscapes of Bermuda to architectural and nautical themes. Also available are notecards reproduced from paintings by Alfred Birdsey. You must call ahead for an appointment.

5 Stowe Hill. ☎ 441/236-6658 or 441/236-5845 in the evening. Free admission. By appointment only. Bus: 8 from the City of Hamilton.

Botanical Gardens ★ This 14-hectare (35-acre) landscaped park, maintained by the Department of Natural Resources, is one of Bermuda's major attractions. Hundreds of clearly identified flowers, shrubs, and trees line the pathways. Attractions include collections of hibiscus and subtropical fruit, an aviary, banyan trees, and even a garden for the blind. A 90-minute tour leaves at 10:30am on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday, taking you through lushly planted acres. Guests meet at the Berry Hills entrance near the Botanical Gardens Visitor's Center. On the Tuesday and Friday tour, participants stop in at Camden, the official residence of Bermuda's premier, for a look around. The cafe sells sandwiches and salads (soup and chili in winter). Early in 2008, the Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art opened within a much-restored, much rebuilt building in these gardens (separately described below). And in the spring of 2008, the Botanical Gardens launched an ambitious 5-year plan to introduce four separate gardens of themed plants, including a Japanese Zen Garden, a 17th-century-style English Parterre Garden, a 12th-century-style Persian Garden, and a Tudor-style Children's Maze Garden.

Point Finger Rd. (at South Rd.). ☎ 441/236-4201. Free admission. Daily 9:30am–5:30pm. Tours Tues–Wed and Fri 10:30am. Bus: 1, 2, 7, or 8. By bike or moped, turn left off Middle Rd. onto Tee St.; at Berry Hill Rd., go right; about 1km (¾-mile) farther on the left is the signposted turnoff to the gardens; take a right fork to the parking lot on the left.

The Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art ★★ Bermuda's first purpose-built art museum was the subject of island-wide patriotic fervor when it opened early in 2008, and the crowds pouring in haven't abated since. It's housed within the much-altered, much-expanded premises of what functioned in 1900 as an arrowroot processing plant. As part of a skillful recycling of the once-decrepit building, it now boasts a state-of-the-art security system, sophisticated lighting, air-conditioning, preservation facilities, floors crafted from wide planks of exotic Brazilian hardwood, and a constantly shifting exposition of artworks crafted or painted by Bermudians, focusing on Bermuda, or merely inspired by Bermuda. Only about 5% of the total number of artworks within this museum's collection can be exhibited at any time. A visit to this collection will certainly impress upon you the artistic power of Bermuda as muse to a huge array of radically different artists. You'll see a lot of paintings by artists you might never have heard of before, as well as works by Winslow Homer and Georgia O'Keeffe, both of whom responded to Bermuda with artistic zeal. On your way into the museum, note the stately 18th-century mansion, Camden House, that's immediately adjacent: Closed to the public, it's the official residence of the premier of Bermuda, who rented the premises of what's now the museum to its curators for a fee of $1 a year. Prince Charles of Britain, incidentally, is this organization's most visible patron.

The Arrowroot Building in the Botanical Gardens, 183 South Rd. ☎ 441/236-2950. www.bermudamasterworks.com. Admission free for members, $5 for nonmembers. Mon–Sat 10am–4pm. Bus: 1, 2, 7, or 8.

Paget Marsh This nature reserve comprises 10 hectares (25 acres) of unspoiled native woods and marshland, with vegetation and bird life of ecological interest. Because it's a fully protected area with few trails, prospective visitors should call first and make special arrangements, and obtain a map from the Bermuda National Trust. A boardwalk allows you to view the marsh better. If you require a group tour, special speaker, or special program, then advance arrangements are necessary.

Middle Rd. ☎ 441/236-6483. Free admission. Mon–Fri dawn–dusk. Bus: 2, 7, or 8.

Waterville Built before 1735, Waterville is one of the oldest houses on Bermuda. It was home to seven generations of the prominent Trimmingham family. From the house's cellar storage rooms in 1842, James Harvey Trimmingham started the business that was to become Trimmingham Brothers—one of Bermuda's finest Front Street department stores until it closed in 2005. Major renovations were undertaken in 1811, and the house has been restored in that period's style. The two main rooms hold period furnishings, mainly Trimmingham family heirlooms specifically bequeathed for use in the house. Waterville is the headquarters of the Bermuda National Trust, and houses its offices and reception rooms. It's just west of the Trimmingham roundabout, near the City of Hamilton.

29 The Lane (Harbour Rd.), at Pomander Rd. ☎ 441/236-6483. www.bnt.bm. Free admission. Mon–Fri 9am–5pm. Closed on holidays. Bus: 7 or 8 from the City of Hamilton.

PEMBROKE PARISH & THE CITY OF HAMILTON

For first-time visitors, the ideal way to see the City of Hamilton and its parish, Pembroke, is to sail in through Hamilton Harbour, past the offshore cays.

In 1852, the cornerstone was laid for the Hamilton Hotel, Bermuda's first hotel, completed in 1863 (a fire destroyed it in 1955). When the Hamilton Princess opened in 1887, it overshadowed the Hamilton Hotel and became the island's hotel of choice. The Hamilton Hotel's colorful history includes being taken over by Allied agents during World War II.

If Queen Victoria could visit Bermuda today, she would probably stay at Government House, on North Shore Road and Langton Hill. Because this is the residence of the governor of the island, it's not open to the public. This Victorian home has housed many notable guests, including Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, Prince Charles, Sir Winston Churchill, and Pres. John F. Kennedy. In 1973, Gov. Sir Richard Sharples, his aide, Capt. Hugh Sayers, and the governor's dog were assassinated while

From the Land & From the Sea

The City of Hamilton should be seen not only from land but also from the water. Try to make time for a boat tour of the harbor and its coral reefs. If you're visiting from another parish, the ferry will let you off at the west end of Front Street, which is ideal if you'd like to drop by the Visitors Information Centre (☎ 441/234-3824), which is right near the Ferry Terminal, and pick up a map. The staff also provides information and helpful brochures; hours are Monday to Saturday 9am to 5pm.

7

SEEING THE SIGHTS

Pembroke Parish & the City of Hamilton

they were walking on the grounds. A local named Erskine Burrows was hanged in 1977 after being found guilty of these murders as well as that of Police Commissioner George Duckett in 1972 and an armed robbery in 1973.

While touring Pembroke Parish, visitors often stop at Black Watch Well, at the junction of North Shore Road and Black Watch Pass. Excavated by a detachment of the Black Watch Regiment, the well was dug in 1894, when Bermudians were suffering through a long drought.

Another choice spot to visit is Admiralty House Park, off North Shore Road at Spanish Point Road. In 1816, a house was erected here to offer accommodations for the commanding British admiralty, which worked at the naval base at the dockyard. Over the years, the house was rebuilt several times. In the 1850s, it gained a series of subterranean tunnels, plus a number of galleries and caves carved into the cliffs above the sea. By 1951, the Royal Navy withdrew, and most of the house was torn down—except for a ballroom, which survives. Today, you can explore the parklike grounds. The sheltered beach at Clarence Cove is ideal for swimming.

The City of Hamilton ★★★

The capital of Bermuda was once known as the “show window of the British Empire.” Both Mark Twain and Eugene O’Neill, who lived in lodgings that opened onto Hamilton Harbour, cited its beauty.

Named for former governor Henry Hamilton, the City of Hamilton was incorporated in 1793. Because of its central location and its large, protected harbor, it replaced St. George as the island’s capital in 1815. The city encompasses only 73 hectares (180 acres) of land, so most visitors explore it on foot.

Long before it became known as “the showcase of the Atlantic,” the City of Hamilton was a modest outlet for the export of Bermuda cedar and fresh vegetables. Today, it’s the hub of the island’s economy.

More popular for its shops and restaurants than for its attractions, the City of Hamilton boasts the largest number of dining spots and bars on Bermuda, especially on and near Front Street. The restaurants have a wide range of prices, and there are many English-style watering holes if you’d prefer to go for a traditional pub-crawl. And religion isn’t neglected—there are 12 churches within the city limits, the most interesting being the Cathedral of the Most Holy Trinity (p. 155).

If you’d like to go sightseeing, follow the plan laid out under “The Best of Bermuda in 2 Days,” in chapter 3 for a comprehensive view of the City of Hamilton. The only sights that are worth in-depth visits are Fort Hamilton, the Bermuda Historical Society Museum, and the Bermuda National Gallery. You can safely skip the rest if you’re pressed for time.

AFRICAN DIASPORA heritage trail

Bermuda's African Diaspora Heritage Trail commemorates the role African slaves played in the formation of Bermuda. Free booklets, available from tourist offices, direct you along this self-guided tour of both tangible and intangible sites that highlight peak points in the cultural history of the island. A plaque marks each site.

Thirteen sites have been identified, including the site of the slave ship Enterprise incident, which, like the better-known Amistad affair, involved the rescue of slaves seeking refuge and freedom, and the historic Slave Graveyard at St. Peter's Church (ca. 1612), both located in St. George; the Crow Lane, site of the execution by burning of Sally Bassett, slave revolt leader; and sites associated with Mary Prince, the Bermudian slave who wrote the first account of slavery actually authored by a slave. Published in London in 1831, it played a key role in the struggle to abolish slavery. Another important site is Cobb's Hill Wesleyan Methodist Church, built by slaves by moonlight. The 13 sites highlighted in the brochure can be collectively visited through a combination of bus and fast ferry routes, and as such, require a full day to visit. Their densest concentration is in St. George's, where five of the sites lie within easy walking distance of one another. Others of the sites are part of major attractions (for example, the Commissioner's House at the Royal Dockyard), which you might have otherwise visited independently. Even if you opt not to visit every single site (one, for example, commemorates a gibbet positioned long ago on offshore rocks, which are visible only from the shoreline of "mainland" Bermuda), you'll learn a lot about the sociology of Bermuda during its sometimes tormented formative years.

A stroll along Front Street ★ will take you by some of the City of Hamilton's most elegant stores, but you'll also want to branch off into the little alleyways to check out the shops and boutiques. If you get tired of walking or shopping (or both), you can go down to the docks and take one of the boats or catamarans waiting to show you the treasures of Little Sound and Great Sound.

Ferries back to Paget, Warwick, and Sandys parishes leave daily between 6:50am and 11:20pm. On Saturday and Sunday, there are fewer departures. For schedules and fares, go to www.seaexpress.bm.

On certain days you may be able to see locals buying fresh fish—the part of the catch that isn't earmarked for restaurants—right from the fishers at the Front Street docks. Rockfish is the most abundant, and you'll also see snapper, grouper, and many other species.

Opposite the Visitors Information Centre stands the much-photographed "Birdcage," where you used to be able to see a Bermuda shorts-clad police officer directing traffic on a pedestal likened to a birdcage. Visitors often wondered if the traffic director was for real or placed there for tourist photographs. Such a sight is rare now.

Nearby is Albouy's Point, site of the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club, founded in 1844. The point, named after a 17th-century professor of "physick," is a public park overlooking Hamilton Harbour.

To reach the sights listed below, take Bus no. 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Bermuda Historical Society Museum This museum has a collection of old cedar furniture, antique silver, early Bermudian coins called "hog money," and ceramics imported by early sea captains. You'll see the sea chest and navigating lodestone of Sir George Somers, whose flagship, the Sea Venture, became stranded on Bermuda's reefs in 1609, resulting in Bermuda's first European settlers. You'll also find portraits of Sir George and Lady Somers, and models of Patience, Deliverance, and the ill-fated Sea Venture.

The museum is in Par-la-Ville Park on Queen Street. It was designed by William Bennett Perot, the City of Hamilton's first postmaster (1818–62), who was a somewhat eccentric fellow; as he delivered mail around town, he is said to have placed letters in the crown of his top hat in order to preserve his dignity.

13 Queen St., Par-la-Ville Park. ☎ 441/295-2487. Free admission. Mon–Sat 9:30am–3:30pm.

Bermuda National Gallery Located on the second floor of City Hall in the heart of the City of Hamilton, this is the home of the island nation's art collection, showing Bermudian and world art alike. The museum displays a diverse permanent collection as well as changing exhibitions. Both past and contemporary works from local and international painters not only tell the story of Bermuda's history, but also reflect its heritage. The gallery opened in 1992 with a core collection of European masters, including Gainsborough, Reynolds, and Murillo. The collection was bequeathed to Bermuda by the Hon. Hereward T. Watlington on the condition that the art be housed in a climate-controlled environment to protect it from humidity and damaging sunlight.

In addition to the Watlington Collection, the museum has an African collection (African figures, masks, and royal regalia), a Bermuda collection (which ranges from 17th-century decorative arts to contemporary Bermudian work), and a wide range of Bermudian and international photographs, prints, and modern art.

City Hall, 17 Church St. ☎ 441/295-9428. www.bermudanationalgallery.com. Free admission. Mon–Fri 10am–4pm, Sat 10am–2pm. Tours Thurs at 10:30am.

Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute (BUEI) This blockbuster attraction is a glitzy, metallic, and electronicized counterpart to the rich patina and genuine historicness of the Commissioner's House at the Royal Dockyard, with which it is sometimes compared. The force behind it is Teddy Tucker, the dynamic but endlessly controversial patriarch of Bermuda's underwater wreck explorations. At least some of the video presentations you'll see inside feature him as its spokesperson and centerpiece. There's something very akin to a museum of science and industry within this glistening, multimedia extravaganza. Various rooms are devoted to the underwater geology of Bermuda, one of the world's largest collections of seashells, bioluminescence and the creatures that produce it, and a showcase of the treasure that Tucker salvaged from underwater wrecks. Ironically, the exhibit that remains in our minds long after our visit involved a grove of Bermudian cedars that were covered by rising waters during the melting of glaciers after the last ice age, and which were ripped off the sea bed by one of Tucker's crew—proof positive of (relatively) recent drastic fluctuations in sea level.

40 Crow Lane, Pembroke Parish. ☎ 441/292-7219. www.buei.org. Admission $13 adults, $10 seniors, $6 ages 6–17, children 5 and under free. Mon–Fri 9am–5pm; Sat–Sun 10am–5pm. Last ticket sold at 4pm.

Cathedral of the Most Holy Trinity (Bermuda Cathedral) This is the mother church of the Anglican diocese in Bermuda. It became a cathedral in 1894 and was formally consecrated in 1911. The building features a reredos (ornamental partition), stained-glass windows, and ornate carvings. If you have the stamina, climb the 157 steps to the top of the tower for a panoramic view of the City of Hamilton and the harbor.

Church St. ☎ 441/292-4033. www.anglican.bm. Free admission to cathedral; admission to cathedral tower $3 adults, $2 children 6 and under and seniors 65 and over. Cathedral daily 8am–5pm and for Sun services; tower Mon–Fri 10am–3pm.

Hamilton City Hall & Arts Centre The City Hall, also home of the Bermuda Society of Arts, is an imposing white structure with a giant weather vane and wind clock to tell maritime-minded Bermudians which way the wind is blowing. Completed in 1960, the building is the seat of the City of Hamilton's municipal government. The theater on the first floor books stage, music, and dance productions throughout the year, and is the main site of the Bermuda Festival. The Bermuda National Gallery (see above) is also here.

Since 1956, the Bermuda Society of Arts has encouraged, and provided a forum for, contemporary artists, sculptors, and photographers. Its gallery, with ever-changing exhibitions, displays the work of local and visiting artists.

17 Church St. ☎ 441/292-1234 or 441/292-3824. Free admission to City Hall and Bermuda Society of Arts. City Hall Mon–Fri 9am–5pm, Sat 9am–noon; Bermuda Society of Arts Mon–Sat 10am–4pm.

Perot Post Office Bermuda's first stamp was printed in this landmark building. Beloved by collectors from all over the world, the stamps—signed by William Bennett Perot, Bermuda's first postmaster—are priceless. It's said that Perot and his friend J. B. Heyl, who ran an apothecary, conceived the first postage stamp to protect the post office from cheaters. People used to stop off at the post office and leave letters, but not enough pennies to send them. The postage stamps were printed in black or carmine.

Philatelists can purchase contemporary Bermuda stamps here. For its 375th anniversary, Bermuda issued a series of stamps honoring its discovery in 1609. One stamp portrays the admiral of the fleet, Sir George Somers, along with Sir Thomas Gates, the captain of the Sea Venture. Another depicts the settlement of Jamestown, Virginia, which was on the verge of extinction when Sir George and the survivors of the Bermuda shipwreck finally arrived with supplies late in 1610. A third shows the Sea Venture stranded on the coral reefs of Bermuda. Yet another shows the entire fleet, originally bound for Jamestown, leaving Plymouth, England, on June 2, 1609.

Queen St., at the entrance to Par-la-Ville Park. ☎ 441/292-9052 or 441/295-5151. Free admission. Mon–Fri 9am–5pm.

Sessions House This Italian Renaissance-style structure was originally built in 1819. Its clock tower, added in 1887, commemorates the Golden Jubilee of Queen Victoria. The House of Assembly meets on the second floor from November to May, and visitors are permitted in the gallery. Call ahead to find out when meetings are scheduled. On the lower level, the chief justice presides over the Supreme Court.

21 Parliament St. ☎ 441/292-7408. Free admission. Daily 9am–12:30pm and 2–6pm.

DEVONSHIRE PARISH

If you're passing through Devonshire, consider a stop at the following attractions.

Old Devonshire Parish Church The Old Devonshire Parish Church is believed to have been built on this site in 1624, although the present foundation dates from

The Sounds of Silence (& Gregorian Chant)

In crowded Bermuda, finding solitude and tranquility grows increasingly more difficult. But we stumbled upon the 18-hectare (43-acre) Heydon Trust, Heydon Drive (☎ 441/234-1831), in Sandys Parish, open daily dawn to dusk. This setting, which is also a sanctuary for migratory birds, is Bermuda the way it used to be. The grounds are filled with flower gardens, citrus orchards, walkways, and even a tiny chapel dating from 1620. Chapel services are held Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday at 7:30am. There is also a chant service Monday through Saturday at 3pm. Park benches are found throughout the preserve where you can sit and contemplate nature (or your navel).

1716. An explosion virtually destroyed the church on Easter in 1970, but it was reconstructed. Today, the tiny structure looks more like a vicarage than a church. Some of the church's contents survived the blast, including silver dating from 1590, which may be the oldest on the island. The Old Devonshire Parish Church is about a 15-minute walk northwest of the "new" Devonshire Parish Church, which dates from 1846.

Middle Rd. ☎ 441/236-3671. Free admission. Daily 9am-5:30pm. Bus: 2.

Palm Grove This private estate, 4km (2½ miles) east of the City of Hamilton, is one of the delights of Devonshire Parish. It's famous for its pond, which features a relief map of Bermuda in the middle. On the map, each parish is an immaculately manicured grassy division. The site, which has well-landscaped flower gardens, opens onto a view of the sea.

38 South Rd. No phone. Free admission. Mon-Thurs 9am-5pm. Bus: 1.

SMITH'S PARISH

Even if you're staying in remote Sandys Parish, the 18th-century mansion of Verdmont is worth checking out. If you're in the area, Spittal Pond Nature Reserve also merits some attention.

Spittal Pond Nature Reserve Follow steep Knapton Hill Road west to South Road, turning at the sign for Spittal Pond, Bermuda's largest wildlife sanctuary. The most important of the National Trust's open spaces, it occupies 24 hectares (59 acres) and attracts about 25 species of waterfowl from November to May. Visitors are asked to stay on the scenic trails and footpaths provided. Bird-watchers especially like to visit in January, when as many as 500 species can be observed wintering on or near the pond.

South Rd. ☎ 441/236-6483. Free admission. Daily sunrise to sunset. Bus: 1 or 3.

Verdmont ★ This 18th-century mansion is especially significant to Americans who are interested in colonial and Revolutionary War history. It stands on property that was owned in the 17th century by William Sayle, who left Bermuda to found South Carolina and become its first governor. The house was built before 1710 by John Dickinson, a prosperous shipowner who was also speaker of the House of Assembly in Bermuda from 1707 to 1710. Verdmont passed to Mr. Dickinson's granddaughter, Elizabeth, who married the Hon. Thomas Smith, collector of customs.

Their oldest daughter, Mary, married Judge John Green, a Loyalist who came to Bermuda in 1765 from Philadelphia. During and after the American Revolution, Green was judge of the Vice-Admiralty Court and had the final say on prizes brought in by privateers. Many American shipowners lost their vessels because of his decisions. The house, which the National Trust now administers, contains many antiques, china, and portraits, along with the finest cedar stair balustrade on Bermuda.

6 Verdmont Lane, Collectors Hill. ☎ 441/236-7369. www.bnt.bm. Admission $5 adults, $2 ages 6-18, free for children 5 and under. Combination ticket to all three Trust Museums (Bermuda National Trust Museum, Tucker House, Verdmont) $10. Apr–Oct Tues–Sat 10am–4pm; Nov–Mar Wed–Sat 10am–4pm. Bus: 1.

HAMILTON PARISH

Even if you have limited sightseeing time, try to budget at least a half-day for Hamilton Parish. It has some of the most intriguing attractions on the island, notably the Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & Zoo; Crystal Caves; and Leamington Caves. If you have time for only one set of caves, we recommend Crystal Caves. However, if you've seen some of the great caves of America or Europe (or beyond), you may find Bermuda's caves less thrilling.

Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & Zoo ★ 😊 This complex is home to a large collection of tropical marine fish, turtles, harbor seals, and other forms of sea life. In the museum, you'll see exhibits ranging from the geological development of Bermuda to deep-sea exploration to humpback whales. The zoo is home to alligators, monkeys, and Galapagos tortoises, along with a collection of birds, including parrots and flamingos.

The North Rock Exhibit, in a 529,958-liter (140,000-gal.) tank, allows visitors to experience a coral reef washed by ocean surge. The tank houses a living coral reef, as well as reef and pelagic fish species. It's the first living coral exhibit on this scale in the world, made possible by the Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & Zoo's success in the science of coral husbandry.

There's parking for cycles and cars across the street from the aquarium.

40 North Shore Rd. (in Flatts Village). ☎ 441/293-2727. www.bamz.org. Admission $10 adults, $5 seniors and children 5-12, free for children 4 and under. Daily 9am–5pm. Closed Dec 25. Bus: 10 or 11 from the City of Hamilton or St. George. From the City of Hamilton, follow Middle Rd. or North Shore Rd. east to Flatts Village; from St. George, cross the causeway and follow North Shore Rd. or Harrington Sound Rd. west to Flatts Village.

Crystal Caves ★ 😊 This network of subterranean lakes, caves, and caverns houses translucent formations of stalagmites and stalactites, and includes the crystal-clear Cahow Lake. A sloping path and a few steps lead to Crystal Caves, which was discovered in 1907; at the bottom, about 36m (118 ft.) below the surface, is a floating causeway. It follows the winding cavern, where hidden lights illuminate the interior. In 2001, a second cave was opened to visitors. All tours through Crystal Caves are guided. Using the lighting system, the guides make shadow puppets and are fond of pointing out the similarity to the skyline of Manhattan. If you suffer from claustrophobia, you might find this space too tight. A small cafe and a gift shop are on-site.

8 Crystal Caves Rd., off Wilkinson Ave., Bailey's Bay. ☎ 441/293-0640. www.caves.bm. Admission $14 adults, $8 children 5-12, free for children 4 and under. To visit both Crystal and Fantasy caves $20 adults, $10 children. Daily 9:30am–4:30pm. Closed Jan 1, Good Friday, Dec 24–25, and Boxing Day. Bus: 1, 3, 10, or 11.

ST. GEORGE'S PARISH

A great way to explore this historic town is by following the “The Best of Bermuda in 1 Day” tour in chapter 3.

The Town of St. George ★★★

King's Square, also called Market Square and King's Parade, is the center of life in St. George. It holds the colorful White Horse Tavern (p. 122), where you may want to stop for a drink after your tour of the town.

The street names in St. George evoke its history. Petticoat Lane (sometimes called Silk Alley) reputedly got its name when two newly emancipated slaves paraded up and down the lane rustling their colorful new silk petticoats. Barber's Lane is also named for a former slave. It honors Joseph Hayne Rainey, a freedman from the Carolinas who fled to Bermuda during the Civil War aboard a blockade runner and worked as a barber. After the war, he returned to the United States and was elected to Congress, becoming the first black member of the House of Representatives during Reconstruction.

The St. George branch of the Visitors Information Centre is on King's Square (☎ 441/297-1642); it's open Monday through Saturday 9am to 5pm. Here you can get a map, transportation passes for the bus and ferry, and other information before setting out to explore. The bureau is to the right of the Town Hall, on the waterfront.

If you're pressed for time, don't worry that you're missing out if you skip interior visits to the sights listed below. The entire town of St. George, with its quaint streets and old buildings, is the attraction, not just one particular monument. If you have time to visit only one attraction's interior, make it St. Peter's Church. Otherwise, just wander around, do a little shopping, and soak in the atmosphere.

To reach these attractions, take bus no. 1, 3, 8, 10, or 11 from the City of Hamilton.

The Bermuda National Trust Museum This was once the Globe Hotel, headquarters of Maj. Norman Walker, the Confederate representative in Bermuda. Today, it houses relics from the island's involvement in the American Civil War—from a Bermudian perspective. St. George was the port from which ships carrying arms and munitions ran the Union blockade. A replica of the Great Seal of the Confederacy is fitted to a Victorian press so that visitors can emboss copies as souvenirs. There's also a video presentation, Bermuda: Centre of the Atlantic, tracing the island's early history.

At the Globe Hotel, King's Sq. ☎ 441/297-1423. www.bnt.bm. Admission $5 adults, $2 children 6-18, free for children 5 and under. Combination ticket to all three Trust Museums (Bermuda National Trust Museum, Tucker House, Verdmont) $10. Mon-Sat 10am-4pm. Closed Dec 25 and Good Friday.

Bridge House Gallery This long-established gallery displays antiques and collectibles, old Bermudian items, original paintings, and Bermuda-made crafts. It contains a studio belonging to Jill Amos Raine, a well-known Bermudian watercolor artist. The house, constructed in the 1690s, was home to several of the colony's governors. Its most colorful owner was Bridger Goodrich, a Loyalist from Virginia, whose privateers once blockaded Chesapeake Bay. So devoted was he to the king that he sabotaged Bahamian vessels trading with the American colonies.

1 Bridge St. ☎ 441/297-8211. Free admission. Wed and Sat 10am-6pm.

Carter House (St. David's Island Historical Site) Set on a hillside about 1.5km (1 mile) east of Swing Bridge, Carter House is believed to be the oldest dwelling place on St. David's Island, at least 3½ centuries old. Reopened in September

SPECIAL PLACES WHERE YOU CAN BE alone

7

St. George's Parish

SEEING THE SIGHTS

Bermuda is both popular and small—but that doesn't mean that you can't escape the crowds and find peace and serenity in a lovely spot, hopefully with someone you love.

Hamilton Parish The Bermuda National Trust (☎ 441/236-6483; www.bnt.bm) administers 25 hectares (62 acres) of land at Walsingham, along Harrington Sound Road in Hamilton Parish. Bus no. 1 or 3 runs to the site, and hours are daily dawn to dusk, with no admission charged. The site of Walsingham that visitors, especially bird-watchers, find most appealing is called the Idwal Hughes Nature Reserve, which takes up only .5 hectares (1¼ acres) of the lush Walsingham wilderness area sometimes called "Tom Moore's Jungle" by islanders. Walking is rather challenging here, but rewarding because of the scenic landscape and the bird life. Access to the Idwal Hughes Nature Reserve is from the road leading down to Tom Moore's Tavern off Harrington Sound Road. Access is also possible through Blue Hole Park (take bus no. 1, 3, 10, or 11 to the Grotto Bay Hotel bus stop), which features its own trails for bird-watching and a wooden deck where you can view a water-filled sunken cave.

Sandys Parish Visitors don't seem to spend a lot of time here, but for wandering about, getting lost, and finding enchanting little vistas, Sandys is without equal on Bermuda. Where Daniel's Head Road meets Cambridge Road, paths will take you to Somerset Long Bay Park, where you can swim. After that, take one of the unmarked trails to the Bermuda Audubon Society Nature Reserve, a gem of nature. The place is often deserted on weekdays. When the white-eyed vireos and the bluebirds call to you from fiddlewood trees, you'll really feel close to nature.

Southampton Parish In this wind-swept, tourist-trodden parish, you'd think there was no place to find solitude. Not so! Signposted from Middle Road, a trail goes 1km (¾-mile) down to the entrance to Seymour's Pond Nature Reserve. Under the management of the Bermuda Audubon Society, this 1-hectare (2½-acre) site attracts the occasional birder as well as romantic couples looking for a little privacy. Just past the pond, you'll spot pepper trees and old cedars that escaped the blight; you might encounter bluebirds and an egret or two as well. After traversing Cross Church Road, you'll come upon the old Bermuda Railway Trail, where in summer 2001 after a 3-year renovation, it's now a museum dedicated to the life and values of the people of St. David's, one of the most rugged and hardy districts of Bermuda. The museum houses exhibitions on the history of whaling, piloting, fishing, and farming. Various artifacts of Bermudian life are displayed here, including a 4m (13-ft.) Bermuda sailing dinghy, dolls and children's toys crafted from palmetto leaves, and artifacts and paneling crafted from Bermuda cedar.

S. Side Rd. (St. David's). ☎ 441/293-1642. Free admission (donations accepted). Apr–Oct Tues–Thurs and Sat 10am–4pm; Nov–Mar Sat 10am–4pm.

Deliverance Across from St. George's town square and over a bridge is Ordnance Island, where visitors can see a full-scale replica of Deliverance. The shipwrecked survivors of the Sea Venture built the pinnace (small sailing ship) in 1610 to carry them on to Virginia. The replica of Deliverance is still anchored full-time to Ordnance Island. It's one of the Disney-style adventure sights associated with the King's Square you can see fennel growing wild. In the distance are panoramic views of shipwreck-clogged Black Bay and Five Star Island.

Warwick Parish With its beautiful pink-sand beaches, seaside parklands, natural attractions, and winding country lanes, this is one of the most charming parishes for exploring and escaping the crowds. Even many longtime local residents haven't seen some of Warwick's beauty spots. The place to head is Warwick Pond, a sanctuary for several rare species of birds. Administered by the Bermuda National Trust, it's open daily from sunrise to sunset. You can reach it by following the Bermuda Railway Trail until you come to Tribe Road No. 3; climb this road for a few hundred yards before it dips down a hill to the pond. You might spot the occasional birder in search of a kiskadee, blue heron, or cardinal. The pond, fed by a subterranean channel from the sea, reminds us of Thoreau's Walden Pond.

St. David's Island Part of St. George's Parish, St. David's is Bermuda "the way it was." Virtually unknown to the average visitor, it awaits your discovery. This is real down-home Bermuda—it's said that some St. David's Islanders have never even visited "mainland" Bermuda.

You can begin your walk at Great Head Park in the eastern part of St. David's, southeast of the cricket fields. At the end of the parking lot, follow the trail into a wooded area filled with cherry trees and palmettos. After about 225m (738 ft.), bear right at the fork. Eventually you'll spot St. David's Lighthouse, an octagonal red-and-white tower in the distance to the southwest. The trail forks left until you come to a ruined garrison with a panoramic sea view. It's one of the remotest, loveliest spots on the island—and, chances are, you'll have it all to yourself.

Devonshire Parish This parish is off the beaten track but home to some lovely spots—if you're adventurous enough to seek them out. Old Devonshire Church on Middle Road is a landmark; almost directly across the road lies Devonshire Marsh, a natural water basin still in an untamed state. You'll also find two nature reserves, Firefly and Freer Cox Memorial, on some 4 hectares (10 acres) of marshland. The Bermuda Audubon Society has set aside this protected area as a bird sanctuary for many endangered wild species. You can also see some of the most unusual Bermudian plants, including orchids. The marsh is always open to the public.

(St. George's main square). In midsummer, its caretakers are outfitted in 18th-century sailors' garb.

Adventure Enterprises owns Deliverance and also runs sightseeing and snorkeling adventures aboard its boat ARGO. Bermuda's only high-speed tour boat, ARGO (which fits neatly into small harbors) takes passengers along the barrier reef, the south-shore beaches, the historic forts, and the billionaires' mansions at Tucker's Town. Call for details, which change seasonally.

Ordnance Island. 📞 441/297-1459. Admission $3 adults, $1 children 11 and under. Apr–Nov daily 9am–5pm. Closed Dec–Mar.

Old Rectory Built by a reformed pirate in 1705, this charming old cottage was later home to Parson Richardson, who was nicknamed "the Little Bishop." Now a private home, it's administered by the Bermuda National Trust.

St. George: A WORLD HERITAGE SITE

Historic St. George and its related fortifications are now a World Heritage Site designated by UNESCO. The architecturally rich, 400-year-old town joins such select sites as the Great Wall of China, Statue of Liberty, Taj Mahal, and historic center of Florence.

As the oldest continuously inhabited town of English origin in the Western Hemisphere, St. George and its surrounding buildings, monuments, and structures illustrate the residents' lifestyles through the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries. Historic St. George remains in authentic condition, featuring unique and diverse examples of Bermudian architecture spanning the past 4 centuries. The town's various forts are like a textbook illustrating British artillery and the changing styles of fort architecture from 1612 to 1956.

7

St. George's Parish

SEEING THE SIGHTS

At the head of Broad Alley, behind St. Peter's Church. 📞 441/297-4261. www.bnt.bm. Free admission (donations appreciated). Nov-Mar Wed 1-5pm.

Old State House Behind the Town Hall is Bermuda's oldest stone building, constructed with turtle oil and lime mortar in 1620. Unless there's a special event, the landmark building doesn't offer much to see—you might settle for a look at the exterior, then continue on with your sightseeing. The Old State House, where meetings of the legislative council once took place, was eventually turned over to the Freemasons of St. George. The government asked the annual rent of one peppercorn and insisted on the right to hold meetings here upon demand. The Masonic Lodge members, in a ceremony filled with pageantry, still turn over one peppercorn in rent to the Bermuda government every April.

The annual Peppercorn Ceremony, a 45-minute spectacle, takes place in early to mid-April. The ceremony begins around 11am with the gathering of the Bermuda Regiment on King's Square. Then the premier, mayor, and other dignitaries arrive, amid the bellowing introductions of the town crier. As soon as all the principals have taken their places, a 17-gun salute is fired as the governor and his wife make a grand entrance. His Excellency inspects a military guard of honor while the Bermuda Regiment Band plays. The stage is now set for the presentation of the peppercorn, which sits on a silver plate atop a velvet cushion. Payment is made in a grand and formal manner, after which the Old State House is immediately used for a meeting of Her Majesty's Council.

Princess St. 📞 441/292-2480 for appointments. For information on the Peppercorn Ceremony, call 📞 800/223-6106. Free admission. Wed 10am-3pm or by appointment.

Somers Garden The heart of Sir George Somers was buried here in 1610; a stone column perpetuates the memory of Bermuda's founder. The garden was opened in 1920 by the Prince of Wales (later King Edward VIII, and then the Duke of Windsor). A large fountain has been built in the middle of the garden to enhance its beauty, where visitors may also take pictures, using the foundation for a background.

Duke of York St. 📞 441/297-1532. Free admission. Apr-Nov daily 7:30am-8pm; Dec-Mar daily 7:30am-5pm.

St. George's Historical Society Museum Set in a home built around 1700, this museum contains an original 18th-century Bermuda kitchen, complete with utensils from that period. Other exhibits include a 300-year-old Bible, a letter from George Washington, and Native American ax heads. Some early settlers on St. David's Island were Native Americans, mainly Pequot.

Duke of Kent St. ☎ 441/297-0423. www.stgeorgesfoundation.org. Admission $5 adults, $2 children 12 and under. Apr–Nov 15 Mon–Fri 10am–4pm; Nov 16–Mar Wed 10am–4pm.

St. Peter's Church ★ From King's Square, head east to Duke of York Street, where you'll find St. Peter's Church, the oldest Anglican place of worship in the Western Hemisphere. Colonists built the original church in 1612 almost entirely of cedar, with a palmetto-leaf thatched roof. A hurricane in 1712 almost destroyed it completely. Some of the interior, including the original altar from 1615 (still used daily), was salvaged, and the church was rebuilt in 1713. It has been restored many times since, providing excellent examples of the architectural styles of the 17th to the 20th century. The tower was added in 1814. Before the Old State House was built, the colony held public meetings in the church. The first assize (legislative assembly) convened here in 1616, and the first meeting of Parliament was held in 1620. The church holds Sunday and weekday services.

Some of the tombstones in the Graveyard of St. Peter's (entrance opposite Broad Alley) are more than 3 centuries old; many tombs mark the graves of slaves. Here you'll find the grave of Midshipman Richard Dale, an American who was the last victim of the War of 1812. The churchyard also holds the tombs of Gov. Sir Richard Sharples and his aide, Capt. Hugh Sayers, who were assassinated while strolling on the grounds of Government House in 1973.

Duke of York St. ☎ 441/297-8359. www.anglican.bm. Free admission (donations appreciated). Daily 10am–4:30pm; Sun services 11am; guide available Mon–Sat.

Town Hall Officers of the Corporation of St. George's, headed by a mayor, meet in the Town Hall, located near the Visitors Information Centre. There are three aldermen and five common councilors. The Town Hall holds a collection of Bermuda cedar furnishings, along with photographs of previous mayors.

7 King's Sq. ☎ 441/297-1532. Free admission. Mon–Sat 10am–4pm.

Tucker House Museum This was the home of the well-known Tucker family of England, Bermuda, and Virginia. It displays a notable collection of Bermudian furniture, portraits, and silver. Also in the Tucker House is the Joseph Rainey Memorial Room, where Joseph Hayne Rainey (mentioned above in the section on "The Town of St. George") practiced barbering. A new exhibit on the ground floor traces the archaeological history of the site. The kitchen, now restored, has become an exhibit for visitors to see.

5 Water St. ☎ 441/297-0545. www.bnt.bm. Admission $5 adults, $2 children 6–18, free for children 5 and under. Combination ticket to all three Trust Museums (Bermuda National Trust Museum, Tucker House, Verdmont) $10. Mon–Sat 10am–4pm.

Unfinished Church After leaving Somers Garden, head up the steps to the North Gate, which opens onto Blockade Alley. The structure here is known as the "folly of St. George's." The cathedral, begun in 1874, was intended to replace St. Peter's. But the planners ran into money problems, and a schism within the church developed. As if that weren't enough, a storm swept over the island, causing considerable damage to the structure. Result: the Unfinished Church.

Blockade Alley. No phone. www.bnt.bm. Free admission. Apr–Nov daily 9am–3pm.

Historic Forts That Never Saw Much Action

From its earliest days, St. George has been fortified. Although it never saw much military action, reminders of that history are interesting to explore. Take Circular Drive to reach the forts, on the outskirts of town. As forts go, these two are of relatively minor interest (unless, of course, you're a fort buff—in that case, be our guest). If you have time for only one fort on Bermuda, Fort Hamilton on Happy Valley Road is the most intriguing. See "The Best of Bermuda in 2 Days," in chapter 3, for details.

Along the coast is Building Bay, where the shipwrecked victims of the Sea Venture built their vessel, the Deliverance (p. 160), in 1610.

Fort St. Catherine ★ Towering above the beach where the shipwrecked crew of the Sea Venture came ashore in 1609 is Fort St. Catherine, completed in 1614 and named for the patron saint of wheelwrights and carpenters. The fortifications have been upgraded over the years. The last major reconstruction took place from 1865 to 1878, so the fort's appearance today is largely the result of work done in the 19th century.

In the museum, visitors first see a series of dioramas, "Highlights in Bermuda's History." Figures depict various activities that took place in the magazine of the fort, restored and refurnished as it was in the 1880s. In the keep, which served as living quarters, you can see information on local and overseas regiments that served in Bermuda. Also here are a fine small-arms exhibit, a cooking-area display, and an exhibit of replicas of England's crown jewels. There's a short audiovisual show on St. George's defense systems and the forts of St. George.

15 Coot Pond Rd. ☎ 441/297-1920. Admission $5 adults, $2 children 11 and under. Daily 10am-4pm. Closed Dec 25.

Gates Fort This small-scale, partially ruined two-story watchtower is capped with a cannon that (symbolically) monitors the entrance to St. George's harbor. With an interior of only two square and angular rooms, it was originally built in 1609 by its namesake, Sir Thomas Gates. One of the original band of settlers from the Sea Venture who colonized Bermuda, Gates was later the governor-designate for the Colony of Virginia. In midsummer, when cruise ships drop their anchors for short sojourns in St. George, a gatekeeper in 18th-century costume sometimes hails onboard passengers with a "welcome to Bermuda" spate of bell ringing and an occasional cannon blast. There's virtually nothing to see inside—the allure is entirely a byproduct of its isolated charm near the harbor's entrance.

Cut Rd. No phone. Free admission. Daily 10am-4:30pm.

ORGANIZED TOURS

It's relatively easy to explore Bermuda on your own. But, if you prefer help from island-born and -bred residents, it's available. See also "Snorkeling," "Scuba Diving," and "Other Outdoor Pursuits," in chapter 6, for other ways to tour the island.

Insider Tours

Visitors to Bermuda have the opportunity to gain an even deeper understanding of local attractions through the Bermuda Explorers Program, a series of tours and cultural programs. The island's cultural leaders, business owners, and other local residents are creating opportunities to present travelers with an in-depth and unique look at Bermuda. Arrangements for tours can be made through the Visitors Information

Centres (p. 200). Most tours charge admission fees that range from $10 to $35. The following is a list of tours currently available through the Bermuda Explorers Program:

ART & ARCHITECTURE WALK A pre-opening-hours tour starts at the Bermuda National Gallery with a museum curator, then continues into the town of Hamilton. Guests receive a map of art in public places and local galleries and can meet with the gallery owners or artists on their own.

GUMBA TRAIL A historic journey through time via a cultural nature walk, the trail describes the background of the Caribbean Junkanoo dancers and their connection to the Gombeyes of Bermuda, along with commentary on the island's plant life and its uses.

VERDMONT HISTORIC HOUSE MUSEUM A historian from the National Trust accompanies visitors on a private tour of Vermont. Built in 1710, the house contains Bermuda's most notable collection of antique cedar-wood furniture, portraits, and toys.

Environmental Tours

The not-for-profit Bermuda Institute of Ocean Sciences has collected the world's most comprehensive data on the oceanographic absorption of human-released carbon dioxide. It has tracked carbon dioxide levels for more than 40 years over a 21km (13-mile) area southeast of Bermuda. The National Science Foundation awarded the station a $500,000 grant to study climate change, the greenhouse effect, and the carbon cycle. The station has also compiled an extensive record on acid rain in the North American atmosphere.

You can learn firsthand what the station's scientists are studying by taking a free guided tour of the grounds and laboratory in St. George. Guides explain what scientific studies are being conducted in Bermuda and how they relate to the overall world environment. They also discuss the island's natural areas, including the coral reefs, which are protected by strict conservation laws, and how humans have produced changes in the fragile ecological environment.

Trained volunteers and scientists who are carrying out studies conduct the educational tours, offered at 10am on Wednesday. Visitors should assemble before 10am in the Biological Station's Hanson Hall. For more information, contact the Bermuda Biological Station for Research, 17 Biological Lane, Ferry Reach, St. George (☎ 441/297-1880; www.bios.edu). The tour lasts 1 hour.

SHOPPING

8

Retailers on less prosperous islands attribute Bermuda's continuing reputation as a shopping mecca not only to the superb climate, but also to many years of skillful marketing. Indeed, no one has ever accused Bermudians of not knowing how to sell their island—or their rich inventories of goods.

Bermuda, once widely hailed as a “showcase of the British Empire,” is still that, at least in its variety of goods. The retail scene draws upon its British antecedents: Shopkeepers are generally both polite and discreet, and merchandise is unusual and well made. In addition, most retailers take full advantage of location. Shops usually occupy charming cottages or historically important buildings, making shopping even more fun. Even visitors who intend to do no more than window-shop are likely to break down and make a purchase or two.

In most cases, shopping on Bermuda is about quality, not bargains. Shops face huge import tariffs, plus employee-related taxes, leading to what some view as outrageously high prices. And it rarely pays to comparison shop—the price of a watch in a branch store in St. George is likely to be exactly the same as it is in the main shop in the City of Hamilton.

Bermuda's Best Buys

Most of Bermuda's best shops are along Front Street in the City of Hamilton, where shopping is relaxed and casual. Among the choicest items are imports from Great Britain and Ireland, such as fine china, crystal, and cashmere sweaters and tweed jackets. Many items cost appreciably less than in their country of origin.

Because of a special “colony-like” arrangement with Great Britain, certain British goods are cheaper in Bermuda than in the United States, thanks to lower import tariffs. Some frequent visitors stock up on porcelain, crystal, silverware, jewelry, timepieces, and perfume, perhaps anticipating a wedding gift several months in advance. The island abounds with merchandisers of fine tableware, including Royal Copenhagen, Wedgwood, and Royal Crown Derby. Crystal is also plentiful, with many of the finest manufacturers in Europe and North America providing wide selections of merchandise. For a fee, most items can be shipped.

Liquor is also a good buy in Bermuda. U.S. citizens are allowed to bring back only 1 liter duty-free, but even adding U.S. tax and duty, you can save 35% to 50% on liquor purchases, depending on the brand. Liqueurs offer the largest savings.

The island's wealth of antiques and collectibles is extraordinary. Antiques lovers appreciate Bermuda's fusion of British aesthetic and mid-Atlantic charm. The island has a wealth of antique engravings and 19th-century furniture. Its modern artwork and handmade pottery and crafts are elegant souvenirs. And anyone interested in carrying home a piece of Bermuda's nautical heritage can choose from oversize ship's propellers, captain's bells, brass nameplates, scale models of sailing ships, or maybe even an old-fashioned ship's steering wheel from a salvaged shipwreck.

Other good buys are "Bermudiana"—products made on Bermuda or manufactured elsewhere exclusively for local stores. They include cedar-wood gifts, carriage bells, coins commemorating the 375th anniversary of the island's settlement, flower plates by Spode, pewter tankards, handcrafted gold jewelry, traditional-line handbags with cedar or mahogany handles, miniature cottages in ceramic or limestone, shark's teeth polished and mounted in 14-karat gold, decorative kitchen items, Bermuda shorts (of course), silk scarves, and watches with a map of Bermuda on their faces.

Although some items might be less expensive than they are stateside, be aware that many others are overpriced. You should be familiar with the prices of comparable goods back home before making any big purchases.

THE SHOPPING SCENE

Where to Go

THE CITY OF HAMILTON

The widest range of shopping choices is in the City of Hamilton (see "In the City of Hamilton," below). Most shops are on Front Street, but you should explore the back streets as well, especially if you're an adventurous shopper.

The Emporium on Front Street, a restored building constructed around an atrium, houses a number of shops, including jewelry stores. Windsor Place on Queen Street is another Bermuda-style shopping mall.

HISTORIC ST. GEORGE

The "second city" of St. George also has many shops, stores, and boutiques, including branches of the City of Hamilton's famous Front Street stores. King's Square, the center of St. George, is home to many shops. The other major centers are Somers Wharf and Water Street.

In recent years, this historic port has emerged as a big-time shopping competitor to the City of Hamilton. It's easier to walk around St. George than the City of Hamilton, and St. George is more architecturally interesting, so more and more customers are choosing to do their shopping here. Of course, St. George doesn't have as vast an array of merchandise as the City of Hamilton, so the serious shopper might want to explore both cities.

SANDYS PARISH

Don't overlook the shopping possibilities of the West End. Somerset Village in Sandys Parish has many shops (though quite a few are branches of the City of Hamilton

The Eternal Search for Bargains

During the off season (autumn and winter), stores often reduce prices to make way for goods for the new season. But sales come and go year-round—keep an eye out for sale signs no matter when you're in Bermuda.

stores). At the Royal Naval Dockyard area on Ireland Island, you can visit the Craft Market, Island Pottery, and the Bermuda Arts Centre at Dockyard, where you'll see local artisans at work.

What You Should Know

STORE HOURS

Stores in the City of Hamilton, St. George, and Somerset are generally open Monday through Saturday from 9am to 5:30pm. When large liners are in port, stores may stay open later, and are sometimes open on Sundays. For more information on the local shopping scene, visit www.experiencebermuda.com/shopping.

FINDING AN ADDRESS

Some Front Street stores post numbers on their buildings; others don't. Sometimes the number posted or used is the "historic" number of the building, which has nothing to do with the modern number. You can always ask for directions, and most Bermudians are willing to help. Outside the City of Hamilton, don't expect to find numbers on buildings at all—or even street names in some cases.

SALES TAX & DUTY

There's no sales tax in Bermuda, but it's not a duty-free island. Depending on which country you're returning to, you may have to pay duty. See "Customs," in the "Fast Facts" section of chapter 10, for details.

Note: Bermuda is covered by the U.S. law regarding "Generalized System of Preferences" status. That means that if at least 35% of an item has been crafted in Bermuda, you can bring it back duty-free, regardless of how much you spent. If you've gone beyond your $800 allotment, make a separate list of goods made in Bermuda. This will make it easier for the customs officials (and for you).

IN THE CITY OF HAMILTON

Between 7 and 10pm every Wednesday night, Hamilton Harbour Nights are staged along Front Street in Bermuda's capital. Late-night shopping becomes a festival, with street performers, horse-and-carriage rides, a variety of live entertainment, and arts and crafts exhibitions. There's a food court and even children's activities.

Department Stores

Generations of Bermuda-bound visitors made Trimingham's and Smith's, headquartered along Front Street, their first stops for shopping. Several years ago, these venerable department stores closed their doors. Although nothing will replace the loss of these emporiums in the hearts of many locals, you can find some of the same type of merchandise at Marks & Spencer, A. S. Cooper & Sons, and to a lesser degree, Gibbons.

A. S. Cooper & Sons Traditionally, this place has been best known for its selection of crystal and porcelain, but in the wake of the collapse of Trimingham's and Smith's, Cooper has beefed up its cosmetics, perfumes, and men's and women's fashion selections as well. For more on A. S. Cooper, refer to "China & Glassware" below. 59 Front St. ☎ 441/295-3961. www.ascooper.bm.

Gibbons Sprawling and cost-efficient, Gibbons isn't the first choice for locals looking for classy, upscale clothing and housewares, but it's a second-tier choice for sundries, the necessities of housekeeping, and that shower curtain you know you needed back home but never had time to buy. Costs are more reasonable than at Marks & Spencer, but the venue is, frankly, a lot less chic. 21 Reid St. ☎ 441/295-0022. www.gibbons.bm.

Marks & Spencer This branch of the famous British chain (sometimes oddly called “St. Michael”) carries the same reliable merchandise as its sibling stores in the British Isles. You’ll find men’s, women’s, and children’s fashions in everything from resort wear to sleepwear, including lingerie. There are also well-tailored dresses and suits, dress shirts, blazers, and British-tailored trousers, as well as swimwear, toiletries, house and giftware, fabrics sold by the yard or meter, and English sweets and biscuits. 28 Reid St. ☎ 441/295-5516. www2.marksandspencer.com.

8 Goods A to Z

ART

Bermuda Society of Arts (BSOA) ★★ Loosely associated with the Bermudian government, this store is devoted to the exhibition of works by Bermuda-based artists and is one of the focal points of the island’s arts scene. The West Wing of Hamilton’s City Hall (the island’s Fine Arts Museum occupies the East Wing) is the permanent home of the oldest arts society on Bermuda. The site contains four separate exhibition areas, where the artwork changes every 3 weeks. Themes range from the moderately avant-garde to the conservative, and every show includes dozens of examples of Bermudian landscapes, seascapes, or architectural renderings, any of which would make worthwhile souvenirs of your stay on the island. All merchandise can be packed for airplane transport. West Wing of City Hall, 17 Church St. ☎ 441/292-3824. www.bsoa.bm.

BEACHWEAR & SUNGLASSES

Calypso Calypso carries casual, fun fashions (including unusual garments from Max Mara and Benetton) and the most comprehensive selection of swimwear on Bermuda. The shop also features Italian leather goods, espadrilles, hats, bags, Italian ceramics, beach wraps, and whimsical gift items. It’s the exclusive island retailer of Louis Vuitton luggage and accessories. 23–24 Front St. ☎ 441/295-2112. www.calypsobermuda.com. Additional branches at the Fairmont Southampton, Elbow Beach Hotel, Coral Beach Club, and the Dockyard.

Sail on Bermuda The locals shop at this store, which carries a unique collection of casual wear, bathing suits, and gifts. A recent poll of shoppers named Sail on Bermuda’s T-shirts the best on Bermuda. A small addition, called “Shades of Bermuda,” has the finest collection of sunglasses on the island. The store also sells sailing suits. Old Cellar, in the Walker Arcade Front St. (btw. Burnaby and Queen sts.). ☎ 441/295-0808.

BOOKS

The Bookmart This is the biggest bookstore on Bermuda. It specializes in best-sellers—mainly from the U.S. market—and carries works by British authors as well. One section is devoted to books about the island. There’s also a well-stocked section for the kiddies. Phoenix Centre, 3 Reid St. ☎ 441/279-5441. www.bookmart.bm.

CHINA & GLASSWARE

A. S. Cooper & Sons ★★ Bermuda’s oldest and largest china and glassware store—family owned since 1897—offers a broad range of fine bone china, earthenware, glassware, and jewelry. Among the famous names represented are Minton, Royal Doulton, Belleek, Aynsley, Villeroy & Bosch, Wedgwood, Royal Copenhagen,

The Right Fit

Recognizing that the majority of their customers hail from North America, store managers throughout Bermuda do their best to systematically relabel garments from manufacturers in Europe and the U.K. with sizes that correspond to usage in the U.S. But if for any reason the garment that appeals to you carries a European or British label and hasn't been relabeled, clothing salespersons throughout Bermuda have conversion charts readily available.

and Lladró. The Crystal Room displays Orrefors, Waterford, Royal Brierley, and Kosta Boda. The perfume department offers cosmetics and selections from the world's greatest perfumeries. On the upper floors, there's lots of fashion for men and women, including such labels as Port Marion, Ralph Lauren, Calvin Klein, and Lacoste. 59 Front St. ☎ 441/295-3961. www.ascooper.bm.

Bluck's ★ Established in 1844, Bluck's is well-known for carrying some of the finest names in china, including Royal Worcester, Spode, Royal Doulton, and Herend porcelain from Hungary. The choice in crystal is equally impressive: Kosta Boda, Waterford, Baccarat, Daum, and Lalique (exclusive with Bluck's). 4 Front St. ☎ 441/295-5367. www.blucksbermuda.com.

FASHION

Also see "Shoes," "Sportswear," and "Woolens," below.

Cécile Well-stocked Cécile is the center for women's high fashion on Bermuda. Management boasts that visiting Cécile shops is like calling upon the fashion capitals of the world—you'll find labels such as Basler, Emilio Pucci, Lilly Pulitzer, and Gottex. Its sweater and accessories boutique is also outstanding. 15 Front St. (near the Visitor Information Centre and the Ferry Terminal). ☎ 441/295-1311.

David Winston This shop sells career-oriented clothing for men, some of it imported from Germany and Holland. In recent years, its collections of shirts, ties, jackets, and suits have gotten bigger and fuller, and more in synch with American, rather than Continental or British, physiques. David Winston is the exclusive island distributor of Hugo Boss. 2 Reid St. ☎ 441/295-4866.

Iana Associated with Stefanel, which lies almost immediately in front of it, this boutique focuses exclusively on clothing for children. 12 Walker Arcade, Front St. (btw. Burnaby and Queen sts.). ☎ 441/292-0002.

Stefanel This is the island's only outlet for the clothing of Carlo Stefanel, a well-known Italian designer. Stocking merchandise for women, the store sells handmade skirts (some of them knit) with contrasting jackets and a stylish array of accessories. 7 Reid St. or 12 Walker Arcade, Front St. (btw. Burnaby and Queen sts.). ☎ 441/295-5698.

GIFTS

Carole Holding Studio ★ The England-born genius behind this trio of shops has evolved into one of the most famous female entrepreneurs in Bermuda, thanks to hard work and a knack for churning out gift items that instantly evoke happy memories of the island. Her inventories focus on original artworks, as well as hand-painted and/or handcrafted items that include Bermuda scenes painted onto china teapots, bread and cheese boards, porcelain storage containers, coffee mugs, and illuminated recipe books. There's also a scrumptious array of food items that includes rum cakes (the version with lemon and coconut is fabulous), onion marmalades, hot pepper jellies, and "dark and stormy" jam with black rum and ginger. 81 Front St., in Hamilton.

☎ 441/296-3431. Additional locations in the lower lobby of the Fairmont Southampton Resort, ☎ 441/238-7310; and King's Square in St. George's, ☎ 441/297-1833. www.caroleholding.bm.

Riihluoma's Flying Colours This is everybody's favorite catchall emporium for inexpensive, impulse-purchase souvenirs and T-shirts with perky slogans. You'll also find paperweights, beach coverups, sarongs, key chains shaped like Bermuda, and arts and crafts. The establishment's hard-to-spell name comes from the Finnish-born family that established it in 1937 and still manages it today. 5 Queen St. ☎ 441/295-0890. www.flyingcolours.bm.

Vera P. Card Vera P. Card is known for its "gifts from around the world," including the island's largest collection of Lladró and Hummel figurines. The crystal department offers a wide assortment of Austrian, Czech, and Bohemian crystal, giftware, and chandeliers. Look for the "Bermuda Collection" of 14-karat gold jewelry as well as an impressive collection of colored gemstones. Two stores are in St. George's, at 7 Water St., ☎ 441/297-1718; and 22 Water St., ☎ 441/295-1729.

GROCERS

The Marketplace This is the largest grocery store on the island, catering to locals and vacationers alike. There are various branches scattered across the island, but the chain headquarters is in Hamilton at the address below. Started in 1939, the chain was originally called Piggly Wiggly. If you don't want to cook, you can purchase pre-cooked food here to carry away with you, including homemade soups, freshly made salads, main courses for dinner, even stir-fries and luscious desserts. Locals often drop in for a hot lunch, and there is a lot of organic foodstuff. The main branch stays open until 10pm, and even keeps Sunday hours from 1 to 5pm. 42 Church St. ☎ 441/295-6006. www.marketplace.bm.

Miles Market Visiting New Yorkers call this Balducci's of Bermuda because of its upmarket selection of gourmet food items. On site is the first Godiva coffee bar in the world, and, of course, all Godiva chocolate products are for sale. If you are cooking, you'll find the best selection of meat on the island, including hand-selected and aged beef, along with lamb, pork, poultry, and seafood. Their "World of Cheese" is a special, exotic treat as well. The outlet will also deliver your bag of groceries anywhere on the island. 96 Pitts Bay Rd. (near Fairmont Hamilton Princess), in Hamilton. ☎ 441/295-1234.

JEWELRY

Astwood Dickinson Here you'll find a treasure-trove of famous-name watches, including Patek Philippe, Cartier, Tiffany, Tag Heuer, and Omega, plus designer jewelry, all at prices generally below U.S. retail. From the original Bermuda collection, you can select an 18-karat gold memento of the island (jeweled representations of local flora, fauna, and landmarks). 83-85 Front St. ☎ 441/292-5805. Additional location in Walker Arcade on Front St. (btw. Burnaby and Queen sts.). ☎ 441/292-4247. www.astwooddickinson.com.

E. R. Aubrey, Jewellers This shop carries an extensive collection of gold chains, rings with precious and semiprecious stones, and charms, including one of the Bermuda longtail bird. 101 Front St. E. ☎ 441/295-3826.

H. S. & J. E. Crisson Ltd. Crisson is the exclusive Bermuda agent for Rolex, Ebel, and Seiko watches, and for other well-known makers. It also carries an extensive selection of fine jewelry and gems. 55 and 71 Front St. ☎ 441/295-2351. www.crisson.com.

Swiss Timing All the best names in Swiss watchmaking are found here, including Rodania, Certina, Oris, and Zenith, along with a selection of semiprecious jewelry, gold chains, and bracelets. 95 Front St. ☎ 441/295-1376.

Walker Christopher Goldsmiths ★★ For the past decade or so, the Bermudian magazine has cited this goldsmith for selling the finest jewelry on the island. The shop showcases everything from classic diamond bands to strands of South Sea pearls to modern hand-hammered chokers. The store also carries a collection of rare coins—gold doubloons and silver “pieces of eight” salvaged from sunken galleons, as well as Greek and Roman coins that can be mounted and worn as pendants, earrings, and cuff links. Even Egyptian artifacts have been transformed into wearable art. Customers who have their own design in mind can work with a master jeweler to craft a one-of-a-kind piece. The on-site workshop also produces Bermuda-inspired gold jewelry and sterling silver Christmas ornaments. 9 & 69 Front St. ☎ 441/295-1466. www.walkerchristopher.com.

LEATHER GOODS

The Harbourmaster This is your best bet for luggage and leather goods. These value items are from Colombia and are often sold at prices that are lower than in the United States. There are more expensive leather goods from Italy (such as handbags), plus an extensive collection of wallets, and nylon and canvas tote bags. The shop also stocks travel accessories, including luggage carts. Washington Mall. ☎ 441/295-5333.

Lusso More high-end than many of the other stores selling mostly women’s purses, handbags, suitcases, shoes, and perfume, this is a store that causes trend-conscious materialists on Bermuda to actually salivate upon mention of its name. Brands it carries read like a Who’s Who from a recent edition of Vogue: Fendi, Prada, Ferragamo, and Jimmy Choo. 49 Front St. in Hamilton. ☎ 441/295-2672.

LINENS

The Irish Linen Shop At Heyl’s Corner, near the “Birdcage” police officer post, this is the biggest distributor of luxury bed linens in Bermuda. Inventories include pure linen tablecloths from Ireland, and bed sheets and tablecloths from Souleiaido of Provence and from other purveyors of luxury bed- and table-linens from around the world. The owners go to Europe twice a year and bring back exceptional items such as Madeira hand embroidery and Belgian lace. You can often save as much as 50% over American prices. 31 Front St. (at Queen St.). ☎ 441/295-4089.

LIQUOR & LIQUEURS

You are allowed to take what U.S. Customs calls a “reasonable amount” of liquor from Bermuda to the United States. There is a duty-free allowance, but you merely pay overage to U.S. Customs at the airport (see “Last-Minute Purchases,” at the end of this chapter). Even with the duty, prices are often lower than those in the States.

Burrows, Lightbourn Ltd. This is the best and most comprehensive liquor store in Bermuda, with a wide array of spirits in various price ranges. You can put together your own package of Bermuda liquors at in-bond or duty-free prices. The store will deliver your packages to the airport or to your ship. E. Broadway in downtown Hamilton. ☎ 441/295-1554. There are additional locations at Harbour Rd. in Paget Parish, ☎ 441/236-0355; at Water St. in St. George’s, ☎ 441/297-0552; and at the airport.

Gosling Brothers, Ltd. The leading competitor of Burrows, Gosling has been selling liquor on Bermuda since 1806. One of their best-sellers is Gosling’s Black Seal

Branching Out

You'll often find branches of City of Hamilton's stores at major resorts. The prices—even when there's a sale—are the same as those charged by the parent stores in the City of Hamilton.

Although the selection is more limited, resort boutiques remain open on Sunday, when most stores in the City of Hamilton are shuttered.

8

In the City of Hamilton

SHOPPING

dark rum, which is viewed as a key ingredient in some Bermuda recipes, including some versions of rum cakes and fish chowder. In addition to their own rum, the store stocks a wide selection of liquors, liqueurs, and wines. If you want to buy liquor to take home under your duty-free allowance, you can arrange to have it sent to the airport. Front and Queen sts. ☎ 441/298-7337. Other locations at 17 Dundonald St., ☎ 441/295-1123; in St. George's at the corner of York and Queen sts., ☎ 441/297-1364; and at the airport. www.goslingsrum.com.

PHOTOGRAPHIC EQUIPMENT

P-Tech A leading outlet for photographic and electronic equipment, this outfit stocks cameras, film, and accessories for Canon, Sony, Nikon, Pentax, Fuji, Olympus, and other big names. The store also carries top-of-the-line picture frames and camera bags. Also sold are tapes, tape recorders, and other supplies. 5 Reid St. ☎ 441/295-5496.

SHOES

W. J. Boyle & Son ★ In business since 1884, this shop offers footwear for men, women, and children. With the best collection in town, it specializes in brand-name footwear from England, Spain, Brazil, and the United States (including Clarks of England, Cole Haan, and Enzo Angiolini). Queen St. at Church St. ☎ 441/295-1887.

SILVER

Otto Wurz Co. Otto Wurz is at the western end of Front Street, past the Ferry Terminal and the Bank of Bermuda. It specializes in articles made of silver, including jewelry, charms, and bracelets. One section of the store is devoted to gift items, such as pewter ware, cute wooden signs, and glassware. 3-5 Front St. (btw. Par-la-Ville and Bermudiana rds.). ☎ 441/295-1247.

SPORTSWEAR

Upstairs Golf & Tennis Shop Everything you'll need for the tennis courts or the golf links is available in this amply stocked store. For golfers, there's merchandise by Ping, Callaway, TaylorMade, Titleist, and Adams. Tennis enthusiasts will recognize products by Wilson, Yonex, and many others. 26 Church St. ☎ 441/295-5161.

STAMPS

Perot Post Office Philatelists from all over the world visit this office to buy postage stamps from Bermuda. Highly prized by collectors, the stamps often feature historic figures and the island's flora and fauna. Stamps commemorating the 400th anniversary of Jamestown, Virginia, and the 19th-century sailing sloop Spirit of Bermuda are two of the most coveted stamps. Open Monday through Friday from 9am to 5pm. Queen St., at the entrance to Par-la-Ville Park. ☎ 441/297-7865.

TOBACCO

Many Americans come to Bermuda to enjoy Cuban cigars (which can't be brought back into the United States).

Chatham House Bermuda Chatham House is a historic retailer of Cuban cigars. Bermuda used to harvest its own tobacco, but now it is imported from Cuba. The store also carries pipes, Swiss Army knives, lighters, and postcards. 63 Front St. ☎ 441/292-8422.

WOOLENS

English Sports Shop This shop, established in 1918, is one of the island's leading retailers of quality classic and British woolen goods from Pringles and Marks & Spencer for men, women, and children. Its selection of sweaters, knit golf shirts, and Bermuda shorts is impeccable and, in many cases, appropriately "preppy." 49 Front St. in Hamilton. ☎ 441/295-2672.

AROUND THE ISLAND

As you leave the City of Hamilton and tour the island, you may want to continue looking for typical Bermudian items at the shops listed below.

For other shopping suggestions, consider the Bermuda Craft Market (p. 147) and The Birdsey Studio (p. 151) in Paget Parish.

Sandys Parish

IRELAND ISLAND

Bermuda Arts Centre at Dockyard This art gallery specializes in paintings, sculptures, and crafts, mostly by Bermudian artisans. New exhibitions are configured about every 6 weeks. Not to be confused with the nearby Bermuda Crafts Centre, with which it is not associated, it's sponsored by a local foundation and strives for more than a purely commercial approach to art. Prices range from $180 for a reproduction print to as much as $12,000 for an original. Lots of less expensive originals and craft items are also for sale. Some of the staff members here are well versed in the nuances of the local art scene. Maritime Dr., in the Royal Naval Dockyard. ☎ 441/234-2809. www.artbermuda.bm. Bus: 7 or 8.

The Dockyard Cakery/The Dockyard Glassworks ★★ Around 1820, the soaring masonry premises of this place were a repair yard for high-masted ships. Today, every inch of the cavernous room is filled with gift items (glassware and baked goods) that are created, displayed, and sold as part of an extraordinarily seamless

Comparison Shopping at Somers Wharf

The best place to begin shopping is at the Somers Wharf & Branch Stores along Water Street (bus no. 7), a coterie of shops that includes all the big names from the City of Hamilton, such as A. S. Cooper, the English Sports Shop, and the Crown Colony Shop. Of course, the parent branches in the City of Hamilton tend to be better stocked, but Somers Wharf makes shopping a pleasure because all the island's "name" shops are clustered together, making comparison shopping much easier.

entrepreneurial process. Somehow, the gift items here taste better and look more valuable because visitors are made aware of how they were made. During peak season, as many as 4,000 people a day wander through this historic factory, marveling at the shimmering beauty of the handblown, handcrafted glass items at one end of the room, and the unctuous flavors and aromas emerging from the “microbakery” at the other. (A microbakery specializes in a high volume of a very limited number of products—in this case, 10 different flavors of rum cakes.) Wendy Avery and Tony Johns are the hardworking owners who sell their cakes for between $13 and $40 depending on the size, and glass objects for between $2.50 and $700 depending on their complexity and size. In the Royal Dockyard, Sandys Parish. ☎ 441/234-4216. www.bermudarumcakes.com and www.dockglass.com.

Sharon Wilson Gallery From her private home, just minutes by foot from Horse-shoe Beach, local artist Sharon Wilson is known for going beyond the picture-postcard view of island life in an attempt to portray Bermuda’s spirit in more depth. She explores the scope of Bermudian life and its people through limited and open-edition lithographs and notecards. The gallery is also home to her picture book illustrations, the most well-known being the award-winning The Day Gogo Went to Vote. 2 Turtle Place. ☎ 441/238-2583. Bus: 7.

St. George’s Parish

The Book Cellar Built in the 18th century, this small but choice bookshop lies below Tucker House, a National Trust property. It caters to visitors and locals alike, including a lot of “yachties” who stop by to pick up reading material for their time at sea. A lot of people come here for the Cellar’s line of books about Bermuda. There’s also a wide array of fiction and nonfiction by British and American writers. Parents might be interested in picking up one of the children’s books published in Britain—many are quite different from similar editions in America. Water St. ☎ 441/297-0448. Bus: 7.

Cooper’s Frangipani This is a world of fun, colorful, “dressy casual” fashion for women. You’ll find a large selection of comfortable cottons, bright silks, and soft rayons. The store is known for its unusual merchandise, including exclusive island designs. There’s also a fine collection of swimwear and unusual accessories. 16 Water St., Somers Wharf. ☎ 441/297-1357. Bus: 7.

Taylor’s Go here for the finest selection of women’s and children’s kilts and tartans from Scotland. Most of the merchandise is for women, but you’ll also find slippers, neckties, and bowties. 30 Water St. ☎ 441/297-1626. Bus: 7.

Last-Minute Purchases

The international airport in Bermuda offers duty-free shops for those last-minute purchases. One shop is in the international departures lounge, and the other lies near the U.S. departures lounge. For that specialty purchase, you should still shop around the island, but now you can buy routine duty-free items such as perfume, cigarettes, and liquor just prior to boarding the plane. That sure beats the old system of buying duty-free liquor and cigarettes a day or so in advance and having them delivered to the airport.

BERMUDA AFTER DARK

As we mentioned already, nightlife is not one of the compelling reasons to go to Bermuda, although there is some after-dark action, mainly in the summer. If you visit during the winter, we trust you'll be content to nurse a drink in a pub.

In the summer, activity seems to float from hotel to hotel, which makes it hard to predict which pub or nightspot will have the best steel-drum or calypso band at any given time. Many pubs feature singalongs at the piano, a popular form of entertainment in Bermuda. Most of the big hotels offer shows after dinner, with combos filling in between shows for couples who like to dance.

The island's visitor centers and most hotels distribute free copies of such publications as Preview Bermuda, Bermuda Weekly, and This Week in Bermuda, which list the latest scheduled activities and events. There's a calendar of events in the Bermudian, sold at most newsstands.

You can also tune in to the local TV station, which constantly broadcasts information for visitors, including details on cultural events and nightlife offerings around the island. From 7am to noon daily, radio station 1160 AM (VSB) broadcasts news of Bermuda's cultural and entertainment events.

9

THE CLUB & MUSIC SCENE

Paget Parish

Deep Lounge & Nightclub Even if you're not a guest of Elbow Beach Resort, this is still a good place to relax and lounge around in the evening, enjoying a cool change of pace from the beach. In a sophisticated setting, you can sit on deep leather sofas, enjoying the subdued lighting and the recorded music. Light snacks are also available until midnight from the limited bar menu. Friday is usually a big night here when a more expanded lounge menu is offered from 9:30pm to 1am. The Elbow Beach Resort, 60 South Rd., Paget Parish. ☎ 441/236-3535. Bus: 1, 2, or 7.

Pembroke Parish (City of Hamilton)

Coconut Rock With a name more evocative of the Caribbean than of Bermuda, this restaurant has two of the most active bars in town, both with prices that are relatively reasonable for high-priced Bermuda. It draws locals and visitors (in equal numbers) with background music and videos of the hottest acts in the U.K. and America. The Yashi Bar is a sushi bar. Happy hour is Monday through Friday from 5 to 7pm. Open daily 11:30am to 1am. Williams House, 20 Reid St. ☎ 441/292-1043. Bus: 7 or 8.

LVs Piano Jazz Lounge ★ This custom-built venue is the best place on the island to hear international jazz, often American, which is performed on stage nightly. The bartenders specialize in exotic cocktails, and you can also order “small bites,” such as lobster and mango on a skewer with a sweet vanilla chili dressing or scallop ceviche with seaweed salad. There’s also a daily dim sum basket. Theme nights are a regular feature Monday to Friday 4 to 8pm, ranging from wines of the week on Monday to champagne night on Friday. Open Monday to Thursday noon to 1am, Friday noon to 3am, and Saturday 8am to 1am. 12 Bermudiana Rd. ☎ 441/296-3330. www.diningbermuda.com. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Opus It’s been described as a wine bar on steroids, drawing clients in their 30s, 40s, and 50s who appreciate the sometimes magnificent vintages that are sold here by the glass. It begins its day as a breakfast cafe, and serves sandwiches, salads, and wraps at lunchtime. But its charms are most visible after 5pm, when it’s a preferred after-hours venue for office workers and members of the banking and financial community from nearby Hamilton. The club, open Monday to Saturday 7am to 1am, charges from $7 to $16 for a glass of wine. 4 Bermudiana Rd. ☎ 441/292-3500. www.bermudasbestrestaurants.com. Bus: 7.

The Spinning Wheel If you’d like to escape from the tourist hordes for a pint of beer with the locals, head to this longtime neighborhood favorite, a virtual institution since its opening in 1970. Named for a song by Blood, Sweat, and Tears (remember them?), it’s a relaxing joint with an outdoor pool area with a bar, but it sometimes attracts rowdy locals. The place is most crowded with people from outside its immediate neighborhood whenever there’s a special event, such as a preannounced performance by a local. An upstairs section for dancing to reggae and more draws a young crowd. Happy hour is noon to 8pm Monday through Friday. Open daily noon to 3am. 33 Court St. ☎ 441/292-7799. Cover upstairs $15-$20 Fri-Sun. Bus: 7 or 8.

Southampton Parish

Henry VIII This restaurant (p. 100) is also a good bet for music and comedy. Piano tunes and singing are often featured, as are comedians. Performances begin at 9:30pm and last until the restaurant closes at 1am. The stage is visible from the pub and from one of the restaurant’s three dining areas. 56 South Shore Rd. ☎ 441/238-1977. www.henrys.bm. Bus: 7 or 8.

THE BAR SCENE

Hamilton Parish

Swizzle Inn The home of the Bermuda rum swizzle, this bar and restaurant (p. 119) lies west of the airport, near the Crystal Caves and the Bermuda Perfumery. You can order a Swizzleburger and fish and chips throughout the day. There’s live entertainment every night except Mondays and Wednesdays. The tradition is to tack your business card to any place you can find a spot, even the ceiling. The jukebox plays both soft and hard rock. Happy hour is Monday through Friday 5 to 7pm. Food is served from 11am to 10pm. In 2007, based on its roaring success in Hamilton Parish, this place opened a second branch in Warwick Parish, along Bermuda's south shore. Daily 11am to 1am. 3 Blue Hole Hill, Bailey's Bay. ☎ 441/293-1854. www.swizzleinn.com. Bus: 3 or 11.

Pembroke Parish (City of Hamilton)

Café Cairo For a few years, this Egyptian/Lebanese restaurant was known for the quality of its food and the exotic charm of its Middle Eastern aesthetics. But as business fell away and standards declined, it's now best recommended as a late-night bar where night owls from throughout Bermuda descend for after-hour drinks, dialogues, a flirtation or two, and perhaps a plate of food. Its decor includes elaborately carved doors and window screens imported from the souks of Egypt, copper tables and artifacts hauled in from Cairo, and the kind of diffused lighting that seems to well up from behind the chairs, tables, and chests. Lunch and dinner are served daily from noon to 4pm and from 6pm to midnight, with main courses priced from $23 to around $75, but frankly, we prefer the place as a bar. Within the shadowy world favored by late-night denizens of Bermuda, Café Cairo's main competition derives from the nearby and also-recommended Square One (see below). The bar remains open until 3am every night except Sunday. 95 Front St. ☎ 441/295-5155. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Casey's There's nothing flashy about this long, narrow room, which seems to be a favorite with locals. Look for yellowed photographs of old Bermuda and a carefully preserved, wall-mounted marlin caught by the owner in 1982. Friday nights here are the hands-down winner as the most popular on the island, and the joint overflows. (And frankly, other nights here are a lot less thrilling.) Go here if you like to wander far off-the-beaten tourist trail and want to hang out with local Bermudians. Monday to Saturday 10am to 10pm. 25 Queen St. (btw. Reid and Church sts.). ☎ 441/292-9994. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Docksider No other bar in Bermuda seems as distinctly controversial and divided into warring camps: Men swear by it, sometimes defining it as their favorite bar, while some of their female peers object to ever even going there. Go figure. Maybe it's the kind of place best reserved for men taking a break from their significant others. At any rate, along its cedar bar you'll find some of the most avid sports fans on Bermuda. There are 15 TVs (including 3 large plasma screens). One section is a wine bar, which is more intimate. You can order pub grub, such as fish and chips or shepherd's pie. On some Fridays, there is a DJ. Happy hour is daily from 5 to 7pm. Open daily 11am to 1am (until 2am Fri and Sat). 121 Front St. ☎ 441/296-3333. www.dockies.com. Bus: 1, 2, 10, or 11.

Flanagan's On the second floor of a landmark building in the heart of Hamilton's business district, this restaurant and pub is one of Bermuda's most visible symbols of Irish nationalism and "the 100,000 welcomes" (cead míle fáilte) that often go with it. It's known for some of the town's best music—reggae, Top 40, rock, soca, and what is often called "party music." There are two bars that feature exotic drinks. Happy hour is daily from 5 to 7pm. In the sports bar, you can watch European soccer matches or other sports; there are eight 27-inch screens. Daily 10am to 1am. Emporium Building, 69 Front St. ☎ 441/295-8299. www.flanagans.bm. Bus: 7 or 8.

Heritage Court Most of the time, this pub within the Fairmont Hamilton Princess seems starched, a bit stuffy, and patronized by a clientele preoccupied with whatever sales meeting they're on their way to or from. But whatever you believe to be true about this place will change, perhaps radically, if you venture inside between May and October on any Friday night between 5:30 and 10pm. Then again, thanks to the hordes of singles who gather on the nearby verandas of the hotel that contains it, there might not be room to sit. Some islanders insist that it's the hottest and most easy-to-flirt-with-a-stranger venue on the island. We can't confirm that for sure, but with more than a thousand partiers who cram into this place to hear the live entertainment and to see and be seen, the assertion doesn't seem far-fetched. In the Fairmont Princess Hotel, 76 Pitts Bay Rd. ☎ 441/295-3000. Bus: 10 or 11.

The Pickled Onion ★★ For years, Ye Old Cock & Feather was one of Bermuda's landmark pubs. In 1997, after a multimillion-dollar renovation, it glaringly changed its image (as well as its name), and the once fairly staid pub became a stop on the trend-conscious after-dark circuit. Funky fabrics cover the booths and tables where patrons listen to music that ranges from Top 40 to blues to oldies and hits of the past 50 years. Live music starts at 10pm during the summer season. This place is sometimes cited as one of the few bars in Bermuda that continues to serve snacks and pub grub during the midafternoon, when many of its competitors have locked up their kitchens. Happy hour is Monday to Friday from 5 to 7pm. Open daily from 11:30am to around 1am (Fri–Sat until 2am). 53 Front St. ☎ 441/295-2263. Bus: 7 or 8.

The Robin Hood More than most other drinking spots in Bermuda, this one attracts expatriates from the U.K. who might, if they're in a good mood, satirically describe themselves as "good-natured blokes" and "merry wenches." Set within a 10-minute walk from the offices of downtown Hamilton, it serves foaming pints of lager and hale and hearty pub fare, including some of Bermuda's best pizzas. It's also one of the island's premier sports bars, with big-screen coverage of various U.S. and British league competitions. Some nights, a master of ceremonies conducts trivia quizzes, while other nights focus on reggae and rock 'n' roll. And when it's particularly rowdy, a prize might be awarded to the patron who can drink a pint of ale the fastest. Monday through Saturday 11am to 1am, Sunday noon to 1am. 25 Richmond Rd. ☎ 441/295-3314. Bus: 1 or 2.

Sandys Parish

The Frog & Onion Pub Converted from an 18th-century cooperage, or barrel-making factory, this sprawling and perhaps haunted British-style pub (p. 96) is within the solid stone walls of the Royal Naval Dockyard. Sprawling and steeped in a sense of British military history, it serves stiff drinks and bar snacks throughout the afternoon and evening. Established years ago by a "frog" (a Frenchman) and an "onion" (a Bermudian), the pub is open daily 11:30am to 1am. The Cooperage, Royal Naval Dockyard, Ireland Island. ☎ 441/234-2900. Bus: 7 or 8.

Smith's Parish

North Rock Brewing Company When this likable pub was first established, it did most of its brewing right on the premises, and as such, did a lot to raise the local community's appreciation for the nuances of fine brew-making. Alas, in 2007, the actual fabrication of the beer was moved to a distant location on the western tip of the island, in the Royal Dockyard. So although you can certainly drink and appreciate the only beer brewed on Bermuda, the actual brewing won't happen, as in days of yore, directly in front of you. Regardless, Bermuda-brewed lagers and ales are king here, and available only for local consumption unless you opt to actually haul a bottle or two back with you. Depending on the day, the inventories, and the season, you'll find brews known respectively as "Whale of a Wheat" and "North Rock Porter." The outdoor roadside patio adds a British flavor (p. 116). Happy hour is Monday through Friday from 5 to 7pm. The pub is open daily from 11am to 1am. 10 South Rd. ☎ 441/236-6633. Bus: 1.

Southampton Parish

Jasmine Adjacent to the lobby of the Fairmont Southampton, this elegant, hip, and distinctly urban club has become a popular spot for mixing, mingling, flirting, and greeting an upscale and sometimes nubile collection of locals and short-term visitors to Bermuda. It's also a place to get the quintessential martini. There's a monumental fireplace that roars away during inclement weather, and lots of deeply upholstered sofas that are hard to leave. Light dishes that include salads, sandwiches, and pizza are available as well. The joint really jumps when live entertainment is featured. Drinks begin at $8. Daily 11am to midnight. In the Fairmont Southampton, 101 South Rd. ☎ 441/238-8000. Private ferry to Fairmont Hamilton.

St. George's Parish

The little port of St. George and adjoining St. David's Island are a pubber's haven. Our favorite is Black Horse Tavern (p. 120), a suitable spot for a congenial evening in good company. It lies on St. David's Island immediately adjoining St. George, and is worth the trek over. If you get hungry, you can always order a plate of shark hash to go with your beer. The oldest pub in St. George, White Horse Tavern (p. 122), remains an enduring favorite. It's jammed most evenings with a mixture of locals and visitors. We especially like the location of this one—at the water's edge, overlooking the harbor. Don't expect speedy service in any of these joints.

THE PERFORMING ARTS

Ballet

The Bermuda Civic Ballet presents classical ballets at various venues. On occasion, a major European or American guest artist appears with the troupe. The National Dance Theater of Bermuda also stages performances, both classical and modern, around the island. Ask at the tourist office or call the box office at the Visitors Information Centre (p. 200) to check the troupe's schedules during your visit; prices vary with the performance.

Classical Music

The Bermuda Philharmonic Society, which maintains strong links to the orchestral scene in the U.K., presents four regular concerts during the season. Special outdoor "Classical Pops" concerts are presented on the first weekend in June in St. George and at the Royal Naval Dockyard. Concerts usually feature the Bermuda Philharmonic orchestra, the choir, and guest soloists. You can get tickets and concert schedules by calling Sue Blakely at ☎ 441/238-1108. Tickets generally cost $18 to $25; seniors and students are often granted discounts, depending on the performance.

Gombey Dancing

Ask at the tourist office or call the box office at the Visitors Information Centre (p. 200) to see whether the gombey dancers (p. 31) will be performing during your stay. Gombey (commonly pronounced goom-bee or gom-bay) is the island's single most important cultural expression of African heritage. Once part of slave culture, the

The Big Event: The Bermuda Festival

Bermuda's major cultural event is the Bermuda Festival, staged every January and February. Outstanding international classical, jazz, and pop artists perform, and major theatrical and dance companies from around the globe stage productions. During the festival, performances take place on varying nights. Ticket prices start at $55, $20 for children's shows. Some festival tickets are reserved until 48 hours before curtain time for visitors. Visitors who'd like tickets can contact Axiom (☎ 441/907-4262; www.bermudafestival.org), which holds back a number of tickets that locals cannot access. Most performances are at City Hall Theatre, City Hall, Church Street, the City of Hamilton. For more information and reservations, contact the Bermuda Festival, P.O. Box HM 297, Hamilton HM AX, Bermuda (☎ 441/295-1291; fax 441/295-7403; www.bermudafestival.org).

9

tradition dates from the mid-1700s. The national dance troupe of talented men and women often performs at one of the big hotels in winter (and, on occasion, aboard cruise ships for passengers). On holidays, you'll see the gombey dancers dancing through the streets of the City of Hamilton in colorful costumes.

Musical Theater

Bermuda is the only place outside of Cambridge where Harvard University's Hasty Pudding Theatricals are staged. Performances have been presented in Bermuda during College Weeks (Mar–Apr) since the 1960s. They're staged at the City Hall Theatre on Church Street in the City of Hamilton; call the box office at the Visitors Information Centre (see above) for tickets, costing about $26 each.

PLANNING YOUR TRIP TO BERMUDA

Settling into Bermuda is relatively easy. First-timers soon learn that Bermuda isn't one island, as is commonly thought, but a string of islands linked by causeways and bridges—at least the 20 or so that are inhabited. The other islands can be reached by boat.

In this chapter, you'll find everything you need to plan your trip. Getting to Bermuda is easier than ever, thanks to more frequent flights from such gateway cities as New York, Boston, and Washington, D.C. We also include information on several cruise lines that sail to the island from spring until late autumn.

GETTING THERE

By Plane

The flight from most East Coast destinations—including New York, Raleigh/Durham, Baltimore, and Boston—takes about 2 hours. Flights from Atlanta take 2½ hours; from Toronto, it's less than 3 hours. From London, England, the trip takes about 7 hours.

American Airlines (☎ 800/433-7300; www.aa.com) flies nonstop, twice a day, from New York's JFK Airport and once daily from Miami. Departures coincide with dozens of connecting flights from elsewhere in North America.

Delta (☎ 800/221-1212; www.delta.com) offers daily nonstop service from Boston and New York and two flights daily from Atlanta.

Continental Airlines (☎ 800/231-0856; www.continental.com) offers nonstop service from New Jersey's Newark Airport. Departures are twice daily. The low-cost carrier JetBlue Airways (☎ 800/538-2583; www.jetblue.com) offers two daily nonstop flights between New York and Bermuda. The 2-hour flights originate at Kennedy International Airport.

US Airways (☎ 800/428-4322; www.usairways.com) offers daily nonstop flights from Washington, D.C.

USA3000 Airlines (☎ 877/872-3000; www.USA3000.com), a low-fare, full-service airline, is the newest air route to Bermuda, flying three times weekly from Baltimore/Washington International Airport and twice weekly from Newark.

Packing Tip

Bermuda is more formal than most resort destinations, so men planning to dine at upscale restaurants should be sure to pack a jacket and tie.

United Airlines (☎ 800/538-2929; www.united.com) offers daily service from Chicago.

Air Canada (☎ 888/247-2262; www.aircanada.ca) offers daily non-stop flights from Toronto, with frequent connections into Toronto from virtually every other city in Canada.

The flight departs around 9am, permitting convenient connections from Montreal and Quebec City. The airline also offers a nonstop flight from Halifax on Saturday at noon.

The airline of choice from the United Kingdom is British Airways (☎ 0844/493-0787; www.britishairways.com). It flies from London's Gatwick Airport from five to seven times a week, year-round. No other airline flies nonstop between Britain and Bermuda.

Most airlines offer the best deals on tickets booked at least 14 days in advance, with a stopover in Bermuda of at least 3 days. You might need to stay over on a Saturday night to keep fares down. Airfares fluctuate according to the season, but tend to remain competitive among the companies vying for a piece of the lucrative Bermuda run.

Peak season (summer) is the most expensive time to go; low season (usually from mid-Sept to mid-Mar) sees less expensive fares. The airlines that fly to Bermuda seldom observe a shoulder (intermediate) season.

10

Getting There

By Cruise Ship

Cruise ships tie up at three harbors in Bermuda: St. George in the East End, the Royal Naval Dockyard in the West End, and Hamilton Harbour at the City of Hamilton. However, ships coming into the harbor at Hamilton may be on the wane.

While the cruise experience isn't for everyone, it's very appealing to some people and is certainly a carefree, all-inclusive vacation. Ships from the East Coast of the United States reach Bermuda in a little over a day. You'll spend a few full days (usually 3) moored at the island, exploring during the day and returning to the ship at night. It's convenient and comfortable—like having a luxury hotel and restaurant that travels with you.

Of course, that's also its major disadvantage. Most cruisers don't get to know the real Bermuda as well as those who stay in hotels ashore. For instance, cruise-ship passengers generally eat all their meals aboard the ship—mainly because they've already paid for the meals as part of their cruise price—and so they miss out on sampling Bermuda's cuisine. They also rarely get to meet and interact with Bermudians the way land-based visitors do.

Seven-day cruises out of New York usually include 4 days at sea, with 3 days in port. Cruise lines currently offering regularly scheduled trips to Bermuda include Celebrity Cruises (☎ 800/647-2251; www.celebrity.com); Norwegian Cruise Line (☎ 866/234-7350; www.ncl.com); Princess Cruises (☎ 800/774-6237; www.princess.com); and Royal Caribbean International (☎ 866/562-7625; www.royalcaribbean.com).

HOW TO GET THE BEST DEAL ON YOUR CRUISE

Cruise lines operate like airlines, setting rates for their cruises and then selling them in a rapid-fire series of discounts, offering almost whatever it takes to fill their ships.

Because of this, great deals come and go in the blink of an eye, and most are available only through travel agents.

If you have a travel agent you trust, leave the details to him or her. If not, try contacting a travel agent who specializes in booking cruises. Some of the most likely contenders include the following: Cruises, Inc., 1415 NW 62 St., Ste. 205, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33009 (☎ 888/282-1249; www.cruiseinc.com); Cruises Only, 100 Sylvan Rd., Ste. 600, Woburn, MA 01801 (☎ 800/278-4737; www.cruisesonly.com); The Cruise Company, 10760 Q St., Omaha, NE 68127 (☎ 800/289-5505; www.thecruisecompany.com); Kelly Cruises, 1315 W. 22nd St., Ste. 105, Oak Brook, IL 60523 (☎ 800/837-7447; www.kellycruises.com); Hartford Holidays Travel, 129 Hillside Ave., Williston Park, NY 11596 (☎ 800/828-4813; www.hartfordholidays.com); and Mann Travel & Cruises, 4400 Park Rd., Charlotte, NC 28209 (☎ 800/849-2028 or 704/556-8311; www.manntravelandcruises.com).

GETTING AROUND

Arriving By Plane

Planes arrive at the Bermuda International Airport (BDA), Kindley Field Road, St. George (☎ 441/293-2470; www.bermudaairport.com), about 15km (9 miles) east of the City of Hamilton and about 27km (17 miles) east of Somerset at the far western end of Bermuda.

After clearing Customs (see “Customs” under “Fast Facts” at the end of this chapter for details), you can pick up tourist information at the airport before heading to your hotel. Because you aren’t allowed to rent a car in Bermuda, and buses don’t allow passengers to board with luggage, you must rely on a taxi or minivan to reach your hotel.

LEAVING THE AIRPORT BY TAXI OR MINIVAN

More than 600 taxis are available on Bermuda, and cabbies meet all arriving flights. Taxis are allowed to carry a maximum of four passengers. If you and your traveling companion have a lot of luggage, you will need the taxi to yourselves.

Taxis in Bermuda are unduly expensive: They usually move slowly, meters seem to rise alarmingly fast, and taxi fares will inevitably represent a significant percentage of your day-to-day spending money. Regrettably, this situation can’t be avoided. Non-residents are forbidden to drive cars, and your only other option involves either walking (not practical on many of the very narrow roads) or renting either a bicycle or a small-capacity motorcycle (more on that later).

Unless the taxi has been specifically called to pick you up, in which case it will be a bit higher, the meter should read $6.40 when you first get in a cab. After that, expect to pay $6 for the first 1.6km (1 mile) and $2 for each additional 1.6km (1 mile) for up to four passengers. The following is a sample of taxi fares, including a tip of 10% to 15%, from the airport: To any point within the City of Hamilton, expect a metered fare of around $28 to $35; to points in and around St. George, around $18 to $24; to points near Tucker’s Town, around $35; to such south-shore beach hotels as Elbow Beach, around $40 to $54; and to such far-distant points as the West End, around $65. Fares increase by 25% between midnight and 6am, as well as all day on Sundays and holidays. Luggage carries a surcharge of $1 per piece. In almost every case, a meter determines the fare, unless you ask for a general tour of the island.

There are several authorized taxi companies on the island, including C.O.O.P. (☎ 441/292-4476) and Bermuda Taxi Radio Cabs Ltd. (☎ 441/295-4141).

It's cheaper for a party of four or more to call a minivan and split the cost than to take two taxis (because usually only two people with luggage can fit into each taxi). Arrange, if it's practical, for a 10-passenger minivan, or if you're conducting a large group, for a bus holding between 20 and 25 passengers, before you arrive in Bermuda by contacting Bermuda Hosts, 3 Cahhow Way, St. George CR 04 (☎ 441/293-1334; www.bermudahosts.bm). If you're traveling in a party of only two, consider asking a waiting chartered bus at the airport if it has room to take in two extra passengers. Using that mode of transportation, trips from the airport to such nearby hotels as Grotto Bay will cost as little as $15 per person, trips to the City of Hamilton will cost around $35 per person, and trips to the island's distant West End will cost around $68 per person.

Bear in mind, however, that these fares are imposed on a per-person basis, and taxis charge their rates for a collective carload of up to four passengers, depending on their ability to fit in all their luggage.

Arriving By Cruise Ship

This is the easiest way to arrive in Bermuda. The staff will present you with a list of tour options long before you arrive in port, and almost everything is done for you unless you choose to make your own arrangements (although an independent taxi tour is far more expensive than an organized tour). Most passengers book shore excursions when they reserve their cruise.

Depending on your ship, you will probably arrive in either the City of Hamilton (best for shopaholics) or St. George (best for architecture and history buffs). A few ships dock at the Royal Naval Dockyard on Bermuda's West End. Whichever port you dock at, you can avail yourself of the waiting taxis near your ship, or rent a moped or bicycle and do some touring and shopping on your own. For more information about cruising to Bermuda, see above.

By Car

Bermuda is the only Atlantic island that restricts car ownership to local residents. Part of the reason for this is the notoriously narrow roads, which have small or nonexistent shoulders and hundreds of blind curves. Add the British custom of driving on the left, and there would be traffic chaos if newcomers were allowed to take to the roads in rented cars. You'll rely on taxis, bikes, or motorized bicycles called "putt-putts."

By Taxi

Dozens of taxis roam the island, and virtually every hotel, restaurant, and shop is happy to call one for you. The hourly charge is $50 for one to four passengers. A luxury tour van accommodating up to six passengers costs $55 to $85 an hour. If you want to use one for a sightseeing tour, the minimum is 3 hours.

Taxi Touring Tip

When a taxi has a blue flag on its hood (locals call the hood the "bonnet"), the driver is qualified to serve as a tour guide. The government checks out and tests these drivers, so you should use them if you plan to tour Bermuda by taxi. "Blue-bonnet" drivers charge no more than regular taxi drivers.

By Motorbike

Dependence on cabs and rented motor scooters, mopeds, and bicycles is simply a fact of Bermudian life that newcomers quickly accept as part of the island's charm. Although not having a car at your disposal is inconvenient, the island's tourist brochures make it seem just wonderful: a happy couple bicycling or mopeding around Bermuda on a sunny day, slowly putt-putting across the islands.

Who Are You Talking To?

Police are cracking down on vacationers who use cellphones while riding motorcycles and bicycles—violators are being pulled over by the police and given a fine.

What the brochures don't tell you is that the roads are too narrow, and Bermudians—who are likely to own cars, and pay dearly for the privilege—feel that the road is theirs. Sometimes it starts raining almost without warning (the skies usually clear rapidly, and the roads dry quickly). During inclement weather, scooter riders are likely to be edged close—sometimes disturbingly close—to the shoulder; after rainstorms, they'll almost certainly be splattered with water or mud. Many accidents occur on slippery roads after a rain, especially involving those not accustomed to using a motor scooter.

Who should rent a moped or scooter, and who should avoid them altogether? Frankly, the answer depends on your physical fitness and the time of day. Even the most stiffly starched might find a wind-whipped morning ride from the hotel to the beach or tennis courts invigorating and fun. Dressed to the nines for a candlelit dinner, you'd find the experience horrifying. And although the putt-putters can be a lot of fun during a sunny day, the machines can be dangerous and capricious after dark—and, of course, when you've had too many daiquiris. Not everyone is fit enough, either. And visitors on mopeds have a high accident rate, with at least some of the problems related to driving on the left.

Considering the hazards, we usually recommend that reasonably adept sports enthusiasts rent a moped for a day or two. For evening outings, we firmly believe that a taxi is the way to go.

You must be 16 or older to rent a motorbike. Some vehicles are big enough to cozily accommodate two adults. Helmets are required, and rental companies must provide them.

What's the difference between a moped and a motor scooter? Mopeds have larger wheels than scooters, and subject riders to fewer shocks as they traverse bumps in the road. Most (but not all) mopeds are designed for one rider; scooters accommodate either a single passenger or two passengers riding in tandem. Both have similar maximum speeds and horsepower.

There are quite a few gas stations (called "petrol stations"). Once you "tank up" your motorbike, chances are you'll have plenty of gas to get you to your destination; for example, one tank of gas in a motorbike will take you from Somerset in the west to St. George in the east.

Among the rental companies listed below, there's a tendency toward price fixing. Rental fees across the island tend to be roughly equivalent, and shopping around for a better deal is usually a waste of time. On average, mopeds for one rider rent for $48 for the first day, $89 for 2 days, $122 for 3 days, and $173 for 5 days. Scooters for two riders cost about $53 for 1 day, $102 for 2 days, or up to $174 for 4 days. You must pay with a major credit card; it serves as a deposit in case of damage or theft.

Note: You must also purchase a one-time insurance policy for $30 included in the price. The insurance is valid for the length of the rental.

You can rent mopeds and scooters at Wheels Cycle (☎ 441/292-2245; <http://web.me.com/dpanchau>), which has two locations in the City of Hamilton: one at Flatts Village, Grotto Bay Hotel, and one in Paget Parish.

Oleander Cycles Ltd., 6 Valley Rd., Paget Parish (☎ 441/236-5235; www.oleandercycles.bm), rents only scooters. A first-day rental for a single-seater is $50, $55 for a double. Subsequent days have price reductions depending on the length of rental. There are also locations at 15 Gorham Rd. in the City of Hamilton (☎ 441/295-0919), 8 Middle Rd. in Southampton (☎ 441/234-0629), 26 York St. in St. George (☎ 441/297-0478), King's Wharf Dockyard (☎ 441/234-2764), and the Reefs Hotel Southampton (☎ 441/238-0222). They're open daily from 8:30am to 5:30pm, with a 24-hour emergency number (☎ 441/236-5235).

Eve Cycle Ltd., 114 Middle Rd., Paget Parish (☎ 441/236-6247; www.evecycles.com); 1 Water St., St. George (☎ 441/236-0839); and at the International Airport (☎ 441/293-6188), rents a variety of scooters; they cost $48 to $53 for the first day, and $173 to $200 for 5 days, depending on the model, with successively lower prices for each additional day.

A final option for motorbike rentals, with a reputation that goes back to 1947, is Smatt's Cycle Livery, Ltd., 74 Pitts Bay Rd., Hamilton, Pembroke Parish (☎ 441/295-1180; www.smattscyclelivery.com). It's adjacent to the Hamilton Princess Hotel. Motorbikes cost $50 for a 1-day rental, $95 for a 2-day rental, and $135 for a 3-day rental. Dual-seaters rent for $75 for 1 day, $127 for 2 days, and $170 for 3 days. Staff will give you instructions on bike safety and protocol.

By Bicycle

Pedaling a bike up Bermuda's steep hills can be a bit of a challenge, but if you're looking for a more natural means of locomotion than a putt-putt, you can rent bikes at most cycle liveries (see above).

Eve Cycle Ltd., 114 Middle Rd., Paget Parish (☎ 441/236-6247; www.evecycles.com), offers one of the best rental deals on the island. Named after the legendary matriarch who founded the company more than 50 years ago, Eve's rents men's and women's bicycles (usually 10- to 12-speed mountain bikes, well suited to the island's hilly terrain). Prices for 21-speed mountain bikes are $30 for a 1-day rental, $50 for a 2-day rental, and $65 for a 3-day rental. A $15 insurance policy is required. The shop is a 10-minute taxi ride (or a leisurely 20-min. cycle) west of the City of Hamilton. As with motorbiking, exercise caution because roads are narrow and often slippery, and scooter riders and left-hand driving can make things confusing. See "Biking," in chapter 6, for more details.

By Bus

Bermuda's bus network covers all major routes, and nearly all hotels, guesthouses, and restaurants have bus stops close by. There's even a do-it-yourself sightseeing tour by bus and ferry. Regularly scheduled buses go to most of the destinations that interest visitors in Bermuda, but be prepared to wait. Some buses don't run on Sundays or holidays, so be sure you know the schedule for the trip you want to make.

Bermuda is divided into 14 zones of about 3km (1¼ miles) each. The regular cash fare for up to three zones is $3. For more than three zones, it's $4.50. Children 5 to 16 pay $2 for all zones; children 4 and under ride free. On the run from the City of Hamilton to the Royal Naval Dockyard (no. 7 or 8), the fare is $4.50 for adults, $2 for children. Note: You must have the exact change in coins or tokens ready to deposit in the fare box as you board the bus. Drivers do not make change or accept bills—to avoid the hassle, especially if you plan to make good use of Bermuda’s transportation network during your stay, consider purchasing a ticket booklet or day-pass (described below).

You can purchase $4 tokens at branch post offices or at the Central Bus Terminal on Washington Street in the City of Hamilton, where all routes, except route 6, begin and end. The terminal is just off Church Street, a few steps east of City Hall. You can get there from Front Street or Reid Street by going up Queen Street or through Walker Arcade and Washington Mall.

If you plan to travel a lot, you might want to purchase a booklet of 15 tickets. A booklet of 14-zone tickets costs $30, of 3-zone tickets $20. For children, 15 tickets cost $7.50, regardless of the number of zones. You can buy the booklets at post offices or the central bus terminal. You can also purchase passes that allow travel in all zones for 1 day to 1 month. A 1-day pass costs $12, a 3-day pass costs $28, a 4-day pass is $35, a 1-week pass is $45, and a 1-month pass is $55. For more information on bus service, call ☎ 441/292-3851. Note: These booklets and passes are also usable on the ferry system (below), so be sure to factor that in when deciding whether or not to purchase a booklet or pass.

In the east, St. George’s Mini-Bus Service (☎ 441/297-8492 or 441/297-8199) operates a minibus service around St. George’s Parish and St. David’s Island. The basic one-way fare is $3. Buses depart from King’s Square in the center of St. George, and can be flagged down along the road. In summer, service is daily from 7:30am to midnight. In the off season, service is Monday through Thursday from 7:30am to 10pm, Friday and Saturday from 7:30am to midnight.

Trolleylike buses that seat 60 serve the City of Hamilton and the Royal Naval Dockyard. Passengers can get on and off throughout the day for a single fare of $12. The City of Hamilton trolley stops at the major points of interest, including the Botanical Gardens; the dockyard bus calls at the crafts market. Tickets are sold at most hotels, the City of Hamilton train station, and the Oleander cycle shop (see “By Motorbike,” above).

By Ferry

One of the most scenic ways of getting around Bermuda is the government-operated ferry service. Ferries crisscross Great Sound between the City of Hamilton and Somerset; the one-way fare is $4. They also take the harbor route, from the City of Hamilton to the hotel-filled parishes of Paget and Warwick. The ride from the City of Hamilton to Paget costs $2.50. On all routes, children 5 to 16 pay $2, and children 4 and under ride free. Motorbikes are allowed on the City of Hamilton to Somerset run for $4, with bikes transported free (these rules and fees vary, however, so call ahead if you plan to take a bike or motorbike with you on other routes).

Daily Life in Bermuda

Here are some miscellaneous Bermuda survival tips: Know that ATMs dispense only Bermuda dollars, and that buses accept only coins, not bills. Also, don’t get caught in the City of Hamilton’s rush-hour traffic, which is Monday to Friday 8:30 to 9am and 5 to 6pm.

The ferry system also accepts the same ticket booklets and day-passes as the bus system. See “By Bus,” above, for detailed information on those options.

For ferry service information, call ☎ 441/295-4506 in the City of Hamilton. Ferry schedules are posted at each landing and are available at the Ferry Terminal, the Central Bus Terminal in the City of Hamilton, and most hotels.

Note: Like buses, the ferries require exact change (though tickets/tokens/passes are strongly preferred). If you aren’t using the aforementioned ticket booklet or pass, be sure you have exact change or tokens.

PLANNING AN ISLAND WEDDING

Getting Married in Bermuda

Couples who would like to get married in Bermuda must file a “Notice of Intended Marriage” with the Registry General, accompanied by a fee of $243, plus $42 for the certificate (in the form of a bank draft or money order, not a personal check). Make out the draft to “The Accountant General,” and mail or deliver it in person to the Registry General, Government Administration Building, 30 Parliament St., Hamilton HM 12, Bermuda (☎ 441/297-7706; www.bermuda-online.org/marriages.htm). Bermuda Department of Tourism offices in Atlanta and New York (see “Visitor Information,” on p. 200) distribute “Notice of Intended Marriage” forms, or you can contact the Bermuda Department of Tourism (☎ 800/BERMUDA [237-6832]) and a form will be mailed to you. If either of the prospective marriage partners has been married before, that person must attach a photocopy of the final divorce decree to the “Notice of Intended Marriage.”

Once the Registry General receives the “Notice of Intended Marriage,” it will be published, including names and addresses, in any two of the island’s newspapers. Assuming that there is no formal objection, the registry will issue the license 15 days after receiving the notice. Airmailing your completed notice to Bermuda takes 6 to 10 days, so plan accordingly. The marriage license will be sent to you and will be valid for 3 months.

Hiring a Wedding Consultant

Many hotels can help make wedding arrangements—reserving the church and clergy, hiring a horse and buggy, ordering the wedding cake, and securing a photographer. Weddings in Bermuda range from simple ceremonies on the beach to large-scale extravaganzas at the Botanical Gardens. Other popular sites include churches and yachts.

The Bridal Suite, 125 North Shore Rd., Pembroke HM 14, East Bermuda (☎ 888/253-5585 or 441/292-2025; www.bridalsuitebermudaweddings.com), arranges wedding packages that range in cost from $2,000 to $30,000.

Some hotels—including the Elbow Beach Hotel and both of the Fairmont hotels—will arrange weddings; see chapter 4 for contact information. If you’re staying at a small hotel, it’s better to go through a wedding consultant to plan your wedding.

[FastFACTS] BERMUDA

American Express The representative in the City of Hamilton, Meyer Franklin Travel, 35 Church St. (P.O. Box 510), Hamilton HM 12 (☎ 441/295-4176; www.meyer-franklintravel.bm), handles travel itineraries for the company.

Area Code The area code for all of Bermuda is 441.

Banks The main offices of Bermuda's banks are in the City of Hamilton. All banks and their branches are open Monday to Friday 9am to 4:30pm. Banks are closed Saturdays, Sundays, and public holidays. Many big hotels will cash traveler's checks, and there are ATMs all around the island.

The HSBC of Bermuda, 6 Front St., Hamilton (☎ 441/299-5959; www.hsbc.bm), has branches on Church Street, Hamilton; on Par-la-Ville Road, Hamilton; and in Somerset.

The Bank of Butterfield, 65 Front St., Hamilton (☎ 441/295-1111; www.bm.butterfieldgroup.com), has several branches, including locations in St. George and Somerset.

The Bermuda Commercial Bank is at 43 Victoria St., Hamilton (☎ 441/295-5678; www.bermuda-bcb.com).

Business Hours Most commercial businesses are open Monday through Friday from 9am to 5pm. Retail shops are generally open Monday through Saturday from 9am to 5pm (or 7pm); several shops open at 9:15am. A few shops are also open in the evening, but usually only when big cruise ships are in port.

Cellphones See "Mobile Phones," later in this section.

Climate See "When to Go," in chapter 2.

Crime See "Safety," later in this section.

Currency Exchange See "Money & Costs," below.

Customs Visitors may bring into Bermuda duty-free apparel and articles for their personal use, including sports equipment, cameras, 200 cigarettes, 1 liter of liquor, and 1 liter of wine. Certain foodstuffs may be subject to duties. All imports may be inspected on arrival. Visitors entering Bermuda may also claim a duty-free gift allowance.

Persons who are taking prescription medication must inform Bermuda customs officials at the point of entry. Medicines must be in labeled containers. Travelers should carry a copy of the written prescription and a letter from the physician or pharmacist confirming the reason the medicine is prescribed.

When you're leaving Bermuda (if you're flying back to the U.S.), a customs inspector will ask to see a copy of the incoming Bermuda form that was stamped and given to you as you cleared Bermuda Customs. Make sure that you hold onto it and can produce it on short notice.

For additional information on temporary admission, export and customs regulations, and tariffs, contact Bermuda Customs at (☎ 441/295-4816 or customs@gov.bm, or visit the Bermuda Customs website at www.customs.gov.bm.

Dentists For dental emergencies, call King Edward VII Memorial Hospital, 7 Point Finger Rd., Paget Parish (☎ 441/236-2345; www.bermudahospitals.bm), and ask for the emergency department. The hospital maintains lists of dentists on emergency call.

Disabled Travelers Bermuda is not a great place for persons with disabilities who are not planning to stay on-site at a resort. Getting around the islands is a bit difficult even for the agile, who must rely on motorbikes, bicycles, and buses. It is difficult to walk with a cane outside the town of St. George and City of Hamilton, because most roads don't have sidewalks or adequate curbs. When two vehicles pass, you are often crowded off the road.

Taking taxis to everything you want to see can be very expensive. Unfortunately, the public buses are not geared for passengers in wheelchairs. However, you can ask your hotel to check on the availability of volunteer buses operated by the Bermuda Physically Handicapped Association (see below). It occasionally runs buses with hydraulic lifts. You can also call the tourist office and request a schedule for such transportation; make arrangements as far in advance as possible.

Before you go, you can seek information from the website of the Bermuda Physically Handicapped Association (☎ 441/293-5035; www.bermuda-online.org/BPHA.htm). Visitors planning to bring a guide dog to Bermuda must obtain a permit in advance from any Bermuda Department of Tourism office; see "Visitor Information" below.

The most accessible hotels in Bermuda are Elbow Beach Hotel, the Fairmont Hamilton Princess, and the Fairmont Southampton (see chapter 4 for listings).

Drinking Laws Bermuda sternly regulates the sale of alcoholic beverages. The legal drinking age is 18, and most bars close at 1am (some close as early as 10pm, and others as late as 3am). Some bars are closed on Sunday, and stores can't sell alcohol on Sunday. You can bring beer or other alcohol to the beach legally, as long as your party doesn't get too rowdy and you generally stay in one spot. The moment you actually walk on the beach or the streets with an open container of liquor, it's illegal.

Driving Rules Visitors cannot rent cars. To operate a motor-assisted cycle, you must be age 16 or over. All cycle drivers and passengers must wear helmets. Driving is on the left side of the road, and the speed limit is 32kmph (20 mph) in the countryside, 24kmph (15 mph) in busy areas.

Drug Laws In Bermuda, there are heavy penalties for the importation of, possession of, or dealing of unlawful drugs (including marijuana). Customs officers, at their discretion, may conduct body searches for drugs or other contraband goods.

Drugstores Try the Phoenix Drugstore, 3 Reid St., Hamilton (☎ 441/295-3838), open Monday through Saturday from 8am to 6pm, Sunday from noon to 6pm.

In Hamilton, People's Pharmacy, 62 Victoria St. (☎ 441/292-0398), is open Monday through Saturday from 8am to 8:30pm, Sunday from 10am to 6pm. The Somerset Pharmacy, 49 Mangrove Bay, Somerset Village (☎ 441/234-2484), is open Monday to Friday 8am to 6pm, and Saturday 8am to 5pm.

Electricity Electricity is 110 volts AC (60 cycles). North American appliances are compatible without converters or adapters. Visitors from the United Kingdom or other parts of Europe need to bring a converter.

Embassies & Consulates For Residents of the U.S.: The American Consulate General is located at Crown Hill, 16 Middle Rd., Devonshire (☎ 441/295-1342; <http://hamilton.usconsulate.gov>), and is open Monday through Friday from 8am to 4:30pm.

For Residents of Canada The Canadian Consulate General (Commission to Bermuda) is at 73 Front St., Hamilton (☎ 441/292-2917; www.embassiesabroad.com).

For Residents of the U.K. As Bermuda is a British territory, Britain does not maintain a consulate in Bermuda. For emergency travel documents, contact the Bermuda Department of Immigration, Parliament Street, Hamilton (☎ 441/295-5151; www.immigration.gov.bm).

For Residents of Australia The Australian High Commission in Ottawa, Canada (☎ 613/236-0841; www.canada.embassy.gov.au) provides consular assistance for Australians traveling in Bermuda.

Emergencies To call the police, report a fire, or summon an ambulance, dial ☎ 911. The nonemergency police number is ☎ 441/295-0011. For air-sea rescue, contact the Rescue Coordination Center, ☎ 441/297-1010.

Etiquette Well-tailored Bermuda shorts are acceptable on almost any occasion, and many men wear them with jackets and ties. On formal occasions, they must be accompanied by navy blue or black knee socks. Aside from that, Bermudians are rather conservative in their attitude toward dress—bikinis, for example, are banned more than 7.5m (25 ft.) from the water. Men are usually required to wear a jacket to dinner.

Family Travel Bermuda is one of the best vacation destinations for the entire family. Toddlers can spend blissful hours in shallow seawater or pools geared just for them, and older children can enjoy boat rides, horseback riding, hiking, and snorkeling. Most resort hotels offer advice for families with kids (including help in finding a babysitter), and many have play directors and supervised activities for various age groups.

Outside the town of St. George and City of Hamilton, walking with a baby stroller is difficult—most roads don't have sidewalks or adequate curbs. It is extremely dangerous to carry a baby on a motorbike or bike, as baby seats are not provided. Buses, taxis, and ferries are the safest ways to travel around Bermuda with a baby.

For some recommendations on where to stay and eat, refer to “Family-Friendly Accommodations,” on p. 79, and “Family-Friendly Restaurants,” on p. 111. To locate additional establishments that are particularly kid-friendly, refer to the “Kids” icon throughout this guide.

Gasoline Before you rent a moped, be very clear about what kind of fuel it runs on. Most of the mopeds available for rental by a nonresident of Bermuda have 50cc two-stroke engines that almost always require a mixture of gasoline and oil. Designated locally as “mixed” fuel, it's dispensed directly from specially designated pumps at service stations throughout Bermuda. Larger bikes (including some of the newer models with 80cc engines, and virtually all of the modern-day 100cc engines) require unadulterated gasoline. The octane level of all gasoline in Bermuda is designated as “high test,” and all of it, by law, is unleaded.

Health Finding a doctor or getting a prescription filled on Bermuda is relatively simple. In an emergency, call King Edward VII Hospital, 7 Point Finger Rd., Paget Parish (☎ 441/236-2345), and ask for the emergency department. For less serious medical problems, ask someone at your hotel for a recommendation. See “Drugstores,” above, for addresses of pharmacies.

If you suffer from a chronic illness, consult your doctor before your departure. Pack prescription medications in your carry-on luggage, and carry them in their original containers, with pharmacy labels—otherwise they won't make it through airport security. Carry the generic name of prescription medicines in case a local pharmacist is unfamiliar with the brand name.

Contact the International Association for Medical Assistance to Travelers (IAMAT; ☎ 716/754-4883 or, in Canada, 416/652-0137; www.iamat.org), for tips on travel and health concerns in Bermuda, and for lists of local doctors. The United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (☎ 800/232-4636; www.cdc.gov) provides up-to-date information on health hazards by region or country and offers tips on food safety. Travel Health Online (www.tripprep.com), sponsored by a consortium of travel medicine practitioners, also offers helpful advice on traveling abroad.

Sunburns & Exposure Limit your exposure to the sun, especially between the hours of 11am and 2pm and during the first few days of your trip. Use a sunscreen with a high protection factor and apply it liberally. Also, as you travel around Bermuda on a scooter, on bike, or on foot, it's always wise to carry along some bottled water to prevent dehydration.

Seasickness A great deal of the population tends toward seasickness. If you've never been out on a boat, or if you've been seasick in the past, make sure you take any seasickness prevention measures that work for you before you board; once you set sail, it's generally too late. On the boat, stay as low and near the center of the boat as possible. Stay out in the fresh air and watch the horizon. If you start to feel queasy, drink clear fluids like water, and eat something bland, such as a soda cracker.

Cuts All cuts obtained in the marine environment must be taken seriously because the high level of bacteria present in the water can quickly cause the cut to become infected. The best way to prevent cuts is to wear a wet suit, gloves, and reef shoes. If you get a coral cut, the book All Stings Considered recommends gently pulling the edges of the skin open and removing any embedded coral or grains of sand with tweezers. Next, scrub the cut well with fresh water, and then press a clean cloth against the wound to stop the bleeding.

Hospitals King Edward VII Memorial Hospital, 7 Point Finger Rd., Paget Parish ((☎) 441/236-2345; www.bermudahospitals.bm), has a highly qualified staff and Canadian accreditation.

Insurance Although close to the United States, a visit to Bermuda is, in essence, “going abroad.” You can encounter all the same problems in Bermuda that you would in going to a more remote foreign destination. Therefore, it’s wise to review your insurance coverage, especially concerning lost luggage or medical insurance.

For information on traveler’s insurance, trip cancellation insurance, and medical insurance while traveling, please visit www.frommers.com/planning.

Internet Access Most of the larger hotels in Bermuda have some Internet service. If your hotel does not, there are a few places where you can go. The following places will allow you to log on for a fee: Logic Internet Cafe, 10–12 Burnaby St. in Hamilton ((☎) 441/296-9600), provides fresh coffee for Internet users who pay $5 per half-hour. Open Monday to Friday 6am to 6pm. TeleBermuda International Custom Centre, at the corner of Reid Street and Queen Street in Hamilton ((☎) 441/296-9000), allows you to surf the Web for $2.50 per 15 minutes. Open Monday to Friday 9am to 5pm.

Legal Aid Your consulate will inform you of your limited rights and offer a list of attorneys. (See “Embassies & Consulates,” above.) However, the consulate’s office cannot interfere with Bermuda’s law-enforcement officers.

For Residents of the U.S. The Citizens’ Emergency Center of the Office of Special Consular Services, in Washington, D.C. ((☎) 888/407-4747 or 202/647-5225; http://travel.state.gov/travel/tips/emergencies/emergencies\_1212.html), operates a hot line that’s useful in an emergency for U.S. citizens arrested abroad. The staff can also tell you how to send money to U.S. citizens arrested abroad.

For Residents of Canada Contact the Operations Centre of Foreign Affairs via its 24-hour emergency hot line ((☎) 888/949-9993 toll-free from Bermuda or 613/996-8885 collect).

For Residents of the U.K. Because Bermuda is a British territory, Britain doesn’t have an embassy or a consulate in Bermuda; local authorities deal with requests for consular-type assistance.

For Residents of Australia Australians should contact the 24-hour Consular Emergency Centre ((☎) 2-6261-3305) or their consulate (above).

LGBT Travelers Think twice before planning a holiday on Bermuda. Although many gays live in and visit Bermuda, the island is rather repressive to homosexuals, and for most of its existence, Bermuda had laws making sex between consenting legal-age males a crime subject to imprisonment. That is no longer the case, but displays of affection by same-sex couples will be frowned upon at public beaches and most hotel pools, restaurants, and attractions. If you want really happening gay beaches, bars, and clubs, head for South Miami Beach, Key West, Puerto Rico, or the U.S. Virgin Islands, a series of islands that are much more accepting of homosexual relationships.

Mail Deposit regular mail in the red pillar boxes on the streets. You'll recognize them by the monogram of Queen Elizabeth II. The postage rate for airmail letters up to 10 grams and for postcards is 70¢ to the United States and Canada, 85¢ to the United Kingdom. Airmail letters and postcards to the North American mainland can take 5 to 7 days, to Britain possibly a little longer.

Mobile Phones The three letters that define much of the world's wireless capabilities are GSM (Global System for Mobiles), a big seamless network that makes for easy cross-border cellphone use in dozens of countries, including Bermuda.

The best cellphone connections in Bermuda are arranged through rangeRoamer (www.rangeroamer.com), which provides short-term cellphone service for travelers to Bermuda. You can purchase a Bermuda-compatible worldphone, rent a phone in Bermuda, or in some cases use your own cellphone while traveling on island.

You can use your own phone if it uses GSM, if it is "world capable" (dual band international), or "unlocked" to accept any SIM card from another carrier. GSM phones have a SIM card slot, which lets you put the rangeRoamer SIM card in it. All phones from AT&T and T-mobile have this slot, but only 4 percent of phones from Verizon or Sprint do.

Incoming calls to Bermuda cost $1.99 a minute; calls from Bermuda to the U.S. are charged $2.99 a minute.

Money & Costs Legal tender is the Bermuda dollar (BD$), which is divided into 100 cents. It's pegged through gold to the U.S. dollar on an equal basis—BD$1 equals US$1.

U.S. currency is generally accepted in shops, restaurants, and hotels. Currency from the United Kingdom and other foreign countries is usually not accepted, but can be easily exchanged for Bermuda dollars at banks and hotels. You should exchange enough petty cash to cover airport incidentals, tipping, and transportation to your hotel before you leave home, or withdraw money upon arrival at an airport ATM. For up-to-the-minute currency conversions, visit www.xe.com/ucc.

ATMs The easiest and best way to get cash away from home is from an ATM. These machines are plentiful in Bermuda. The Cirrus (☎ 800/424-7787; www.mastercard.com) and PLUS (www.visa.com) networks span the globe; look at the back of your bank card to see which network you're on, and then call or check online for ATM locations at your destination. Be sure you know your personal identification number (PIN) and daily withdrawal limit before you depart. Note: Remember that many banks impose a fee every time you use a card at another bank's ATM, and that fee can be higher for international transactions (up to $5 or more) than for domestic ones (where they're rarely more than $2). In addition, the bank from which you withdraw cash may charge its own fee. For international withdrawal fees, ask your bank.

Credit Cards Credit cards are another safe way to carry money, but their use has become more difficult, especially in Bermuda (see below). They also provide a convenient record of all your expenses, and they generally offer relatively good exchange rates. But note that many banks now assess a 1% to 3% "transaction fee" on all charges you incur abroad (whether you're using the local currency or your native currency).

There is almost no difference in the acceptance of a debit or a standard credit card.

Note: The Discover Card (popular in the U.S.) is not accepted in Bermuda. MasterCard and Visa, however, are generally accepted.

"Chip and PIN" represents a change in the way that credit and debit cards are used. The program is designed to cut down on the fraudulent use of credit cards. More and more banks are issuing customers Chip and PIN versions of their debit or credit cards. In the future, it will be common for vendors to ask for a four-digit personal identification number or PIN when you use your credit card.

Warning: A number of places in Bermuda are moving to this new system. In the changeover in technology, some retailers have falsely concluded that they can no longer take swipe cards, or can't take signature cards that don't have PINs. In the interim between traditional swipe credit cards and those with an embedded computer chip, here's what you can do to protect yourself: Get a 4-digit PIN from your credit card's issuing bank before leaving home.

Traveler's Checks You can buy traveler's checks, which are widely accepted in Bermuda, at most banks. The most popular traveler's checks are offered by American Express (☎ 800/528-4800 or 800/221-7282 for cardholders); Visa (☎ 888/713-3424); and MasterCard (☎ 800/223-9920).

If you carry traveler's checks, keep a record of their serial numbers separate from your checks in the event that they are stolen or lost. You'll get a refund faster if you know the numbers.

Another option is the new prepaid traveler's check cards, reloadable cards that work much like debit cards but aren't linked to your checking account. The American Express Travelers Cheque Card, for example, requires a minimum deposit, sets a maximum balance, and has a one-time issuance fee of $15. You can withdraw money from an ATM (for a fee of $2.50 per transaction, not including bank fees), and the funds can be purchased in dollars, euros, or pounds. If you lose the card, your available funds will be refunded within 24 hours.

---

THE VALUE OF THE BERMUDA DOLLAR VS. OTHER POPULAR CURRENCIES

10

The U.S. dollar and the Bermuda dollar are considered interchangeable:

US$	Can$	UK £	Euro (€)	Aus$	NZ$
$1	C$1.50	90p	€1.35	A$1.60	NZ$2.00

For help with currency conversions, tip calculations, and more, download Frommer's convenient Travel Tools app for your mobile device. Go to www.frommers.com/go/mobile and click on the Travel Tools icon.

Newspapers & Magazines Bermuda has one daily newspaper, the Royal Gazette. There are two competitors providing alternative versions of the news, including the Bermuda Sun, which is issued every Wednesday and Friday, and the Mid-Ocean News, which is published every Friday. Major U.S. newspapers, including the New York Times and USA Today, and magazines such as Time and Newsweek, are delivered to Bermuda on the day of their publication on the mainland. This Week in Bermuda is a weekly guide for tourists.

For your media fix, go to the Washington Mall Magazines stand on Reid Street in Hamilton. They carry major U.S. newspapers and magazines.

Passports Since the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks, passports have been strictly required to get out of and back into your respective country. Another acceptable document is the U.S. Passport Card, which is a newer, limited-use travel document that fits into your wallet and costs less than a U.S. passport. But it is only valid by land and sea, not air travel.

Bermuda Immigration authorities require U.S. citizens to have at least one of the following items in their possession: a birth certificate (or a certified copy of it accompanied by a photo ID), a U.S. naturalization certificate, a valid passport, a U.S. Alien Registration card, or a U.S. reentry permit. Go with the passport, because you will need it to reenter the U.S.

Bermuda Immigration authorities require visitors from Canada, the United Kingdom, and Europe to show a valid passport. All visitors must have a return or onward ticket in addition to their valid passport or original birth certificate.

---

WHAT THINGS COST IN BERMUDA*US$/BD$

Average 15-minute taxi ride	$20.00
Bus from the City of Hamilton to Ireland Island	$4.50
Double room at Elbow Beach (very expensive)	$445.00–$715.00
Double room at Dawkins Manor (moderate)	$125.00–$290.00
Double room at Robin's Nest (inexpensive)	$150.00
Lunch for one at Bonefish Bar & Grill (moderate)	$20.00
Lunch for one at the Hickory Stick (inexpensive)	$12.00
Dinner for one at Ascots (expensive)	$55.00
Dinner for one at La Rustico (moderate)	$30.00
Dinner for one at Chopsticks (inexpensive)	$24.00
Bottle of beer in a bar	$4.50
Coca-Cola in a cafe	$3.00–$4.00
Cup of coffee in a cafe	$2.75
Glass of planter's punch in a restaurant	$7.50
Admission to Bermuda Maritime Museum	$10.00

---

Any traveler staying in Bermuda longer than 3 weeks must apply to the Chief Immigration Officer in person, at the Government Administration Building, 30 Parliament St., Hamilton HM 12, Bermuda (☎ 441/295-5151; www.immigration.gov.bm) for an extended stay. You will be asked to fill out an immigration application for an extended stay, which then will or will not be approved by authorities.

The websites listed below provide downloadable passport applications as well as the current fees for processing passport applications.

Australia Australian Passport Information Service (☎ 131-232, or visit www.passports.gov.au).

Canada Passport Office, Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, Ottawa, ON K1A 0G3 (☎ 800/567-6868; www.ppt.gc.ca).

Ireland Passport Office, Setanta Centre, Molesworth Street, Dublin 2 (☎ 01/671-1633; www.foreignaffairs.gov.ie).

New Zealand Passports Office, Department of Internal Affairs, 47 Boulcott Street, Wellington, 6011 (☎ 0800/225-050 in New Zealand or 04/474-8100; www.passports.govt.nz).

United Kingdom Visit your nearest passport office, major post office, or travel agency or contact the Identity and Passport Service (IPS), 89 Eccleston Square, London, SW1V 1PN (☎ 0300/222-0000; www.ips.gov.uk).

United States To find your regional passport office, check the U.S. State Department website (travel.state.gov/passport) or call the National Passport Information Center (☎ 877/487-2778) for automated information.

Pets To take your pet with you to Bermuda, it must be a minimum of 10 months of age. You'll need a special permit issued by the director of the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries, and Parks, P.O. Box HM 834, Hamilton HM CX, Bermuda (☎ 441/236-4201; www.animals.gov.bm). The island has no quarantine facilities, so animals arriving without proper documents will be refused entry and will be returned to the point of origin. Some guesthouses and hotels allow you to bring in small animals, but others will not; be sure to inquire in advance. Always check to see what the latest regulations are before attempting to bring a dog or another pet—including Seeing Eye dogs—to Bermuda.

Pharmacies See “Drugstores,” above.

Police In an emergency, call ☎ 911; otherwise, call ☎ 441/295-0011.

Post Offices The General Post Office, 56 Church St., Hamilton (☎ 441/297-7866), is open Monday to Friday from 8am to 5pm, Saturday from 8am to noon. Post office branches and the Perot Post Office, Queen Street, Hamilton, are open Monday to Friday from 8am to 5pm. Some post offices close for lunch from 11:30am to 1pm. Daily airmail service for the United States and Canada closes at 9:30am in Hamilton. See also “Mail,” above.

Safety Bermuda has always been considered a safe destination, especially when compared to countries of the Caribbean such as Jamaica. However, there is some crime here, and the U.S. State Department has an advisory. Criminal activity continues to take place at St. George, a popular cruise-ship destination. Incidents of verbal and physical assault against tourists have been reported. Petty drug use is frequent, and gang activity has been reported in the area as well.

In recent years, the area of Pitts Bay Road from the Hamilton Princess Hotel into the town of Hamilton has been a common setting for muggings. The back streets of Hamilton are often the setting for nighttime assaults, particularly after the bars close.

Valuables left in hotel rooms (occupied and unoccupied) or left unattended on beaches are vulnerable to theft. Criminals often target transportation systems and popular tourist attractions. Examples of common crimes include pick-pocketing, theft of unattended baggage and items from rental motorbikes, and purse snatchings (often perpetrated against pedestrians by thieves riding motorbikes).

Travelers should exercise caution when walking after dark or visiting out-of-the-way places on the island, which can be vulnerable to crime, and because narrow and dark roadways can contribute to accidents.

Senior Travel Though much of the island’s sporting and nightlife activity is geared toward more youthful travelers, Bermuda has a lot to offer seniors. The best source of information for seniors is the Bermuda Department of Tourism (see “Visitor Information,” on p. 200). If you’re staying in a large resort hotel, the activities director or concierge is another excellent source.

Smoking In the spring of 2006, the government of Bermuda passed a law banning smoking in enclosed public places. Tobacconists and other stores carry a wide array of tobacco products, generally from either the United States or England. Prices vary but tend to be high.

Student Travel The Bermuda Department of Tourism offers Spring Break programs for sports teams from the mainland, as well as Spring Break Arts Programs. Inquire with the tourism office for details (see “Visitor Information,” p. 200).

Taxes Bermuda charges visitors a Passenger Tax before they depart from the island; it’s hidden within the cost of an airline or cruise-ship ticket. Frankly, you might never know that a tax has actually been imposed, but if you’re interested, $25 of the cost of your airline ticket, and $60 of the cost of your cruise-ship ticket, goes to the Bermudian government. Children age 2 and younger are exempt from paying this tax.

All room rates, regardless of the category of accommodations or the plan under which you stay, are subject to a government tax of 7.25%.

Taxis See “Getting Around,” earlier in this chapter.

Telephones Worldwide direct-dial phone, fax, and cable service is available at the Cable & Wireless Office, 12 Burnaby St., Hamilton (☎ 441/497-7000; www.cwbd.com).

Hours are Monday through Friday from 9am to 5pm. Prepaid phone cards may be purchased and used island-wide, and calling cards may be used from selected call boxes.

Cash-card phone booths are available at numerous locations around the island. Making international calls with cash cards can be a lot cheaper than using the phone at your hotel, which might impose stiff surcharges. To make a local call, deposit 20¢ in either Bermudian or U.S. coins. Hotels often charge between 20¢ and $1 for local calls.

Special phones at passenger piers in the City of Hamilton, St. George, and the dockyard will connect you directly with an AT&T, Sprint, or MCI operator in the United States, permitting you to make collect or calling-card calls.

To call Bermuda:

1. Dial the international access code: 00 from the U.K., Ireland, or New Zealand; or 0011 from Australia. From North America, no international access code is necessary; just dial 1.
2. Dial country code 441.
3. Dial the local number.

To make international calls: To make international calls from Bermuda to North America, simply dial 1. For countries besides the U.S. and Canada, first dial 00 and then the country code (U.K. 44, Ireland 353, Australia 61, New Zealand 64). Next, dial the city or area code and local number.

For directory assistance: Dial 411 if you're looking for a number inside Bermuda, and dial 0 for numbers to all other countries.

For operator assistance: If you need operator assistance in making a call, dial 0.

Toll-free numbers: There are no toll-free numbers in Bermuda. Calling an 800 or 888 number in North America from Bermuda costs the same as an overseas call.

Time Bermuda is 1 hour ahead of Eastern Standard Time (EST). Daylight saving time is in effect from the second Sunday in March until November 1.

Tipping In most cases, a service charge is added to hotel and restaurant bills. In hotels, the charge is in lieu of tipping various individuals, such as bellhops, maids, and restaurant staffers (for meals included in a package or in the daily rate). Check for this carefully to avoid double tipping. Otherwise, a 15% tip for service is customary. Taxi drivers usually get 10% to 15%.

Toilets The City of Hamilton and St. George provide public facilities, but only during business hours. In the City of Hamilton, toilets are at City Hall, in Par-la-Ville Gardens, and at Albouy's Point. In St. George, facilities are available at Town Hall, Somers Garden, and Market Wharf. Outside of these towns, you'll find restrooms at the public beaches, at the Botanical Gardens, in several of the forts, at the airport, and at service stations. Often you'll have to use the facilities in hotels, restaurants, and wherever else you can find them.

Transit Information For information about ferry service, call ☎ 441/295-4506. For bus information, call ☎ 441/292-3854.

Useful Telephone Numbers On Bermuda, for time and temperature, call ☎ 909. To learn "What's On in Bermuda," dial ☎ 974. For medical emergencies or the police, dial ☎ 911. If in doubt during any other emergency, dial ☎ 0 (zero), which will connect you with your hotel's switchboard or the Bermuda telephone operator.

Visas Americans who plan to be in Bermuda less than 90 days don't need a visa. Likewise, for the same stays, British citizens, as well as Canadians, Australians, South Africans, New Zealanders, and Irish nationals, don't need a visa. For travelers from other nations, passport and visa requirements are liable to change at short notice. Before planning a trip to Bermuda, check with your local embassy or consulate.

Visitor Information The Department of Tourism's website, www.bermudatourism.com, features comprehensive information broken down into user-friendly categories for vacationers, weddings, travel agents, and media. An interactive map of the island lets visitors see exactly where they'll be going on their Bermuda vacation as well as information on weather, entry requirements, and travel packages, and it also features a state-of-the-art booking device.

The Bermuda government offers a personalized Bermuda miniguidebook for potential visitors. Within minutes of hanging up the phone, Internet-connected 800/BERMUDA [237-6832] callers in the U.S. or Canada receive a personalized "weblet" that gives specific, detailed information on hotels and activities based on information supplied by the caller. Your weblet's search engines allow you to supply personal criteria and receive a selection of hotels and restaurants designed to appeal to your taste and pocketbook. Special-interest buttons can be pressed for data on golf, honeymoon packages, nightlife, and sports facilities. U.K. residents should call ☎ 0800/883-0857 to use this service, and residents of other countries will need to consult a travel agent in their particular area.

To speak to a travel representative, contact the Bermuda Department of Tourism, 675 Third Ave., New York, NY 10017 (☎ 212/818-9800).

In the United Kingdom, contact the Bermuda Department of Tourism at ☎ 020/7096-4246.

In Bermuda, you can get answers to most of your questions at the Visitors Information Centre locations at the Ferry Terminal, 8 Front St., City of Hamilton (☎ 441/295-1480), open Monday to Saturday 9am to 5pm; and at the Royal Naval Dockyard (☎ 441/234-3824), open daily 9am to 5pm.

Water Tap water is generally safe to drink.

Weather Call ☎ 977 at any time for a forecast covering the next 24-hour period or go to www.weather.bm. For average temperatures in Bermuda, see "When to Go," in chapter 2.

Index

See also Accommodations and Restaurant indexes, below.

General Index

A

- Accommodations, 66–88. See also Accommodations Index
- apartment rentals, 67
  - best, 8–11
    - bargains, 11
    - for families, 10
    - for honeymooners, 8–9
  - cottage colonies (cabanas), 66, 67, 77–81
  - dining at your hotel, 68, 107
  - family-friendly, 79
  - guesthouses, 67, 84–88
  - Hamilton Parish
    - cottage colony, 81
    - resort hotels, 72–74
  - housekeeping units, 66, 81–84
  - meal plans, 68
  - Paget Parish
    - cottage colony, 78–79
    - guesthouses, 85, 87–88
    - housekeeping units, 82, 84
    - resort hotel, 69
    - small hotels, 75–76
  - Pembroke Parish (City of Hamilton)
    - guesthouses, 84–86
    - housekeeping units, 83–84
    - resort hotel, 69, 72
    - small hotels, 77
  - rates and reservation policies, 67–68
  - resort hotels, 66, 68–74
  - St. George's Parish, cottage colony, 80
  - Sandys Parish, cottage colony, 77–78, 80–81
  - small hotels, 66, 74–77
  - Smith's Parish, cottage colony, 79–80
  - Southampton Parish
    - guesthouse, 86
    - housekeeping units, 82
    - resort hotel, 68–69
    - small hotels, 74–75
  - types of, 66–67
  - villa or vacation home rentals, 67
  - Warwick Parish
    - guesthouses, 86–87
    - housekeeping units, 81–82
- Achilles Bay (St. George's Parish), 128

- Addresses, finding, 49, 168
- Admiralty House Park (Pembroke Parish), 153
- African Diaspora Heritage Trail, 154
- Afternoon tea, 35
- Agriculture Exhibit, 37
- Air Canada, 184
- Air travel, 183–184
- Albouy's Point (City of Hamilton), 58
- All Stings Considered, 194
- American Airlines, 183
- American Airlines Vacations, 44
- American Express, 191
traveler's checks, 196
- American Express Travelers Cheque Card, 196
- American Revolution, 18–19
- Amphibians, 40–41
- Annapolis-Bermuda Race, 141
- Apartment rentals, 67, 81. See also Housekeeping units
- Aquarium (Hamilton Parish), 158
- The arboretum (Devonshire), 50
- Architecture, 26–27
books about, 29
- Architecture Bermuda Style, 29
- Area code, 191
- ARGO (boat), 161
- Art, 24–26
books about, 29
- Art & Architecture Walk, 165
- Art museums and galleries
- Bermuda Arts Centre at Dockyard (Sandys Parish), 64, 147, 175
  - Bermuda National Gallery (City of Hamilton), 155
  - Bermuda Society of Arts (BSOA; City of Hamilton), 170
  - The Birdsey Studio (Paget Parish), 151
  - Bridge House Gallery (St. George Town), 159
  - Hamilton City Hall & Arts Centre (City of Hamilton), 156
  - The Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art (Paget Parish), 151–152
- A. S. Cooper & Sons (City of Hamilton), 168, 170–171
- Astwood Cove (Warwick Parish), 125–126
- Astwood Dickinson (City of Hamilton), 172
- Atlantis: Bermuda Triangle, 29
- ATMs (automated-teller machines), 195
- Australia
consular assistance, 192
legal aid, 194
passports, 197
- Axiom, 182

B

- The Back Yard, 30
- Balladeer tradition, 31–32
- Ballet, 181
- Bank of Butterfield (City of Hamilton), 191
- Banks, 191
- Barber's Alley (St. George Town), 56
- Bars, 178–181
- Beaches, 123–128. See also Watersports
- Achilles Bay (St. George's Parish), 128
  - Astwood Cove (Warwick Parish), 125–126
  - best, 2
  - Chaplin Bay (Warwick and Southampton parishes), 126
  - Church Bay (Southampton Parish), 127
  - Elbow Beach (Paget Parish), 123–124
  - Hamilton Parish, 128
  - Horseshoe Bay Beach (Southampton Parish), 126–127
  - Jobson's Cove (Warwick Parish), 126
  - John Smith's Bay (Smith's Parish), 128
  - Paget Parish, 123–124
  - St. Catherine's Beach (St. George's Parish), 128
  - St. George's Parish, 128
  - Sandys Parish, 127
  - Shelly Bay (Hamilton Parish), 128
  - Somerset Long Bay (Sandys Parish), 127
  - Southampton Parish, 126–127
  - Stonehole Bay (Warwick Parish), 126
  - Tobacco Bay (St. George's Parish), 128
  - Warwick Long Bay (Warwick Parish), 126
  - Warwick Parish, 125–126
- Beachwear and sunglasses, City of Hamilton, 170
- Beating Retreat Ceremony, 37
- Belmont Hills Golf & Country Club (Warwick Parish), 136
- Bermuda: Centre of the Atlantic (video presentation), 159
- Bermuda: Her Plants and Gardens 1609–1850, 30
- Bermuda Accommodations, 81
- Bermuda Antique Furniture and Silver, 29
- Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & Zoo (Hamilton Parish), 158
- Bermuda Arts Centre at Dockyard (Sandys Parish), 64, 147, 175

- Bermuda Audubon Society, 140
 Bermuda Audubon Society Nature Reserve (Sandys Parish), 127
 Bermuda Cathedral (Cathedral of the Most Holy Trinity; City of Hamilton), 61, 155–156
 Bermuda Civic Ballet, 181
 Bermuda Commercial Bank (City of Hamilton), 191
 Bermuda Craft Market (Sandys Parish), 147
 Bermuda Customs, 191
 Bermuda Day, 38
 Bermuda Department of Tourism, 200
 Bermuda Equestrian Federation, 141
 Bermuda Explorers Program, 164
 The Bermuda Festival, 36, 182
 Bermuda fish chowder, 33
 Bermuda Game Fishing Tournament, 134
 Bermuda Golf Association, 136, 141
 Bermuda Goodwill Tournament, 39
Bermuda Handy Reference Map, 51
 Bermuda Heart & Soul, 36
 Bermuda Heritage Day and Month, 38
 Bermuda Historical Society Museum (City of Hamilton), 58, 60, 154–155
 Bermuda Hosts (St. George), 186
Bermuda Houses and Gardens, 30
 Bermuda Institute of Ocean Sciences, environmental tours, 165
 Bermuda International Airport (St. George's Parish), 185
 Bermuda International Film Festival, 36–37
 Bermuda International Race Weekend, 36
 Bermuda Lectures & Tours, 42
 Bermuda lobster, 33–34
 Bermuda Maritime Museum (Sandys Parish), 147
 Bermuda National Gallery (City of Hamilton), 155
 Bermuda National Trust Museum (St. George Town), 56, 159
 Bermuda onions, 34
 Bermuda Open, 141
 Bermuda Philharmonic Society, 181
 Bermuda Physically Handicapped Association, 192
 Bermuda Railway Trail, 57, 62
   biking, 138–139
Bermuda Railway Trail Guide, 57
 Bermuda Realty, 67
 Bermuda Regiment, 32
 Bermuda Scuba (Pembroke Parish), 132
Bermuda Shipwrecks: A Vacationing Diver's Guide to Bermuda's Shipwrecks, 29
 Bermuda Society of Arts (BSOA; City of Hamilton), 170
 Bermuda Society of Arts (City of Hamilton), 156
 Bermuda Sportfishing (Pembroke Parish), 133
Bermuda's Story, 30
 The Bermuda Strollers, 32
 Bermuda Taxi Radio Cabs Ltd., 185
 Bermuda Triangle, 22
   books about, 29
   official word on, 37
The Bermuda Triangle Mystery Solved, 29
 Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute (BUEI; Pembroke Parish), 155
 Bermuda Waterski Centre (Sandys Parish), 135
 Biking, 3, 137–139
   rentals, 138, 188
Biography of a Colonial Town, 30
 "Birdcage" (City of Hamilton), 58, 154
 Birdsey, Alfred, 25
 The Birdsey Studio (Paget Parish), 151
 Bird-watching, 41–42
 Black Horse Tavern (St. George's Parish), 181
 Black Watch Well (Pembroke Parish), 153
 Bluck's (City of Hamilton), 171
 Blue Hole Park (Hamilton Parish), 160
 Blue Hole Water Sports (Hamilton Parish), 52, 134
 Blue Water Divers & Watersports Ltd. (Southampton Parish), 132
 Boating and sailing, 3, 134–135
   best outfitters, 5
   races, 141
 Boatloft houses (Sandys Parish), 149
 Boat tours, City of Hamilton, 153
 The Book Cellar (St. George's Parish), 176
 The Bookmart (City of Hamilton), 170
 Books, recommended, 29–30
 Bookstores
   City of Hamilton, 170
   St. George's Parish, 176
 Botanical Gardens (Paget Parish), 151
 The Bridal Suite (Pembroke), 190
 Bridge House Gallery (St. George Town), 159
 Bridge House (St. George Town), 54
 British Airways, 184
 BUEI (Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute; Pembroke Parish), 155
 Burrows, Lightbourn Ltd. (City of Hamilton), 173
 Business hours, 191
 Bus travel, 188–189
- C
 Cabinet Building (City of Hamilton), 61
 Cable & Wireless Office (City of Hamilton), 198–199
 Cabs, 186
   Bermuda International Airport (St. George's Parish), 185
 Café Cairo (City of Hamilton), 179
 Calendar of events, 36–39
 Calypso (City of Hamilton), 170
 Canada
   Consulate General, 192
   legal aid, 194
   passports, 196, 197
 Carole Holding Studio (City of Hamilton), 171–172
 Carter House (St. David's Island Historical Site; St. George Town), 159–160
 Car travel, 186
 Casey's (City of Hamilton), 179
 Cassava root, 34
 Cathedral of the Most Holy Trinity (Bermuda Cathedral; City of Hamilton), 61, 155–156
 Cathedral of the Most Holy Trinity (City of Hamilton), 153
 Cavello Bay, 64
 Cécile (City of Hamilton), 171
 Celebrity Cruises, 184
 Cellphones, 195
 Cenotaph (City of Hamilton), 61
 Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 193
 Central Bus Terminal (City of Hamilton), 189
Chained on the Rock: Slavery in Bermuda, 30
 Chaplin Bay (Warwick and Southampton parishes), 2, 126
Chapter Two (film), 30
 Chatham House Bermuda (City of Hamilton), 175
 Chelston (Paget Parish), 48
 Chief Immigration Officer, 197
 Children, families with, 193
   accommodations, 79
   restaurants, 111
   sights and attractions, 148
 China and glassware, City of Hamilton, 170–171
 Chip and PIN credit and debit cards, 195–196
 Christ Church (Warwick Parish), 150
 Church Bay (Southampton Parish), 2, 127
   snorkeling, 129

- Churches and cathedrals
 Bermuda Cathedral
 (Cathedral of the Most Holy Trinity; City of Hamilton), 61, 155-156
 Christ Church (Warwick Parish), 150
 Cobb's Hill Wesleyan Methodist Church, 154
 Old Devonshire Parish Church (Devonshire Parish), 49
 St. James' Anglican Church (Sandys Parish), 146
 St. Peter's Church (St. George Town), 56, 163
 St. Theresa's (City of Hamilton), 60
 Unfinished Church (St. George Town), 54, 163
- Cirrus, 195
- City Hall Theatre (City of Hamilton), 182
- City of Hamilton (Pembroke Parish), 48-49
 accommodations
 guesthouses, 84-86
 housekeeping units, 83-84
 resort hotel, 69, 72
 small hotels, 77
 history of, 51-52
 nightlife, 177-179
 restaurants, 103-115
 shopping, 167, 168-175
 sights and attractions, 153-156
- Civil War, American, 19, 159
- Classical music, 181
- "Classical Pops" concerts, 181
- Climate, 35-36
- Cobb's Hill Wesleyan Methodist Church, 154
- Coconut Rock (City of Hamilton), 177-178
- Commissioner's House (Sandys Parish), 147
- Constellation (dive site), 130
- Consulates, 192
- Continental Airlines, 183
- Continental Airlines Vacations, 44
- C.O.O.P., 185
- Cooper's Frangipani (St. George's Parish), 176
- Cottage colonies, 66, 77-81
- Cottages (cabanas), 67
- Coward, Noël, 28
- Crawl Hill (Hamilton Parish), 51
- Credit cards, 195
- Cricket, 140
- Cristóbal Colón (dive site), 130
- The Cruise Company, 185
- Cruise lines and ships, 184-185
- Cruises, Inc., 185
- Cruises Only, 185
- Crystal Caves (Hamilton Parish), 150, 158
- Cup Match and Somers Days, 38
- Cup Match Cricket Festival, 140
- Currency and currency exchange, 196
- Customs regulations, 191
- Cuts, 194
- D
- David Winston (City of Hamilton), 171
- The Deep* (film), 30
- Deep Lounge & Nightclub (Paget Parish), 177
- Deep-sea fishing, 133
- Deliverance* (St. George Town), 160-161
- Delta, 183
- Delta Vacations, 44
- Denslow, W. W., 30
- Dentists, 191
- Department of Environmental Protection, 37
- Department stores, City of Hamilton, 168
- Devonshire Dock, 49-50
- Devonshire Parish
 brief description of, 49-50
 golf, 137
 sights and attractions, 161
- Dining, 89-122. See also Restaurants Index
 best, 11-12, 89-90
 City of Hamilton (Pembroke Parish), 103-115
 by cuisine, 90-92
 dress codes, 33
 family-friendly, 111
 Hamilton Parish, 117-119
 at hotels, 68, 107
 local dining customs, 35
 Paget Parish, 102-103
 reservations, 90
 St. George's Parish, 119-122
 Sandys Parish, 92-97
 service charges, 96
 Smith's Parish, 116-117
 Southampton Parish, 97-101
 Warwick Parish, 101-102
- Disabled travelers, 191-192
- Diving, 3, 130-133
 best dive sites, 3-4
 books about, 29
 schools and outfitters, 131-133
- Diving Bermuda*, 29
- Dockside (City of Hamilton), 179
- The Dockyard Cakery/The Dockyard Glassworks (Sandys Parish), 175-176
- Dolphin Quest Experience, 135
- Dress codes
 golf, 146
 at restaurants, 33
- Drinking laws, 192
- Driver, Thomas, 25
- Driving rules, 192
- Drug laws, 192
- Drugstores, 192
- Duty-free shops, 176
- E
- Eating and drinking, 32-35
 best, 11-12, 89-90
 City of Hamilton (Pembroke Parish), 103-115
 by cuisine, 90-92
 dress codes, 33
 family-friendly, 111
 Hamilton Parish, 117-119
 at hotels, 68, 107
 local dining customs, 35
 Paget Parish, 102-103
 reservations, 90
 St. George's Parish, 119-122
 Sandys Parish, 92-97
 service charges, 96
 Smith's Parish, 116-117
 Southampton Parish, 97-101
 Warwick Parish, 101-102
- Eco-tours, 42-43
- Edmund Gibbons Nature Reserve (Devonshire Parish), 50
- Elbow Beach Hotel (Paget Parish), 124
 tennis, 139
- Elbow Beach (Paget Parish), 2, 64, 123-124
- Electricity, 192
- Embassies and consulates, 192
- Emergencies, 192
- English Sports Shop (City of Hamilton), 175
- Enterprise* (slave ship), 154
- Entertainment and nightlife, 1, 177-182
 Hamilton Parish, 178-179
 Pembroke Parish (City of Hamilton), 177-179
 performing arts, 181-182
 St. George's Parish, 181
 Sandys Parish, 180
 Smith's Parish, 180-181
 Southampton Parish, 178, 181
- Environmental tours, 165
- E. R. Aubrey, Jewellers (City of Hamilton), 172
- Etiquette, 193
- Eve Cycle Ltd. (Paget Parish), 188
- F
- Fairmont Southampton Golf Club (Southampton Parish), 137
- The Fairmont Southampton (Southampton Parish), tennis, 139
- Families with children, 193
 accommodations, 79
 restaurants, 111
 sights and attractions, 148
- Fashion (clothing), City of Hamilton, 171, 175

- Fauna, 40–42
 Featherbed Alley Printery (St. George Town), 56
 Ferries, 189–190
 Ferry Terminal (City of Hamilton), 58, 200
 Festivals and special events, 36–39
 Film Festival, Bermuda International, 36–37
 Films, recommended, 30
 Fish Bermuda (Pembroke Parish), 133
 Fish chowder, Bermuda, 33
 Fishing, 133–134
   Bermuda Game Fishing Tournament, 134
 Flanagan's (City of Hamilton), 179
 Flatts Village (Smith's Parish), 50, 64
 Flora, 40
 Food and cuisine, 32–35
   restaurants by cuisine, 90–92
 Football (soccer), 141
 Forster Cooper Building (Sandys Parish), 149
 Fort Hamilton (City of Hamilton), 61
 Forts, St. George Town, 164
 Fort St. Catherine (St. George Town), 164
 Fort Scour (Sandys Parish), 62
 The Frog & Onion Pub (Sandys Parish), 180
 Frommer's favorite experiences, 146
 Front Street (City of Hamilton), 154
 Front Street docks (City of Hamilton), 154
 Fruits and vegetables, 34
- G
 Galleries and art museums
   Bermuda Arts Centre at Dockyard (Sandys Parish), 64, 147, 175
   Bermuda National Gallery (City of Hamilton), 155
   Bermuda Society of Arts (BSOA; City of Hamilton), 170
   The Birdsey Studio (Paget Parish), 151
   Bridge House Gallery (St. George Town), 159
   Hamilton City Hall & Arts Centre (City of Hamilton), 156
   The Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art (Paget Parish), 151–152
 Gasoline, 193
 Gas stations (petrol stations), 187
- Gates Fort (St. George Town), 164
 Gays and lesbians, 194
 General Post Office (City of Hamilton), 198
 Geography and topology, 39–40
 Gibbons (City of Hamilton), 168, 170
 Gibbs Hill Lighthouse (Southampton Parish), 64, 150
   biking, 138
 Gifts and souvenirs, City of Hamilton, 171–172
 Gilbert Nature Reserve (Sandys Parish), 143
 Golf, 3, 135–137
   Bermuda Golf Association, 136, 141
   Bermuda Goodwill Tournament, 39
   best courses, 4
   dress code, 136
   tournaments, 140–141
   Upstairs Golf & Tennis Shop (City of Hamilton), 174
 Gombey dancing and music, 31, 181–182
 Gosling Brothers, Ltd. (City of Hamilton), 173–174
 Government, 16–17
 Government House (Pembroke Parish), 152–153
 Government Tennis Stadium (W. E. R. Joell Tennis Stadium; Pembroke Parish), 139
 Green, John, 25
 Grocers, City of Hamilton, 172
 Grotto Bay Beach Club (Hamilton Parish), 139
 Guesthouses, 67, 84–88. See also Accommodations
A Guide to the Reef, Shore, and Game Fish of Bermuda, 30
 Gumba Trail, 165
 Guy Fawkes Day, 39
- H
 Hamilton City Hall & Arts Centre (City of Hamilton), 60, 156
 Hamilton Harbour Nights (City of Hamilton), 168
 Hamilton Parish, 50–51
   accommodations
     cottage colony, 81
     resort hotels, 74
   beaches, 128
   nightlife, 178–179
   restaurants, 117–119
   sights and attractions, 158, 160
   tennis, 139
 The Harbourmaster (City of Hamilton), 173
 Harrington Sound, 50–51
 Hartford Holidays Travel, 185
 Hasty Pudding Theatricals (City of Hamilton), 182
- Hayward, Lance, 32
 Health concerns, 193–194
 Henry VIII (Southampton Parish), 178
 Heritage Court (City of Hamilton), 179–180
Hermes (dive site), 130
 Heydon Trust (Sandys Parish), 157
 Hiking, 6
 Historic forts, St. George Town, 164
 Historic St. George (St. George Town), 162
 Historic sites, best, 7
 History of Bermuda, 13–24
   books about, 30
   the early years, 18
   relations with America, 18–19
   World War, 19–20
 Hog Bay Park (Sandys Parish), 147
 Holidays, 36
 Home & Garden Tours, 37
 Hoppin' John, 34
 Horseback riding, 3, 139
 Horse racing and equestrian competitions, 141
 Horseshoe Bay Beach Cafe (Southampton Parish), 127
 Horseshoe Bay Beach (Southampton Parish), 64, 126–127
 Horseshoe Bay (Southampton Parish), 2
 Hospitals, 194
 Hotels and resorts, 66–88. See also Accommodations Index apartment rentals, 67
   best, 8–11
     bargains, 11
     for families, 10
     for honeymooners, 8–9
   cottage colonies (cabanas), 66, 67, 77–81
   dining at your hotel, 68, 107
   family-friendly, 79
   guesthouses, 67, 84–88
   Hamilton Parish
     cottage colony, 81
     resort hotels, 72–74
   housekeeping units, 66, 81–84
   meal plans, 68
   Paget Parish
     cottage colony, 78–79
     guesthouses, 85, 87–88
     housekeeping units, 82, 84
     resort hotel, 69
     small hotels, 75–76
   Pembroke Parish (City of Hamilton)
     guesthouses, 84–86
     housekeeping units, 83–84
     resort hotel, 69, 72
     small hotels, 77

- rates and reservation policies, 67–68
 resort hotels, 66, 68–74
 St. George's Parish, cottage colony, 80
 Sandys Parish, cottage colony, 77–78, 80–81
 small hotels, 66, 74–77
 Smith's Parish, cottage colony, 79–80
 Southampton Parish
   guesthouse, 86
   housekeeping units, 82
   resort hotel, 68–69
   small hotels, 74–75
 types of, 66–67
 villa or vacation home rentals, 67
 Warwick Parish
   guesthouses, 86–87
   housekeeping units, 81–82
- Housekeeping units, 66, 81–84
H. S. & J. E. Crisson Ltd. (City of Hamilton), 172
HSBC of Bermuda (City of Hamilton), 191
Hurricane season, 36
- I
- IAMAT (International Association for Medical Assistance to Travelers), 193
Iana (City of Hamilton), 171
Ice Age, 150
Identity and Passport Service (IPS), 197
Idwal Hughes Nature Reserve (Hamilton Parish), 160
Insurance, 194
International Association for Medical Assistance to Travelers (IAMAT), 193
International Race Week, 37–38
International Race Weekend Committee, 36
Internet and Wi-Fi, 194
Invitation Tennis Weeks, 39
Ireland, passports, 197
Ireland Island & the Royal Naval Dockyard (Sandys Parish), 146–150
The Irish Linen Shop (City of Hamilton), 173
Irresistible (ship), 149
Island-hopping on your own, 52
Itineraries, suggested, 53–65
   in 1 day, 53–57
   in 2 days, 57–61
   in 3 days, 61–65
- J
- Jasmine (Southampton Parish), 181
Jessie James Cruises, 129–130
JetBlue Airways, 183
- Jewelry, City of Hamilton, 172–173
Jobson's Cove (Warwick Parish), 126
Johnny Bread (Johnnycake), 34
John Smith's Bay (Smith's Parish), 2, 128
   snorkeling, 129
- K
- Kelly Cruises, 185
Kids, 193
   accommodations, 79
   restaurants, 111
   sights and attractions, 148
- King Edward VII Gold Cup International Match Racing Tournament, 141
King Edward VII Memorial Hospital (Paget Parish), 191, 193, 194
King's Square, 53
King's Square (St. George Town), 159
- L
- Labour Day, 38
Lagoon Park, 65
Leather goods, City of Hamilton, 173
Lefroy, Lady, 25
Legal aid, 194
Lewis, Sinclair, 28
LGBT travelers, 194
L'Herminie (dive site), 130
A Life on Old St. David's, 30
Lighthouses, Gibbs Hill
   Lighthouse (Southampton Parish), 64
Linens, City of Hamilton, 173
Liquor and liqueurs, City of Hamilton, 173
Literature, 28–30
Lodgings, 66–88. See also Accommodations Index
   apartment rentals, 67
   best, 8–11
   bargains, 11
   for families, 10
   for honeymooners, 8–9
   cottage colonies (cabanas), 66, 67, 77–81
   dining at your hotel, 68, 107
   family-friendly, 79
   guesthouses, 67, 84–88
   Hamilton Parish
     cottage colony, 81
     resort hotels, 72–74
   housekeeping units, 66, 81–84
   meal plans, 68
   Paget Parish
     cottage colony, 78–79
     guesthouses, 85, 87–88
   housekeeping units, 82, 84
- resort hotel, 69
 small hotels, 75–76
 Pembroke Parish (City of Hamilton)
   guesthouses, 84–86
   housekeeping units, 83–84
   resort hotel, 69, 72
   small hotels, 77
 rates and reservation policies, 67–68
 resort hotels, 66, 68–74
 St. George's Parish, cottage colony, 80
 Sandys Parish, cottage colony, 77–78, 80–81
 small hotels, 66, 74–77
 Smith's Parish, cottage colony, 79–80
 Southampton Parish
   guesthouse, 86
   housekeeping units, 82
   resort hotel, 68–69
   small hotels, 74–75
 types of, 66–67
 villa or vacation home rentals, 67
 Warwick Parish
   guesthouses, 86–87
   housekeeping units, 81–82
- types of, 66–67
 villa or vacation home rentals, 67
 Warwick Parish
   guesthouses, 86–87
   housekeeping units, 81–82
- Logic Internet Cafe (City of Hamilton), 194
Loquat liqueur, 34
Luco (City of Hamilton), 173
LVs Piano Jazz Lounge (City of Hamilton), 178
- M
- Mail, 195
Mann Travel & Cruises, 185
Marie Celeste (dive site), 130–131
Marine Fauna and Flora of Bermuda, 29
Marine Science Day, 38
Marion-to-Bermuda Race, 38
Maritime Museum, Bermuda (Sandys Parish), 147
The Marketplace (City of Hamilton), 172
Marks & Spencer (City of Hamilton), 170
Marriages, 190
MasterCard, traveler's checks, 196
The Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art (Paget Parish), 151–152
Match Racing, 38–39
Meyer Franklin Travel (City of Hamilton), 191
Miles Market (City of Hamilton), 172
Mobile phones, 195
Money and costs, 195–196
Moore, Thomas, 28, 29
Moped rentals, 186–188

Mopeds, fuel for, 193

Motorbike rentals, 186–188

Museums

art

- Bermuda Arts Centre at Dockyard (Sandys Parish), 64, 147, 175
- Bermuda National Gallery (City of Hamilton), 155
- Bermuda Society of Arts (BSOA; City of Hamilton), 170
- The Birdsey Studio (Paget Parish), 151
- Bridge House Gallery (St. George Town), 159
- Hamilton City Hall & Arts Centre (City of Hamilton), 156
- The Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art (Paget Parish), 151–152

Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & Zoo (Hamilton Parish), 158

Bermuda Historical Society Museum (City of Hamilton), 58, 60, 154–155

Bermuda Maritime Museum (Sandys Parish), 147

Bermuda National Trust Museum (St. George Town), 56, 159

St. George's Historical Society Museum (St. George Town), 56, 162–163

Tucker House Museum (St. George Town), 25, 163

Vermont Historic House Museum (Smith's Parish), 157–158, 165

Music, 30

Musical theater, 182

Mussels, 34

M.Y. Bermuda IV* (scuba-diving charter yacht), 132

The Mystery of the books about Bermuda Triangle*, 29

N

National Dance Theater of Bermuda, 181

National Equestrian Centre (Devonshire Parish), 141

National Gallery, Bermuda (City of Hamilton), 155

National Passport Information Center (United States), 197

Newport-Bermuda Race, 38, 141

Newspapers and magazines, 196

New Zealand, passports, 197

Nightlife and entertainment, 1, 177–182

Hamilton Parish, 178–179

Pembroke Parish (City of Hamilton), 177–179

performing arts, 181–182

St. George's Parish, 181

Sandys Parish, 180

Smith's Parish, 180–181

Southampton Parish, 178, 181

9 Beaches, 43

Nonsuch Island Field Trip, 43

North Carolina (dive site), 131

North Rock Brewing Company (Smith's Parish), 180–181

North Rock Exhibit (Hamilton Parish), 158

Norwegian Cruise Line, 184

O

The Ocean Discovery Centre (City of Hamilton), 129

Ocean View Golf Course (Devonshire Parish), 137

Old Bermuda experiences, best, 7–8

Old Devonshire Parish Church (Devonshire Parish), 49

Old Rectory (St. George Town), 56, 161–162

Old State House (St. George Town), 54, 162

Oleander Cycles Ltd., 188

O'Neill, Eugene, 28

The "Onions," 16

Opening of Parliament, 39

Opus (City of Hamilton), 178

Ordnance Island, 53–54

Organized tours, 164–165

Otto Wurz Co. (City of Hamilton), 174

Outdoor activities and sports.

See also Watersports

best, 3

biking, 137–139

golf, 135–137

horseback riding, 139

spectator sports, 139–141

tennis, 139

tournaments, 140–141

P

Package tours, 44

Packing tips, 184

Paget Marsh (Paget Parish), 152

Paget Parish

accommodations

cottage colony, 78–79

guesthouses, 85, 87–88

housekeeping units, 82, 84

resort hotel, 69

small hotels, 75–76

beaches, 123–124

brief description of, 48

nightlife, 177

restaurants, 102–103

sights and attractions, 151–152

tennis, 139

Palm Grove (City of Hamilton),

157

Parishes of Bermuda, 45–51

Par-la-Ville Park (City of Hamilton), 58

Parliament Building (Sessions House; City of Hamilton), 61

Parliament (City of Hamilton), Opening of, 39

Passports, 196–197

Pembroke Parish (City of Hamilton)

accommodations

guesthouses, 84–86

housekeeping units, 83–84

resort hotel, 69, 72

small hotels, 77

brief description of, 48–49

nightlife, 177–179

sights and attractions,

152–156

tennis, 139

People's Pharmacy (City of Hamilton), 192

Peppercorn Ceremony, 37

Peppercorn Ceremony (St. George Town), 162

Performing arts, 181–182

Perot Post Office (City of Hamilton), 60, 156, 174

Petrol stations (gas stations), 187

Pets, traveling with, 197–198

Petticoat Lane (St. George Town), 56

Phoenix Drugstore (City of Hamilton), 192

Photographic equipment, City of Hamilton, 174

The Pickled Onion (City of Hamilton), 180

Planning your trip, 183–200

American Express, 191

banks, 191

business hours, 191

customs regulations, 191

dentists, 191

disabled travelers, 191–192

drinking laws, 192

driving rules, 192

drug laws, 192

drugstores, 192

electricity, 192

embassies and consulates, 192

emergencies, 192

etiquette, 193

family travel, 193

getting around, 185–190

getting there, 183–185

health concerns, 193–194

hospitals, 194

insurance, 194

Internet and Wi-Fi, 194

mobile phones, 195

money and costs, 195–196

newspapers and magazines,

196

passports, 196–197
 police, 198
 safety, 198
 seasickness, 193–194
 senior travel, 198
 smoking, 198
 student travel, 198
 sunburns and exposure, 193
 taxes, 198
 telephones, 198–199
 time zone, 199
 tipping, 199
 toilets, 199
 transit information, 199
 visas, 199
 visitor information, 200
 weddings, 190

Pleistocene Ice Age, 150
PLUS network, 195
Police, 198
Pompano Beach Club Watersports Centre (Southampton Parish), 134
Population, 16
Port Royal Golf Course (Southampton Parish), 137
Portuguese red-bean soup, 34
Post offices, 198
Potatoes, 34
Prescription medications, 193
Princess Cruises, 184
Prohibition, 19
P-Tech (City of Hamilton), 174
Pub lunch, 34–35

Q

Queen's Birthday, 38
Queen's Exhibition Hall (Sandys Parish), 149

R

Railway Trail, 57, 62
 biking, 138–139
Rambler (ship), 149
RangeRoamer, 195
Reef fishing, 133
Registry General (City of Hamilton), 190
Religious tolerance, 17
Remembrance Day, 39
Reservations
 accommodations, 67
 restaurants, 90
Resort hotels, 66, 68–74
Resorts and hotels, 66–88. See also Accommodations Index
 apartment rentals, 67
 best, 8–11
   bargains, 11
   for families, 10
   for honeymooners, 8–9
 cottage colonies (cabanas), 66, 67, 77–81
 dining at your hotel, 68, 107
 family-friendly, 79
 guesthouses, 67, 84–88

Hamilton Parish
 cottage colony, 81
 resort hotels, 72–74
 housekeeping units, 66, 81–84
 meal plans, 68
 Paget Parish
 cottage colony, 78–79
 guesthouse, 85
 guesthouses, 85, 87–88
 housekeeping units, 82, 84
 resort hotel, 69
 small hotels, 75–76
 Pembroke Parish (City of Hamilton)
 guesthouses, 84–86
 housekeeping units, 83–84
 resort hotel, 69, 72
 small hotels, 77
 rates and reservation policies, 67–68
 resort hotels, 66, 68–74
 St. George's Parish, cottage colony, 80
 Sandys Parish, cottage colony, 77–78, 80–81
 small hotels, 66, 74–77
 Smith's Parish, cottage colony, 79–80
 Southampton Parish
 guesthouse, 86
 housekeeping units, 82
 resort hotel, 68–69
 small hotels, 74–75
 types of, 66–67
 villa or vacation home rentals, 67
 Warwick Parish
 guesthouses, 86–87
 housekeeping units, 81–82

Responsible travel, 42–43
Restaurants, 89–122. See also Restaurants Index

Restaurants Index
 best, 11–12, 89–90
 City of Hamilton (Pembroke Parish), 103–115
 by cuisine, 90–92
 dress codes, 33
 family-friendly, 111
 Hamilton Parish, 117–119
 at hotels, 68, 107
 local dining customs, 35
 Paget Parish, 102–103
 reservations, 90
 St. George's Parish, 119–122
 Sandys Parish, 92–97
 service charges, 96
 Smith's Parish, 116–117
 Southampton Parish, 97–101
 Warwick Parish, 101–102

The Rich Papers-Letters from Bermuda, 30

Riihiluoma's Flying Colours (City of Hamilton), 172

Rita Zovetta (dive site), 131

The Robin Hood (City of Hamilton), 180

Rockfish, 33

Rock Ramblers, 43

Royal Caribbean International, 184

Royal Naval Dockyard (Sandys Parish), 64, 146, 149–150, 200

Rugby, 39

Rum, 34

S

Safety, 198

Sail Bermuda (Paget Parish), 134

Sailing (yachting), 134–135

Annapolis-Bermuda Race, 141
 best outfitters, 5
 International Race Week, 37–38
 International Race Weekend, 36
 King Edward VII Gold Cup
 International Match Racing
 Tournament, 141
 Marion-to-Bermuda Race, 38
 Match Racing, 38–39
 Newport-Bermuda Race, 38, 141
 races, 141

Sail on Bermuda (City of Hamilton), 170

St. Catherine's Beach (St. George's Parish), 128

St. David's Island Historical Site (Carter House; St. George Town), 159–160

St. David's Island (St. George's Parish), sights and attractions, 161

St. George's Cricket Club (St. George's Parish), 140

St. George's Historical Society Museum (St. George Town), 56, 162–163

St. George's Mini-Bus Service, 189

St. George's Parish, 51–53. See also St. George Town

accommodations, cottage colony, 80
 beaches, 128
 nightlife, 181
 restaurants, 119–122
 shopping, 176
 sights and attractions, 159–164

St. George Town (St. George's Parish), 51

places where you can be alone, 160–161

St. George's Parish, 159–163
 shopping, 167

St. James' Anglican Church (Sandys Parish), 146

St. Peter's Church (St. George Town), 56, 163

St. Theresa's (City of Hamilton), 60

- Sandys tax, 168
San Antonio (wreck), 148
Sandys Parish
 accommodations, cottage colony, 77-78, 80-81
 beaches, 127
 biking, 138
 brief description of, 45-46
 nightlife, 180
 restaurants, 92-97
 shopping, 167-168, 175-176
 sights and attractions, 142-150, 160
- Scaur Hill Fort Park (Sandys Parish), 143
 Scooter rentals, 186-188
Scuba diving, 3, 130-133
 best dive sites, 3-4
 books about, 29
 schools and outfitters, 131-133
- Seafood, 33-34
Sea life, 42
Sea scallops, 34
Seasickness, 193-194
Seasons, 35-36
Sea Venture (wreck), 148, 155
 Senior travel, 198
- Sessions House (Parliament Building; City of Hamilton), 10, 156
 Seymour, Stan, 32
 Shakespeare, William, 28
 Shark, 33
- Sharon Wilson Gallery (St. George Town), 176
Shelly Bay (Hamilton Parish), 2, 51, 128
Shifting House (Sandys Parish), 148
Shoes, City of Hamilton, 174
Shopping, 166-176
 beachwear and sunglasses, 170 best buys, 166-167
 china and glassware, 170-171
 department stores, 168, 170
 duty-free shops, 176
 fashion, 171
 finding an address, 168
 gifts, 171-172
 grocers, 172-173
 jewelry, 172-173
 leather goods, 173
 liquor & liqueurs, 173-174 sales, 167
 sales tax and duty, 168
 Sandys Parish, 175-176
 store hours, 168
 tobacco, 175
- Shore fishing, 133-134
Sights and attractions, 142-165
 Devonshire Parish, 161
 Hamilton Parish, 158, 160
 for kids, 148
 organized tours, 164-165
 Paget Parish, 151-152
 Pembroke Parish & The City of Hamilton, 152-156
 St. George's Parish, 159-164
- Sandys Parish, 142-150, 160
 Smith's Parish, 157-158
 Warwick Parish, 150-151, 161
- Silver, City of Hamilton, 174
Slavery, 18
Small hotels, 66, 74-77
Smatt's Cycle Livery, 188
Smith, Hubert, 32
Smith's Parish
 accommodations, cottage colony, 79-80 beach, 128
 brief description of, 50
 nightlife, 180-181
 restaurants, 116-117
 sights and attractions, 157-158
- Smoking, 198
Snorkeling, 128-130
Soccer, 141
Somerset Bridge (Sandys Parish), 62, 149
Somerset Bridge Watersports (Sandys Parish), 134-135
Somerset Cricket Club, 140
Somerset Long Bay Park (Sandys Parish), 65
Somerset Long Bay (Sandys Parish), 2, 127
Somerset Pharmacy (Somerset Village), 192
Somerset Village, 65
 restaurant, 93
- Somers Garden (St. George Town), 54, 162
Somers Wharf & Branch Stores (St. George Town), 57, 175
Sound View Road, 62
Southampton Parish
 accommodations
 guesthouse, 86
 housekeeping units, 82
 resort hotel, 68-69
 small hotels, 74-75
 beaches, 126-127
 brief description of, 47-48
 golf, 137
 nightlife, 178, 181
 restaurants, 97-101
 sights and attractions, 150, 160
 tennis, 139
- South West Breaker (dive site), 131
Special events and festivals, 36-39
Spectator sports, 139-141
Spicelands Riding Centre (Warwick Parish), 139
The Spinning Wheel (City of Hamilton), 178
Spirit of Bermuda (ship), 149
Spittal Pond Nature Reserve (Smith's Parish), 42, 140, 157
 biking, 138
- Sports and outdoor activities. See also Watersports
 best, 3
 biking, 137-139
- golf, 135-137
 best courses, 4
 tournaments, 140-141
 horseback riding, 139
 spectator sports, 139-141
 tennis, 139
 tournaments, 140-141
- Sportswear, City of Hamilton, 174
Stamps, City of Hamilton, 174
Steel Groove, 32
Stefanel (City of Hamilton), 171
Stonehole Bay (Warwick Parish), 126
Store hours, 168
The Story of Bermuda and Her People, 29
Student travel, 198
Sunburns and exposure, 193
Sun exposure, 127
Sustainable tourism, 42-43
Sweet-potato pudding, 34
Swiss Timing (City of Hamilton), 173
Swizzle Inn (Hamilton Parish), 178-179
- T
Tanning tips, 127
Tarpon Hole (dive site), 131
Tauton (dive site), 131
Taxes, 198
Taxis, 186
 Bermuda International Airport (St. George's Parish), 185
- Taylor's (St. George's Parish), 176
TeleBermuda International Custom Centre (City of Hamilton), 194
Telephones, 198-199
Temperatures, 35, 36
Tennis, 139
 best facilities, 5-6
 Invitation Tennis Weeks, 39
 Upstairs Golf & Tennis Shop (City of Hamilton), 174
- Time zone, 199
Tipping, 199
Tobacco, City of Hamilton, 175
Tobacco Bay Beach House (St. George's Parish), 128
Tobacco Bay (St. George's Parish), 2, 128
 snorkeling, 129
- Toilets, 199
Tom Moore's Jungle (Hamilton Parish), 51
Tom Moore's Tavern, 28
Tourism, 17-18
Tours
 organized, 164-165
 package, 44
 taxi, 186
- Town Hall (St. George Town), 54, 163
Transit information, 199
Transportation, 185-190
Traveler's checks, 196

Travel Health Online, 193
 Triangle Diving (Hamilton Parish), 132-133
 Tucker House Museum (St. George Town), 25, 163
 Tucker House (St. George Town), 56-57
 Twain, Mark, 28

U

Unfinished Church (St. George Town), 54, 163

United Airlines, 184

United Kingdom

for emergency travel documents, 192
 legal aid, 194
 passports, 196, 197
 visitor information, 200

United States

Consulate General, 192
 legal aid, 194
 passports, 196, 197
 visitor information, 200

United Vacations, 44

Upstairs Golf & Tennis Shop (City of Hamilton), 174

USA3000 Airlines, 183

US Airways, 183

U.S. Passport Card, 196

V

Vacation home rentals, 67

Vera P. Card (City of Hamilton), 172

Vermont Historic House Museum (Smith's Parish), 157-158, 165

Victoria Park (City of Hamilton), 60

Victory (dinghy), 149

Views, best, 6

Villa rentals, 67, 81

Visa credit cards, traveler's checks, 196

Visas, 199

Visitor information, 200

Visitors Information Centre

St. George Town, 159
 Sandys Parish, 143

Visitors Information Centre/
 Ferry Terminal (City of Hamilton), 58

W

Wahoo, 33

Walker Christopher Goldsmiths (City of Hamilton), 173

Warwick Long Bay (Warwick Parish), 2, 126, 150

Warwick Parish

accommodations
 guesthouses, 86-87
 housekeeping units,
 81-82

beaches, 125-126

brief description of, 48
 golf, 136
 restaurants, 101-102
 sights and attractions,
 150-151, 161

Watches, City of Hamilton, 172-173

Water, drinking, 200

Water-skiing, 135

Watersports

beaches, 123-128

Achilles Bay (St. George's Parish), 128
 Astwood Cove (Warwick Parish), 125-126
 best, 2

Chaplin Bay (Warwick and Southampton parishes), 126

Church Bay (Southampton Parish), 127

Elbow Beach (Paget Parish), 123-124

Hamilton Parish, 128
 Horseshoe Bay Beach (Southampton Parish), 126-127

Jobson's Cove (Warwick Parish), 126

John Smith's Bay (Smith's Parish), 128

Paget Parish, 123-124
 St. Catherine's Beach (St. George's Parish), 128

St. George's Parish, 128
 Sandys Parish, 127
 Shelly Bay (Hamilton Parish), 128

Somerset Long Bay (Sandys Parish), 127
 Southampton Parish, 126-127

Stonehole Bay (Warwick Parish), 126

Tobacco Bay (St. George's Parish), 128

Warwick Long Bay (Warwick Parish), 126
 Warwick Parish, 125-126

fishing, 133-134

sailing (yachting), 134-135

best outfitters, 5
 Annapolis-Bermuda Race, 141
 best outfitters, 5
 International Race Week, 37-38

International Race Weekend, 36
 King Edward VII Gold Cup International Match Racing Tournament, 141

Marion-to-Bermuda Race, 38

Match Racing, 38-39

Newport-Bermuda Race, 38, 141
 races, 141
 scuba diving, 3, 130-133
 best dive sites, 3-4
 books about, 29
 schools and outfitters,
 131-133

snorkeling, 128-130
 water-skiing, 135

Waterville (Paget Parish), 152

Weather, 35-36, 200

Wedding consultants, 190

Weddings, 190

W. E. R. Joell Tennis Stadium (Government Tennis Stadium; Pembroke Parish), 139

West Whale Bay, snorkeling, 129

Wheelchair accessibility, 191-192
 Wheels Cycle, 188

White Horse Tavern (St. George's Parish), 54, 181

Wildlife, Spittal Pond Nature Reserve (Smith's Parish), 42, 140, 157
 biking, 138

Winter, Keith, 133

W. J. Boyle & Son (City of Hamilton), 174

The Wonderful Wizard of Oz, 30

Woolens, City of Hamilton, 175

World Rugby Classic, 39

Y

Yachting (sailing), 134-135
 best outfitters, 5

Annapolis-Bermuda Race, 141
 best outfitters, 5

International Race Week, 37-38

International Race Weekend, 36

King Edward VII Gold Cup International Match Racing Tournament, 141

Marion-to-Bermuda Race, 38

Match Racing, 38-39

Newport-Bermuda Race, 38, 141

races, 141

Youth Creation, 32

Z

Zoo, Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & (Hamilton Parish), 158

Accommodations

Aunt Nea's Inn at Hillcrest (St. George Town), 87

Bay City Guest House (City of Hamilton), 77

Cambridge Beaches (Sandys Parish), 77

- Clairfont Apartments (Warwick Parish), 86
 Clear View Suites & Villas (Hamilton Parish), 81
 Coco Reef Resort (Paget Parish), 75-76
 Dawkins Manor (Paget Parish), 85
 Edgehill Manor Guest House (City of Hamilton), 85
 Elbow Beach Hotel (Paget Parish), 69
 Erith Guest House (Paget Parish), 87
 The Fairmont Hamilton Princess (Pembroke Parish), 69, 72
 The Fairmont Southampton (Southampton Parish), 68-69, 79
 Fourways Inn (Paget Parish), 82
 Granaway Guest House & Cottage (Warwick Parish), 86-87
 Grape Bay Beach Hotel (Paget Parish), 76
 Grape Bay Cottages (Southampton Parish), 82
 Greenbank Guest House (Paget Parish), 87
 Greene's Guest House (Southampton Parish), 86
 Grotto Bay Beach Resort (Hamilton Parish), 74, 79
 Horizons & Cottages (Paget Parish), 76
 Little Pomander Guest House (Paget Parish), 87-88
 Mazarine by the Sea (Pembroke Parish), 83
 Newstead Belmont Hills Golf Resort & Spa (Paget Parish), 78-79
 The Oxford House (City of Hamilton), 85-86
 Paraquet Guest Apartments (Paget Parish), 84
 Pink Beach Club & Cottages (Smith's Parish), 79
 Pompano Beach Club (Southampton Parish), 74-75
 The Reefs Hotel & Club (Southampton Parish), 75
 Robin's Nest (Pembroke Parish), 83-84
 Rosedon Hotel (City of Hamilton), 77
 Rosemont (City of Hamilton), 79, 84
 Royal Palms Hotel (City of Hamilton), 79, 84-85
 St. George's Club (St. George's Parish), 80
 Salt Kettle House (Paget Parish), 88
 Sandpiper Apartments (Warwick Parish), 79, 82-83
 Surf Side Beach Club (Warwick Parish), 81-82
 Tucker's Point Hotel & Spa (Hamilton Parish), 72, 74
 Watercolours (Warwick Parish), 83
 The Wharf Executive Suites (Paget Parish), 76
 Willowbank Hotel & Conference Centre (Sandys Parish), 79, 80-81
- ## Restaurants
- Ascots (City of Hamilton), 103
 Bacci (Southampton Parish), 98, 111
 Bailey's Ice Cream & Food D'Lites Restaurant (Hamilton Parish), 111, 119
 Barracuda Grill (City of Hamilton), 103-104
 Beau Rivage (Paget Parish), 102
 Beethoven's (Sandys Parish), 93
 The Bermudiana/The Breakers (Smith's Parish), 116
 Blackbeard's Hideout (St. George's Parish), 119
 Black Horse Tavern (St. George's Parish), 120
 Blü (Warwick Parish), 101-102
 Bolero Brasserie (City of Hamilton), 104
 Bonefish Bar & Grill (Sandys Parish), 93
 Breezes (Sandys Parish), 92
 Broadway Bistro at Coquille (City of Hamilton), 104
 Cafe Coco (Paget Parish), 102
 Café Gio (St. George's Parish), 57, 111, 120
 Chopsticks Restaurant (City of Hamilton), 110-111
 Coconut Rock (City of Hamilton), 111
 Coconuts (Southampton Parish), 98
 East Meets West (City of Hamilton), 107
 Flanagan's Irish Pub & Restaurant (City of Hamilton), 107
 Fourways Inn (Paget Parish), 102-103
 Freeport Seafood Restaurant (Sandys Parish), 96
 Fresco's Restaurant & Wine Bar (City of Hamilton), 108
 The Frog & Onion Pub (Sandys Parish), 96-97
 The George & Dragon (St. George's Parish), 120
 Green Lantern (City of Hamilton), 111-112
 Griffin's (St. George's Parish), 120
 Harbourfront Restaurant & Komodaru Sushi Lounge (City of Hamilton), 104, 106
 Harley's (City of Hamilton), 108
 Harry's (City of Hamilton), 106
 Henry VIII (Southampton Parish), 100
 Heritage Court (City of Hamilton), 108-109
 The Hickory Stick (City of Hamilton), 112
 Hog Penny (City of Hamilton), 112
 House of India (City of Hamilton), 112
 Jamaican Grill (City of Hamilton), 112-113
 Landfall (Hamilton Parish), 118
 Latin Restaurant (City of Hamilton), 109
 Lemon Tree Café (City of Hamilton), 113
 The Lido (Paget Parish), 103
 Lighthouse Restaurant (Southampton Parish), 101
 Little Venice (City of Hamilton), 106
 Lobster Pot & Boat House Bar (City of Hamilton), 109
 L'Oriental (City of Hamilton), 109
 L'Oriental Express (City of Hamilton), 113
 Mickey's Beach Bistro & Bar (Hamilton Parish), 117-118
 Newport Room (Southampton Parish), 97
 North Rock Brewing Company (Smith's Parish), 116
 Ocean Club (Southampton Parish), 99
 Ocean Echo (Southampton Parish), 99
 The Ocean Grill & The Cedar Room (Southampton Parish), 99
 Palm Court (Hamilton Parish), 111, 118
 Paradiso Café (City of Hamilton), 60, 113
 Pasta Basta (City of Hamilton), 114
 The Pickled Onion (City of Hamilton), 106-107
 The Point Restaurant (Hamilton Parish), 118
 Port O' Call (City of Hamilton), 109-110
 Portofino (City of Hamilton), 114
 Primavera (City of Hamilton), 110
 The Robin Hood (City of Hamilton), 114
 Royston's (Southampton Parish), 99-100
 Rustico (Hamilton Parish), 118-119
 Salt Rock Grill & Sushi Bar (Sandys Parish), 97
 Silk (City of Hamilton), 110
 Somerset Country Squire Pub & Restaurant (Sandys Parish), 65, 93

Specialty Inn (Smith's Parish),
116-117
The Spot Restaurant (City of Hamilton), 114-115
Swizzle Inn Bailey's Bay
(Hamilton Parish), 119
Tamarisk Dining Room (Sandys
Parish), 92-93

Tavern by the Sea (St. George's Parish), 121
Ten (City of Hamilton), 115
Tio Pepe (Southampton Parish),
100-101
Tom Moore's Tavern (Hamilton
Parish), 117
Trattoria Café (City of Hamilton),
115

Waterlot Inn (Southampton
Parish), 97-98
White Horse Tavern (St. George's
Parish), 122
Wickets (Southampton Parish),
101, 111
Yashi Sushi Bar (City of Hamilton), 115

Bermuda Bus Routes

- 1 Hamilton-Grotto Bay/St. George's
- 2 Hamilton-Ord Road
- 3 Hamilton-Grotto Bay/St. George's
- 4 Hamilton-Spanish Point
- 5 Hamilton-Pond Hill
- 6 St. George's-St. David's
- 7 Hamilton-Somerset/Dockyard
- 8 Hamilton-Somerset/Dockyard
- 9 Hamilton-Prospect
- 10 Hamilton-St. George's
- 11 Hamilton-St. George's

